Miss Margaret Sitzman and Robert Floyd Sealock of Omaha Wedded at St. John's Church

From Monday's Daily—
This morning at 7 o'clock at the St. John's Catholic church occurred the marriage of one of the popular ladies of this city, Miss Margaret Sitzman to Mr. Robert Floyd Sealock of Omaha, formerly a resident of this city.

The altar was very beautifully arranged with the large bouquets of red and pink roses and the scene one of reverence and beauty for the most happy occasion.

The nuptial mass of the church was celebrated by Father George Agius, pastor of the church with all the beauty and impressiveness that makes the solemnization of the marriage vows.

The bride was most charming in a modish gown of white satin with white lace and beaded butterfly trimming. The bridal veil was of white tulle held in place by a band of pearls and orange blossoms, white slippers completed the costume. The bride carried an arm bouquet of the white Ophelia roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Sitzman, as bridesmaid, she wearing a frock of lavender crepe and tulle lace, with silver slippers and a very charming picture hat to match. The bridesmaid carried an arm bouquet of the pink tea roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Harold Irsal of Omaha as groomsmen, both the groom and groomsmen being garbed in the conventional dark suit.

During the nuptial mass Miss Betty Sitzman, sister of the bride and Sister Celestine, sang as a duet the beautiful song, "O Maria," Mrs. Fleet Parsons of Omaha playing the accompaniment.

At the close of the wedding mass the bridal party received the congratulations of the many friends as they came from the church in the happiness of the beautiful wedding day.

Following the wedding at the church the bridal party and out of town guests were entertained at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Sitzman, on West Pearl street where a dainty and delicious wedding breakfast was served. The appointments of the breakfast included the table decorations of the bright hued garden flowers.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Sealock departed on a short wedding trip to Rockport, Illinois, the home of the groom, where he will be the guest of friends for a few days and will then return to Omaha where they expect to make their home in the future.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Sitzman and was born and reared to womanhood in this community and received her education in the local schools, being a graduate of the class of 1922 of the Plattsmouth high school. She has since her graduation been engaged as a clerk in the store department of the Burlington in this city and Lincoln, resigning her position several weeks ago to prepare for the happy event that has come to her. The bride is a lady of great charm of personality and has a very large circle of friends here who will miss her very much from their city but are pleased that she is to reside so near the old home in the future.

The groom is a splendid young man of the highest character and esteemed by all who have the pleasure of knowing him as a man of the greatest integrity and possessing the confidence of those with whom he is associated. He is at this time with the Omaha National bank and in which city the bride and groom will make their future home.

The out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Yost and daughter, Miss Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Conboy, Mrs. Margaret Durham and daughter, Mrs. W. A. Price and daughter, June, Mrs. Fleet Parsons, Miss Hattie Sitzman all of Omaha and Miss Leona Van Ackern of Humphrey, Nebraska.

LITTLE ONE INJURED

Jackie, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hensel, residing on South 10th street, was the victim of a very painful accident on Saturday that resulted in the loss of one finger and the injury of several others. The little lad was playing around the residence of Charles Skimerhorn, who is absent in the northern part of the state, and as the little one was playing near the fence of large stone blocks, he dislocated one of these which fell and caught his hand, the end of the index finger being severed while the others were cut and bruised very badly. The injured boy was hurried by the mother and neighbors down to the main part of the city to the office of Dr. E. J. Gillespie, who dressed the injured member and made the lad as comfortable as possible.

Cass County G.A.R. Veteran Attends Meeting

William Balfour of Nehawka Leaves for the National Encampment at Denver

Last Saturday William Balfour, eighty-three and one half years of age, of Nehawka, and one of the valiant Americans who fought in the Civil War, who was a member of the 45th Illinois volunteers, and a member of Company I which was raised at Waukegan, Ill., departed for Denver where he will attend the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. Balfour after he had returned from the war, had a young man and entering into his twenties came west and settled in Otoe county where he has resided for over sixty years. He settled on a farm in the early days of the state, and has remained there ever since. He said he had lived on the old home place for a short time that he had learned to love his neighbors and the attachment has grown so strong that he had never any inclination to make his home elsewhere. During the years which has resided in Nebraska, he has never been called upon to serve on a jury, never attended a law suit, never was sued or sued anyone else.

This is a wonderful record for an excellent citizen which he is.

While he lived on the farm for these sixty years, and was during the time with only a few miles from Plattsmouth, he was never there during the forty-eight years of his residence.

Speaking of the matter, he said that during that time he had had no business there it being in another county and he found it a good policy to keep his nose out of places where he had no business. He enlisted when quite young, and it was through the influence of his father who was a lieutenant of the company, in which he was also a member. Their service was mostly in Tennessee, they fought at Ft. McHenry, Donaldson and Shiloh, at the battle of Donaldson the father, James Balfour was wounded from which he recovered and at a later period, had an arm shot off at the battle of Shiloh, and was sent home on a furlough, and the son our Wm. Balfour being sick was also sent home with the father.

The father being very seriously wounded, grew weaker as they neared home, and at the station next to their home expired, notwithstanding he was fighting bravely to get home to the loved ones before the end.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Saturday afternoon Mrs. James G. Maury was hostess at a very pleasant bridge party at her home on South 9th street and in which she was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Hallstrom and Mrs. James T. Begley.

The home was prettily arranged with the flowers of the season and a very large number of the friends were present to enjoy the afternoon in the fascinations of the game.

At this, the second of the series of very pleasant events given by Mrs. Maury, the playing resulted in Mrs. C. E. Hartford securing the high score, Mrs. J. A. Griffin, second, and Mrs. Allen J. Beeson, third.

The hostess served very dainty and delicious refreshments at an appropriate hour that added to the enjoyment of all those in attendance.

HAS HIS FIRST WRECK

Frank A. Cloidt, who recently purchased a new Buick car, is feeling that he is now a real veteran auto driver as he has experienced his first auto accident and the once beautiful car is a battle scarred veteran and entitled to bear wound stripes. The accident occurred yesterday on the K. of T. highway when Frank and the family were peacefully driving along and had a car driven by some Otoe county parties, plowed into the fenders on the rear of the Cloidt car. No one was hurt fortunately and Mr. Cloidt was given a real thrill at the first accident.

Plattsmouth Wins from the Julian - Essex

Eleven Inning Battle Goes to Local 5 to 4—Final Inning Brings Score on Wild Heave

The old adage that the third time is a charm worked on the Julian Essex baseball team of Omaha yesterday afternoon at the local park when the Plattmers nosed them out by a score of 5 to 4, the Omaha team having been victors in the two games earlier in the season.

The visitors were on the lead the greater part of the game and garnered fifteen hits as well as several errors on the part of the locals to help them on and were still unable to win altho Plattsmouth hit but seven bingles of the delivery of Monroe.

With the score tied in the eleventh frame a bad throw from Monahan to Tony and the return to home allowed Bill Distell to tally the winning run for the Plattsmouth team in the gathering twilight and permitted the small but enthusiastic crowd of fans to wend their way homeward, Monroe starting the trouble when he gave Distell the base on balls that spelled the undoing of his team and the loss of the game.

The visitors were first to register in the first of the third inning when Laird gained first on the error of Distell and was permitted to score by Tony, Monahan followed with a walk and successive hits by Davis and Wicker both Laird and Monahan registered at the plate.

After the third the game was saw-saw back and forth with the visitors hitting freely but unable to get anywhere and both drawing many free trips to the initial sack.

In the last of the sixth inning the Plattmers took the lead when three runs came over the plate to threaten the chances of the Omaha ball tossers. McCarthy opened with a fly to third and was followed by Distell, who scored on a wild heave.

Shirley was out on a grounder, Monroe to Wicker and then Hans Newman picked on one of the slants of the Omaha hurler for two bags and scored. Distell and when Trumble hit to center, Hans Newman, O'Donnell followed him by Monroe and Spidell and Svoboda were each given a free trip to first. Trumble being able to score when Monahan threw wild to third to catch the runner. This ended the scoring as Mason was struck out.

In the seventh the visitors tied up the score when Monahan opened the inning with a safe ball to left and was followed by Davis with an out at right on a long fly. Wicker was given a pass and when Smith hit to right Monahan scored and the game was again tied up.

Both teams had men on the sacks in the succeeding innings but were unable to connect with the scoring and at the ninth inning the tie continued and forced the game into the extra frames. Both teams scored one each in the tenth.

In the first of the eleventh the visitors were able by errors to get the first two men up on bases but were unable to score as Trumble threw Steak out at first and struck out Monroe while Bill Mason gathered in the fly or Laird in center field.

Plattsmouth opened in the eleventh with Distell getting a walk and being able to pifer second while Klauschie was striking out and Newman secured a walk. When Trumble grounded to Smith at short the chances of the locals looked bad with two gone, but Distell playing off third drew the fly of Monahan who made a poor throw and Distell started home, the return of Tony going wide and allowing the runner to score and the game was all over.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those who assisted us in the illness of our loved wife and mother and were so generous in their sympathy and assistance in the last rites of our loved one. We assure the friends and neighbors that these acts will always be long remembered.—August Stander and Family.

BREAD TRUCKS "PINCHED"

The long threatening clouds of war that have been gathering around the city ordinance covering occupation tax and the trucks that operate into this city hauling the products of the Omaha breadmakers and consisting of a fleet of some four or five trucks representing as many companies, came to a head today when chief of Police Arnold Johnson made the arrest of the driver of one of the trucks.

The question of paying the tax has been discussed back and forth for some time between the bread companies and the city and the chief brought the matter to a head when he had the driver of the truck taken to the city jail and there he was held until the manager and attorney of one of the companies could arrive and arrange a bond to cover the matter while the case is being litigated in the bakery companies are preparing to carry the case into court to test whether or not the ordinance is a good.

Father W. L. D. Higgins Called to Last Rest

For Eighteen Years Rector of St. Patrick's Church at Manley—Was 53 Years of Age

Saturday evening at the St. Catherine's hospital at Omaha occurred the death of Father W. L. D. Higgins, one of the best known priests of the Roman Catholic church in this part of the state and for eighteen years the pastor of the St. Patrick's church at Manley.

The death of this loved citizen came as the result of an illness of some duration, he being in failing health for some time, his illness growing so severe that on September 3rd he was brought to the hospital from his home at Dawson, Nebraska, at the time supposedly suffering from intestinal trouble but on examination it was found the recovery of the patient was made and he rapidly continued his work until last week when all hope was abandoned and he was given the last rites of his church by his friends and associate for many years, Father O'Conner of Havelock.

The deceased was well known in Plattsmouth where he was a frequent visitor in his years of residence at Manley and the passing brings a great sorrow to the host of friends in the city and among the non-Catholics of the country.

W. L. D. Higgins was born at Holyoke, Mass., October 17, 1875, and when but eleven months of age his father passed away, leaving him to the care of his mother, who reared him in all the years has been with him, assisting the attainment of his wishes to become a member of the priesthood of the church of the faith of his parents. He was educated in the parochial and public schools at Holyoke, later entering the Georgetown college at Rome, where he received his internship at the St. Mary's hospital at Springfield, Mass., taking his theological studies at St. Sulpice college at Paris, finishing his theological studies at the North American college at Rome, where he received his holy orders at the seat of the church. He celebrated his first mass in the catacombs at Rome. Father Higgins came direct from Rome to the diocese of Lincoln, Nebraska some twenty-three years ago and has served in the parishes of at Campbell and David City and eighteen years ago was sent to the St. Patrick's church at Manley where he served for eighteen years as the priest of the church at that place. In June 1927 Father Higgins was transferred to the parish at Dawson, Nebraska, the largest in the southeastern part of Nebraska and where he has since served.

The deceased is survived by his loved and aged mother, Mrs. Delia Higgins, who has been with him in his home in Nebraska and keeping the home for the son and to this loved lady, bowed by the weight of years, the death of the son comes as a severe blow.

BUYS POULTRY BUSINESS

From Tuesday's Daily—
In this age of consolidations and combinations, two of the Plattsmouth business houses have decided to become as one, the poultry and produce business of Henry Klinger being sold to the city of Plattsmouth by Sam Moyer, who is now approaching the position of being the big butter and egg man in this city with the cutting down of his rivals, as the change makes the poultry, butter and egg business handled by Mr. Moyer, A. R. Case and George Olson.

The sale of the poultry business of the Klinger Produce Co. has been on for some time and finally was consummated yesterday afternoon. Mr. Moyer is planning to move into the building at Sixth and Pear street which is occupied by the Klinger company.

NOW JUDGE GRAVES

Attorney Charles L. Graves has an added distinction that has just been heaped upon him, as he is the defacto judge of the City of Plattsmouth, being designated by Mayor John P. Sattler to serve in that capacity while Judge William Weber is confined to his home by illness.

The position is not a new one to Mr. Graves, however, as he was for a number of years the dispenser of justice at Union and being a practicing attorney, his knowledge of the law will make him especially valuable in the office.

The acting police judge had hardly donned the judicial ermine when he was confronted with a case arising from some Nebraska City parties having driven their auto through the city at a speed greater than the law allows. The parties had put up a bond for their appearance and as the hod for the answer of the defendants passed, the bond was declared forfeited and the city was that much richer as the result.

KILLS LARGE SNAKE

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday Dean Bogenreiff and Melvin Barr and sister, Miss Elsie, had an experience with a native rattler in the vicinity of King hill where the members of the party were enjoying a short outing. The snake was killed by Dean and measured some three feet in length, was five inches through and had eleven rattlers and a button, indicating, so the residents there stated, that the snake was twelve years of age. This is the second snake of this kind that has been killed in this summer in that locality, the first one having had fourteen of the rattlers.

Bridge Over Missouri River Not Far Distant

Word of Approval of Plans by Kansas City Department Means Work May Be Started Soon.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The auto and wagon bridge that is the span the Missouri river at this place has progressed a step farther to the time when the contract can be let and actual work on the structure commenced and the matter will be pushed now in the hope of having the main piers of the bridge placed before the first of the year.

The representatives of the War department who held the hearing at Kansas City, Mo., a few weeks ago, have approved the plans and the request of the Plattsmouth Bridge company for the location of the new bridge south of the present Burlington bridge and their approval will doubtless be ratified by the War department at Washington when the plans arrive there for the consideration of the final heads of the department.

The bridge company is all ready with their plans and specifications to let the contract for the bridge as soon as the final approval is granted and the plans for the bridge have been submitted to the great international engineering and construction experts, Modjeska & Chase, of Philadelphia, whose work has been generally recognized by the War department in projects of this kind.

The bridge plans are prepared by some of the leading engineers of the country and provide for a bridge of the latest type with concrete roadbed and which will be some 200 feet in height from the top of the steel superstructure to the base of the main piers which will rest on bed rock.

The piers placed over the navigable portion of the river will stand 53 feet above the level of the water, while on the west approach the pier will measure some 73 feet above the water. The bridge will have a gradual slope from the west approach to the Iowa side of the river.

The arrangements for the highway that leads to the bridge are now in process of negotiation and will provide for a very beautiful river drive over the top of Wintersteen hill to the bridge, as far as the present plans are concerned, but the roadway may be changed to give the best possible routing into the city.

On the east side of the river, the bridge company plans an under track crossing with the Burlington, but the location of the highway on that side of the river depends greatly on the desires and wishes of the Iowa people in whose territory the road is located.

The bridge company will keep in close touch with the situation when the plans reach Washington and hope within the next two weeks to have the final O K of the War department on the plans and the location and then the contract may be let and the actual bridge construction be but a matter of a very short time.

Sidetracks for material will be built by the Burlington on both the Nebraska and Iowa sides of the river, so that the material can be hurried to the scene and unloaded and the total amount of material used in construction of the new bridge will be several trainloads.

ADDRESSES BOY SCOUTS

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening Carlton Hyde, area scoutmaster, came up from Nebraska City to attend the meeting of the Plattsmouth Scouts held at the high school gym. Mr. Hyde told the boys of his recent trip to Tarrytown, N. Y., where he attended the meeting of the regional scoutmasters and executives and enjoyed to the utmost the opportunity of getting the viewpoint of many of the Scout leaders on the work in the nation. Mr. Hyde also told of the plans that the Nehama area has for Scouting and in which the Plattsmouth units will participate and which will give some very fine features of the Scout work for the fall and winter in this section.

There was a very pleasing number of the Scouts in attendance at the meeting and they enjoyed the opportunity of hearing the address of Mr. Hyde to the utmost.

Plattsmouth Loses Opener

From Monday's Daily— Yesterday afternoon the Plattsmouth football team motored over to Malvern, Iowa, to tangle with the town team at that place. The result was Malvern 19, Plattsmouth 0.

This is the first game that the locals have played and their lack of practice and working out was evident in the attacks of the Iowa players and who found but little difficulty in getting away with the locals.

However, Malvern has a real team, the boys report, an average of 190 on the team and the greater part of the players former college football men while the local team is composed largely of shop employees and who have but little time to get their practice. However, the games from now on will take on another aspect as the locals become more seasoned and experienced.

New Bridge to be Ready Last of This Week

Workmen Putting in Long Hours to Get Pappio Structure Back in Shape for Heavy Traffic

From Monday's Daily—
Workmen were busy yesterday getting piling driven at the north approach and throwing up a scaffold between the steel piers, preparatory to replacing the steel supports and flooring of the bridge over the Pappio, north of LaPlatte on the K-T highway, which were carried away by last Thursday night's rain storm.

This bridge is an important connecting link on the highway from Kansas City to Omaha and the detour to the west was in no one too good shape, having been graded but a few days before its use to handle the heavy traffic was demanded on account of the bridge going out.

The four large concrete-filled piers in the center of the stream were not damaged and will be used to support the new bridge. Most of the floor and steel supports for the old bridge will be used, they having lodged some half mile down stream at the south end of the present bridge to Bellevue. The present bridge is intended only as a temporary structure but is being built well enough to last for several years if necessary.

It is expected under favorable conditions to have the bridge ready for traffic by Thursday night, and in any event not later than Saturday.

The latest information on the road changes there is to the effect that the Department of Public Works favors the survey that includes a combined bridge and overhead crossing to extend from a short distance below the bridge to the present bridge to a point half-way up the hill south of Walnut grove, eliminating the grade crossing and doing away with any curve in the road. When the curve at LaPlatte is also straightened out and the overhead bridge put in there, the road will run straight north from the south end of the Platte river bridge to the jog at Walnut Grove corner.

Workmen were also busy yesterday washing the gravel from the surface of the Platte river bridge, preparatory to laying the new sheet asphalt floor pierce contract for which was let some weeks ago.

The deal was completed yesterday whereby Phillip Hirz, one of the well known farmers of west of the city, disposed of his farm to John F. Wehrbein, whose land adjoins Mr. Hirz on the north. The Hirz farm is one that is well improved and well situated and its purchase gives Mr. Wehrbein three eighths lying situated and its purchase gives Mr. Wehrbein three eighths lying together and between the Louisville and Cedar Creek roads.

Mr. Hirz has not definitely decided what he will engage in for the future but is contemplating moving to this city to become a part of the business life here and locate in the community where he has a very large circle of warm friends.
