From Monday's Daily—
At high noon today at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. H. G. McClusky of the First Presbyterian church occurred the marriage of two of the prominent young people of Cass county, Miss Fern Gansemer and Mr. Harry Knabe.

The wedding was a very quiet one, the bride and groom being attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollard of Nehawka, the latter a sister of the bride.

The impressive marriage service was celebrated by Rev. McClusky and the ring service used in the performance of the marriage ceremony.

The bride and matron of honor were both gowned in dark traveling suits with hats to match.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gansemer of Mt. Pleasant and a young lady of charm and personality and has a very wide circle of friends over this portion of Cass county. She is a graduate of the Plattsmouth high school of the class of 1924 and since graduation has been engaged in teaching in the Nehawka schools where her work in the educational lines has been very much appreciated.

The groom is one of the progressive young farmers of near Nehawka and is one of the best known of the younger farmers in this part of Nebraska and has been most successful in his work in modernized farming. Mr. Knabe is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Knabe of near Nehawka and has grown to manhood in that locality and where he is held in the highest esteem by a very large circle of friends.

NEBRASKA LOOKING FINE

The writer and Harry Hinton departed from Plattsmouth on last Thursday evening in the car of the latter, driving to Crookston, in Cherry county, arriving the following afternoon, driving all the night and finding many detours. However, we found the crops looking fine with the straw stacks where the thrashing had been done, and the hay in the process of making, while the corn at every place was looking fine with the ears hanging downward and the husks beginning to turn brown, indicating ripening. In one instance, which was north of Longpine, there were some evidences of dry weather, and the corn was slightly flint. However, the crop over the entire trip, which is four hundred miles, looking good. In going, we covered one portion of the trip at night, and returning the process was reversed, thus giving us an opportunity to see the entire trip during the day time. At Crookston we found Emil Baumgart, who is engaged in shipping cattle and hogs as well as stock raising. He and the family were well and enjoying the life of the northwest. Returning, we stopped just at daylight at Plainview and awakened W. D. Glock from his peaceful slumbers and had a very pleasant visit in the early morning with him and his wife. They pressed it upon us to remain for a chicken dinner, but home was two hundred miles away and we hastened on. The trip impressed upon us that Nebraska is going to harvest a large crop of excellent corn.

SPLENDID MUSICAL PROGRAM

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening those who attended the Parmele theatre had the pleasure of enjoying an unusually attractive musical program both of the Wur-litzer organ and the vocal offerings of Frank A. Clodt. In the short oratorio before the opening performance, Carl Weigel, the master organist, gave a group of three numbers embracing a classic, a popular standard and one of the late song hits, "My Heart at Your Sweet Voice" from "Samson and Delilah." Gypsy Love Song by Victor Herbert and "Yesterday" one of the late song hits. Mr. Clodt, with Mr. Weigel at the organ gave two numbers, the popular "Russian Lullaby by Irving Berlin and "The Garden of Tomorrow." These numbers were all a splendid addition to the fine picture of Hoot Gibson and gave a real entertainment.

Mrs. Burrows

Rev. Walter R. Robb Conducts Services in Memory of Esteemed Resident of City.

From Tuesday's Daily—
In Walker county, Georgia on June 6th, 1849 there was born a baby girl who was later named Mary J. Colquitt. In this same vicinity she lived and enjoyed the years of babyhood, girlhood, young womanhood and many of her maturity. She died in Plattsmouth, Nebraska, Sunday morning September the 11th, 1927, aged 78 years, 3 months and 5 days.

In the sunny land of Georgia in the same community in which as a young woman this departed one lived there was a young man by name of Ezekiel R. Burrows. He won after an ardent courtship Mary J. Colquitt for his bride. They were married in the year 1866. To this union there resulted in being born four children, three of which remain to sorrow at the loss now being suffered. Mr. J. A. Burrows of Weeping Water, Nebraska, Mrs. Lulu M. Stone of Lincoln, Nebraska and Lester Burrows of the city of Plattsmouth, Nebraska. One daughter by name of Sarah E. Mayall preceded her mother in death a number of years ago. There are two adopted sons, Claude and Seymour Mayall.

The husband Ezekiel R. Burrows some 33 years ago in the year 1894 passed on before.

The above named children together with a number of grandchildren are today much burdened with grief at the loss of a splendid mother.

One sister, Mrs. Catherine McAllister of Republic, Missouri, remains to share with these others this sorrow.

Mary J. Burrows with her husband lived in Georgia until after her four children were born but later with her husband and family moved to Springfield, Missouri, where the husband died. In 1905 as a widow with a portion of her children she came to Plattsmouth where she has since resided. At the time of her death she was making her home here with her son, Lester Burrows.

Early in life while yet a girl she gave expression to her faith in the Christian religion by uniting in membership with the Baptist church. Shortly after arrival in Plattsmouth she became a member of the First Christian church of this city where she continued to hold membership and take an active interest in her church's work. During the writer's pastorate she was present at some morning services and always evidenced great happiness when so privileged to take part in public worship.

From childhood to the day of her death her trust was in the pardoning power of her Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ. In His service she labored as a mother and as a Christian through the years. For this service she loved ones of her immediate family as well as her host of friends loved her with splendid affection.

In their hearts she has built up a lasting monument that will be eternal in its character. Her son Lester Burrows, together with his wife will particularly miss her because it was in their home that she spent her last years. And much of her happiness obtained in advanced years can be attributed to the kind and loving ministrations of this son and his wife.

As we think of her advanced years and of the night-time of life that has gradually settled down over her we are reminded of those splendid words of Longfellow written just nine days before his death and the last words of a great poet. They are:

"Out of the shadows of night,
The world rolls into light;
It is daybreak everywhere."
So it must be with the old and infirm and as they emerge from the shadows of time into the light of an eternal day.

Funeral services were conducted at two o'clock this afternoon from the late residence at 12th and Hickory streets and were in charge of Rev. Walter R. Robb of Nebraska City, former pastor of the local church.

Rev. Robb brought to the relatives and friends gathered together a message of comfort and hope, the basis of which was taken from the words of scripture found in the 12th verse of the 13th chapter of First Corinthians "For now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known." Interment was made in Oakhill cemetery.

Music at the services was in charge of Mrs. E. H. Wescott of this city. She very beautifully brought solace to the beloved hearts by singing two solo numbers, entitled "Shall We Gather at the River," and "Rock of Ages."

Baseball Team

Several Fine Semi-Pro Games Will Be Staged on the Local Lot in Coming Weeks.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Baseball has had a very lively season in this locality and as a result of the many games played a great amount of interest has been shown. The local talent in our fair city is not to be scoffed at and if the fans of this community will unite to the support of the present organization, a team of real merit will show their wares at the local park Sunday.

The talent that has represented our city in the Cass-Sarpy County League are to be congratulated on their fine showing the past season for both the quality of their playing and the clean sportsmanship. The two games which remain unplayed have been cancelled by agreement, as the standings of the teams would not be affected by the outcome.

The Cass-Sarpy league team representing Plattsmouth has not been a success financially and the players have been very loyal to stick to the ship through the storm but now is an opportunity to do your bit by getting behind the present organization and attend the games and get your friends to attend.

The management have induced our semi-pro talent that have been playing independent ball out of town to join our own ranks and make a team that will meet the best clubs from Omaha. To start off with we will bring to our park the U. P. Gold Coast Limited colored champs of Omaha to do battle with our re-organized organization. This club requires a guarantee and the only way you can show your appreciation of our efforts is to boost the attendance for this opening game. The results will determine our future efforts to bring more of this class of ball to our city. The gate will be divided after the city is paid 10 per cent of the gross and the visiting team paid its guarantee the expense of balls and advertising paid, hence your support will be an indirect contribution to our club representatives.

We will make a nominal charge of 50c to adults and 25c for children and ladies—children under 10 free.

We have in our organization at present a Mr. Young who has been in the traveling camp of Oklahoma City and on the road with this organization for a trip around the Western League circuit and has given a good account of himself, and Herb Klauschie, who has been in training the last two seasons with Omaha and Des Moines Western League and with Charles City Semi-Pro club this season, and our own Eddie Gradoville who has had the distinction of being called on by our neighboring towns when a hard game is in sight. Last but not least we have an impersonation of "Dum

JOHN CORY POORLY

John Cory of this city, who has just returned from an auto trip with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Braunter to Pender, Sioux City and Sac City, Iowa, is not feeling the best for the last few days and has suffered a great deal from the excessive heat despite the delightful trip that he has enjoyed. Mr. Cory celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday at Sac City, Iowa, on September 4th at the old home and with his brothers and other relatives and they enjoyed a visit to the spot where the Cory family arrived many years ago and when John was but one year of age.
