

Alvo Department

Business called John W. Banning to Omaha last week, he driving over to the big town in his car to look after the matters claiming his attention.

Carl Rosenow and Kenneth Bailey were visiting in Elmwood on last Wednesday, they driving over in the new car of the former to look after some business.

F. E. Dickerson was looking after some business matters in Lincoln on Tuesday of last week, where he was visiting the wholesale houses and securing goods for the store here.

Last Wednesday business called Art Dinges, mayor of Alvo, and one of the busiest of business men of this bustling city, to Lincoln, where he was getting some supplies for his garage.

Carl Rosenow, Jess Brandt and Walter Vincent were over to Ashland one night last week, where they took a fall out of the ducks which were inhabiting the Platte river on their tour towards the south.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Van Every, of Lincoln, were guests for the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stromer, where all enjoyed the occasion very much, the guests having driven over from their home in their auto.

On last Saturday afternoon and evening the ladies of the church held a most interesting gathering at the church basement in the way of a bazaar, which was very generously patronized by the public which was also enjoyed by all attending.

Messrs. Charles Ayres and Simon Rehmeier, members of the Masonic order, and also members of the Shriners degree of that organization, were enjoying a gathering of the Shrine which was held at Lincoln a short time since, they driving over to enjoy the gathering in the car of Mr. Rehmeier.

A new maintainer for the district which is operated from Alvo, was received by the Coatman Hardware company and was set up by Mr. R. M. Coleman and son Phillip, who will use the maintainer. This is a maintainer which is operated by one person, being pulled by one of the tractors which is owned by the county.

The Royal Neighbors Kensington met with Mrs. C. F. Rosenow on Wednesday of last week, where they were most delightfully entertained by this lady. A most pleasant time was had as well as the ladies of the order doing much work which they had in hand. They all voted Mrs. Rosenow a most excellent entertainer.

Simon Rehmeier, the hustling grain dealer, of Alvo, reports a very good delivery of corn from the new crop coming at this time and with hardly a day in which there is not some receipts of the new crop. The evidence is that the new crop will be marketed freely as soon as the task of picking the corn is out of the way.

Mrs. John B. Skinner, who was so severely injured last week from a fall which she received, precipitating this excellent woman at the foot of the cellar stairs, is reported as getting along fairly well, but is still very sore from the impact of the fall, having sustained a fracture of two ribs and various cuts and bruises from her fall.

Mrs. J. C. Ober, of Fullerton, was a visitor for the most of the week with her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Skinner, being met by Mr. Skinner on last Sunday, where the husband had brought her, and again taken to York this Sunday, where she was met by Mr. Ober again. Mrs. Ober was rejoiced that the daughter is getting along as well as she is.

Attended Silver Wedding
On last Sunday Simon Rehmeier and the family were over to Weeping Water, where they enjoyed attending a silver wedding anniversary given in honor of the passing of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Neis Peterson, friends of the Rehmeier family.

Married Last Week
One day last week two of the young people of Alvo vicinity journeyed to Marysville, Kansas, where they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The young people were Miss Margie Manners and Mr. Burdette Fifer an excellent young man, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fifer.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Manners, Miss Margie, who was the highest in her studies at the graduation of the class of 1926 of the Alvo High school, and a young lady of much culture and withal a most winsome bride. The groom is a young man of much honesty of purpose and fine ability as a student and worker.

The young couple have returned and are making their home here for the present. Their many young friends entertained them at a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Steele on last Saturday evening. The many friends of this popular young couple are extending best wishes and happy congratulations, with the desire that they both enjoy the best in life.

Appropriations Totaling $121,336.64 Not Used

This Amount Out of Total of $14,323,062 Allowed for the Biennium from Gen. Fund

State Auditor L. B. Johnson has closed the 1925-27 appropriation accounts, and the unexpended balances of fixed appropriations, amounting to $121,336.64, will lapse into the general fund.

The fixed appropriations from the general fund for the two years from July 1, 1925, to June 30, 1927, totaled $14,323,062.01. Against this amount have been issued by the state auditor amounting to $13,201,725.37, leaving the unexpended balances $1,121,336.64, as above, divided as follows:

Judiciary departments, $12,890.84; Executive departments, $50,155.40; Code departments, $24,801.63; Sundry departments, $30,788.24; Miscellaneous appropriations, $281.76; Normal schools, $10.32 and Penal and Charitable institutions, $2,408.45.

The State University finished the year without unexpended balance. Out of a total of $70,000 allowed by the legislature of 1925 for law enforcement by the state sheriff, there remains unexpended $2,876.

Of a contingency fund of $25,000 for care of the capitol by the governor as custodian, $13,157 remains. Of the $10,000 fund for maintenance of the governor's mansion, $5,334 was not expended. A $15,000 fund for calling out the Nebraska national guard in case of emergency was not expended. The legislature of 1927 did not re-appropriate this but it increased the appropriation for the guard from $166,000 to $175,000.

The $6,250 of salary funds for the supreme court commission lapses but the commission will be short of funds on the last quarter of the present biennium and may be compelled to ask that 1929 legislature for a deficiency appropriation. State Auditor Johnson held that the $6,250 had lapsed and could not be used to pay salaries after July 1, 1927.

Among the unexpended balances are the following for more than $2,000 each:

Printing supreme court reports, $4,755.40; Salaries supreme court commissioners, $6,250.02; Law enforcement, $2,876.54; Maintenance governor's mansion, $5,334.68; Contingency fund (governor), $13,157.74; Administration initiative and referendum laws, $10,000.00; Wages, state superintendent, $3,169.87; Normal training, $7,763.62; Salaries, animal industry, $2,151.10; Maintenance animal industry, $3,749.90; Eradication of swine diseases, $3,207.56; Maintenance child welfare, $2,815.25; Salaries, post department, $4,205.54; Drainage public lands, $10,000.00; Salaries, bureau of banking, $2,088.33; Salaries, bureau of securities, $9,400.00; Support of national guard, $4,464.46; Emergency support, national guard, $15,000.00; Expense appraising school lands, $2,295.62; Vocational education, $5,541.41; the total of the foregoing sums being $117,548.24. The remaining nearly $4,000.00 to make up the grand total of $121,336.64, is made up of miscellaneous small balances.

The unexpended balances of the cash accounts were mostly all re-appropriated and carried forward to the new 1927-29 accounts.

CAPPER PREDICTS RELIEF
Cleveland, O., Nov. 17.—Ten thousand national grain members in convention here late today turned from fraternal work and deliberation on legislative problems to hear Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas and Representative John G. Ketchum of Michigan tell what the farmer might expect from congress when it convenes next month.

Declaring that the formulation of a national agricultural program to give the farmer a "square deal" in production is vital to the nation's prosperity Senator Capper predicted congress would adopt "constructive legislation to aid the farmer" when it convenes.

Representative Ketchum, a member of the house committee on agriculture said he was unable to see a complete solution to the farm problem in legislation of any kind, but believed congress would draw up legislation that would aid in stabilizing prices for farm products.

The Junior Kansas senator warned the farmers against backing a program which is hastily put together. "The national program needed by the farmer should not savor of the emergency type," Senator Capper declared. "It should embody a national policy that would persist for generations so that agriculture shall prosper and bring prosperity to all."

SUSPEND SHARP DEATH SESSION
Lincoln, Nov. 18.—Electrocution of Frank Sharp, set for February 15, was suspended indefinitely by the supreme court Thursday following an appeal lodged with it. Sharp has twice been convicted of slaying his wife, Harriet, two years ago.

Thirty-five errors are assigned, one of them being that the verdict is excessive. Two new features of the new appeal distinguish it from the previous appeal. One is that the court refused to permit a deposition of a finger-print expert to enter the case and the other is the refusal of the court to instruct on premeditation.

The case will probably not reach the court before next spring.

Medical History of the State is to be Written

Elza Fleishman Auerbach Commissioned by Doctors to Write a Book for Publication.

Elza Fleishman Auerbach is writing a complete history of the medical profession in Nebraska, which will be published in book form April 1. Preparation of the history is under supervision of Dr. Albert E. Tyler, of Omaha, managing editor of the official Journal of the American College of Physical Therapy.

Mrs. Auerbach recently completed a 40 thousand word history of Jewish settlements in this state, which has attracted national comment.

The book on Nebraska medical history will include chapters on the Nebraska schools of medicine, hospitals and nurses' training schools, achievements of Nebraska physicians in science, war service, art, music, letters and political life, and will reflect considerable research into early Nebraska records, making it useful as a source book, according to its compilers.

The Omaha-Douglas County Medical Society has endorsed the project as noteworthy.

The advisory committee of physicians sponsoring the compilation is composed of twenty-two prominent physicians of the state, including Dr. T. P. Livingston of this city.

A letter is being sent out to two thousand Nebraska physicians and surgeons asking for a photograph and biography. The history of each county or local medical society is asked from officers.

Vermont Facing Another Flood

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 18.—Northern Vermont, still counting the cost of one disastrous flood, faced a second menace of its rivers Thursday night. Just two weeks from the day when downpour of rain had set moving the worst flood in the history of the state, another rainstorm Thursday threatened to swell the rivers to another danger point.

With the prospect of a 24-hour rainfall, the Red Cross Thursday night set up the Winooski river valley, where the floods exacted heaviest toll of life two weeks ago, warnings of possible new trouble to come.

At the behest of the weather bureau in Washington, Montpelier, Barre, Rutland, St. Albans and other centers also were notified.

Heavy rain set in this city at 11 Thursday forenoon and continued throughout the day and evening. No appreciable rise was noted in the Winooski river, but it was generally remarked that the storm was similar to that which ushered in the previous flood.

A message received by the Burlington weather bureau from the river and floods division at Washington Thursday said the storm probably would continue for 24 hours, possibly turning to snow Friday.—Omaha Bee-News.
