Death of Daughter of the First Mayor of City

Miss Anna Micklewalt Dies at Nebraska Masonic Home in This City Last Evening.

From Thursday's Daily— Last evening at the Nebraska Masonic Home in this city occurred the death of Miss Anna Micklewalt, daughter of Wheatley W. Micklewalt, first mayor of the city of Plattsmouth in 1855, and who has spent practically her lifetime in this city.

The deceased lady has been in poor health for the past three years and in the last few months her condition has been aggravated by the worry caused by her financial losses and which with poor health had led to her going to the Home where she has been for the past two months, gradually growing worse until death came to her relief.

Miss Micklewalt was born in Plattsmouth, October 29, 1870, where her father had been one of the earliest settlers and had assisted in plating the city and became its first executive in the fifties and long played an important part in the development of the community. She was reared to womanhood in this city and with the exception of a few years in Arkansas, has made this city her home. From 1916 until 1924 Miss Micklewalt was employed at the Masonic Home and after that time was compelled to go to the hospital for treatment for a period of several months and after her return made her home with the family of her cousin, Lee Sharp, until their removal from the city and since which time she has resided alone until compelled to go to the Home for care. The deceased lady was a member of Home Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of this city and her death brings to the members of the order as well as the many old time friends in the community who have known her through the years past, a deep regret.

Miss Micklewalt is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. J. Paecetti of Marathon, Texas, and one brother, Charles Micklewalt of New York City. The parents, one sister and one brother have preceded her in death.

CHILD TAKES POISON

From Thursday's Daily— Last evening, Frederick, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jasper, had a close call from death when the child took a poison tablet that had been found in a vacant house in the vicinity of the Jasper home.

The little boy had been playing with a number of companions near the vacant house and the children in their play had discovered a tablet that contained a number of blue tablets and which excited the curiosity of the children and especially Frederick, who proceeded to secure one of the tablets and placed it in his mouth. The child had then ran to the house and complained of his mouth burning and as the mother learned the fact of the tablet that the child had taken she hurriedly summoned medical aid, Dr. T. P. Livingston being called to the scene and administering relief to the patient who was suffering greatly from the effects of the poison. The child was given treatment at once and the prompt action undoubtedly saved the life of the child. The little one was reported today as resting very easy and its recovery is assured. The incident has caused a great deal of worry to the parents and they are now feeling somewhat relieved that the case was no worse.

JOHN E. NEMETZ HERE

From Thursday's Daily— This morning John E. Nemetz, former resident of this city, accompanied by his son, John, Jr., now a young man, were here to spend a short time visiting with the old time friends and taking in the points of interest in the old home where Mr. Nemetz was for a number of years engaged in business.

Mr. Nemetz is in poor health as the result of a paralytic stroke that he suffered in the spring of 1926 and which has made it impossible for him to resume his work as one of the clerks in the office of the county treasurer of Douglas county. The stroke occurred one day while Mr. Nemetz was playing golf at the Elmwood park course and since that time his left side has been practically useless. Band Concert Draws a Very Large Number

Some 1,500 Persons Attend the Weekly Concert at the Court House Lawn Last Night.

From Thursday's Daily— The weekly concert presented by the Eagles band and sponsored by the city of Plattsmouth, at the court house lawn last evening, was one of the largest in point of attendance that has ever been held in the city and the audience that filled the benches, cars and were standing around the vicinity of the court house numbered some 1,500 persons, while the streets in the radius of two blocks of the concert were closely packed with parked cars on each side of the street.

The attendance of visitors from out of the city was exceptionally large and early in the evening the cars were arriving here and being parked in the best places adjoining the terrace of the court house lawn where the concert was to be staged and a half hour before the concert the parking spaces were filled and where the owners of the cars and their families and guests were able to enjoy the concert and the cool and pleasant evening.

One of the headline attractions of the concert was the visit here of Harold Harmon, the sweet voiced soloist of Weeping Water, who had been heard here earlier in the season and who last evening was most generous in his offerings, giving three numbers, the popular "In a Little Spanish Town," "Bobolink Days are Coming," and also singing the snappy "Nebraska" slogan song of which Bruce A. Rosenkrantz of this city is the author. Mr. Harmon is one of the most popular vocalists in the county and certainly has a warm place in the hearts of the music loving public of this city.

The presentation of the "Nebraska" song by the band was splendidly given and this snappy and tuneful offering was received with more applause than any of the numbers on the program, altho all of the offerings of the band brought a hearty hand from the large audience.

The popularity of the court house lawn as the place of holding the concerts was shown by the increasing size of the crowds and the fact that it gives the persons here from outside points a chance to look after what business they may have as well as hearing the concert without inconvenience.

From Friday's Daily— Word has reached this city from Villisca, Iowa, of a very serious accident that has been suffered by little Jean Holmes, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holmes, who just recently moved from this city to the Iowa town and where Mr. Holmes has charge of the P-K Variety store.

The little child, so the report received here states, was injured when a sky rocket near which she was standing backfired and the arm of the child was very severely burned, the upper portion of the arm being badly affected and the flesh in several places was in terrible shape.
