A program which includes the morning and afternoon will be had allowing those who have come from other portions of the county to get home. Be sure and be in attendance at this convention as there will be things which will be of vital importance to every member of the church, the auxiliaries such as the Bible school and ladies aid societies and the young people's meeting.

Community Program Last Friday.
At the community meet which characterized the bustling city of Murray, which was held last week, there was a large crowd of very enthusiastic boosters for the home town out to enjoy the excellent program which was put on. There were speakers from other towns and among whom were Hon. James T. Bezley of Plattsmouth who spoke at length on community spirit, and which was well received.

J. A. Scotten was followed by Hon. Troy L. Davis of Weeping Water who was a member of the state legislature for the last session. He, like Judge Bezley, was very enthusiastic for the community spirit especially which characterized the city of Murray.

Making an Excellent Home.
The new home which is at this time being built for E. S. Tutt and wife is making rapid progress, and will be ready to occupy by the middle of August. The plastering has just been completed by the eminent worker Wm. Obernautle, and is a most excellent piece of workmanship. The finishing of the interior will be begun by the contractors, Ralph Kennedy and Harvey Gregg, both well qualified to do the best work, and which they do. The painting and decorating is in the hands of Jess-

Chambers and Phil Lambert which insures the very best work. The plumbing and heating is being furnished by Harry Nelson, who has Joe Hiber superintending the installation and doing much of the work. The building is 26 by 36 feet on the ground, and has five rooms and a bath. The building in the main will be stucco and will make a good addition to the many beautiful homes in Murray. Murray is becoming a city of good homes and most pleasant places to live as well as in which to conduct a business.

On last Monday afternoon Uncle S. G. Latta, who is a veteran pump and well man, notwithstanding his 89 years, was making some repairs on a pump at the home of Ira Queen, when stepping backward he stepped or was thrown off the well platform by a tottering plank, with the result that he fell on his back and hip, and at the time had a pair of workmen's pliers in his pocket on which he fell, causing a severe injury. It was some time before the folks there could assist him to arise, and he was brought to his home in town. The physician was not able to determine whether he had suffered a fracture of the bones at the time of the accident or not, but will be able to ascertain as soon as the results show. Uncle Samuel is receiving every care being in the hands of Mrs. Elmer Philpot who is an experienced nurse and is giving every care. His many friends are hoping he may soon be able to be out again.

Rebuilding Phone Lines.
Ed Herrick with his crew of workers who are at the time rebuilding the farm lines on the Murray road, are making good progress, and when the lines are all gone over the service will be insured as good as any in the country. Mr. Herrick and his fellow workers were called to the western portion of the county where the story of a short time since blew some of the poles down and was also called to Weeping Water to unload a car of poles, which have interfered with the work here but he is still hustling to get the work done here.

He also addressed the pastor several weeks ago during the morning hour making an excellent address.
