Record Crowd Attends Dance Here Last Nite

Grand Opening Ball in New Community Building Draws People from Far and Near.

From Thursday's Daily—

Undoubtedly the largest dance crowd ever assembled in Plattsmouth was present last night at the grand opening ball in the new Legion community building, that was dedicated only a few days ago.

Followers of the art of Terpsichore came from far and near to swell the crowd to immense proportions and even tax the capacity of the large 58x88 floor with its 5,000 square feet of dance space.

The drawing card was Tracy Brown's big 14-piece orchestra direct from Ad-Sell restaurants, Omaha, and no one was disappointed when they heard this nationally popular organization "cut loose."

The advance sale run around $175, while the door netted $230. The soft drink stand and check room yielded good returns, and on the whole the Legion will clean up a nice sum because of their daring courage in booking nearly twice as high priced an orchestra as has ever appeared in Plattsmouth.

The crowd was most orderly and everyone was enjoying himself to the limit, without display of any sort of rowdyism. The Legion expects to use the proceeds to pay off indebtedness and provide future recreation, and will adhere to the set rule of clean entertainment at all times.

Advance bookings for the current month include Al Finch and His Symphonians Saturday night of this week; Angelo Lupo and his Carter Lake club orchestra, Saturday, Oct. 15; Leo Beck's Lincoln orchestra, Wednesday, Oct. 19; the 11-piece Goldenrods of Omaha, Saturday, Oct. 22, and June Marshall and His Little Band Saturday, Oct. 29. Popular prices of $1 for gentlemen dancers; ladies free and spectators, 25c will prevail.

The dancing public expressed itself as well pleased with the new floor and the arrangements made for handling the crowd, checking of clothing, etc., and complimented the general interior appearance of the new community building that the Legion has worked so hard to get and will continue to work equally hard to complete.

Mrs. H. E. Soutter also gave a most interesting talk on the work of the societies and the personality touch in the work of the church.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Young Held Thursday

Body is Laid to the Last Long Rest in Oak Hill Cemetery—Many Friends Attend Service.

Mattie Ellen Estlack was born at Albia, Iowa, September 12th, 1857. On July 6th, 1881, in the city of her birth she was married to Mr. George Palmer. To this union there were born three sons and one daughter. One son aged three years and eight months on November 15th, 1887, preceded the mother in death.

In December, 1897, she was married to Jasper M. Young, who was called by death March 17, 1927. The two sons and one daughter survive her. They are Mr. Ralph Palmer, of Omaha; Dr. Walter Palmer of Blackwell, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Clara Godwin, Omaha, Nebraska.

Mrs. Mattie Palmer Young, as she was affectionately known and called by old friends was a splendidly good woman. Early in life she accepted the tenets of the Christian religion and very shortly after taking up her residence in Plattsmouth, she became a member of the First Christian church, in which she continued to hold membership until the time of her death.

All her life time she was actuated by the highest and best ideals. Naturally of a religious temperament, she found great comfort and delight in trying to exemplify the teachings of Holy Writ in her daily life. In later years of life her infirmities and distance from church services made impossible regular attendance. Nevertheless her interest in religious things continued on unaltered. She was constantly alert for an opportunity of encouraging devotion in others to her religion and her God. In the lives of many the influence of her seventy years of life have not been wasted, but by her impressions for good they have been inspired to live righteously.

Funeral services were conducted over the remains yesterday afternoon at the Sattler Funeral home by Rev. Walter R. Robb, of Nebraska City.

Two sacred numbers of song were rendered by Mrs. Hal Garnett and Mr. Frank Clouet in duet, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Blest be the Tie." Mrs. Roy W. Knorr accompanied at the piano.

After the services the remains were borne with tender and loving care and thought to Oak Hill cemetery, where committal services were held. There, in that silent city of the dead was left the form which for seventy years housed the spirit that was so kind and helpful to all who knew her. She is gone, but she will not be forgotten for we bear branded in our lives the marks of her goodness. Time shall not erase them, but eternity will reveal them to be a part of her architecture of life.

WILL APPEAL CASE

From Thursday's Daily—
The case of the State of Nebraska vs. C. Lawrence Stull, charged with the violation of the liquor law, was the chief attraction at the court house yesterday and the county court room was packed to the limit with the interested onlookers to hear the evidence and the arguments.

The chief testimony for the state was that of the evidence man who was here some weeks ago and who testified to having received liquor from Mr. Stull at his farm north-west of this city and this was the only evidence as to the alleged sale.

The defense had a number of witnesses that testified as to the evidence man having carried liquor on his person while here, several testified as to having had him give them drinks at different times, and which was one of the features of the defense that the liquor that was alleged to have been received from Stull was the property of the evidence man and not that of Mr. Stull. Members of the family of the defendant also were called to testify as to the actions of the evidence man and as to whether or not any sale of liquor had been made.

The methods of the evidence man was given a scathing denunciation by Frank Bartos, of Wilber, the attorney of the defense at the close of the case.

County Judge A. H. Duxbury, who heard the case decided against the defendant and sentenced him to ninety days in the county jail and at once the notice of appeal to the district court was announced by the attorney for the defense.

CARD OF THANKS

Words spoken or written cannot express the appreciation for the kind, generous and tender care shown our mother and loved one not only during the last few hours of her life but also in any way or at any time have influenced happiness, good will and such with our mother.—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Palmer, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Godwin.

Jack Patterson Has Case Against Him Dismissed

Complaint That Was Filed On His Return From Ohio Is Dismissed at Hearing.

From Friday's Daily—

The complaint that was filed here by the county attorney at the time of the return of Jack Patterson from Cleveland, Ohio, and which charged him with embezzlement of a government bond of $1,000, was dismissed yesterday afternoon in the county court and Mr. Patterson freed of any charges that might be made in this connection.

The case had not been one that gave the state much basis of a prosecution and little evidence could be adduced to place the responsibility for the bond on Mr. Patterson and following the conference that took up the greater part of the forenoon and early afternoon between the representatives of the Bank of Union, of which Mr. Patterson was formerly cashier, the county attorney and Attorney Frank Howell of Omaha, the matter was arranged to the satisfaction of the bank and the case dismissed by the county attorney.

A motion by County Attorney Kieck to dismiss the complaint, which specifically charged the embezzlement of a thousand dollar Liberty bond, stated that prosecution of the case was doubtful and that the county would be put to an unusually heavy expense.

Neither bank officials nor Patterson would reveal the exact amount of the settlement, but it is understood to have been about $2,300.

Charge Discredited.

Attorney Frank Howell of Omaha, counsel for Patterson, pointed out that the settlement did not involve the thousand dollar bond named in the complaint. That charge was discredited, he said.

"The reason that I have permitted two continuances to be taken was to allow county authorities to make further investigation of their charges. I was confident that they could conclude there was no justification for any criminal prosecution. It has turned out just as I expected."

Patterson, who originally had planned to contest the suit, said he had been sure the charges would be recognized as a mistake. Neither he nor his father had been worried by the charge, they said, and the hearing, which was scheduled for 10 o'clock Thursday, escaped the elder Patterson's memory until nearly noon.

Says Everything "Square."

W. B. Banning, cashier of the bank, would not comment on the dismissal, but declared that "everything is square now."

This closes the action as regards Mr. Patterson and will now permit him to go ahead with his plans of readjusting himself and getting back to his old surroundings from which he was self exiled for a period from August 1924 until a few weeks ago when he was found at Cleveland, Ohio, and later returned home to his family and friends. Mr. Patterson has not fully decided as to his plans but expects to get engaged in business or work now that the charges against him have been withdrawn.

Mr. Patterson states that the settlements that were made covered a few items of individual indebtedness in notes to the bank and also the stock that is still held in the name of Mr. Patterson and which was taken over by the bank, the negotiations covering the question of the amount that was asked for the stock.

The bond matter was dismissed as Mr. Patterson states he had no part in handling the bond and knew nothing of the transaction and the disposition of the bond was something that he was in no way responsible for.

Platters Play Hard Game Against Tecumseh High

Locals Lose by Score of 13 to 7 at Tecumseh on Tuesday Afternoon—Score on Pass.

From Saturday's Daily—

The Plattsmouth high school football team tangled with what is generally doped as the "class" in the southeastern Nebraska schools when they played the Tecumseh high school pig skin warriors on their own lot and as the result of the unpleasantness the Tecumseh boys were the winner by the score of 13 to 7.

The game was one in which the Platters made a good showing and the result of the battle between the two schools was decided by the breaks that in this case were favorable to the Tecumseh warriors when one of the fumbles of the Platters grew into a touchdown for their foes.

The Platters in their work showed superiority in the line game and in the line plunges and their passing game showed improvement and in fact the score of the Plattsmouth team came as the result of a beautiful pass to Jack Hatt that he placed down behind the goal line for the first blood of the hectic struggle.

The first half of the game was scoreless with the locals more than playing their share of the game and preventing the Tecumseh team from scoring by making their downs and Perry made some effective punches on the line in the opening portion of the game but a bad pass lost some twenty hard earned yards for the locals.

The scoring of Plattsmouth came in the third quarter of the game when a passing attack by Perry to Gansmeier gained ground and after which the locals punted some forty yards and carried the ball into the Tecumseh territory where the Higgins crew was held and then there was doing when after line plunges a pass to Hatt brought the first score and then the big right foot of Bob Fitch put over the extra point.

Just after the play had been resumed the Tecumseh team recovered a fumble that closed what seemed like another Plattsmouth smash Perry was lugging the ball and Fitch as interference and as Fitch dove into the opposing tackle they fell and Perry also tripped over the struggling warriors, the ball flying from his hands into the palms of Casford, quarter of the Tiggin's gang and who raced thirty-five yards for the touchdown, but the try for point failed and left the score 7 to 0.

The last scoring of Tecumseh was in the latter part of the fourth quarter when a well executed fake end run was started that resulted in a pass for twenty-five yards for the Tecumseh lads and a ten yard smash carried the ball over and then Casford kicked for the extra point.

Both teams showed well and the fans while they had hoped for victory were pleased with the form that Fred Rotherbert's proteges showed on the field.
