Passing of W. E. Jenkins.

The year following the close of the Civil war, Walter Edisworth Jenkins was born at Eight Mile Grove, which was at that time a small store with a postoffice, and doing a fairly thriving business in the sparsely settled frontier country, the birth of this man being February 14th, 1866. During the more than a half century since that time he has made his home in Cass county and contributed much to the progress of the country and the making of the excellent place to live which it is. Mr. Jenkins died on May third 1928, a little over sixty-two years of age. Mr. Jenkins resided in the very neighborhood in which he was born for nearly thirty years, and then in 1895 moved to Murray, after the building of the railroad here and abandoning the mercantile business, which he had in Eight Mile Grove, and establishing a business in Murray, which he conducted for a number of years. He also accumulated a competency, in two farms at the place where he had lived, and with the advancing years disposed of his mercantile business and remained a resident in Murray, devoting his time to the care of his invalid mother until but a short time since, death claimed this excellent woman, and then Mr. Walter E. Jenkins went to Chicago to make his home with his nephew, Earl Jenkins, remaining until the breaking of the First National bank of Plattsmouth, when he returned to look after his interests there and has since made his home in Murray. During the past year he has been in failing health and on May 3rd passed to rest. The funeral was held on last Sunday at Murray, conducted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor, and the interment made at the pleasant Eight Mile Grove cemetery near where he was born and spent so many years of active life.

Hears Mother Died.

On last Monday evening Mrs. J. C. Stewart, wife of Rev. Stewart of the First Presbyterian church, received the sad news of the death of her mother, Mrs. A. J. Butt, seventy-one years of age at Toronto, Canada, and Mrs. Stewart immediately departed for there, where on her arrival the funeral cortege departed on Wednesday for Owenberg, N. Y., where the funeral and interment was celebrated, and there the remains of the mother of Mrs. Stewart will rest until the day when the angel of the resurrection shall summon the body to again join the spirit. Mrs. Stewart and family have the sympathy of the entire community in this their hour of grief.

Murray Presbyterian Church.

Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. (Young people's meeting). Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30.

You are cordially invited to worship with us. J. C. STEWART, Pastor.

Wants a Better Town.

Uncle Samuel Latta, who has resided in this section of the country for a long number of years and who has always loved Nebraska, and especially Murray, and has taken an interest in everything which has had a tendency to make the town the better, earnestly desires that this town should have a system of water works, and is bending every effort to that end. Let all who are equally interested in the welfare of the town assist in all ways in the consultation of this end. Make Murray as good as any town in the country.

Murray Christian Church.

Next Lord's day the pastor closes his work at Murray. The work has been pleasant, but not as profitable in results as we might hope. Friendships have been formed that will last to life's end, we are sure. This last day will be the annual Mother's day, the second Lord's day in May. Let us all remember mother by attending Sunday school and church and by wearing a flower for her. A committee has in charge a short program, and the pastor will preach a "Mother's Day sermon in the morning."

Young folks, children and old folks who respect, and wish to honor their mothers, will remain for the entire service.

Mother's day comes but once a year, and we owe her this much. Let us devote the entire day to her hour; if she is living, write her a good letter and tell her of your love and appreciation.

If she is dead visit her grave if possible, and if not think much of her.

Then at night—come to church again, doing her double honor. The night service will be a sort of farewell service and sermon.

We lay down the work in the hope that another may take it up and carry it to a more abundant success. FRANCIS E. BLANCARD, Minister.

Old Citizen of County Passes to Reward

Mrs. Lelah Kate Rose Barrows Passes to Her Reward at Grand Island Island on May First.

Mr. and Mrs. Amasiah Rose came to Nebraska, settling at Nebraska City before the city was there and assisted in surveying the town site and was one of the early settlers who with the good wife helped make this the great country it now is. On their arrival they had one son, G. A. Rose, who for many years resided in and about Union, even before the town was here, and later at Nebraska City. Miss Lelah Kate Rose was born on September 4, 1855. The family continued to reside here for many years and for a period of four years made their home temporarily in Ohio, returning to Nebraska in 1860 and during the remainder of the life of this excellent woman, she lived in Nebraska, the state which she so greatly loved. The family farmed near Union, and while the town was not organized until later, this was their home.

Along about 1870 a young soldier of the republic came to reside here and thus Miss Lelah K. Rose met, loved and married Charles N. Barrows, they farming for a number of years, and to whom there were born four children, two sons and two daughters. One son, T. S. Barrows, preceded his mother to the other world. Mrs. Barrows with the husband, went to Grand Island, where they were making their home during the winter, and it was there that the last sickness which came to her, terminated in her death on May 1st.

This good woman, full of years, who was 72 years, 7 months and 27 day old, in passing leaves a place in the circle of her family and friends which is difficult to fill. The remains were brought to Omaha, where the funeral rites were celebrated at the Haynes funeral home, by their old time friend, the Rev. W. A. Taylor, of Union. The remains were laid to rest at the beautiful Forest Lawn cemetery, where they will rest until the trumpet of the Angel of the Resurrection shall sound, and the dead shall arise to join that glad and triumphant throng, where there shall be parting nevermore.

The sympathy of the host of friends, both in Union and Murray, where they lived so many years, and many friends elsewhere go out to Uncle Charles N. Barrows in this, his time of grief.

V. L. Clause is Injured at the New Sand Pits

Suffers Lacerations on Face and Neck and Several Teeth Knocked Out When Trough Collapses

From Wednesday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon V. L. Clause, one of the employees of the Lyman-Richey sand pits north of this city, suffered a very severe accident and one that was fortunate in that it was not more serious for the victim of the accident.

Mr. Clause with another workman was engaged in helping get the finer sand that is being turned out at the pit, when two sections of the trough that is used in the production of the fine sand suddenly collapsed and resulted in the injury of Mr. Clause.

It is thought that the man fell on the pieces of the trough and a large amount of the sand then fell onto him and as the result his injuries were very painful but fortunately not dangerous.

His face and neck was cut very badly and had to have a number of stitches taken to close the wounds and six of his teeth were also knocked out and loose when he fell on the broken trough with the large amount of sand also coming down on him. Medical aid was summoned and the injured man had the wounds dressed and sewed up and is as comfortable as possible, although the injury to his mouth and teeth makes it very annoying and painful to the injured man.
