

Congressman Morehead Deserves Election

Record of Service to People of State and Congressional District Is One of Real Merit.

The service that John H. Morehead, candidate for re-election to congress from the first district has given to the people is one that should give him a return to that office by a great majority as a tribute to a real servant of the people. In his service to the citizens of Nebraska John H. Morehead has held the viewpoint that he was merely the representative of the people of his state and district and that their wishes in regard to legislation was the prime factor in determining his action in congress. He has not been subject to any dictates from any individual or group of people, taking his only orders from the people of his district in his congressional service.

During the time that Congressman Morehead has represented the first district he has been the congressman of every citizen of the district regardless of whether that citizen was republican, democrat or any other political affiliation. His service in the office has been strictly non-partisan, his voice and vote being raised in support of all measures that were for the benefit of his people and the great agricultural sections of the west where he was born and has spent his lifetime.

Congressman Morehead has been present and voted on all measures that have come before congress during his six years of service and his record in support of the legislation favoring his district and the people of the great west is one that he can well feel proud in presenting to the voters of the first district.

With John H. Morehead on the job any man or woman in the district that had any matters interesting them that fall within the sphere of the office of the congressman have felt free to take the matter up personally with Mr. Morehead and they rested assured that he gave it his personal attention and strived to secure if possible the desire of his constituent, not leaving the task to some clerk of subordinate. This fact is known to hundreds of the residents of the first district, republicans and democrats alike, who have found our congressman to be a real representative of all the people and not of special interests.

The attention of Congressman Morehead to the wishes of his people was shown in the manner in which he labored in securing the passage of the bill that provided for the erection of bridges over the Missouri river, taking the matter personally in charge in the house and seeing that the measures were started on their journey thru the senate. One of these measures so enacted was that of the Plattsmouth bridge bill that made possible the erection of the structure that will span the river at this place and make a lasting tie between the states of Iowa and Nebraska.

Congressman Morehead has not enumerated the congressional record with speeches that sound good in print and mean little, but has been on the floor of the house and voting every time a measure was brought up and always in the interest of his people. His record in the struggle for farm relief and veterans recognition has been outstanding in the years of his service.

This record in congress as well as the four years spent in the office of the governor of the state of Nebraska, is one that certainly should prove to the people of the state that they have the right man in the position of congressman from the first district of Nebraska and that he deserves a re-election to the congressional position as one of the outstanding representatives from the state of Nebraska and a man who is close to the interests of all of the people in his district.

PETITION TO THE KING

London, Oct. 31.—A meeting of the Protestant Alliance and the League of Royal Churchmen at Caxton hall passed a resolution calling upon the prime minister to advise the king to withdraw royal assent to the appointment of the Most Rev. C. G. Lang as arch-bishop of Canterbury. The motion passed with one dissenting vote.

The resolution declared that after royal assent had been given, Dr. Lang had publicly announced his intention of breaking the law and disregarding the expressed will of the house of commons. It further charged, Dr. Lang with inciting the whole body of the clergy to break the law, defy the legislature and violate sacred promises made at their ordination by illegally using the revised book of common prayer, 1928.

Farm Products in Decided Slump on the Market

Survey by Agriculture Department Shows Price Index Drops Four Points

Washington, Oct. 31.—Prices of farm products took a decided slump during the last month, according to a survey made public today by the agriculture department.

The government farm price index dropped four points from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, and at 137, compared with a pre-war price index of 100 it was two points below October, 1927.

Reduced prices of livestock, wool, corn and potatoes were chiefly responsible for the decline, it was stated.

"The reductions have been accompanied by reports that the 1928 crop is of higher than average merchantable quality.

"What prices turned slightly upward in October after a sustained price decline from May to Sept. 15, the advance of 5 per cent in farm prices from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15 being fairly general thruout the country. The farm price increase was accompanied by indications of a great demand for wheat on account of reports of short wheat crops in Russia, Turkey, and North China and short corn crops in the Balkan countries."

Department advices today told incidentally of considerable increase in this year's Australian wheat crop.

Potatoes in 1928 dropped to the lowest price on record for thirteen years. The farm price was 58 cents per bushel compared with 65 cents Sept. 15, and 55 cents in October 1915.

SEED CLOVER SELLS FAST

Approximately 20 percent of the sweet clover seed grown by farmers in southeast Nebraska had been sold on Oct. 1, this year, says the state and federal division of agriculture statistics. In other sweet clover seed states the movement is faster than a year ago, but for the country the movement is much more sluggish than in 1927.

Two years ago 45 percent of this seed had left growers' hands on Oct. 1, last year 20 percent and this year 25 to 30 percent. In the main producing sections of Minnesota and the Dakotas the average price of $4.70 per bushel was 10 cents higher than last year but compared with a price of $8.60 two years ago. Quality is reported as good to very good despite damage from rains and frost, and prices have advanced 10 cents per bushel this year at the same time that a year ago they declined 20 cents per bushel.

Nebraska prices this year on the first averaged $5.45 as compared to $5.80 in 1927. The 1928 sweet clover seed acreage in Nebraska was 33,023 acres producing a total of 129,901 bushels. At that time the total sweet clover acreage in the state was 416,388 acres. The acreage this year in all sweet clover is estimated, according to preliminary information at more than 450,000 acres.

QUAKE ROCKS EL PASO AND IS FELT IN MEXICO

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 31.—El Paso buildings were shaken tonight by the first earthquake here in more than five years. The shock was felt a number of places within a radius of 30 miles.

No damage at any point was reported, but the disturbance was sufficiently severe to be alarming. The shock lasted several seconds.

El Continental, Spanish language newspaper, reported that a slight earthquake was felt at 10:14 p. m. (Omaha time) from Jimenez, Chihuahua, to Juarez and El Paso. The tremor was of about 30 seconds duration, and it was reported that at Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, several houses collapsed.

JUDGE, THE FRIEND OF MAN, BELIEVES WIVES SHOULD PAY

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—Judge Joseph P. Sabath, veteran divorce jurist, champions the husband's right to claim alimony just as a wife when circumstances warrant it.

"Of course, able-bodied husbands who can support themselves are not entitled to alimony," the judge said, "but neither are self-supporting wives without children."

He spoke in comment on the case of a Milwaukee woman who had been brought into court for being $750 in arrears in alimony payments to her husband.

Public Sentiment Now Being Tested on New Calendar

Wide Interest Is Manifest Throughout World In Proposed 13-Month Year

Washington.—The program of a "13-month calendar by 1933" is making progress. Nearly 100 eminent Americans have pledged support to help the National Committee on Calendar Simplification to determine whether public opinion in the United States favors the adoption of a new calendar. The list ranges from Henry Ford, Newton D. Baker and A. P. Sloan, to Frank O. Lowden, and the presidents of Yale, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Mt. Holyoke.

Shortcomings in the present calendar are declared to be interfering with modern business, and under the guidance of the committee instituted by George Eastman of Rochester, American groups initiated a movement, through the League of Nations for world consideration of simplification. The committee's report on a questionnaire now out will be mailed to the Secretary of State for use in proposed further international conferences.

The time considered desirable for a new world conference on calendar reform is 1929, because the nearest convenient year for putting a new calendar into effect is 1923, when January 1 falls on Sunday, and the interval between 1929 and 1933 would be needed to prepare for the change.

The present calendar lacks fixity it is said, Easter varies anywhere from March 22 to April 25, and the months are unequal. The 13-month, 28-day plan would give each month the same number of work days, the same number of Saturdays and Sundays and the same number of whole weeks. The first day of the month would always begin on Sunday and the last day would always be Saturday the twenty-eighth. It is also proposed that, for the interest of industry and workers, irrespective of where the anniversary dates fall in the week, the new calendar would transfer present holidays to Monday thus giving everybody generous "week-ends."

'Canned' Radio Airs to be Designated as Such

Federal Board Decrees That Announcement Shall Be Made on Each Number

Washington.—Henceforth radio listeners will know when they are getting "canned" music. A new general order by the Federal Radio Commission requires stations to announce clearly the character of all mechanical reproduction broadcasts by them, the announcement to precede each program item. For instance, a rendition by a phonograph player will likewise have its mechanical paternity disclosed.

Though such reproductions are frequently jerryed at, Commissioner O. H. Caldwell, in a letter sent out in connection with Station WGY, tells of an instance where they are used to great advantage. In the Saranac region of New York, where hills are beset with static, the little Saranac Lake 1-watt transmitter when busy, is doing heroic service, Mr. Caldwell said.

In the daylight hours the big voice of WGY does not come through. The Saranac region is isolated, and yet from the great number of hostellers provided for city people in that area it peculiarly needs music. Though vicinity "out of all proportion to its playing," mostly phonograph records," Mr. Caldwell says, Station WNEB is rendering a service to the "ting wattle."

The Radio Commission asks that right of way be given on election eve to the stations sending out returns. Another order renews for 60 days at coastal, point-to-point technical and training, experimental and ship licenses.

SAY COLLEGE TOWN IS WET

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 2.—A committee of the local Women's Christian Temperance union has brought to the attention of Chief of Police C. F. Benda "the deplorable display of lawlessness and examples of intoxication of Iowa homecoming celebration Saturday."

"Where," they demanded, "did the homecomers get all their liquor? Here?"

"And," they persisted, "can't some way be found before Thanksgiving, Nov. 17, whereby state and local officers could operate?"

A committee will be appointed to suggest some plan by which friends of the university can express their joy in a lawful manner, Mrs. W. J. Dennis, vice president, announced.

The committee did not criticize the Iowa City police for failure to cope with the situation, it was announced, but complained that Iowa City's police force of seven men was too small for a city of 15,000. Chief Benda agreed.

QUAKES BLOW UP GAS TANK

Los Angeles, Nov. 2.—Two heavy earthquake shocks were reported to have rocked the town of Lompoc in Santa Barbara county last night, causing property damage and destroying all communications.

Only meagre information was available, but it was said that the tremors caused a tank to explode, the concussion damaging an adjoining high school building and athletic club.

Reports said the first shock was felt at 9:45 p. m., followed by a second quake at 11:05 p. m. Ten minutes after the second shock the gas tank exploded.

No one was reported injured, though advices said that the shocks were very severe.

Lompoc is a town of about 2,000 population. It is situated in the southwest corner of Santa Barbara county, near the mouth of the Santa Ynez river.

Mills County to Have More Paved Roads

Twenty More Miles of Paving to Connect Tabor, Malvern and Hastings to Highway No. 34

Our neighboring county, Mills county, Iowa, is to have a very noticeable addition to the paved road system of that county, as contract has been let for the paving of twenty more miles of roadway there, which will connect up the towns of Malvern, Tabor and Hastings with the main east and west highway through the county and which is straight east from where the new wagon and auto bridge over the Missouri river at this place will be erected.

This connecting up with the various towns in that county makes a great highway system for the Iowa people and will take them out of the mud in fine shape and at a very low cost compared with the paving costs of other years.

Hon. H. A. Darting, of Glenwood, former state senator and now member of the Iowa state highway commission, and who is one of the most enthusiastic boosters for the new bridge here, was at Ames when the paving contract was let for the new work and is much pleased over the price at which the paving was secured.

This contract was let to the Little Construction company, one of the largest construction companies in the state of Iowa, and a concern which has been in considerable work in that state in the past, all of which has been of high quality and proven very satisfactory. The contract was let at a new low price of $1.82 per square yard. This reduces the cost of paving a mile to approximately $19,200.

The paving laid in Mills county this summer cost $2.33 per square yard, or approximately $25,000 a mile. In letting Tuesday at this new low figure, which is the best bid ever received for work in the state is at a saving of $5,000 a mile or on the twenty mile contract a saving of $100,000.

The low bid received at this letting is due to the stiff competition between construction and material companies. This competition has forced down the price of rock, gravel and cement to almost unexpected low levels. The reduction in material costs is enabling contractors to make lower bids.

The power which the Iowa commission has to engage in production of construction material, has played a big part in the competitive fight between construction material companies, despite the fact that it is not the intention of the commission to use this power unless they have to to secure fair prices on construction material.

There is also keen competition among contractors for work at the present time as Illinois is practically through with their road paving program and there is very little work of this character being done in either Nebraska or Kansas at the present time.

POVERTY POINT WOMEN'S CLUB IS VERY ACTIVE

The Poverty Point Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. John Phelps October 11th, 1928. After a delicious dinner the Project leaders, Mrs. John Phelps and Mrs. F. Ross gave the demonstration work for the month on "Food and Nutrition."

On October 26th, 1928, several members of the club attended the University of Nebraska Extension Service recreation program at Lincoln.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. V. A. Besack on November 14th, 1928, from 10:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Any ladies interested in the work are invited to attend and join the good project of making "Better Homes for Better Families." Bring a regular school lunch minus sandwiches. These will be made at the meeting.

ENTERTAINMENT SECURED

Entertainment for the Legion's Harvest Festival has been arranged for including some of the best known radio stars, to be offered the public in connection with dance music and big door prizes for an admission charge of only 10 cents a person.

On Saturday (opening) night, a local team that is plenty good enuf to follow the radio game regularly is to appear in clever song skits and although not an imported attraction, they will please the public immensely.

Monday night the entertaining attraction will be Wilson Doty, accordion soloist of KOIL, who can do everything but make an accordion actually talk.

Tuesday night, O. D. Temple, the singing barber, who has been heard by less than thousands over WOW will put on a program of present day ballads exclusively. The dance orchestra on this night will be the Orioles, of Omaha.

Wednesday night will be Farmers' night, and Schreiners orchestra, of Nebraska City, will play for the coming modern and old time dance. O. D. Temple, the singing barber, will be back in an entirely different program than on the preceding night—old time favorites and request numbers.

Thursday night will be one of the biggest nights of the carnival. The Arcadians a leading dance orchestra, from KFAB, Lincoln, together with "Gloomy Gus" as accompanying singer will furnish music for the dance. The entertainer on this night will be none other than the colored boy from the Shreveport, La. radio station, who is now on a tour of the country appearing nightly at dance halls and vaudeville houses.

Friday night, Miss Agnes Britton, comedienne, dancer and singer of ballads and blue songs will sweep the crowds off their feet and prove a fitting climax to the entertainment.

On Saturday (closing) night, with door prize award and drawing for the capitol prize to take up time, entertainment will be confined to music by the dance orchestra, playing from 10 p. m. on.

Besides the orchestra enumerated above, the Four Horsemen will play on the opening night and Friday night and the Barnyard Twins on Monday night and the closing night. The committee is making final arrangements for nightly door prizes today and these will be announced the first of the week.

SLAYER TO SEE PICTURE

Mexico City, Nov. 1.—When Jose de Leon Toral faces trial tomorrow for the assassination of President-elect Alvar Obregon, a large picture of the man he killed will look down on him from the wall just above the judge's head.

The picture, which is a large photograph, is strikingly lifelike and dominates the courtroom at San Angel, not far from where the actual assassination took place. Toral's first sight of the likeness came today when he entered the room to be present at the beginning of the selection of a jury to try him and the nun Concepcion, charged as an accomplice.

The courtroom seats just one hundred. A thousand want entrance. To simplify the matter admission has been made by ticket issued only by the judge. Those unable to hear the trial first hand, however, will not be left out entirely, for the department of communications is installing radio apparatus to broadcast the proceedings—the first time that this has been done in Mexico.

OFFICERS HUNT ACCUSED

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 2.—While a group of attorneys conferred today on the legal procedure to be used on Nov. 3 when District Attorney Asa Keyes and seven others charged with bribery appear in court for arraignment, officers were searching for three of the accused men who promised to surrender this morning but failed to do so.

The five men who have surrendered are Keys, E. H. and Jack Rosenberg, brokers; A. I. Lusker, former head of the Lasker Finance company, and Jacob Berman, so-called "financial wizard" of the Julian Petroleum corporation. It was the allegedly fraudulent operations of this corporation which eventuated in the indictments.

Those missing are Charles Reimer, former investigator for the district attorney's office; Ben Getzoff, accused "Go-Between" Taylor, and his son, David.

B. F. Hoback Dies at Home Near Nehawka

Has Resided in Southern Cass County for the Past Seventy Years—Seventy-nine Years Old

B. F. Hoback, 79, retired farmer and one of the early pioneers of this section of the state, died at the family home two miles west of Nehawka, Friday morning at 9 o'clock following an illness of only a few weeks. He had been a resident of southern Cass county for more than 70 years.

B. F. Hoback was born October 3, 1849, in Missouri, and came to Nebraska with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoback, in the early fifties. He was reared on a farm near Nehawka and was married to Miss Martha Adams in Nebraska City April 1, 1886. For many years he was engaged in farming in southern Cass county but a few years ago retired and moved to Nehawka where he had since made his home. He was one of the best known pioneers of this section of the state and was active in the affairs of the Oteo and Cass Counties Old Settlers Association being one of the character members of the organization. He was well known in Nebraska City where he often visited and transacted business.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church and Modern Woodmen of America.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Hemphill, Nehawka; Mrs. Gertrude Anderson Union; and four sons, Oscar, G. C. and R. Bruce Hoback, Nehawka and Dewey Hoback, Nebraska City. Two brothers, Dow Hoback and Charles Hoback, San Jose, Cal., and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Smith, San Jose and Mrs. Minnie Reed of Percival, Ia., also survive.

The body was taken to the Karslens & Patterson undertaking parlors at Nebraska City, pending funeral arrangements which will be announced later.

Every shade of crepe paper and all the new novelties and favors as well as a complete stock of picnic needs can be found in the Dennison line, sold exclusively at the Bates Book and Gift Shop.

FORMER COP IN A HOLDUP

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Defying the law he once upheld, a former Chicago police sergeant tonight was wounded, probably fatally, in a shooting fray in which one man was clugged and two policemen shot when they frustrated an attempted holdup of a cigar store.

A pedestrian saw Patrick McIntyre, former police sergeant, who, authorities say, has served a prison sentence for counterfeiting, as he slugged Louis Van for slowness in raising his hands. Van, owner of the store, slumped behind the counter as Policeman Joseph Meyers and Hamilton Mackey, summoned by the pedestrian, burst into the store.

McIntyre fired twice, wounding both officers. They returned the fire, five shots taking effect. All four were taken to a hospital where physicians said McIntyre has slight chance of recovering. Van's skull was fractured.
