The Murray Garage

A. D. Bakke, Manager

Herbert Campbell installed a new pump at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jennings one day during the early portion of the week.

The Murray State bank will be closed for the day on Friday, and thus allowing the employees of the institution to enjoy Armistice day.

Uncle J. W. Edmunds was a business visitor in Nebraska City on Tuesday afternoon, where he was looking after some business matters for the afternoon.

Westly Hill who has been at the hospital in Omaha for some time taking treatment for his health was able to return late last week and was feeling much improved.

Thomas Nelson the hand man for the truth, for he will go after any work whether it be easy or hard, was putting the glass in the new building in the steel frames.

John Sans, James Gruber and W. S. Smith did a very fine piece of work on last Tuesday when they constructed the concrete walk in front of the new postoffice building.

John Farris has been feeling quite poorly for a number of days past and was kept to his home for a time. His many friends are hoping that he may soon be in his usual health again.

Bert Reed was a visitor in Murray on last Monday, looking after the culprit who hurled a stone on last Saturday night through the window of the Thomas Nelson apartment house on east main street.

Business called Glen Boedeker and George Nickles to Omaha on last Tuesday afternoon, they driving over to the big city in their car, to look for the remaining material which is needed to complete the new store building.

Warren Mann and Albert Willis, the latter a merchant of Nebraska, were very brief visitors in Murray on Tuesday of this week while en route for Omaha where they went to secure goods for the Willis store in Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Meade, and a sister of Mr. Meade, Miss Amanda Meade all of Union were visiting in Murray on Tuesday. Mr. Meade, who has been suffering greatly from severe attacks of rheumatism was calling on his family physician, Dr. J. F. Brendel and also visiting with their many friends.

The campfire girls who are ever alert for something to do to assist someone, and every laudable purpose in their town, will give a bake sale at the library on the day following Armistice day, November 12th. Better drop in on the little ladies and see what they are doing for the city of Murray.

George E. Nickles and wife were to Waterloo last Sunday where they were visiting the new Community building which has but recently been completed at that place and thereby getting a most exact idea of what would be the proper thing for the community building which is to be erected here at an early date.

The Nickles Lumber yard is having a very up to date set of scales installed at the lumber yard office which will have capacity for the weighing any loads which may come this way. Ira Eearl and Curley Pearly this week made the excavation for the foundation which was run by J. A. Scotten, and as soon as the foundation shall have ripened the scales will be set, they being here at this time.

Green Pignot, the road overseer, who is one of the factors in keeping the country roads in such good condition has just completed a piece of work on the road between Murray and Mynard, wherein he has changed the course of a creek, which was encroaching on the highway, and would eventually have taken the road. The work was very nicely executed and makes traveling on that stretch of road much safer.

Plain Sewing Wanted
I will do plain sewing at our home. Mrs. Wayne Lewis, Murray, Nebr.

Plum Pudding Well Done.
And many other good things will be on the spread, on Thanksgiving day all over the land, for this is a year of plenty and there is many thanks coming for the manifold blessings which is the lot of the American, and especially the Nebraska and Cass county, and around Murray for sure for the ladies of the Christian church, in keeping with the practice for many years will serve dinner and supper on Thanksgiving day at the church parlors, and all know what a great feast this will be. Watch this paper for some advertising the coming week for this annual festival.

Buff Orpington Cockerels.
We have a number of very fine Buff Orpington cockerels, which we have placed at $150, while they last. Call phone Murray 2811, John Campbell, jr.

Community Building Assured.
At the meeting which was held early this week looking towards the erection of a new and up to date community building, much encouragement was had in the excellent progress which was made regarding the attaining the end so much desired. The evening showed a realization of some eighteen hundred dollars towards the erection of the new edifice. With this start it is thought that the proposition can be accomplished and the much needed building secured.

Many Visit at Union.
A large number of the ladies of the Order of Eastern Star, residing in Murray were guests of the ladies of the order making their homes in Union on last Tuesday, the meeting being held at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Allison of that place and the visitors as well as the delegation from the county seat were elegantly entertained by the ladies of the order of Union. A most delightful day was enjoyed. Mesdames J. F. Brendel, G. H. Gilmore, Fannie Crosser, E. W. Milburn, O. A. Davis, E. S. Tutt and W. G. Boedeker were in attendance.

The New Murray.
Murray suffered greatly by the fire which visited the town early in the summer, but she is rising out from the ashes a better town than before the fire came. With the completion of the two new buildings now in process of erection, and the building of the new community building which is certain of being erected yet this fall, the town will be supplied with better buildings than it ever was, and a new incentive to do all that possibly can be done for the town insures a far better city than it ever was before. The building which replaces the former Peterson building is far superior to the one consumed, as well as the new post office building which has been erected by Mr. Smith is a credit to the town and a great improvement over the one which served so many years before.

REV. CHARLES SHEPHERD ILL
Rev. Charles M. Shepherd, well known minister of Lincoln, also the grand chaplain of the grand lodge of the A. F. & A. M. of Nebraska, is quite ill at his home in Lincoln, reports from that city state. Rev. Shepherd is well known in this city as he has been a frequent visitor here at various Masonic gatherings and is one of the best known Masons in the state. The illness of this distinguished churchman and Mason will be regretted by the many friends in this community where his friends are numerous.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, Nov. 13, 1927.

By M. S. Briggs

Lesson Topic: "Harvest in the Whirlwind."
Golden Text: "I desire goodness, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings."—Hosea 6:6.

The Wayward People.

Israel was a wayward nation, she had followed cunningly devised fables she had forgotten the kindnesses of Jehovah, and had wandered after idols and had worshipped and did sacrifice unto them, even when the idols had been made by their hands. Even from the time when they were in Egypt, many of the people had clung to the worship of idols, even when they were recipients of God's love and favor. From the beginning man had been a perverse child, and has been ungrateful for the many blessings which God had continually showered upon him. The world under the blessings of God had become so wicked, that it was necessary that it be destroyed in the time of the flood, and Noah and his wife, and the three sons and their wives were saved that the world might again be inhabited and that the human race might again be given an opportunity to make good.

Even after man has continually turned towards sin, not all still there were none without sin, and the race was contaminated with the worship of idols, and when they had grown so bad, God chastised them, this in many ways by sword, in which they had losses and became servants to other nations, by droughts, and by pestilences and famines, in which it was taught that as Joshua said at Shechem, if you serve God ye shall prosper, but if you forget him and go away after the worship of idols ye shall be smitten on all sides. So it was and so it has been and will ever be. "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

Hosea, The Prophet.

Now a prophet is not necessarily one who tells the coming of future events, like the making of a program for a future age, but one who is the spokesman of the Great Jehovah, it may be the truth which he wishes to convey, or it may be the pronouncement of the results of the acts whether these acts be right or otherwise. We have just studied about Amos, who while like Elijah, came with a stern command and a rebuke in the most severe terms, telling what the result would be for the way the people had sinned. Amos did not mince the proposition but was most outspoken in what he had to say, and told that those who had seemingly proposed, by their unjust actions would in the end pay the fiddler by being deprived of the very things which they had by unjust means wrested from the poor, whom they had ground down without mercy. Now comes the new prophet, Hosea, he not like Amos, a child of the desert, but a man who had lived in the city and had the advantage of an opportunity to study, and had mingled with man and was well versed in the ways of the world. He with a tender nature, had a message for the people, and while he condemned the sins of Israel and Judah, in no unmeasured terms and told them that they would have to pay for the sins they had and were committing, and he told a ray of hope to them, should they turn from their misdeeds, and also implored them to repent and return to God and in truth trust, obey and believe on Him. Teaching along the line in which the Master taught in the afteryears, he had in mind in expressing the love of God, the thought centralized in the wonderful Golden Text of the Bible found in John 2:16, which reads, "For God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believed on Him might not perish, but have everlasting life." Hosea had had his share of trouble, and used the things which had come to him to illustrate the infinite love of God.

Hosea had married a wife and to them were born three children, a son, then a daughter and then again a son, and in the after years the wife had proved herself untrue, and had become an abandoned woman of the world, and being later a vagabond, was made a slave, and was offered on the block for sale. Notwithstanding the grief which had come to Hosea he purchased her, and took her home, even after her sins, and keeping her in seclusion, and upon her repentance and being converted again to a good woman, became again his wife, thus illustrating the love of God, who was willing to take back again apostate Israel, who had sinned when she had gone after man-made idols and had forgotten Him. Thus Hosea preached an actual sermon in his life, as we all are teaching in our every day lives if by right living, then the results which come from that manner of life, and if by a sinful life, that the calamities which cometh as a natural consequence. Hosea taught as Christ taught in the later days, that God is ever willing to forgive when we in all honesty, of purpose and fully believing, that notwithstanding we have forfeited every just consideration for the clendency of a just and outraged God, that when we do sincerely return and keep the covenants of the Great Jehovah that he will pardon our sins and restore us again to that position, which is so vividly described in the parable of the prodigal son. For had not the younger son asked and received the portion which should come to him and gone away to a far country (that is lived a different life from what he had been taught) had spent his all, and was dead broke, and out of a job, and after having secured a place herding hogs, and was living on the food which they eat, the pods of a locust tree, he concluded he would go back and if he could get a job working for the father who he had dishonored. No sooner did he conclude to go and ask for a place to work and to make good after the wicked life he had lived, than he immediately started for home, fully minded to say to the father "I have sinned against God and Thee, and I have no more right to be considered as thy son. Just give me a place to work, and a morsel to eat." The father, with all that fountain of compassionate love, was waiting for the return of the son, and meeting him out on the way fell on his neck and kissing him fore and all restored him to his position as a member of the family, and to sonship. So is the Heavenly Father waiting for the return of any one who will come to Him, and he will in nowise cast him out, and he will in nowise cast him out.

A week since we visited the Adult Bible class of the First Presbyterian church, taught by W. T. Adams in Plattsmouth, and found that class doing excellent work. This Sunday we visited the Bible school of the Christian church at Louisville, and found them actively studying the word, with two adult Bible classes, and six classes in all. We shall endeavor to each week give a short report from the schools we visit over the county.

Secures Change in Running Time of Auto Bus

Clarence Cotner received permission to leave here on Omaha Trip at 6 p. m. From Wednesday's Daily.—Clarence Cotner, who operates the bus line between this city and Omaha and which is known as the Plattsmouth-Omaha bus line, has just received the notification from the state railway commission that they have granted his request for permission to change the time of his daily evening trip to Omaha.

Heretofore Mr. Cotner has left here at 7:30 in the evening for Omaha and which time has not been to the satisfaction of the operator of the bus or the general public as it has made the time of arrival in Omaha late for the theatre goers or others who might have engagements in that city.

The new time of leaving, 6 o'clock, gives ample time for those who may wish to go to Omaha for the evening and to reach there at an early hour. This time will place Mr. Cotner one hour ahead of the time of the DeLuxe bus line that leaves at 7 p. m. instead of being a half hour later as has been the case.

The new schedule of running time on the Cotner line will be effective starting this evening at 6 o'clock.

New Fords Arrive!

Considerable interest was aroused here by the arrival of two new Fords. While not ready for exhibition purposes, the new models have received several and much approval of their fitness and finish has been voiced. Their bodies are finely lined and graced with pleasing curves. Their color job is of a quality that shows the richness and well being, and their lines in general are wholly fitting for the work desired of them. Probably, not without reason, the design follows that of former models, but there are individual differences. They are generally quiet, but there is considerable sound when heavy stress or exertion. Their speed and durability have not yet been tested, but their fuel consumption, at least at the present time, is surprisingly low. Methods of curing for the radiator overflow remain the same. While formed on the same general principles there is much difference between the two models received here, which is not surprising when it is considered that one is a boy and the other a girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ford. The babies have not yet been named, but they and their mother are reported to be doing well.—The Press, Manchester, Iowa.

SEEKS NEW TRIAL

Nebraska City, Nov. 7.—Hearing of a motion for a new trial for Burton Gorton, former Dunbar elevator manager, convicted of embezzlement here in September, will be heard by Judge Begley next Thursday. Gorton is a son-in-law of Thomas Murray, fugitive Dunbar banker and the shortage in the elevator company funds was found after Murray disappeared early last March.

Your ad in the Journal will be read by 75 per cent of the buying public.

One Killed, 11 Injured by the Guards

Riot at Shanghai Marks Celebration of Tenth Anniversary of Bolshevik Revolution.

Shanghai, Nov. 8.—Celebration here of the 10th anniversary of the bolshevik revolution of 1917 was marked by an attack upon the soviet consulate by "white" Russians, with the resultant death of at least one person and the injury of 11 others.

With the attacking mob dispersed, police Monday night were patrolling the neighborhood of the consulate and no further disorder was expected. Patrols were stationed in the Chapel district, in order to prevent the gathering of further mobs.

Halts Reception.
The riot began during a reception in the consular building in honor of the anniversary. A group of "white" Russians, representing the classes that were expelled after the bolsheviks gained control, gathered about the building. Some of its members hurled bricks at windows and attempting to break in the barred door, shots were fired from inside over the heads of the crowd.

When the first pistol shots failed to disperse the crowd, the aim was lowered and individuals began to fall. Police said Monday night that one man was killed and one woman and 19 men were wounded.

A large number of tourists and society folk gathered in the Astor house, which is a rendezvous for fashionable Europeans, were alarmed by the firing. The first sounds of shattering glass drew many of the guests in the crowded hotel to the windows where they were endangered when the firing began. Some of the bullets glanced from the sidewalk and hit the front of the hotel, but none of the guests was injured.

Blames British.
B. Koslovsky, soviet consul, said after the attack that it "was the result of the activities of numerous enemies, notably the British press, to crush us. If we are to be unprotected as the accredited consulate of soviet Russia in China, we must protect ourselves."

Anti-soviet posters printed in Russian, Chinese and English, posted on the consulate walls, said: "Ten years ago the communists promised Russian workers and peasants an earthly paradise. Instead they have brought everything and the peasants and workers were rewarded with blood,quisition and famine. Now they seek to destroy China and create discord among nations. Why should they be allowed to remain in China. We will clear them from Shanghai!"—Omaha Bee-News.

TO PLAY PERU PREP

The Platters are to go to Peru on Friday where they will meet the football team of the Peru Preparatory school in the next to the last game of the football season.

The southeastern conference games of the local high school team has resulted in a defeat at the hands of Tecumseh and a tie battle with the Auburn team and the Platters hope to be able to check up a win with the Peru Prep on Friday and with Nebraska City here on the Turkey day game and which will give them a good showing for the season.

The Peru Prep team was the cause of being deprived of the southeastern championship last season when they won a game here by the score of 3 to 0, a well booted kick giving the Preppers a score that won the combat.

This season the championship seems well sewed up by the Tecumseh team that has had no serious opposition from any of the teams played aside from that which they had from Plattsmouth and where the score was 13 to 7 for the Johnson county team.
