

Greenwood Department!

Prepared in the Interest of the People of Greenwood and Surrounding Vicinity

Miss Jennie Burdock of Ashland was visiting with her son, E. F. Smith for the past week.

Phillip Reese was assisting his brother Art trim hedge at the farm east of town on last Wednesday.

Business called W. C. Emelund to Plattsmouth on Wednesday of the past week, he making the trip in his auto.

On Tuesday of last week Phil L. Hall was called to the county seat where he had some business matters to look after.

Mrs. Ella Marshall of Ashland and Miss Catherine Coleman were visiting for the last Sunday at the home of W. P. Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bourks of Eagle were visiting for the day on last Sunday with their many friends and relatives in Greenwood.

Clarence A. Burkell of near Elmwood was visiting on last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bucknell and family at Greenwood.

Mathews and Peterson installed two eliminators for the radio which Mr. O. F. Peters uses at the home this doing away with the batteries.

Harry Schneider and wife were guests for the day on last Sunday at the home of the mother of Mrs. Schneider, they all enjoying the visit very much.

Miss Helen Law Hamlin was a visitor with her friends, Miss Thelma Birdsall for over the week end last Sunday, the young ladies enjoying a very good time.

Ina, Esther, and Ike Ingraham of Ashland were guests for the day last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilkin, they being sisters and brother of Mrs. Wilkin.

Miss Catherine Coleman was having the crib on his farm enlarged and rebuilt to contain the crop of corn which is now awaiting the pickers, and is an excellent crop.

P. A. Sanborn was spending two days in Omaha during the past week where he was looking after some business matters, while Mrs. Sanborn was visiting for the week there as well.

Mesdames L. G. Taylor and W. S. Davidson, both sisters of Mrs. A. F. Weibke, and making their home in Lincoln were visiting at the Weibke home in Greenwood on last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Coleman and son, Ivan, of near Ashland were visiting for a few moments in Greenwood on last Wednesday as they returned from a business trip to Lincoln.

The enterprising firm of Mahtews and Peterson installed last week a new radio at the home of Mrs. Lulu Hurlbut, which is giving the very best satisfaction. It is the celebrated Mohawk, one of the latest and best.

Henry Wilkin, while things were not so busy in the barber shop, was out in the country, assisting the farmers in gathering in their corn, and found the pastime very pleasant and invigorating was well paying besides.

Miss Beulah Hawley of San Francisco, has been visiting in Greenwood and a guest at the homes of her uncles, Fred and Albert Ethrege, and enjoyed her stay here very much, departing for her home in the west on last Monday.

Albert Ethrege who has been assisting in getting things along the D. L. D. highway in ship shape, has all the prods driven for the snow fence and will this week have all the snow fences up, for the protecting of the highways.

W. B. Umphauer and wife, Harry Kelling and wife, and J. A. Supphan and wife, all from Beatrice were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of W. A. White and George Bucknell, where they all enjoyed the occasion very well as they are old time friends.

Wallace Borden and Sophas Peterson departed on last Sunday morning, driving to New Hampton, Mo., which is about 200 miles from Greenwood where they visited for two days at the home of Andrew Stevens and wife and there Sophas got his initiation in the art of picking corn, this being his first experience. Still he liked it very well. The gentlemen returned Tuesday evening, and enjoyed the trip very much.

Very Popular Supper. The supper given in honor and for the benefit of the Greenwood band last Saturday evening was well attended and greatly enjoyed and netted the sum of $87.37 which will be used for the benefit of the band, and their supplies.

Many Attend Training School. Greenwood was credited with the largest delegation outside of Lincoln at the Interdenominational Bible Training School held at Lincoln last week. There were there from the Greenwood church, Mesdames Fred Goodfellow, O. F. Peters, John Graham, John Lambert, Miss Ethel Hartsook, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Howard, Rev. T. W. Shephard, and C. E. Calfee, all being members of the Methodist church.

Will Live in Murdock. Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence D. Lee, Mrs. Lee formerly Miss Newkirk, have located in Murdock, where the doctor has opened up an office for general practice, and should enjoy an excellent clientele, as he has had good practice in Omaha for some time.

Many Visit Ashland. Some thirty-one of the members of the Greenwood Rebekah Assembly were over to Ashland last Tuesday evening where they were the guests of the Rebekahs of that city, and where work in theater was put on. Following which a banquet was served.

Entertained the Ladies. Mrs. G. W. Holt entertained at her home in Greenwood the ladies of the Owl's Club, on Wednesday afternoon of last week, where the ladies had a most pleasant afternoon playing games and were served a delightful luncheon by the genial host.

Many Picking Corn. Many of the farmers over the country are at this time beginning to pick their corn, and while they find the corn of very good quality and a fair yield, they are finding it still in many instances very green yet that is containing much water, and not in condition to pile up very much and especially should the weather remain very warm and damp. Still many are uneasy about letting the good weather slip past and they not working.

MAIL PILOT LEAPS 9,000 FEET; SAFE. Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 27.—Dick Bowman, missing Los Angeles-San Francisco air mail pilot, parachuted 9,000 feet to safety when his engine failed him 10 miles from Saugus, according to a report received Wednesday afternoon by the Pacific Air Transport company here. This plane has not been found.

FORMER WEEPING WATER BUSINESS MAN DEAD. Troy L. Davis received a telegram this morning informing him of the death of O. V. Boone, at Broken Bow. His death, apparently very sudden, as friends and relatives had received no inkling of his illness, and the message was a great shock to them. The funeral will be held Friday at Utica. Further particulars could not be had at this time.

Mr. Boone was engaged in the clothing business here for many years, and was active in all the community enterprises. He acted many years as band leader in Weeping Water, where he had a large circle of warm friends and business associates. The family moved to Broken Bow about 5 years ago, where Mr. Boone was engaged in business.

Sincere sympathy is extended the family from this community.—Weeping Water Republican.

MOONLIGHT AND GOLF

From Friday's Daily—

We have read about "Moonlight and Roses" but a new combination has been worked out with the mellow light of the moon and that is golfing by the lunar light.

Last night, Jack Redmond, who has a golf act on at the Orpheum in Omaha, staged a moonlight battle with Faye Porter, state champion at the Happy Hollow club course in Omaha and which brought forth a large number of the golf fans to see the battle, something new in the golf circles of the state and as soon as the Orpheum was closed for the night the participants in the match hurried to the Happy Hollow club where the battle was staged. Flares and searchlights added to the interest of the match and in the nine hole game the experts made their way over the course in fine shape.

The chief interest in the game was the fact however, that Clate Rosencrans and A. O. Moore, two of Plattsmouth's most favorite followers of the canny Scot game were on hand to see the battle. The points gathered by the local people will doubtless be used in forming a similar event in this city if the members can appear on the course sufficiently lit up for the event.

Mr. Moore states that the game was one of great interest and the players shot a fine game despite the handicap that the uncertain artificial light gave them. The reporter called at the place of business of Mr. Rosencrans this morning at 10 o'clock but he was not present and the best reports that could be gained was that he was engaged in perfecting the plans for a moonlight golf tournament here.

It is our opinion however, that good moonlight is too valuable to waste on a common golf game when there is always something doing "Under the Moon."

DEATH OF JAMES LEE. From Saturday's Daily—The death of James Lee, well known resident of this section for a great many years and who has in the past fifteen years been living at Pacific Junction, occurred this morning at 8 o'clock at the hospital in Omaha where Mr. Lee was taken some time ago suffering from a very acute attack of appendicitis.

Mr. Lee was hurried to the hospital and operated upon but was unable to rally from the effects of the ordeal and the poison that had gotten into his system.

Mrs. Lee, the wife of the deceased died a short time ago at the home in Pacific Junction and since that time Mr. Lee has made his home with the children.

The deceased was the father of Mrs. Joseph Bullin formerly of this city and a brother-in-law of William Mindenhall.

BUY STEINAUER HI-LINE. Pawnee City, Neb., Oct. 27.—The electric transmission line between the village of Steinauer, eleven miles northwest, together with the distributing system at Steinauer, have been bought from the village board by the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company for $3,000. The new owners take over the property Nov. 1.

As soon as possible, the corporation will build a high tension line from the hydro-electric plant at Holmesville across Pawnee county, to serve Steinauer, Table Rock, and connect with its plant at Humboldt. Such construction is done, service to Steinauer will be supplied from the local muni plant, under agreement between the corporation and city officials.

Many Attend Hog Men's Convention Friday

Five Hundred Attend Morning Session at Agricultural College and Listen to Talks.

Nearly 500 hog breeders and feeders had gathered at the college of agriculture by noon for the annual hog men's day to take part in "roofing" for the hogs Friday and for the University of Nebraska football game on Saturday. At the beginning of the morning program at 10 o'clock, some 250 people were on hand at the judging pavilion, taking up every available space. Due to the anticipated large attendance at the afternoon meetings the program was held at the student activities building.

Russell Kendall, a graduate, now connected with the Packers National bank of Omaha, told about his experience in the field with the promotion and organization of pig clubs. He cited instances where young boys had entered the work and realized benefit from their efforts. One little eleven-year-old Sarpy county boy, Mr. Kendall related, made a clear profit of over $250 from an original investment of $100 for a proved purebred Poland China sow. He raised a spring and fall litter from the sow, paid $78 for the feed and $3.50 per month interest on the money with which he bought the sow.

Declaring that farmers will often take the best care of their brood sows, yet make the boar sleep in a cold house during the winter, paying little attention to him until he is used, Glenn McQueen, prominent Nebraska hog raiser, explained that the boar was half of the herd and ought to be given the best of care. "The herd boar is important on the farm. He should be a big, long, stretchy animal. Such an animal will add a good many additional pounds of pork to the herd," the speaker brought out. He went on to quote figures on what he had found a good herd boar would do for its owner.

"Mr. McQueen brought out that influenza was the cause for many hog ailments, perhaps causing 50 per cent of the trouble. One fatal consequence of it," Mr. McQueen stated, "was abortion, nearly 50 per cent of such cases resulting from influenza." To cut the trouble from colds down to minimum hogs are best not let to lie in the open during cold nights, the speaker advised. He then went on to present pointers on the care and feeding of the boar.

The last speaker on the morning program was A. D. Webster, of the animal husbandry department, who told the hog men something concerning the sheep situation in Nebraska, bringing out that 20 per cent more lambs were being fed in Nebraska this fall than last.

After the morning session closed, the hog breeders proceeded to the experimental pens, where they inspected experiments being carried out on cattle, hogs and lambs.

The afternoon meeting got under way at 1 o'clock, opening up with a humorous talk by Robin Spence, a member of the Nebraska livestock judging team. Acting Chancellor Burnett welcomed the hog men. W. W. Derrick told the visiting hog men about Nebraska at the national swine show at Peoria, Ill., relating interesting points concerning the judging team that won first at this show.

QUIET CONDUCTIVE TO EFFICIENCY. Scientists say that the noises of a large city cost millions of dollars a year in impaired efficiency of workers. Many of the older, more excruciating noises of civilization are being eliminated. Electric and gas welding is superseding the pneumatic riveter. Electric motors replace the noisy engine. Asphaltic pavements and rubber tired vehicles give back only a fraction of the chatter of the old steel tires on granite block paving.

But the city is still fearfully noisy. Every unnecessary noise saps nerves and destroys health and working efficiency. With ten people living where one lived two decades ago, the sum total of noises is larger today than it was in the earlier days, hence the greater necessity for noise reduction.

To escape noise is one reason for growth in the tendency to take industry to smaller towns, where quiet, and better air, and more greenery and more room and more individuality are possible. All these are definite, bankable assets for any industry.

Electricity, gas and sound-muffling asphalt on streets are three of the most potent noise-reducers, and work as ideally under rural conditions as in the city; with them industry in the smaller community can be almost noiseless and nerveless and 100 per cent efficient.
