Gerald Kuehn who was kept from school for a few days is again all right and able to be out again.

See elsewhere an ad for battery work and new batteries by Jess Landholm and note the service and prices.

Dr. L. D. Lee, while trying to make all the calls during the blizzard had the misfortune to get one of his ears frosted.

Ralph Rager and Fred Newman shelled and delivered their corn or a portion of it to the elevators in Murdock during the past week.

Uncle Henry Rieckmann who was kept to the home for a short time last week was able to be out again during the latter portion of the week.

Mrs. Una McHugh was assisting in the store last Friday while Henry Amgwert was looking after some business matters for the store at Lincoln.

During the time that the scarlet fever was visiting the home of James Mills, Uncle George was making his home with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jumper.

Roy Cole of Weeping Water was a visitor in Murdock for a short time on last Friday and was looking after some trouble on the telephone lines, in and near the city.

E. W. Thimman was over his truck on last Friday with his truck for a load of flour for the Murdock Mercantile company, which is selling a large amount of the Lincoln flour.

F. H. Buck and family and W. H. Rush were all over to Lincoln on last Monday where Mr. Rush was visiting with his daughters and at the same time looking after some business matters.

Steve Lies who has been rather busy until the coming of the recent storm was assisting at the garage with Mr. A. H. Ward on last Friday, which was more agreeable than being out of doors.

The quarantine which has been on the homes of Louis Schmidt, James Mills, Roy Gortley and Nick Schumm, has been eased, they all being well and all are at their former condition of health.

Judge and Mrs. W. E. Newkirk of Greenwood, accompanied by their granddaughter, Miss Uvon West were visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Lee, for the day last Friday.

Miss Uvon remaining for a visit for the week.

Fred W. Backmeyer and wife of Elmwood were visiting in Murdock on Friday of last week and were guests at the home of Mr. Backmeyer's mother while here and at the same time Fred was looking after some business.

Ferdinand Hess and Paul Stock, were over to Lincoln on last Wednesday notwithstanding the severe weather and while there purchased a Chevrolet radio, for Mr. Hess, which he is thinking a very fine instrument and which truly is.

Kenneth Tool and the good wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Penny and the children, who have charge of the bank at Ulysses, were all over to Murdock, and guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Tool the parents of Kenneth for the day on last Sunday.

New quarantines were placed on the homes of Carl Schlappoff and Henry C. Backmeyer, on account of the scarlet fever. Mr. Backmeyer was at the time over to Plattsmouth where he was serving on a jury and only knew of the condition when he returned home.

Miss Janet Guthmann has been having a time with the scarlet fever and with the remainder of the family except Mr. Guthmann is in quarantine at the Guthmann home. Mr. Guthmann is kept away and is sleeping at the bank, and eating elsewhere during the period of the quarantine.

John J. Gustin has a very valuable Holstein bull, which he prizes very highly, but which seemingly has no great love for horses for a few days since gored one of Mr. Gustin's horses so severely that it was feared that the animal would not recover. This will entail a severe loss to Mr. Gustin. However he has one of the very finest heads of Holstein milkers in this portion of the state.

Want a Good Cow. I have a very fine first class bull for sale, and also some 20 excellent Jersey heifers all coming fresh soon, for sale. Fred Stockman, sr., Murdock, Nebr.

Card of Thanks. To the ladies of Murdock who so kindly helped make clothing or donated in any way for the two orphan children left in my care I wish to thank you one and all.—Their grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Bauer.

Billie Rush Succumbs

W. H. Rush and who is familiarly known as "Billie" Rush and who has made his home in and near Murdock for many years, and who in all his associations with the people has gained their good will and respect, and who was loved and honored by all, met with a very sad accident on last Thursday which cost this gentleman his life.

Mr. Rush who keeps his car in the garage of J. H. Buck, went to the place on Thursday morning, where he worked at the car to get it running and as it was very cold, he had having tried for some time had Mr. Buck assist in starting the wagon.

Mr. Rush thinking to protect the radiator he would put in some more alcohol, and as the car run and got warmed up, it steamed and threw out much fumes from the radiator which as he covered it with a blanketed steamed and caused the air to become very thick. The exhaust may in a way have also added to the condition of the enclosed air.

Mr. Buck went home at the time of eating and left Mr. Rush at the garage in the rear of the blacksmith shop. During the time Mr. Buck was gone, Mr. Rush feeling quite badly went out and to his home in the Ward property a block away, and when he saw Dr. L. D. Lee pass went out and called the doctor in. Dr. Lee found Mr. Rush suffering from heart attack, and did everything to relieve him that was possible, but the patient died after a short time.

The remains were taken to Lincoln where his two daughters, Mrs. Mary and Leona. The funeral was held there and the remains laid to rest at Wruka cemetery. All honor and respect Billie Rush. He leaves to mourn his departure three brothers and three daughters.

Getting Along Nicely

Fred Cordes who had his leg broken some time since, and was not able to work is at this time getting along very nicely and is able to be out and walk around on crutches, but unable to do any work. The friends and neighbors who were sure friends and neighbors, by the kindly acts which they did, were very kind in the picking and cribbing of the corn of Mr. Cordes. Fred wishes to express his thankfulness for the kindness in the friends getting his corn out.

Card of Appreciation

I desire to express my feeling of thankfulness and appreciation to the many true friends who so kindly came and gathered by corn crop and placed it in the crib recently.—Fred Cordes.

Murdock Man Dies from Deadly Monoxide Gas

William H. Rush, Aged Sixty, and Prominent Resident, is Overcome by Gas Fumes.

From Friday's Daily—The deadly carbon monoxide gas, discharged from the running motor of an automobile, took toll yesterday afternoon of the life of William H. Rush, well known and prominent resident of Murdock and brought to the community there a great shock and sorrow at his untimely taking away.

Mr. Rush had gone to his garage on Thursday afternoon and started to work on his automobile, having the motor running in order to do his work on the car, and kept at the task until 1:30, when he became dizzy and sick from inhaling the fumes of the poison gas as he worked over the car. As he grew faint and sick, he was able to stagger from the garage out into the open and to reach the house, where a message was sent for Dr. D. L. Lee, the local physician, but the amount of gas that had been inhaled was too great to overcome and the aged man died within fifteen minutes after he came from the garage.

Mr. Rush has been a resident of Murdock for the past fifty years and was among the best known and highly respected residents of that place and to the old time friends, the news of his death came as a great shock and sorrow.

He is survived by a brother, Dr. C. H. Rush, and three daughters, Mrs. Mabel Miller, Mrs. Nancy Way and Mrs. Leona Burley, all of Lincoln. Besides these survivors, there are four other daughters: Mrs. Edna Westlake, Alliance; Mrs. Vera Britton, Harrington, Texas; Mrs. Nellie Burt, Omaha, and Mrs. Nellie Galbraith, Chicago, and two other brothers, Leslie, of Murdock, and Orrie, who lives in Michigan. A sister, Mrs. Louise Ferguson, lives at Bloomington, Nebr.

The body was taken to Lincoln, where burial will be made.

PLANTED FISH IN LAKE HERE

State Fish Commissioner W. J. O'Brien and Superintendent Alfred Torguson of the Gretna hatcheries were here last Saturday with two truck loads of fish, which they planted in the lakes here. One truck load, consisting of bass, crappies, blue gills, bull heads or ring perch, was placed in the Lyman-Richey lake west of town and the other truck load taken to the north side of the river and planted in the old bass lake near the Rock Island tracks.

Mr. O'Brien had just returned from a trip to South Dakota, where he secured some fine specimens of northern pike, which he will plant in the streams and lakes of western Nebraska.

"Louisville has some of the finest lakes in the state," said Mr. O'Brien, "and it is the intention of the state to keep them well stocked so that fishing will always be good. However, if local people would do a little work during the winter months and cut brush and sink in the lakes they would be surprised at the result when the spawning season arrives. Where there is a scarcity of brush or moss, as is the case in these sand pits, the spawn is often devoured by other fish, but if proper spawning grounds could be provided there would be a wonderful increase in a few years."

Fishing, boating and bathing attract hundreds of people to Louisville during the summer months and the Courier believes that Mr. O'Brien's suggestion to provide better spawning fields for the fish planted here by the state hatcheries should receive favorable consideration by local people.

Louisville has so many natural advantages that we fail to appreciate our blessings as we should.—Louisville Courier.

DEATH OF OLD TIME RESIDENT

From Thursday's Daily—The death of Charles Mayer, resident of this city in the late seventies and early eighties, occurred Tuesday night at his home in New York City, messages to the relatives at Lincoln yesterday state. Mr. Mayer had apparently been in fair health and death came to him during his sleep at night at the home. The body will be brought to Lincoln and the funeral services will be held on Sunday. Interment will be at the Wruka cemetery.

Mr. Mayer with his brothers, Henry and Simon came to this city where they founded the clothing store of Mayer Brothers which was for a number of years one of the leading establishments of its kind in the state and which they operated until the family removed to Lincoln in the late eighties and there opened the famous Mayer Brothers store in that city. The store operated in this city was sold by the firm to the late Frank J. Morgan who operated it for a number of years.

Besides his brothers, Henry and Simon, Mr. Mayer is survived by his wife, Estelle, and three children: Mrs. H. S. Arustein of Omaha, and Harold and Rita Mayer, of New York City. Two sisters, Mrs. I. Brucks and Mrs. I. Meyer, also reside in New York. William Gold of Lincoln, is a brother-in-law of Mr. Mayer.

'Endless Chain' Sales Plan Held to be Illegal

Supreme Court Upholds Post Office Fraud Order in Case Similar to One in Omaha.

A post office fraud order, issued against an "endless chain" selling concern, has been upheld in a recent decision of the U. S. supreme court. The concern was operating in the east, in the same manner as a hosiery firm which did considerable business in Omaha before an exposure led to a cessation.

Activities of the concern in Omaha did not reach official attention of the district attorney's office. It operated chiefly through women who were induced to buy their goods for one dollar each. They kept one, selling three to their friends for one dollar each. These three, in turn, obtained three more customers for hosiery and when the $10 reached the company, the original buyer got $10 worth of merchandise for her investment of one dollar.

The scheme began to fail when too many women came into possession of the coupons and it obviously became difficult to find new customers.

A proposition a great deal similar to this on silk underwear was going the rounds in Plattsmouth last spring and some found themselves with coupons on their hands which they could not dispose of. The wording was so arranged that the proposition was able to pass muster, although it amounted in reality to the same chain principle as embodied in the hosiery, except that the party holding the coupons could purchase same themselves in order to share in the "wonderful value" and thus be relieved of having to peddle them among their friends in order to receive the silk underwear assortment.

All such schemes are presumably a flagrant violation of postal rules, yet not a few get by for weeks and even months, before they are called to account and forced out of business.

Experiences prove that one can buy as good or better hose, underwear and what-not in their home town stores as cheaply as they can hope to get it from these fly-by-night concerns that seek only to capitalize on the desire of the American public to get something for nothing.

Nehawka Legion Holds Installation of New Officers

State Commander Jean Cain of Falls City Guest of Honor—Plattsmouth Vets Attend.

From Friday's Daily—Last evening true to the acceptance of the invitation of the Nehawka Legion post extended last Tuesday, a carload of the Plattsmouth Legion members last evening drove down to the splendid little southern Cass county city to enjoy the evening with the live wires of the Nehawka organization.

The occasion was especially set aside for the installing of the newly-elected officers of the post and who were inducted into office by Dearle Baker of Shubert, district committeeman, who very impressively gave the charges to the officers.

The newly elected officers of the Nehawka post are as follows: Commander—A. G. Cisney. Adjutant—Walter J. Wunderlich. Finance Officer—Tom Mason.

State Commander Jean Cain was called upon for a talk but made his remarks brief as he felt that the occasion was one of special good fellowship that would be best enjoyed in visiting rather than in long speeches and accordingly with a few remarks relative to the drive for oysters in the coming season for the state commander made himself just one of the "boys," as he was in the days of 17-18 when with the rest of the Iowans and Nebraskans he battled the sand down at Camp Cody.

The Nehawka post had arranged a fine oyster stew and over which Tom Mason presided and gave the members and the guests a real treat in the way of oysters and all of the trimmings that went to make a real treat for everyone. True to the promise made, Dearle Baker, was present with his famous elder, sweet and sparkling as the sunbuns playing on the fairest mountain stream and which Bill Kruger saw was distributed to the members of the party.

The Legion members had the pleasure of having with them to enjoy the oyster stew, the members of the faculty of the Nehawka school, as well as D. C. West, well known banker and who assisted in making away with copious offerings of the delicious stew.

After the oyster supper the rest of the evening was spent in the talks over the old times from Cody, Pike and France and Germany by the members of the party.
