Weeping Water Mourns Loss of Fine Young Man

Large Number Attend Funeral Services of Dale Patterson, Victim of Accident.

A few days ago our peaceful and happy community was shocked by the news that an accident had occurred in which Dale Patterson was severely and fatally burned. Dale was rushed to an Omaha hospital where medical treatment was given as speedily as possible. At first the report came back that the injuries were not so serious as at first thought. But within twenty-four hours relief came in a form, that though painful to us, Dale may be assured was not unwelcome.

One of the largest gatherings ever assembled gathered at the Congregational church at 2:30 Sunday afternoon to perform the last rites, and to express heartfelt sympathy with the father, mother, sisters, brothers, relatives and friends. G. R. Birch, Dale's pastor, had charge of the service and was assisted by the Girl's Glee Club of the high school under the direction of Miss Constance Cruickshank. They sang three beautiful selections, "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us," "The Lord's My Shepherd," and "Abide With Me."

The local troop of Boy Scouts, of which Dale was a member, attended in a body and added much to the impressiveness of the services. Scout Executive Carlton Hyde, Deputy Commissioner Elmer Conkling, F. K. Watts, Scoutmaster of Troop No. Four of Nebraska City, and the two color bearers, Sterling Gentry and Charles Watson, all of Nebraska City gave their assistance to Dan Switzer, the local Scoutmaster, and his troop. J. J. Meier, chairman of the troop committee, was also in attendance.

The floral offering was one of the largest and most beautiful ever contributed and was a loving tribute from the many friends, relatives and class mates of the deceased.

The pall bearers, who were Dale's class mates, were Allen Kreiger, John Day, Donald Sogard, Robert Norton, Henry Smith and Raymond Lauritzen. Interment was made in Oakwood Cemetery.

Obituary.

Dale, son of Alex and Mary Patterson, was born Sept. 10th, 1911, at Clyde, Iowa. When he was about two years of age the family moved to Weeping Water, Nebr., where they have lived since. Here he was said of another, "he grew in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." He was a member of the Sophomore class at the time of his passing, was class president. His untimely death is mourned by the class, as also by the faculty and the entire school.

On April 11th, 1926, Dale expressed his love for Christ, his Savior, and united with the Congregational church. Through these two years he has been regular in church attendance, a member of the Boy's Sunday School class, and a leader in the Christian Endeavor society.

In the home he was obedient, loving and helpful, and his influence was felt wherever he went. His years though few in number have been sufficient to stamp his personality upon a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He will be missed in the home, in the school and in the church. Earth has lost, Heaven has gained.

He fell asleep on March 22, 1928, at University hospital, Omaha, where he had been rushed after being painfully burned on March 21. He had reached the age of 16 years, six months and 12 days. He leaves to mourn his untimely loss and to cherish his precious memory, his father and mother, three sisters, Pauline, Lova and Mona Dell; and three brothers, Irving, Eldon and LaNeil, besides a host of other relatives and friends.—Weeping Water Republican.

Floyd Flack to be Principal of the Blair Schools

Popular and Efficient Teacher Here Selected for Higher School Position.

From Saturday's Daily—
Floyd E. Flack of the high school faculty here, has been elected principal of the high school at Blair, Nebraska, and will in all probability accept the position as it means an advancement in his chosen profession and an increase in his salary.

Mr. Flack has had charge of the science department at the high school and has been a splendid teacher in this line of the school courses, making the greatest success in his handling of the department. During the illness of Mr. Poynter last year Mr. Flack served also as the principal of the school and his handling of the school was very gratifying to the school authorities, he keeping the school operating in the best of shape.

One of the outstanding services that Mr. Flack has given to the community in addition to his school work has been that which he has given as the head of the Boy Scout organizations in the city in the two years of his residence here. Mr. Flack has advanced Scouting to a very high standard of efficiency and three well organized and active troops of the Scouts in the city and who will regret greatly to learn that their leader is to leave them at the close of the school year.

Personally Mr. Flack is a genial and courteous gentleman and will be a real asset to the Blair school and one that they will find a splendid teacher and an outstanding gentleman in every sense of the term. While the Plattsmouth school associates and the citizens regret to see Mr. Flack leave, he takes with him the best wishes of the many friends here.

Al Smith Active in His Campaign

No Official Announcement Yet that He will Go to Houston—Will Decide that Later.

Albany, N. Y., March 30.—Behind the wall of silence which Governor Smith has built around his reputed aspirations for the democratic presidential nomination there has been carried on an extensive correspondence definitely establishing him as a participant in the proceedings at Houston next June, it was revealed at the capitol tonight.

Election officials in a large number of states have requested and received the governor's approval in one form or another for the use of his name on presidential primary ballots, but in only a few cases have the facts been known publicly. The latest public announcement came today with word from Pierre, S. D., that the secretary of state there had received a formal declaration from the New York governor that he would enter the South Dakota primaries.

With the question of his candidacy virtually definitely settled, there still remains before the governor the problem of whether to attend the democratic national convention. The first and only announcement of his decision, he made clear today, would be given out in Albany but the decision itself will not be made until probably early in June.—World-Herald.

GERMAN FLYERS DELAY HOPOFF

Cass County Farm Bureau Anniversary

10th Anniversary Celebrated Last Night at Weeping Water With a Fine Program.

From Saturday's Daily—
The tenth anniversary of the Cass County Farm Bureau was observed last night at Weeping Water where gathered some 200 residents from all parts of the county to join in the splendid gathering, and to express their appreciation of the fine work that the bureau has accomplished in the years of its service to the whole county.

There were some ten from the chamber of commerce here as well as twenty of the residents of the precinct making the trip to the anniversary observance and who returned delighted with the fine time afforded them and the accomplishments of the bureau that were detailed in the reports and addresses of the evening.

Preceding the program there was a fine dinner served in the parlors of the Congregational church and where the ladies of the church served a fine repast to the hungry members of the party and placing them in the best of spirits for the fine addresses that followed.

The meeting was held at the auditorium of the Congregational church and was presided over by Senator W. B. Banning, president of the farm bureau for the ten years of its existence.

The story of the financial affairs of the bureau was given by Carl Day, secretary-treasurer of the bureau while Searl S. Davis gave a history of the extension work of the county, one of the big achievements of the bureau.

The chief address of the evening was that of Chancellor E. A. Burnett of the University of Nebraska, who told of the development of the agricultural features of the state school, the speaker being formerly dean of this department of the state university. The address was followed by the audience with the greatest interest as was that of Dean W. W. Burr, the new head of the state agricultural school.

Short addresses were also made by H. G. Gould, Mrs. Henry Smith, Mrs. R. E. Norris, Mary Ellen Brown, L. I. Frisbie, Howard Bigger of the Omaha Stockman-Journal, T. A. Leadley of the "Nebraska Farmer," W. H. Brokaw.

Representatives of other counties were present, this group including A. H. DeLong, the veteran agent of Otoe county, who a few weeks ago staged his tenth farm bureau anniversary.

In honor of the ten years of service Mr. L. R. Snipes, the Cass county agent was presented with a handsomely engraved watch, while Mrs. Snipes was presented with a fine silver coffee percolator.

ENTERTAIN JUNIOR C. D. A.

From Thursday's Daily—
Last evening Mrs. Lon Henry entertained the Junior Catholic Daughters of America, at her home in the Harris apartments.

A short business session was held, after which the girls enjoyed the time socially, and worked on a quilt. They then departed for their homes, thanking Mrs. Henry, their counselor for the pleasant time which she gave them, and anxiously looking forward for their next meeting in two weeks.

Assessors of County Hold a Fine Meeting

County Assessor W. H. Puls Presides Over Meeting—Discuss Plans for Year's Work.

From Saturday's Daily—
Yesterday at the court house the various precinct assessors gathered to discuss the plans for the ensuing year and to outline the coming assessment of the county. There was much interest shown in the meeting and several interesting remarks were given along the work of the listing of the property and the general classifications of the properties of the county that will be surveyed and placed on the assessment rolls by precinct assessors.

Remarks along the line of the coming year's work was given by Michael Hild, who has had long experience in the handling of the assessment schedules. County Commissioner C. F. Harris as well as Commissioners Fred H. Gorder and C. D. Spangler.

There was only one of the assessors absent from the meeting, William Bourk of Elmwood precinct being unable to be in attendance.

The assessors who were here were: Ed Betts, Tipton precinct; Charles Appleman, Greenwood precinct; John Jefford, Salt Creek precinct; Lyle Horton, Stove Creek precinct; B. F. Dill, South Bend precinct; Robert Jameson, Weeping Water precinct; William Sheehan, Center precinct; J. M. Hoover, Louisville precinct; Ray Norris, Avoca precinct; P. A. Hild, Mt. Pleasant precinct; H. A. Meisinger, Eight Mile Grove precinct; G. C. Hoback, Nehawka precinct; E. B. Chapman, Liberty precinct; J. L. Stamp, Rock Bluffs precinct; G. W.

Snyder, Plattsmouth precinct; Henry Snell, Weeping Water City; Joe Harraba and J. A. Pitz, Plattsmouth city.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION

From Saturday's Daily—
The latest reports from the Wise Memorial hospital at Omaha are to the effect that Erman Galloway, who was injured on Wednesday at the Ash Grove cement plant at Louisville, is in very critical condition. The young man has suffered a fracture of the skull and his condition has been very severe since his operation, which was performed as soon as he arrived at the hospital. Erman has had a very severe fracture of the skull and the operation was a very delicate one to remove the particles of the bone that had penetrated to the brain and it was only due to his splendid physical condition that he withstood the ordeal. The patient is still in a delirious condition and the attending physicians have been very much worried over the outcome of his case.

WILL PLAY AT PARMELE

From Thursday's Daily—
Carl Weigel, the premier organist at the Parmele theatre is ill today as the result of a very severe cold and flu and has been confined to his room for the greater part of the day. Owing to the illness of Mr. Weigel, the Wurliitzer will be played this evening by Charles Newasek, one of the most talented young musicians in the city and whose offerings have in the past been a real treat to the music lovers and the audience at the Parmele. Mr. Newasek will have charge of the entire musical program this evening.
