

HOMES ARE QUIET AND LONESOME these days when kiddies are off to school. During vacation days we frowned on their noise; bemoaned the dirt they brought into the house; scolded them for this and for that; sent them to bed without supper—a NOW—HOW WE MISS OUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

Eight Day Fair Order of Board

Managers of State Fair Unanimous in Action—High School Band Contest to Be Continued.

The state fair board closed a meeting at the capital Monday with a decision to extend the next state fair two days, making the 1928 fair an eight day exposition instead of a six day affair. The fair will open Friday morning and close Friday evening the following week.

President Wake of Seward, A. J. Weaver of Falls City, first vice president; A. W. Lamb of Albion, second vice president; Perry Reed of Henderson, I. D. Tolen of Ord, A. H. Miller of Kennard and R. R. Vance of Hastings constituted the board of managers that voted unanimously for an eight day fair. The details of the extended program will be worked out later by Secretary Jackson and his assistants who favored an extension. In taking this action the board took into consideration an increase in expenses but also better accommodations for the public and better working conditions for the fair organization in the matter of judging. It is likely the Lancaster county fair which is held in conjunction with the state fair, will be held Friday and Saturday, the first and second days of the fair, and all its judging will be completed within that time.

The Yanks, the hard hitting and record breaking champs of the American league were able to chalk up one game in the world's title battle this afternoon at Forbes field, Pittsburgh, when they checked the National league leaders, the Pirates, 5 to 4.

The crew of Miller Huggins led the field all of the way and despite desperate attempts of the Pirates in the last innings to gain the lead they were held by Moore, relief hurler of the Yanks.

The grandstands were packed by the fans for the opening game and the hard battling Pirates received strong support from their home guard.
