Weeping Water Sorrows for the Murdered Girls

Hundreds Attend Last Services of the Victims of the Ax Murderer—Pay a Fine Tribute.

Weeping Water, Nov. 22.—Twelve hundred persons assembled inside and about the doors of the Congregational church here this afternoon for the funeral of Mrs. Waldo Resso and Miss Creta Brown, sisters, who were slain Monday in the Omaha home of Mrs. Resso by the ax murderer. It was the largest funeral that has been held here. Most of the business of the town was suspended while the rites were in progress.

Around the two caskets placed side by side below the altar, were banked floral offerings from friends of the two young women and their relatives.

Omahans Attend
From the pulpit Rev. G. R. Birch looked down upon a group near the front of the church that included Mrs. Resso's bereaved husband and three young children and Lawrence Little of Weeping Water, who was betrothed to the younger victim of the murderer. In the group sat, also, the parents of the sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown, farmers, and the grandfather of the murder victims, Charles Philpot, president of the First National bank of Weeping Water. Many Omahans were here for the funeral.

Referring to the double murder as "a revolting tragedy that shocked the whole community," Rev. Mr. Birch took as the theme of his sermon the seeming inconsistencies of life and offered the sorrowing relatives and friends a haven of comfort in Christ's message of immortality.

Hand of a Degenerate
"This one young woman," he said "has been snatched to eternity by her husband and children by the hand of a degenerate. That same hand took this other young woman from the arms of her betrothed."

"Disaster at times falls upon communities and upon individual homes as a wild beast springing from an unsuspected ambush. There is no hope to be gained in regarding fate as the explanation for these things. Only through complete trust in the goodness of God do we find comfort in times of storm."

Final Tribute to Mrs. Yates

Funeral Services for Lincoln Pioneer Held Thursday Afternoon—A Former Resident Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Charles E. Yates were held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her son, W. S. Yates, in Lincoln, with Rev. Benjamin F. Wyland officiating.

Rev. Dr. Wyland paid the following tribute to Mrs. Yates: "Mrs. Ruth Sandford Yates, whose life we remember here in this memorial service today, has been a pioneer resident of Lincoln and Nebraska since 1875. For fifty-three years she has lived in this commonwealth and for a half century in the capital city. With her husband, she came from New York state, a part of that unknown migration that assaulted mighty frontiers and with indomitable faith and courage established a civilization where before existed only wild animals and untilled soil. What the women of those early days faced with their husbands and fathers we little appreciate. But our grateful estimate of their hardy loyalty we cannot withhold.

"Hers has been a useful life thru its eighty-six years. Since 1888, she has been a faithful member of the First Presbyterian church. This was one of our pioneer characteristics; a sure conviction that righteousness alone exalteth a nation." Hers was a happy spirit; cheerful and courageous in sickness as in health.

"The soul of origin divine, God's glorious image, freed from clay—
In Heaven's eternal sphere shall shine
A star of day!
The sun is but a spark of fire—
A transient meteor in the sky.
The soul, immortal as its sire,
Shall never die!"

The pallbearers were: Active—J. M. Fox, F. Roth, J. L. Burnham, R. M. Joyce, Arthur Raymond, I. M. Raymond, L. O. Payne, F. G. Caldwell. Honorary—S. H. Burnham, Dr. C. F. Ladd, I. G. Chapin, I. P. Searle, C. G. Crittenden, W. O. Thomas, H. C. Halsey, George E. Proudfit, W. H. Ferguson, Ross P. Curtice, H. P. Lau, Dr. H. H. Everett and T. P. Livingston.

The body was laid to rest in Wyuka cemetery at Lincoln.

OBITUARY

Herbert Moore was born at Elbing, Kansas, Sept. 6, 1874, and passed away at his home at Alvo, Nov. 14, 1928, aged 52 years, 2 months and 8 days.

On Oct. 19, 1900, he was united in marriage to Miss Maude Sanborn, and to this union were born three children and a daughter. Beside his wife and daughter, Mrs. H. E. Lundin of East Saint Louis, Ill., he is survived by his father, James P. Moore, five brothers and two sisters.

Mr. Moore was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Scottish Rite and the Shrine. Services were conducted at the Roberts funeral parlors on Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m., with the Rev. Perry J. Rushlau in charge. Interment was made at Clay Center Sunday, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

For a number of years Mr. Moore has been station agent for the Rock Island at Alvo where he has made a host of friends who mourn his departure. He always took an active interest in community affairs and because of his kindly interest and earnest endeavor was loved by all those who knew him. The entire community was saddened by his passing and extend an expression of sincere sorrow to those of his family.

F. M. Hoenshell, roadmaster of the Omaha division of the Burlington was in the city today to look after some company business for a few hours.

Peru Prep is Winner Over the Platters Here

Locals Unable to Check Passing Attack of the Light Visiting Team and Lose 6 to 0

From Monday's Daily—The hopes of the Plattsmouth high school football team to land the unoccupied second place in the south-eastern Nebraska conference, dashed itself on the rocks of the passes of the Peru Prep team on the local gridiron yesterday afternoon when the visitors emerged the victors by the score of 6 to 0.

The Plattsmouth team appeared much the best of the two on the straight football plays but inability to check the passing attack in the last quarter of the game spelled defeat for the blue and white.

The Platters made a strong bid for a touchdown in the second quarter when a series of line smashes and off tackle plays with Bob Fitch and Hershel Hays carrying the ball, brought the pigskin to the Prepsters fifteen yard line and then the half came to check the visions of the touchdown that the locals had cherished.

Through the game the line smashes fective mode of attack and the work of Dew and Fitch, the local "power-house" made many gains through the visitors line but at the critical stages of the game the Platters failed to have the needed punch and attempts to pass on the part of the locals were without success.

As the last quarter opened the Platters punted and the Peru team returned the ball twenty-five yards and then opened the aerial bombardment that was to give them the lonely touchdown of the game. A pass gained twenty-five yards and then a repetition in passes brought another ten and after a try or two on the end runs the Peruvians again placed over a pass and the ball was on the Platters five yard line and from there the big push brought the ball to the locals three yard line where repeated attacks finally took the ball over but the try for point was no good.

The last of the final quarter the Plattsmouth team tried hard to recover the lost ground and despite the desperate work of Fitch, the outstanding player of the locals, there was no success and the game ended with the ball on the Peru forty yard line.

Mrs. Dorothea Vogel Passes Away at Home of Son—Resident of County Many Years.

Mrs. Dorothea Vogel passed from this life on November 10, 1928, at the home of her son, George Vogel, of South Bend, her death coming at the end of a long, useful life and being caused by the infirmities of old age.

Mrs. Vogel's maiden name was Dorothea Reeker. She was born in Jagstheim, Germany, June 11, 1948. She was 80 years, 4 months and 29 days old at the time of her death. At the age of 14, she was confirmed in the Lutheran church, and was married to Andrew Vogel February 27, 1876, at Crailsheim, Wurtemberg, Germany. To this union three children were born, two of whom survive. They are Mrs. Axel Zaar and George Vogel, of South Bend. One son, August, preceded her in death October 14, 1923, and her husband May 12, 1901.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogel had lived in Cass county since pioneer times and were both highly respected and greatly loved by their neighbors and friends. The passing of these grand men and women to whom present generations owe much, always brings a sadness and their memory is held in loving esteem.

The funeral occurred on Monday, November 12, from the home of the son, where she lived in later years. The services were in charge of the Rev. W. N. Wallis, of Ashland, with interment in the Ashland cemetery. —Louisville Courier.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. E. H. Worthman drove to Omaha Monday to take Mrs. V. H. Breeden to the M. E. hospital for an operation for the removal of her tonsils and found Yosta Davis dressed and waiting for Marion Ossenkop to come for him to take him home, so he came along with Mrs. Worthman, getting here several hours sooner than he had expected to, much to the joy of his mother and his many friends who are delighted at the splendid recovery he made after his recent operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. E. Sundstrom drove to Omaha Tuesday to bring Mrs. Braden Lome and we are glad to report that she stood the trying ordeal splendidly and is getting along nicely. —Louisville Courier.

Mexico City, Nov. 23.—The United States embassy was informed by a telegram from Tampico that Colonel Lindbergh landed there at 3:10 p. m. He had taken off from the Valbuena flying field here at 12:45.

A half hour before taking off for Tampico, Colonel Lindbergh piloted on a brief ride over the field Mrs. Charles Long Cutter of Cleveland, the eighty-three year old mother of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow. After he had landed Mrs. Cutter the American ace took up Major Fierro's Latin-American machine and circled it around the field. About two hundred persons were present to bid Lindbergh farewell. Ambassador Morrow was unable to go to the field, but members of the embassy staff, Mrs. Morrow and Miss Anne Morrow were there. The Colonel shook hands with the Morrow party before climbing into his own machine.
