Jack Patterson Reported Found at Cleveland

Former Union Banker Apprehended This Afternoon—Working as Filling Station Attendant

From Friday's Daily—
The Omaha Bee, in a telephone message to the Journal office at 3 o'clock this afternoon, announced the arrest of Jack Patterson, former Plattsmouth man and Union banker, after a search that has been nation wide on the part of the insurance companies who carried policies on the life of Mr. Patterson.

The former banker was found, according to the story of the Omaha Bee, working as an attendant at a filling station in Cleveland, Ohio, and when arrested admitted his identity.

Mr. Patterson, according to the message from the Bee stated that he had left his home and family without word, owing to worry over financial matters.

He stated that he had been in Cleveland since August, 1924, a few weeks after his disappearance, and the message stated he had been employed at the filling station there for many months.

Mr. Patterson had gone with his wife to Chicago, in June, 1924, motoring from their home at Union, and on the day of his supposed death he had accompanied Mrs. Patterson and his sister down into the business section of Chicago to do some shopping, leaving the ladies down town and he had then gone to a bathing beach on the shores of Lake Michigan near the home of his sister.

The last seen of Mr. Patterson was when he left the wife and sister, as they started on a shopping tour. Later, after search was instituted, his auto was found parked near the beach, with his clothing, watch and valuables in the car, as well as a purchase ticket for a bathing suit bought that day in one of the downtown stores.

The family had search made along the beach and lakeshore in hope of locating the missing man, but all in vain.

The insurance companies have refused payment of the insurance on the life of Mr. Patterson and engaged in a nation-wide search for him, offering a reward for his apprehension. At numerous times he has been reported as being seen in Seattle and other places in the west, but today's dispatch is the first definite word received from him since his singular disappearance more than three years ago.

HAS PLEASANT SURPRISE

In Waterloo county, Ontario, Aug. 8, 1859, a little life was launched on the wings of time to begin an earthly career. This little bundle of happiness and sunshine which came to bless and make happier the home, the parents were pleased to name William Wilken. His development was attended with joyous anticipation as he passed through the period of infancy, childhood, youth and into the maturer years of life, making as he has his personal contribution to each period in passing. Heaven has been very gracious and kind to him in that he is drawing so near the allotted three score and ten.

Mr. Wilken came to Nebraska 55 years ago where he remained enduring the hardships and privations of the early pioneer and where in these latter years he has been enjoying the fruits of his labors. The past nine years he and his good companions have been worthy and respected citizens of our little Elmwood village.

Last Monday, August the 8th, being the anniversary of his birth, his son, Fred of Elmwood, planned a very pleasant surprise on him by going in the evening with about 25 friends and relatives to remind him that he had reached mile stone No. 68, and to help him celebrate the occasion in a fitting manner. The evening was very pleasantly spent in visiting and music. At a late hour ice cream, cake and coffee was served. Brother Haist, Mr. Wilken's pastor, made a very appropriate talk to which Mr. Wilken responded with a few well chosen words. One verse of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," was sung and all departed wishing Mr. Wilken many happy returns of such a joyous occasion.

May there be more of such pleasant reminders by the gathering of friends and loved ones in those homes where dear ones are going down their eastern slope, sitting in the twilight of life, their sun rapidly going down and conscious of the fact that the evening shadows creep in on are drawing the curtains of the last night about them.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

HAS NOSE INJURED

From Saturday's Daily—
Jack Troop, fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Troop, residing south of this city, was the victim of a very painful accident Friday morning when he had his nose lacerated by the barbs of a wire fence. There are a number of sheep on the Troop farm and Jack was assisting in herding the flock around and had to crawl under a wire fence to secure one of the animals and in getting out from under the fence he struck one of the sharp barbs of the fence and inflicted a painful wound that was very painful and required the services of a physician to dress. The young man will have to wear the nose in a bandage however for a few days.

VOLUNTEERS LABOR DONATION ON WIRING BUILDING

From Friday's Daily—
Another of the experienced electricians of the city, Joe Hiber, has volunteered to donate his services in connection with the wiring of the new Legion community building this coming week. This makes three experienced electricians—Leonard Terryberry, William Highfield and Mr. Hiber, who will have the assistance of a force of Legionnaire helpers in cutting the conduit, putting it in place, etc., while the experienced men will have charge of the wiring details.

The Nebraska Gas and Electric company are making connection to the building today, through a large conduit lead at the rear and with their meter panel installed juice will be available for the operation of an electric drill and electric soldering irons.

Seven distinct leads will be provided, arranged with a view to securing maximum lighting efficiency. Twenty-five ceiling outlets in the 58x88 assembly room will consume 100 watts each and be provided with a special type of shade that spreads the light evenly over the portion it should cover. An additional circuit of four lights over the orchestra platform in the center of the building will permit of darkening the rest of the room without interfering with the music.

Although no circuit is aimed to carry over 650 watts, nothing smaller than No. 12 wire will be used, and the main lead-in will be three-wire No. 6, to allow for future needs of the finished building, which will pull approximately 8,000 watts. The present installation will pull about 3,250 watts.

The Legion appreciates the voluntary offers of these gentlemen and all other tradesmen whose interest in the building program prompts them to give freely of their labor—a commodity as valuable as money itself.

ENTERTAINS FOR COUSIN

From Saturday's Daily—
Mrs. Tony Klumm was hostess on Tuesday afternoon at her pleasant country home south of this city, to a large group of friends, the occasion being in honor of her cousin, Mrs. Greeley Bell. The afternoon was spent in a very delightful social time with conversation and music that made the hours speed by very rapidly. In honor of the occasion Mrs. Bell received a number of very attractive gifts. As the afternoon came to a close the hostess served very dainty and delicious refreshments to the forty-five ladies who were in attendance to enjoy the occasion.

MOTOR TO MISSOURI

From Saturday's Daily—
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shrader and children, who have been enjoying a very fine motor trip to Missouri have returned home and report a very fine time and a wonderful opportunity of seeing a great deal of fine country and excellent crops.

While on the trip they visited at Trenton, Chillicothe with friends and also made a visit at Jamesport. The Shrader family report the crop conditions as being very good and hearing every indication of making the crop this year one of the best that this portion of Missouri has enjoyed.

Hammond Sharp and brother, Arnold, departed this morning for Omaha where they will visit with Mrs. Hammond Sharp and the new daughter at the hospital where they have been for the past week.

Charge Missing Banker with Embezzlement

Complaint Filed Yesterday in County Court—Government Bond of $1,000 Involved.

From Saturday's Daily—
Following a wire yesterday afternoon to the office of Sheriff Bert Reed, complaint was filed in the office of County Judge A. H. Duxbury, charging Jack Patterson, missing former Union banker with embezzlement, the complaint being in response to the message of the Cleveland, Ohio, authorities.

The charge as made in the complaint filed by J. A. Capwell, county attorney alleges in its findings that the embezzlement consisted of taking a bond of the value of $1,000, the property of Mrs. Nettie V. Miller, on October 16, 1923.

The warrant was wired to the Cleveland authorities to hold the missing man until the arrival of the Cass county or state authorities to take him in custody and return him to Nebraska.

COAL GOES BY WATER

Washington, Aug. 11.—Despite the strike of union miners in the central bituminous field, more soft coal has been transported by water so far this year to upper Grand lakes ports than in any corresponding period, the American Railway association reported Wednesday.

WOMEN PAST 80 ACTIVE IN CLUBS

Kearney, Aug. 11.—Woman's club work is not only educational, but it is of a nature that allows its pursuit even through old age, it has been demonstrated by two charter members of the Buffalo county clubs, each more than 80 years old, who still participate actively in club enterprises. Mrs. Ellen Fulmer, 89, of Gibbon is a charter member of the club there and is recognized as one of its leaders. In the course of the club year fellow members relate, Mrs. Fulmer presents two or three papers which give evidence of as much study and research as those delivered by the younger women.

Although she is eight years the junior of Mrs. Fulmer, Mrs. K. O. Jones, 71, of Kearney, is also a charter member of her club and the pair are two of the oldest members of the Woman's club in Nebraska.

Wheat Yield Heavy, but the Corn is Light

Winter Wheat at 72,597,000 Bushel With Average Yield of 21 Bushels—Corn 81%

Nebraska's record winter wheat crop is now placed at 72,597,000 bushels. The average yield is 21 bu. Corn improved slightly. Oats are disappointing. Rye and barley are excellent but hay and pasture declined slightly says the Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Winter wheat yields are excellent although slightly below earlier indications. The preliminary estimate of yield is 21 bu. The reduced yield was due to premature opening caused by high, dry winds at the time wheat was filling which resulted in some shrunken wheat. This was taken into consideration last month but the full extent of the injury could not be determined definitely then. The present forecast is 72,597,000 bu., as compared to 74,740,000 bu. a month ago, 37,165,000 bu. last year and the 5-year average of 42,018,000 bu. This is the largest crop on record and the quality is 94%. Most of the crop was harvested and threshed under ideal conditions and is grading well.

The condition of spring wheat is 86%. Black stem rust is present in western Nebraska and may do some injury to the latest spring wheat. It was also present on winter wheat but it appears that all winter wheat and the early spring wheat was mature before the black stem rust had developed far enough to cause damage. Orange leaf rust injured western Nebraska wheat somewhat. The forecast of spring wheat is 247,000,000 compared to 40,085,000 bu. last year and the previous highest record of 71,918,000 bu.

The condition of corn is 81%. This indicates a production of 218,000,000 bu., as compared to 139,407,000 bu. last year and the 5-yr. average of 204,422,000 bu. Corn made good progress during July. There is no injury from drought although a few counties could have used additional moisture to advantage. Corn is a little late on the average and the past two weeks of cool weather retarded development. The outcome of corn will depend largely upon weather conditions. If temperatures average high, with a late frost and a little more moisture inside of ten days, Nebraska will raise a splendid crop of corn, otherwise the crop may be a disappointment.

Late oats are below expectations. The condition is 75% which forecasts a production of 67,420,000 bu. Last year's crop was 52,516,000 bu. and the 5-year average, 66,478,000 bu. Northwestern Nebraska, the leading oats section, has a very poor crop. South of the Platte river the early oats are good and the late oats poor. Western Nebraska has good oats.

The average yield of rye is 15.5 bu. and the preliminary estimate of production is 4,511,000 bu., as compared to 2,606,000 bu. last year. The condition of barley is 88% and the forecast, 6,750,000 bu., against 4,699,000 bu. last year. Both crops are excellent. Barley stock are placed at 3%.

All tame hay is rated at 86% and the forecast is 4,182,000 tons against 3,283,000 tons last year. The condition of wild hay is 90% and the crop will be large. The condition of clover and timothy is 88%, alfalfa 82%. The moisture supply was a little short for alfalfa in some counties last month. The condition of pasture is 87%.

The condition of potatoes is 83% and the forecast, 7,231,000 bu., as compared to 5,329,000 bu. last year and the 5-yr. average of 7,986,000 bu. The farm crop is generally good throughout the state and the commercial crop is very promising.

The condition of flax is 90% and the forecast 111,000 bu., as compared to 81,000 bu. last year. The condition of buckwheat is 82%, sweet potatoes, 83%; edible beans, 88%. The area of grain sorghum is 29,000 acres, the condition 86% and the forecast, 562,000 bu. The area of sugar beets is 81,000 acres; the condition 88% and the forecast, 1,037,000 tons as compared to 923,000 tons last year.

The condition of apples is 65% and the forecast, 857,000 bu., as compared to 761,000 bu. last year. The forecast of peaches is 33,000 bu., against 29,000 bu. last year; peaches 65,000 bu., as compared to 50,000 bu. last year. The condition of grapes is 82% and the forecast, 1,893,000 lbs.

Estimates of leading crops for the U. S. now and last year are as follows: corn, 2,385,000 bu. and 2,645,031,000 bu.; winter wheat 552-

767,999 bu. and 626,929,000 bu.; spring wheat, 298,378,000 bu., and 295,376,000 bu.; all wheat $51,145,000 bu. and 832,305,000 bu.; oats 1,277,516,000 bu. and 1,253,739,000 bu.; barley, 248,736,000 bu. and 191,182,000 bu.; rye, 61,484,000 bu. and 49,024,000 bu.; potatoes, 419,714,000 bu. and 358,360,000 bu.; tame hay, 192,078,000 tons and 86,378,000 tons; total apples, 127,597,000 bu. and 246,460,000 bu.; commercial apples, 24,831,000 and 39,411,000 bbls.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Favors and children were visitors in Omaha today for a few hours and from there the family departed for Arcadia, Nebraska, for a short visit.

Parties having Designers and Draftsmen at the Bates Book and Gift Shop are requested to call for them at once.
