FANATICS ARE ARRESTED

Tokyo, Aug. 23.—The fact that 293 members of a fanatical religious sect had been arrested last April and that 179 had been committed for trial on charges of les majesty was made public today. Owing to the nature of the offense charged against the imperial house the police banned any earlier publication.

The prisoners are members of the Tenrikyo religious sect. They were expelled from Tenrikyo four years ago owing to their unorthodox views and their fanatical urge to overthrow the reigning house.
