MANY ENJOY AIR TRIPS

From Friday's Daily—
A great many of the residents of this city and vicinity have been out to enjoy the opportunity of taking a spin up in the air in the plane that A. A. Risser, pilot and owner of the plane, is offering to those who desire a thrill of a dash through the upper atmosphere and a birdseye view of the city and surrounding territory.

The landing field that is used is the wheat field west and north of the Livingston farm and where the conditions are best adapted to the making of a take off and landing. The plane that is used is a two passenger one and under the skilful guidance of Mr. Risser it has given the passengers a fine opportunity of viewing the surrounding country from an altitude that commands a great view of all the territory in the scope of many miles around. Those who have taken other air rides are very much pleased with the opportunity of enjoying another thrill and many who have never gone up in a plane are availing themselves of the opportunity of testing out what many believe will in the years to come will be the chief means of transportation.

FARMERS ARE VERY BUSY

From Saturday's Daily—
The farmers of the county are very busy these days with threshing and other lines of the farm work and the working day on the farm is a long one that the crops make necessary to handle them. This morning there were a number of the residents of the nearby districts in the city early to secure needed supplies that their work demanded and all were anxious to get back to their farms where most of them had threshing crews ready to work and to garner the crops while the weather was good and to get a start before the intense heat of the afternoon.

Another Auto Accident Occurs Near Union

Only One Passenger Is Seriously Injured as Result of Accident, a Mile East of Union.

The turn on the K. of T. highway east of Union, which has been the scene of a number of accidents in the past was again marked with a wreck last Tuesday night when a large Packard car used for the carrying of passengers from Omaha to Kansas City overturned and resulted in the injury of several of the passengers in the car.

H. S. Wright, driver of the car, said that this was his first trip in this part of the country and that he was on his way to Kansas City with four passengers and did not see the turn in the highway until too late to make it. He attempted to make a wide turn with the car and drove too close to the edge of the highway and with the result that the car struck the loose gravel which caused the car to go into the ditch. The car was damaged and the driver's face and nose cut some by pieces of glass.

The local police officers state the car passed through Plattsmouth at a very high rate of speed a short time before the accident.

Thomas Brooks of Springfield, Missouri, was the most seriously injured of the passengers in the car, receiving a deep cut on his forehead, wrist and left hand and possible internal injuries. Another aged man in the car had a deep cut on his face and his left eye was injured while the two remaining passengers were only slightly injured.

The passengers were taken on to Union by other auto parties that came along after the accident and were cared for there by medical assistance from Murray. Brooks being taken yesterday to his home at Springfield while the aged man was still at Union under the care of a physician and it will be several days before he is able to continue on to Kansas City.

Urges Co-Operation of City and the Railway Employees

Bulletin of Shops Gives Encouragement to the Home Owners Who Have Been Shop Employees.

The many splendid residents of the city who are property owners and employees of the Burlington in this city have contributed greatly to the upbuilding of the community and a retention of this spirit of home ownership and active service in the community is carried in a bulletin that has been placed on the boards at the local shops and which carries a ringing message of the confidence of the railroad management in the city and which is appreciated the more on account of the wild rumors that from time to time are circulated and which tends to cause a spirit of unrest to the railroad men.

Bulletin

"To All Employees—
It has been brought to my attention that some one is again broadcasting that these shops are going to be closed down.
I do not know who is responsible for this, but whoever it is, evidently must take delight in trying to see how much harm they can do to our town by spreading such gossip; and without foundation, and if I did not have a home and wanted one, or wanted to purchase property as an investment, I would not hesitate in doing so because of any possibility of the closing of the shops at this point.
The railroads, and the C. B. & Q. in particular, have always been favorable to employees who are home owners, because the man who owns his home usually makes a more reliable and dependable employee. Therefore, any of you having money that you can invest in a home, should have no hesitancy in doing so.
"It is true, we have lost some work in some departments due to consolidation, but as a whole, Plattsmouth shops have not been reduced as much as several of the other points.
I would suggest that whenever you hear of any one telling that these shops are going to be closed you insist on the party making the statement, tell you where he got his information. In this way we may be conferring a lasting favor not only on yourself, but the city at large.
"Let us be boosters, not knockers. If we cannot boost for our home town, let us move to one where we can."
"SHOP SUPT."

RELIC OF OLDEN DAYS

A relic of early days in Nebraska was unearthed recently by Andrew Landgren in his garden at the crest of South Hill. It is a part of the official seal of the old Louisville Grange No. 113, which was organized April 3, 1873.

This was an organization of farmers, in some respects similar to the Farmers Union organization of today. Phoebe Stohman, Sr., was the Master (President) and Frank Stander, Secretary. Both of these pioneers have been dead for many years.

The Grange was organized on the factory-to-consumer plan. It was one of the duties of the secretary to order direct any and all articles desired by the members. A store room was maintained at College Hill where implements, groceries, boots and shoes, harness, calico, prunes, whiskey, etc., were kept and dealt out to the members.

The old seal is made of copper and is well preserved.—Louisville Courier.

From Friday's Daily—
This morning while Albert Cotner was en route to his work at the K. of T. bridge over the Platte river, he was the victim of a small auto accident that was caused by the well known "road hog." Two large trucks loaded with hogs and cattle from Gre county were driving along the highway bound northward to Omaha, and also several cars bound in the same direction and Mr. Cotner and his car was among the last in the string that was progressing along the highway. Two of the cars passed the trucks and as the car of Mr. Cotner started around the two trucks they pulled over to the center and slightly to the left of the road and just at the moment that an auto load of tourists from Illinois came from the north and also started to pass, the car of Mr. Cotner was caught in the center of the jam and had one front fender completely doubled up to the body of the car in the sideswipe from the Illinois auto. Fortunately no one was injured in the smash up and all cars were able to get on to their destination.
