More philosophy would make smoother the paths of life.

This country seems to be a free boom to the Communist and agitators.

"See your own country first," should be adopted as a national slogan.

Will Governor McMullen try to retain his speed in the republican party?

You can't tell how the result will be for United States Senator Howell has done pretty well.

What is the matter with Senator Norton. Has he gone in his hole and pulled the hole in after him?

Everyone can't run a newspaper that is strictly conclusive. Note the recent changes in the Bee-News.

A citizen who has served his people as Al Smith has, deserves the greatest success, and is sure to get it.

Still, if he considers that fishing is a form of exercise, he probably thinks that what he does in place of golf is a game.

The change in the ownership of the Bee-News, is not going to amount to much only as a money getter for Hearst.

The only puzzling thing about some modern songs is that we do not know which we hate more, the words or the music.

As we consider some of the absurd claims of some of the politicians, it is a pleasing reflection that none of them was around written.

One thing a man does learn when the wife takes a separate vacation is that there are any number of ways of making a bad cup of coffee.

State candidates are beginning to circulate. Some fellows who have held office in the state house for 15 or 16 years are in the running again.

With Ford for Hoover, most of the General Motors are said to be for Smith. Here's a chance for the roller skate people to get some publicity.

"Louvian Library Wrecked Again," says a newspaper headline. What Belgium seems to need is a Union of Non-Wreckers for the Louvian Library.

All trade combinations and other forms of organizations should be barred from the schools.

The next congress must be democratic. Be sure to vote for that noble gentleman John H. Morehead.

If the weather is trying to make the women take something else off, it would just as well cool off. It can't be done.

France, Germany and Great Britain all like Secretary Kellogg's proposed pact to outlaw war. Wonder what's wrong with it?

The word shoppe is having a vogue just now, it appears. The only sign we haven't seen to date is "Ye Olde Petrol Shoppe," but we are still hoping.

Experiments to produce synthetic milk are being carried on by several eastern scientists. They might ask some of the farmers how they mix theirs.

Now that a Court has decided that the theft of some automobiles is only petty larceny, we can release the fact that the theft of some would be a good deed.

Herbert Hoover says he will conduct his campaign by radio. That means we are going to have more static than ever before during the next few weeks.

A parrot in Chicago drank a bottle of home brew and spent the next three days yelling "Fire" a performance for which he probably had his own good reason.

An Indianapolis man drove his car head on into a truck loaded with dynamite, but it didn't go off. Lots of drivers cross railroad tracks without looking, too.

William F. Varney is the Prohibition party's candidate for president. He enters the race under the handicap of having to carry water on both shoulders.

Seat scalping has become a recognized profession in the Berlin subways. Later on we hope the scalpers get around to the people who walk on your feet.

TELLING IT IN RHYME

A subscriber sends us this rhyme as an expressive of his political sentiments:

"Of drinkin' and such I'm no approver,
 But I cannot vote for Herbie Hoover.
 Choose if you must the one or the other,
 The little brown jug or the big black brother,
 I'm singing it early, I'm singing it late,
 On November sixth I'm voting her straight."

Not so much by way of poetry. Nothing in it to make Longfellow or Tennyson jealous, but a whole sermon in common sense.

RESURFACING ROADS

The wisdom of constructing roads of long lasting materials with a high salvage value was recently brought to light by the New York State Highway Department which saved 77 per cent of the original cost of an old thin, concrete pavement.

A thin concrete pavement 14 feet wide was laid in Seneca county 14 years ago. The stress of modern traffic made it necessary to widen this old pavement to 18 feet and also to thicken the strip from four and a half inches to nine inches. By placing the new concrete over the old nearly 2,000 cubic yards of concrete were saved. At the cost of $13.71 per cubic yard the total saving amounted to $26,800, or approximately 77 per cent of the original cost of the thin and narrow concrete.

Highway authorities point out that when roadways have a salvage value such as this it is all the more imperative that paving programs be extended so that maintenance costs and car costs will be cut to rock bottom. The Fulton-Oswego road lost but 23 per cent of its value in 14 years.

Another striking instance of the high salvage value of good pavements is found in Wayne county, Mich., near Detroit. Groatit Road was designed before the era of heavy traffic; when the increase came this highway deteriorated so that resurfacing was necessary. Accordingly in 1927 a four-inch layer of concrete was placed over the old surface. All depressions and deep holes in the old pavement were filled with this new concrete and an even surface was obtained.

Resurfacing completed, the pavement was then widened to 20 feet by conducting a two-foot shoulder on each side. Later traffic became so heavy that another ten-foot strip of concrete was added. The success of the whole project may be valued when it is considered that this 20-foot pavement now carries approximately 20,000 motor vehicles daily.

The problem of resurfacing affects practically every community that is blessed with old pavements not especially designed for modern travel. True economy today exists in taking advantage of these old pavements as stable bases for resurfacing, in extending needed new pavements over earth thoroughfares.

AS TO HONESTY

If honesty has any value in present day politics then the Democratic party should be rewarded with victory in November.

The Republicans have dodged the prohibition issue expertly. Their platform is a hazy affair. Their leader calls it a "noble experiment," so lace for wets and dries alike.

In contrast, Governor Smith has stated his opinion plainly. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has done likewise.

The Democrats are not peeking around corners running when they hear a pin drop. The Republicans are. Perhaps American voters will take these differences into consideration when election time rolls around.

THE PENNY MATCHES

At any cigar store or drug store you can buy a little box of matches for a penny. Off hand it would almost seem as if these were merely sold for a convenience; one would hardly suppose that the manufacture of penny matches was a great undertaking.

Yet the Department of Commerce reveals that in 1927 there were 18 match manufacturers in the United States, doing a gross business of $24,785,835. These plants employed nearly 4,000 men, and paid out upwards of $4,000,000 in wages during the year.

This hardly compares with the industrial giants of course. But it is a safe bet that the business is far larger than most of us ever imagined.

Did Hoover have to take out citizenship after returning from a citizenship of eight years in Europe

OUR INSECT MARAUDERS AGAIN

The statisticians of the department of agriculture have taken another turn at the question of damage done by insects, and have reached the conclusion that the total loss caused by these pests amounts to more than $2,000,000,000 per year. Coming at the problem from another angle, it is estimated that these insect marauders nullify the labor of about 1,000,000 men. In their feeding, they destroy from one-tenth to one-fifth of virtually all crops planted.

Enormous amounts of poisonous chemicals are consumed in fighting these enemies. About 5,000,000 pounds of Paris green per year is the present average, while more than 20,000,000 pounds of arsenate of lead is required and the use of calcium arsenate, introduced as an insecticide a decade ago, has now grown to about 30,000,000 pounds annually. These are a few of the more important drugs employed for this purpose.

The insects, however, are not alone in their depredation. The losses due to fungus diseases of various types are about as great. Something like an average of 100,000,000 bushels of grain are destroyed each year by smut diseases, and rusts are even more serious in their damage. The decay of timber from fungus attacks causes a heavy loss. An intelligent person must surely realize, as he reads of these losses, the importance of scientific research, in order to discover effective means of their elimination, and the utter folly of opposing liberal appropriations for that purpose.

THE SOCIAL EQUATION IN POLITICS

Nothing has occurred to change our views as regards party platforms pronouncing for or against issues of a controversial nature affecting social conditions and customs of the people or their habits. These can be met by the people themselves through the representative they may choose to legislate for them, and for a proper and equitable disposal, legislators should be free from political pledges. There is no more open way to create dissensions, feuds and disturbances of conditions, for it is political rivalry with its sometimes bitterness and agitation, that unsettles confidence, in the end settling nothing that will stay planted. No political platform with planks bearing on social problems can ever be satisfactory to all of the party, yet it may satisfy more or less members of another party, with the further factor of placing legislators of its party in embarrassing position when called upon to vote for or against proposed measures. Thus is legislation blocked in so far as it stifles that expressive coming from honest conviction.

The people will have their way once in a while and the rewards of the present states administration has shown the voters of the state that misplaced confidence has gone decidedly wrong. Every voter that reads knows this as well as we do.

There are 2,990 insane persons in Mississippi, according to figures issued by the census bureau at Washington. This does not include crat-while Democrats who say they are going to vote the Republican ticket.
