The Thrift Habit

Parents are now able to acquire property in the child's own name the very day of his birth or any time thereafter. Our way is adapted to every income. The increasing cash values, together with actual possession of the contract, furnish the incentive to save and to hold the child's interest. Junior and Juvenile Thrift Plans fill an actual need. Saving is a habit. Establish it early.

Easter Vacation Enjoyed.

A number of the students who are attending the state university at this time assayed to come home for Easter were not able to on account of the very deep snow, they having tried it with their car, and then went back to Lincoln and made the trip on the train. Among those who enjoyed the visit here were Lucean Banning, Pat Roddy, George Garrison, Miss Sarah Upton, Melvin Todd, Ronald Dysart and a number of others, enjoyed the vacation at home.

Better See the Hoodoo.

The Junior class play of the Union High school, will be given as per their ad appearing in this issue, they have put much work on this play and for those who are loving a mirth provoking entertainment this will exactly fit the spot. Come and have a good laugh as well as listening to a play which will carry a good lesson for the solving of the problems which you will meet anywhere in life, and probably around the next corner.

Extension Department Meets.

The Extension department of the Woman's club met at the Baptist church March 27th for their achievement day programme. Before an audience of a hundred friends a home of plays and music. One interesting feature of the programme was a few numbers of old fashioned violin music by Mr. Balfour a Civil war veteran. The serving accomplished by the club was then displayed after which refreshments were served.

Woman's Club Active

The Union Woman's club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Chas. Garrison, at which time the business on hand was disposed of and plans made toward the beautification of school grounds.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Hansel and several instructive readings were given.

The hostess closed the afternoon by serving dainty refreshments. The County Achievement day of the Extension division will be held April 19, at Weeping Water. All members are urged to attend. Basket lunch at noon. Program begins at one. If you are going, please communicate with one of the leaders.

Kamp Kill Kare

I
We are going down by the river
Where the grass is green and the heavens are blue.
We will sail on the river
In the little motor canoe.

II
With hands of incentives before us
And dreams of fishing pursue!
With hope in the skies over us
And faith in the fishing we do.

III
We erected a cabin for use
While there on the river we stay—
And live out years in the cabin
While trouble goes drifting away.

IV Oh down by the river, the
river—
We list to the water and breeze—
We'll follow the murmuring
river
As far away as we please.

With freedom all around the
cabin,
We will neither be bored nor glum.
Real pride to all visitors at the cabin
When the hot long days
come.

VI
Oh down by the river, the
river
Adrift the little motor canoe

Union, states that when he first saw the light of day on the farm east of that place, he tipped the scales at only two pounds, one of the smallest babies that ever was produced from old Liberty, the land of the juicy apple, handsome ladies and sturdy men. Mr. Clarence, however, has broken the expectations of his family that he might grow up to be a man of 150 or 160 pounds as he now has acquired the weight of 250 pounds and is the heaviest man in the court house at Hartington.

The Cedar county sheriff is probably the dean of all the county law enforcing officers in the state and he has been in the harness for a long period of years and has made a great record in the office.

"I guess I was a little fellow all right," the sheriff relates. "I have a stocking which is about as big as my forefinger, the foot as long as from the tip to the first joint."

At high school age the sheriff weighed 120 pounds.
