First Day of Old Settlers is Well Attended

Very Fine Program and the Attendance Above Usual Despite Rain of Thursday.

From Saturday's Daily—

Case and adjoining counties met in their 39th annual picnic with the opening day on Friday, August 12th, and after a very hard rain the night before, when the creeks were overflowed, and the roads very muddy, a large crowd gathered to celebrate the event which brought together pioneers and old settlers who came here half a hundred years ago and more to wrest out of the grasp of Indians and wild animals, a country as wild as nature had made it, making during the roll of the years a country as productive as the sun shines on.

A large crowd was out to celebrate the opening day, and the first number was the address of Will Maupin, who said he was a Christian minister, and a democrat while still working for a republican paper. The speaker gave the assembled crowd some good wholesome advice and kept the listeners in a good humor while he told them that the American home was responsible for all the evils which the flesh is heir, from rheumatism to murder or running off with another man's wife. He seemed to think that but for one reason the people would become a legless race, as they always rode in an auto, but for one reason, that, and that is the dresses were so short there was no reason of growing legs.

Murray Gives Good Entertainment.

Murray under the direction of Miss Mable Howard, and by the way who possessed a great ability, and with the very select talent of that community was able to furnish an hour and a half entertainment which pleased the people and kept them laughing all the time. The entertainment was well received and the management are very thankful to this talented young woman and her band for their contribution to the success of the gathering.

The Tugs of War.

The tug of war which was staged between what is known as the M. W. A. team and consisted of W. H. Porter as the leader, Edger for his assistance, E. B. Chapman, John Becker, Ray Becker, Harry McCarrroll, while they were opposed by a team which was furnished by Edward Dowler, and were composed of C. D. Austin, L. J. Austin, Roy Becker, Ray Bramblett and Jay Austin. When the boys were about to pull on the ropes, all wanting to see the event crowded up so that but little show was given and every breath of air was shut out. After about three minutes pulling the M. W. A. team brought the other team across the line. After a short rest for they were pretty well winded, and were given a very good show by the M. W. A. team, and with probably two minutes of hard pulling the M. W. A. team won, thus making the game theirs.

The Ladies Pull.

The ladies with but one square away pulled the championship between two selected teams. One was promoted by Harry McCarrroll, who was one of the strong men in the outfit, who had as his team, Mesdames Ross Niday, Harry McCarrroll, Edger, Merritt and "Bud" Plich, the other, and was composed of Mrs. Dowler, and was composed of Mrs. Wower, Mesdames W. L. Haveridge, Joseph Liggett and Eugene Raddy. The line was truant for quite a considerable length of time before either showed any signs of giving, but in the end the latter team captured by Mr. Dowler succeeded and the sport was over.

The meeting for Saturday is looked to as being able to furnish much amusement and a very profitable day for all who attend, as they will have an opportunity to meet their friends.

MINISTER TO GO TO CAMP AS OFFICER IN GUARD

Shenandoah, Ia., Aug. 12.—When Company E. Iowa National Guard, leaves for Camp Dodge for the annual encampment a minister will be second in command, First Lieut. Edward C. Stauffer is said to be the only ordained minister who is a line officer in the National Guard. He will leave for camp Sunday night after he has conducted services at the First Baptist church. The company will depart at midnight Saturday night in charge of Capt. Gorman B. Howell and Lieut. Edgar Perdue.

FARMER TWINS ARE 76

Columbus, Neb., Aug. 10.—Nearly four hundred farmers from the countryside gathered at the Thompson twin place, east of here Sunday to help them celebrate their seventy-sixth birthday. They took basket dinners and spent the day with the old fellows, Charles and George. George is blind. The men are bachelors and have lived together many years. In their younger days, both taught school, and none who gather annually for the birthday picnic are former pupils.

Training Camp Activities are in Full Swing Now

Second Week of the C. M. T. C. at Fort Crook Sees Work Well Organized and Under Way.

From Friday's Daily—

Nebraska's C. M. T. Camp, Colonel C. A. Trye commanding, has completed one week of worth while activity. Six hundred and twenty-seven boys are learning the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship and are increasing their value to the nation, by hard work and well directed play. The military organization of the camp stresses not only drill and the handling of the rifle, but physical training, posture, correction, and best of all, love and respect for our flag and everything it stands for.

Hygienic conditions in camp are almost ideal. The boys sleep in large, well ventilated tents on army cots. Each tent has a board floor. Bathing and laundry facilities are provided in the permanent brick quarters of the Seventeenth Infantry. Drinking water is secured from the city of Omaha and the water in the swimming pool is tested daily and changed two or three times a week.

A large staff of medical and dental officers are on duty at the post hospital and the camp infirmary. The latter is located within a few feet of the boys' quarters and provides emergency service. Thus far no illness has been reported and no accidents of moment have occurred.

The mess hall, in charge of Lt. O'Connell of the Seventeenth Infantry, is a center of strenuous activity from four o'clock a. m. until late at night. Seventy cents a boy per day is allowed for food alone, exclusive of cooks, helpers and overhead. When it is remembered that the regular army has been feeding on thirty cents a day the high quality of the meals can be estimated. Four or five officers, each with the boys and John them in preparing the food, ice-cream and cake are frequently served and fresh fruit is a part of the regular menu. A light luncheon, including a bottle of milk for each boy, is distributed each morning at ten o'clock. The most stringent sanitary laws are observed in preparing, handling, preparing, and serving the food. Flies are eliminated by a fly-swalling detail, aided by well-fitting screens and numerous fly-traps.

The daily schedule is arranged to alternate periods of physical activity with class or lecture periods so that the boys will not be over-taxed by unaccustomed exertions. Instruction in citizenship forms a part of each morning's program. Voluntary activities of all sorts are enjoyed during the afternoon; each sport under the supervision of an expert.

The morale officer, Capt. Chas. Henry, Seventeenth Infantry, presides over recreational and social life of the camp. Boxing and wrestling matches, movies, and dances are among the activities arranged for. Young ladies of the city of Omaha are brought to camp for the dances through the kindness of various organizations. The contingent for the first camp, Thursday, August fourth, were furnished by the Catholic Daughters.

The Chaplains have established a recreation tent where writing materials, magazines, music and games are available to the students. A church parade and early church service for the entire camp was a feature of Sunday, August seventh. The Y. M. C. A. K. of C. and Jewish Community Center, all extend hospitality to boys in town and furnish entertainment in camp.

The parents of each C. M. T. C. boy are especially urged to visit him in camp on "Parents' Day" Sunday, August twenty-first. The distance to Omaha is not great. Plan to see your boy drill and parade as well as to visit him in camp surroundings and to meet his friends and tent-mates. Parents who send written notice of their coming in advance will be invited to eat a real army meal with the boys. Don't fail to send notice if you can't come. This is a fine opportunity to see what the government is doing for its citizens-to-be. Fathers interested in the National Guard will want to stay for "National Guard Day," August twenty-second. If progress during the next two weeks is as rapid as it has been thus far visitors will see a well-trained military unit as well as six hundred happy boys.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE LUNCHEON

From Saturday's Daily—

Last evening Mrs. W. A. Robertson was hostess at a very delightful bridge luncheon in honor of Mrs. Jay Brown, of Cleveland, Ohio, formerly Miss Claire Dovey of this city. The attractive Robertson home was very pleasantly arranged with the decorations of the garden flowers that made a very pretty setting for the bridge.

During the evening the time was spent most delightfully and in the playing the first prize was won by Mrs. C. E. Hartford, the second by Mrs. L. G. Miner and the consolation prize by Miss Barbara Gerling. In serving and entertaining Mrs. Robertson was assisted by Mrs. Harvey Gomer, Miss Vestetta Robertson and Miss Sophia Steger.

The only out of town guest was Mrs. F. E. Woodward of Davenport Iowa, who is here visiting her mother, Mrs. Harriett Cole and her sister, Mrs. H. F. Goo.

Need of More Attractiveness in Street Parking

Main Arteries Through the City Not as Well Kept as They Should Be Maintained.

From Friday's Daily—

While the city has many well kept streets and beautiful homes with well maintained lawns and street parkings, it seems that the main lines of travel through the city, from which the traveler glimpse their impressions of the city, are not as well kept as they should be.

The avenues that form the main highways over which the K. of T. highway is routed give a very poor impression of the city and are among the most untidy streets from the parking to the places overgrown with weeds and grass that should at least be cut and placed in shape where they will be a credit to the residents of the community.

One who comes into the city and sees the well kept and maintained surroundings of the Masonic Home and then drives on into the city has a striking contrast offered as there are many places where the grass is long and unkempt as well as frequent weed patches on both avenues that are a very serious reflection on the enterprise of the city.

There are several small tracts and parking along both Chicago and Washington avenues that appear to be waits as far as care is concerned, apparently belonging to no one and full bearing out this fact in their general appearance. The park board has made efforts to keep the several small parkings under their charge in good shape.

MANLEY NEWS ITEMS

Herman Dall was looking after some business in Omaha on Wednesday of last week.

Grover C. Rhoden and the family were enjoying a visit with friends here during their stay in Omaha last Sunday, they driving over in their car.

Glen Finischnan has about completed the work of painting at the store of R. Bergman and has the place looking spick and span, and neat as a pin.

Andrew Schleifert was in Manley a few days since securing material for the making over of his side-delivery hayrack, as hay making is in fashion now.

Rudolph Bergman and the family were visiting in Omaha and attending the Sell-Floto shows in the morning, as well as looking after some business matters.

Misses Maggie and Katie Wolpert, Mesdames Alice Jenkins and Elmer Pearson were guests at the home of Mrs. Herman Rauth on last Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Humble were over to Lincoln on Friday of last week where they were attending the Shriners' picnic which was held at Capitol Beach, they driving over in their auto.

A. H. Humble, during his spare time which is not much, has been furnishing the floors at the home and doing other things which are adding much to the appearance and convenience of the home.

Mrs. Anton Auerwald, who some time since had her ankle broken in the wreck on the Burlington when the train struck their car in progress, is very nicely at the Lord Lister hospital at Omaha.

slugs and a number of the residents have worked to make these points more attractive with howers and well kept grass plots but their efforts are in vain when there are so many places that are allowed to remain in a partially neglected condition to say the least and this should be remedied. While the cost of elaborate parking systems are not to be urged on the city there should be a concerted effort to make the surroundings of our main driveways more appealing to the eye and less examples of neglect.

ORDER OF HEARING and Notice on Petition for Settlement of Account.

In the County Court of Cass County, Nebraska, State of Nebraska, Case County, No. 258.

To all persons interested in the estate of Paul Bajcek deceased: On reading the petition of John Bajcek, executor praying a final settlement and allowance of his account filed in this court on the 15th day of August 1927 and for his discharge, it is hereby ordered that you and all persons interested in said matter, do, and appear at the County Court to be held in and for said county on the 27th day of August, A. But they did not get into the trouble which Jiggs did.

Celebrate Birthday Anniversary.

The many friends of Mrs. Alice Jenkins, whom all love and respect, and who has made her home in Manley for some time, unbeknown to her conspired to give this excellent lady a good time on her birthday. They gathered a large number together and going to her home made a most pleasant afternoon. The ladies were very pleasantly spent in social conversation, and the best wishes were extended for the coming years. They had provided for the refreshments and also for a remembrance for their friend whose anniversary they had called to celebrate.

Enjoy Picnic Wednesday.

The members of the Manley Bible school held their annual picnic at the Ruetter grove, west of Manley and all members of the school and many of their friends were there to enjoy the excellent time which had been provided for the children.
