Local Men are Victims of Slick Hold-Up Gang

Clyde Hutchins and Gus Funke Held Up by Gang Near Sarpy Mills Sunday Evening.

From Monday's Daily—
Two local young men, Clyde Hutchins and Gus Funke, were victims of a gang of four highway robbers in the vicinity of Sarpy Mills on the highway from Louisville to Omaha last evening and the robbers not satisfied with robbing the two men proceeded to put their car out of commission for a period of several hours.

The Plattsmouth men had stopped on their way from Louisville to Omaha to repair a puncture in one of the tires of the car and as they were engaged in this work they were suddenly approached by four men, armed with guns and who invited them to "stick up their hands." The robbers proceeded to frisk the men, getting $6 from Mr. Hutchins and $30 from Mr. Funke. Mr. Funke also had a gold watch with him that he told the robbers was very cherished gift and which they allowed him to retain while he was also able to retain a $200 diamond ring that he was able to secret before the robbers were able to detect it.

After committing the robbery the four men took and slashed the spare tire of the car and then taking the keys of the car proceeded to lock it and then threw the keys away, leaving the Plattsmouth men stranded as a search of the vicinity failed to reveal the keys to the car and the two Plattsmouth men had to remain sitting by the car until some Louisville parties came along and took them into that place and where they secured transportation on to this city and after securing keys to fit the car made a trip back and brought the car on into this city.

The robbers were apparently young men and made their getaway from the scene of the robbery by a route that they had concealed a short distance from where Hutchins and Funke had stopped their car.

AIR FLIGHTS POPULAR

From Monday's Daily—
The residents of this locality and from all over Cass county were strongly in evidence in the vicinity of the field south of this city where A. A. Riser of Wymore, was conducting his airplane excursions. In the afternoon the highway in the vicinity of the field was filled with cars and the traffic was tied up a part of the time by the fact that the onlookers kept their cars in the road and prevented the passage of other cars. Sheriff Bert Reed and Thomas Svoboda were completely taken with the sight until after dark to keep the road open for travel and to prevent accidents, as drivers were racing through the dense amount of traffic with little regard for their safety or that of anyone else.

Mr. Riser was busy from early Sunday morning taking up parties in the plane and was reported to have made some sixty trips during the day and which netted him a neat sum.

Those who made the trip were delighted with the sensation of viewing the city from the air and the wide sweep of country that was within their line of vision including the city and surrounding territory as well as the Platte and Missouri river valley.

They plan to visit the various points of interest in the west and particularly in the Colorado country and the outing will cover a period of several weeks.

Platters Win a Fast Contest from Soldiers

By Score of 3 to 2 the Locals Retain Place in the Dual County Loop.

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon before a delighted audience of fans and fansettes the Platters proceeded to hand Col. Trott's boys from up at Fort Crook a 3 to 2 defeat in what proved one of the best and most exciting games staged on the local lot.

The soldiers came into the battle with lots of pep and as the final innings came on they gracefully did a "to the rear march" that spelled defeat for them.

The visitors started out like they were in for a certain victory as the curtain rolled up in the opening inning, Linksavage hitting safe and causing the greatest of enthusiasm among the rooters for the soldiers. Smith and Kober who followed, however, were out on easy grounders and Linksavage strayed too far from third base and Spidell picked him off.

The game was a scoreless battle up to the seventh inning and in which Joseph McCarthy, the local skipper, figured to enlarge extent, as Joe was all there in the game and had six putouts to his credit, his feinting being the outstanding feature of the local play, with the stick work of George Reichart and the smash of Art Klauschie who was also responsible for robbing the visitors of a score in a brilliant catch in the right garden.

The soldiers were able to nick Swanson for nine hits but only in the seventh were the hits bunched to do any material damage and the glit edge support that Swanny received could not have been better. The only error credited to Plattsmouth was given to Reichart and who was really an innocent party as he was fielding a ball in the third frame when he was ran into by Newman and thereby hangs the error.

The fans were growing more excited as inning after inning passed without a run until in the seventh when the military came to bat the scoring started and Swanson was hit hard but only two runs were tallied by the boys from Crook. Ditter opened with a good smash over the second base, Robinson followed with a hot drive through third and the skies became overcast for the locals as Hand, the next man up doubled through short and scored both Ditter and Robinson, his hit going for two bags. Hand was caught at third base and Kearns was out at second while McCarthy in grabbing the long fly of Kober ended the hopes of the visitors.

The soldiers did quick work in retiring the Platters in the last of the seventh and they in turn were retired in the first of the eighth.

With the soldiers leading with a two point margin in the last of the eighth the locals unmasked their offensive and were assisted by the warring work in the box of Kearns Swanson opened for the Platters and the visitors had a conference when Spidell came to bat and Harvey was sent in to relieve Kearns, making a bad matter worse for them as Spidell was walked and George came home with the winning run—a gift out to the soldiers. Distell was called out at third when he was caught off the base and claimed a balk but the umpire did not see it that way. Klauschie and McCarthy were also walked and the bases again filled when Chasteen was sent to the mound for Fort Crook and was able to strike out Melsinger and Newman and ended the agony.

In the first of the ninth the locals held the visitors and the show was all over.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

New Organ at Parmele to be Equal of Any

Some interesting Facts About the Fine Wurlitzer Organ Coming to the Parmele.

An entire symphony orchestra can be reproduced to the finest degree by the great Wurlitzer Organ which Managers Clodd and Moore will begin to install in the Parmele Theatre next week.

Arrangements were completed a few weeks ago for the purchase of this organ, alone costing $9,000 at the factory, to which freight and cost of installing must be added.

One of the outstanding features of the organ is that it has the regular touch, a second touch, which brings out particular parts and solos, the pizzicato touch for the imitation of the plucking of the strings of the violin and other instruments, besides an automatic suitable bass attachment.

It consists of many thousands of separate parts and several hundred miles of electric wiring and is capable of reproducing the music of a large symphony orchestra.

The many organ pipes range from the smallest to the largest, weighing approximately half a ton.

A piano can be played from the keyboard of the instrument, while wind for its operation is supplied by a high pressure electrically-driven blower located in the basement of the theatre.

Such well-known instruments as the clarinets, piccolos, flutes, violins, cornets, trombones, saxophones, the vox humana, musical sleigh bells, vibrating bells, harps, xylophones, and other instruments, are all present, bass, kettle and snare drums, tambourines, triangles and castanets are reproduced among the many tones.

TRAVEL IN MOUNTAINS

From Tuesday's Daily—
County Treasurer John E. Turner, wife and little daughter, have returned from their very pleasant outing in Colorado and in which, by motor and train, they were able to visit a great many of the points of interest in that portion of the west. They stopped for a two day stay at Denver with relatives and then with their relatives started a very interesting trip in the mountain regions. They visited Leadville, the ghost city, relic of the days when the western mining camps were at their best and which is now slowly improving from a long period of quietness that was occasioned by the closing of the mines. While near Leadville the party attained the height of 12,502 feet and had a wonderful view of the snow clad peaks of the Rockies. They also visited Canyon City where the state penitentiary is located and viewed the skyline drive that has been built by the conversion of the mountains and which makes a wonderful trip. On their return they stopped at Colorado Springs and Florence for a short stay with friends at these places.

ATHLETICS WIN ONE

From Tuesday's Daily—
The Athletic baseball team of this city featured in the Sunday program of attractions at the Murray bathing beach, that popular summer resort of this part of the state, when they took down the Weeping Water baseball aggregation by the score of 18 to 4.

The game was a gallant triumph for the locals as they had the boys from the city of the sobbing waters on their hip and the hurling of Louis Svoboda, former big school star and Frank Gradoville, well known college player, was sufficient to keep the foe from getting dangerous and with the heavy swatting of the locals the game was at no time in doubt. Three baggers were registered by Alex Schliske, Frank Krejci and Hill Martin during the struggle.

The game was witnessed by a very large crowd that came over from the swimming pool to view the added feature of the day.

Foreman of Local Burlington Lumber Yard Dies After Few Days Illness—Taken to Old Home

From Tuesday's Daily—
The community was profoundly shocked last evening to receive the news of the death of Charles L. Deitz, foreman of the local lumber yard of the Burlington and former councilman from the fourth ward of this city, the death of this estimable man coming just a few hours after he had been taken to the hospital from his home here where he has been sick since last Thursday, but his condition was not considered serious until yesterday when it was decided to have him taken to the hospital. Mr. Deitz was found to be suffering from a acute intestinal trouble and which refused to yield to treatment and he was taken to Omaha yesterday by ambulance at 12:30 and passed away at the hospital at 6 o'clock, last evening.

The deceased was sixty-four years of age and was born at Keokuk, Iowa, where his young manhood was spent and where he retained still the warmest interest in the old home and the friends of his youth. He was later located at St. Joseph, Missouri and came to this city ten years ago to take charge of the Burlington lumber yard at the local shop, which position he has retained since that time and was at work until Thursday afternoon when his illness compelled him to go to his home.

The service of Mr. Deitz to the Burlington covered some twenty-seven years and was largely in the supply department of the railroad and in which he was held in high esteem as an earnest and faithful worker in the cause of his employers.

During the great gold rush of 1898 Mr. Deitz was one of the thousands who made the journey to the Klondike and the gold fields of Alaska and Canada and spent some years there and where he was quite successful in his efforts.

Two years ago, on August 16, 1925, Mr. Deitz was one of the victims of a serious auto wreck at Oregopolis, when his car was struck by the Burlington train and James Edwards and Eloy Johnson killed and Mr. Deitz and Louis Leiner received serious injuries. Mr. Deitz suffering several months with a broken limb.

Mr. Deitz was a member of the city council for one term from the fourth ward of this city.

To mourn the loss there remain the widow, who was a schoolmate of the deceased and whom he married twelve years ago at Keokuk, Iowa, their old childhood home. There are also four children by a previous marriage, Mrs. Tom Wilson of Miami, Florida, Mrs. Mary Vogel of Omaha, Thomas Deitz of St. Joseph, Missouri, and Miss Gertrude Deitz of Omaha.

There was a short funeral service held this afternoon at the Sattler Funeral home at 4th and Vine streets and the body taken east on No. 2 over the Burlington to Keokuk, where it will be laid to rest in the family lot in the cemetery at that place. Mrs. Deitz, Mrs. Vogel of Omaha and Thomas Deitz of St. Joseph accompanied the body on the last sad journey.

In the hour of bereavement the sorrowing wife and children will receive the deepest sympathy of all of the residents of this community where Mr. Deitz was well known and highly respected.

CROPS SUFFER FROM HAIL

From Tuesday's Daily—
Automobile travelers who were here early today en route south report that crops in the southeastern part of South Dakota and a part of Iowa have suffered a great deal from the effects of a severe hail storm that visited that locality late Saturday and Sunday and damaged both wheat and corn to a greater or less extent. The travelers also bore the marks of driving through some of the famous Iowa mud that has a national reputation and the cars as well as the garments of the travelers bore the marks of the trip through the rich gumbo. However a large number of the Iowa counties are to be out of the mud soon with the new paved and graveled highways that they will be able to secure through the enactment of the recent state law giving them use of a part of the state gas tax money for this purpose.

Will Observe 30th Anniversary of St. Paul's

Local Evangelical Church Will Observe Event in the Coming Fall of Church Dedication.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The local St. Paul's Evangelical church will observe the thirtieth anniversary of the dedication of the church building, the coming fall, the decision to have a fitting observance being reached yesterday at the meeting of the trustees of the church. The present church was dedicated in November 1897, but the anniversary will be observed earlier in the season before the cold weather arrives.

The church building has been wonderfully improved in the past year by the efforts of the church congregation and their very able pastor, Rev. O. G. Wichmann, and is now one of the most attractive church buildings in the city and in which the congregation can feel a real pride.

The painting and redecorating of the church by Harry Kruger and his force of workmen has just been completed and gives the church a very beautiful appearance and the painting and decorating represents the contribution of the Junior church to the house of worship as they have financed this part of the work and which adds much to the exterior of the church.

One of the first improvements to the building was the creation of a large and attractive basement to the church which has been a wonderful aid to the church in its social gathering and has stimulated the activities of the younger people of the church. The trustees are planning on having the walks and lawn of the church improved this season and placed in first class shape.

The summer is usually a dull season in the church with large numbers of the congregation being on vacation, but this year the attendance has been very large at the services and the collections more than usually large for the year and marking 1927 as one of the best years in all lines of the church activities and finances that has been enjoyed in the thirty years of the church history.

Has a Very Pleasant Stay at Estes Park

Searl S. Davis Returns From West Impressed With the Wonderful Crops of the Country.

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning Searl S. Davis, local real estate man, returned home from a ten day stay at Estes Park, Colorado, with his family and being called home to look after his business interests he left the family there for a longer stay as Mrs. Davis and the boys, Stephen and Corbin are enjoying the outing very much and are accompanied in the pleasant outing by Miss Viola Melsinger of this city.

When leaving here Mr. Davis stated he had thought the stories of the great crops throughout the west were exaggerated in the press accounts, but the 665 mile journey by auto through Nebraska and Colorado, stretching from the Missouri river to the Rockies, he found that the crops are all that has been claimed for them and in reaching the western part of our state as well as in Colorado the hum of the combine was a great piece of music to the traveler and the fields as far as the eye could see were filled with the golden grain of the wheat and oat harvests. On his way back Mr. Davis came by train and was wonderfully pleased with the great progress that the corn in eastern Nebraska has made in the last week since the bountiful rainfall that came as a crop saver in this part of the state.

In speaking of Colorado Mr. Davis states that the fact that the Black Hills country of South Dakota has the president as a rival for the great Rockies of Colorado, is causing a large number of the tourists to turn their footsteps or rather their gas wagons toward Rapid City and the Hills rather than the more elaborate resorts of the west.

While at dinner at the Long's Peak Inn a few evenings ago Mr. Davis and his family had quite a Cass county reunion, meeting there John Bergman of this city, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Puls and children, Harley and Leone, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cromwell, Mrs. Catherine Earhart of near Murdock. The Puls family reside near Greeley, some fifty miles from Estes Park and have frequent Sunday trips to that beautiful region of Colorado.

While in the west Mr. Davis was able to attend the Estes Park Rotary meeting and met visitors from twelve different states and had a most delightful time in the fraternal spirit shown by the members of the party.

One of the observations that Mr. Davis made on his visit was the fact that this city could and should take more advantage of the fact of its closeness to Omaha as an ideal home town where the best of conditions for homes are found and yet being in close touch with the larger city.
