Orrin Erwin Answers Call.

Some sixty-eight years ago Orrin Erwin was born northeast of this city and on what is known as the John N. Lorsh farm, there he lived during his boyhood, assisting in the farming and going to school in the winter, until he became a man, and has put in the most of his life in this locality, and for some time past has been making his home on the island in the Missouri river east of Union, where he has farmed and made his home. During the past few months he has been in poor health and was for a while at the home of a sister at Nebraska City and latter was taken to the hospital there where early last Saturday morning he passed away. The funeral was held from the Baptist church in Union and was conducted by a pastor from Nebraska City, pastor of the church in which Mr. Erwin was connected, the Christian Science, and assisted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union who secured the singers and did a number of other pieces of work to assist in the funeral.

He was laid to rest near the place where he had lived and the near three score of years and ten which had marked his life. Thus goes one of the oldest native born citizens of Cass county.

Pioneer Nebraskan Still Active

A representative of the Journal visited on last Wednesday at the home of Mr. Amsdell Sheldon living on the O street highway, a short distance east of Avoca, where he has some 400 acres of fine Cass county land. In addition Mr. Sheldon also has some valuable Otoe county land which is very productive. He has been a resident of Nebraska for more than half a century, having been born in Vermont, September 27, 1839 and on the attaining of his majority, he cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln, and says he has voted for several presidential candidates in the years that have followed.

Early in life Mr. Sheldon joined the Odd Fellows and has ever maintained his membership in this excellent order. He is hale and hearty for his nearly 90 years and gets around looking after the farm.

Mr. Sheldon says that Nebraska is a wonderful state in which to live, and Cass county one of the best counties in this wonderful state.

First Meeting of W. C. T. U.

The first meeting in the W. C. T. U. year was held on September 12th, at the home of Mrs. Crede Farris, with Mrs. Lee Harris as assistant. A short program was taken up comprising a series of articles on Politics. Mrs. Cross, "Political Parties"; Mrs. Hansel, "Politics as They Relate to the Home"; Mrs. Allison, "Politics as They Relate to the City"; Mrs. Ray Frans, "Politics as They Relate to the State"; Mrs. Todd, "Politics as They Relate to the Nation"; Mrs. Melvin Pusner, an article, "The Importance of Citizenship"; Mrs. Cross, a poem on paying dues, to which a good many responded.

The county convention is to be held at the Baptist church in Union on September 27th, and arrangements for this were discussed at length. Many plans were made and committees appointed. We hope this meeting will be largely attended. Both afternoon and forenoon sessions are open to the public. A cafeteria dinner will be served to all members in the church parlors at noon by the Union W. C. T. U.

Many Great Attractions at the Parmele Soon

Arrangements to Bring Some of the Biggest Film Successes of the Year to This City

To the movie fans of the community.—The writer has spent considerable time in the past ten days in Omaha along Film Row looking over the screen products of the many different companies.

We are glad to be able to state to the public that we are thoroughly convinced that the silent drama is still growing by leaps and bounds. The various companies are putting more and more money into the big stories and making pictures bigger and better than ever before, convinced that the public wants them and are willing to pay a reasonable price to see them. For instance, Carl Lemle of Universal has spent millions of dollars making such productions as "The Foreign Legion," "The Man Who Laughs," "The Cohens and Kellys in Atlantic City," and many other productions. He spent $2,000,000 and two years time in making that well known play "Uncle Tom's Cabin" into one of the most mammoth productions ever put on the screen. Mr. Lemle feels that every man, woman and child in the United States will want to see this beautiful story on the screen.

Then there is Paramount, who for years been one of the outstanding companies in the producing fields spending hither to unheard of sums in producing some of the big stories of the times. For instance, most of you have heard of their biggest offering of the season, "Wings," which opens in Omaha Saturday for an extended run. Then there is that popular stage success, "Abe's Irish Rose," "The Patriot," which is played at the Riviera last week, "The Wedding March," and many other program pictures, all of which stand head and shoulders above offerings of a few short years ago.

We are glad to announce that the first of these big pictures we are going to offer to our patrons this fall will be "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which we succeeded in contracting for and will show next week, Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

"Wings," will probably be shown four nights in Plattsmouth depending somewhat on the length of the run in Omaha.

There will be many other offerings through the winter season and they will all be accompanied by our internationally known organist, Carl Wewel at the great Wurliitzer organ.

We have always striven in the past to give to our patrons the best entertainment that money could buy and we intend to keep up this policy in the future.

Of course, it is impossible for a theatre to show all of the pictures produced, as there are something over 800 productions each year, and there being only 365 days in a year, it is easy to see that it would be impossible to show even one-half of the product even if we changed our program every day. We will, however, endeavor to always pick the best, regardless of the price, believing that the best is none too good for our patrons. This we have always done even though we may have been a little backward in telling you about it.

Whether you are a movie fan or not, don't let yourself or anyone of your family miss "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

You will see more in these columns about it later, but in the meantime remember the dates, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Your movie servants, Bill, Andy and Carl.

Bread Companies Will Appeal Case to Higher Court

Omaha Baking Companies to Make Test of City Occupation Ordinance On Their Trucks

From Tuesday's Daily.—The question of whether the city of Plattsmouth has the right to levy an occupation tax against the bread trucks operating here from Omaha will be given an airing in court, following the arrest yesterday of the driver of one of the trucks.

The police under the power of the city ordinance, arrested the driver of the truck and he was brought before Judge Charles L. Graves and the fine of $10 and cost for the violation of the city ordinance was imposed by the acting police judge.

The defendant bread companies filed notice of their appeal of the case to the district court and bonds was supplied for the release of the driver of the truck and to cover the operation of the companies pending the rendering of the court's opinion as to the validity of the city ordinance.

The Plattsmouth ordinance provides a tax of $50 per year for the operation of bread trucks and will be litigated in a similar ordinance at Fremont where the city set the tax at $250 per year. Until the court takes up the matter and renders decision the bond of the bread companies will remain in force to effect a stay of the sentence of the local police court.

IN DANCE MARATHON

From Tuesday's Daily.—The dance marathon that started last evening at the auditorium at Omaha, has attracted the attention of a very large number of "hoofers" from this city as well as Nebraska and western Iowa and a great many entries have been made in the big dance of endurance.

Among those who are taking part is George Moreland of this city, who has as his dancing partner a young lady of Bellevue and this couple are planned to be in at the finish when the last couple on the floor is awarded the grand prize of $1,000.

The Plattsmouth dancer left here yesterday afternoon for Omaha and was ready when the dance opened at 8:30 last evening to the music of Randall's Royal orchestra. The dance will run as long as the dancers are able to keep going and the "hoofers" will have forty-five minutes of dancing and fifteen of rest during the marathon. Many of them will be fed as they dance and this will give the dancers a chance for more rest in the brief intermissions.

ATTEN TO BIG OPENING

The Plattsmouth branch of the Cuscedan School of Music, located in the Seonnichsen building, made a very fine start Saturday and with one of the largest classes that has been enjoyed by any school of this kind in this city. The local school which is under the directorship of Frank Marlborough, has more than passed the expectations of the school management.

On Saturday Mr. Robert Cuscedan, one of the best known violinists of the west and the head of the school, came down to meet the Plattsmouth and Cass county pupils and was delighted with the large class and the wonderful talent and promise offered by the students from this city and vicinity. Large additions to the class is being made each week and the Plattsmouth school gives every promise of being one of the best in this part of the state in numbers and in the fine talent shown.

From Wednesday's Daily.—Miss Pauline Gradville, who is at the St. Catherine's hospital at Omaha (recovering from the effects of her operation for appendicitis), is doing very nicely and her early return home to this city is anticipated as the patient is doing nicely and showing a great gain in strength and which should make her recovery very speedy.

PIONEER CLOTHING MAN

On Saturday Charles Powell of Chicago, was here for the day to visit with C. C. and E. H. Westcott, sons of C. E. Westcott, one of the earliest clothing men in the state and former business associate of Mr. Powell.

Mr. Powell came to Plattsmouth some fifty years ago with the founder of the firm, E. Westcott's Sons but after a short time in this section of the west, decided to return to Illinois and has since been located at Chicago. This is the first visit of Mr. Powell here since he returned to Illinois and he found that the Westcott boys who were four or five years older when he was a resident here and business associate, were now men of mature age and bearing little resemblance to the tots of the bygone years.

Mr. Powell spent the day here and then returned back to Chicago where he has for a great many years been engaged with the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

SHOWING FINE PROGRESS

From Wednesday's Daily.—The many friends in this city and vicinity of the Homer Shrader family will be pleased to learn that their little daughter, Velma, is now showing the best of progress at the Methodist hospital where she has been for the past two weeks recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. The little one was in very serious shape for a few days and her condition caused a great deal of apprehension to the attending physicians and members of the family but she has rallied very nicely and gives every encouragement for her speedy recovery. During the illness of the little one Mrs. Shrader has been at the hospital the greater part of the time with the daughter.

Railroad Peace Parley Ends in No Agreement

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 18.—The federal board of mediation this afternoon announced it had terminated its efforts toward bringing about an agreement between the western railroads and the trainmen and conductors' unions.

Samuel E. Winslow, chairman of the federal board, issued the following statement: "In behalf of the board, the mediation proceedings have been terminated for the reason that the carriers and the employees' union were unable to reach an agreement."

E. P. Curtis, president of the order of Railway Conductors, and A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said no immediate action on the strike vote will be taken, and indicated the next move should come from the government. J. W. Higgins, chairman of the board of railway managers, had no statement to make concerning the carriers attitude.

May Mean Trouble.

"The railroads will be asked again directly what they have been asked in mediation," said Mr. Curtis. "Then if they refuse to accept our proposal the employees will be free to take any action deemed necessary and desirable."

A refusal will mean trouble, which may eventually mean that we will quit running trains.

"The main point in dispute is not that the employees have refused to arbitrate the certain questions but that they have declined to execute an agreement in advance that they will arbitrate potential cases which the carriers may submit at a future date, say within 60 or 90 days."

"The organizations have been urging the railroad committees to bring into the negotiations the specific questions regarding the rules which the carriers considered and, if necessary, arbitrated. The conference committee of managers has requested that all matter in controversy be arbitrated, including the wage increase asked."

Why Arbitration Refused.

"The employees refused to arbitrate this question because it has already been arbitrated several times under the railway labor act and further arbitration simply means a waste of time and money."

"We have refused to arbitrate the elimination of the double-header rule in its entirety because it has been in effect for 27 years and is a settled condition of employment as much as collective bargaining and the eight-hour day."

"We have been willing all along to consider and settle through direct negotiation, and if necessary through arbitration any particularly burdensome condition brought about by a fixed rule if the proposition did not involve the elimination of general modification of such a rule."—World-Herald.
