STORM CHECKS MEETING
From Friday's Daily—
The school of instruction that has been conducted here at Plattsmouth lodge No. 6 of the A. F. & A. M., was interrupted with yesterday to some extent by the bad weather conditions and made necessary the postponement of the final program which had been set for Thursday evening. The snow and threat of a blizzard kept the members of the order from Lincoln who were to have part in the program from attending and made it impossible for many from over the county to reach here for the program. Several of the Masons from Weeping Water were here during the afternoon sessions but left early to avoid the threat of the bad roads. The school of instruction has been conducted by Lute M. Savage, grand conductor, assisted by William McCormick and Dr. J. B. Lichtenwalter, grand deacons, and was largely attended by the Plattsmouth members of the order. It is planned by the local lodge to have the program later in the year, probably the latter part of March or the first of April.

HOME STATE HONORS FRIED
Boston, Feb. 6.—Capt. George A. Fried of the United States liner America was welcomed home by his native state here today. To the praise of Gov. Frank G. Allen and other state and city officials, the cheers of crowds in the streets, the commander of the ship which rescued the crew of the Italian freighter, Florida, had only this to say: "I have done no more than thousands of other seamen who have sailed out or New England." All thru today's reception the modesty of a veteran sea captain, more used to action than words, contrasted with the tribute paid him. He rode thru the streets to the state house, the city hall, the chamber of commerce building and the common. On the common the city of Boston presented to Captain Fried for the crew of the America a silver pitcher and tray made by Paul Revere, patriot and silversmith. An inscribed silver bowl from Governor Allen and a watch from Mayor Nicholas also were given to the captain.

Platters Take Tight Game from Peru Prepsters

Score of 14 to 13 Maintains the Lead of Plattsmouth in the South-eastern District.

From Saturday's Daily—
In one of the most exciting games that the Plattsmouth high school quintet has experienced this season, the blue and white checked in a victory last night at Peru against the Peru Prep team—the verdict of those witnessing the game being that it was some game. The final score of 14 to 13 attests the closeness of the game altho it does not cover the thrills of the last few moments of the struggle.

The first half gave the Platters a 7 to 4 lead over the Bob Kittens with field goals by Hadraba and Galloway and both of the Platter forwards had their shooting eye on the free throws, Hadraba securing one out of two chances while Galloway rang the bell twice from the foul line. For Peru in the opener Dasher made two field tosses for their scores.

The second half opened with the two teams battling strong and a great defensive battle being staged by both teams and when the final period was entering the Platters led by 8 to 6 but the Bobkittens were able to take a two point lead in the fading moments and then the Platters executing some field strategy were able to place a score when Hadraba, trying for a foul allowed the ball to hit the bankboard and bouncing into the hands of McClanahan who threw safe for a field goal and knotted the score as the final whistle was sounded.

The extra period saw Peru make good several free throws that seemed for a time to insure them a game but a field goal by Hadraba and McClanahan spilled the beans for the Bob Kittens and gave victory to the locals.

The game was witnessed by a very large crowd and the verdict was that the Platters represented the best team that had opposed the Prepsters in their own lair and were able to take away the game from the fast and aggressive Peruvians.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

FUND FOR NIORRARA WORK
Chicago, Feb. 8.—Women's progress in public affairs during the last seventy years was described before the Chicago Executives club today by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owens, congresswoman-elect from Florida, daughter of the late commoner.

Mrs. Owen told of the organization of the first woman's club in America whose subject was "It is better to be good than be beautiful." The contrast between those women, the first to advance beyond their province—the home—and the modern woman is startling, Mrs. Owen said.

The young woman of 1929 is entering a broader field, the congresswoman explained, the experience of several decades teaching her to use the organized group effectively. From a figure in national life, the woman is reaching out to fit herself for a place in international affairs, she said.

Lincoln Birthday to be Observed on Next Tuesday

Citizens Are Urged to Recognize Day by the Display of Flags and Suitable Programs

On Tuesday, February 12th there will be observed the anniversary of the birth of one of the greatest and most striking figures of the world's history, a man of destiny and a leader of his people in the hour of greatest national stress—Abraham Lincoln.

In the passage of time too many hold Lincoln as but a figure of the past, the ideals for which he contended, the sacrifices that he made in the cause of the life of his nation and the cause of liberty are forgotten in this age of new ideals and the spirit of centralization. To Abraham Lincoln the people of the last two generations owe the fact that there is a united American republic and that the liberty that the forefathers purchased by their blood has been preserved to the present day.

The teachings of Lincoln is most needed when the indifference of the people allow their blood bought rights to be nibbled from them by bureaucratic laws and exponents of the centralization of power.

There will be no extensive observance of the anniversary of the birthday of this man of sorrow and trial, who born in the poorest of surroundings in the wilds and the wilderness of Kentucky, lived to become the leader of the nation in the war that preserved intact the union of the states and whose death brought to the nation the horrors and suffering of the reconstruction period. One of the best observances of the day would be for every citizen to read the life of Abraham Lincoln, his speeches and his state papers in order to glimpse his great and undying service to the people of the United States.

It is planned here that the citizens recognize the day with the display of the flag in their homes and places of business and in this feature of the day the Boy Scouts will have a part as it is planned to have the Scouts hold flag raisings at Garfield park, the Riverview park and Wintersteen hill park where there are suitable flagpoles and where the Scouts will hold their flag services and render the salute to Old Glory which waves over a united nation as the result of the services of Abraham Lincoln.

Put the flag out Tuesday and show that the memory of this humble son of the common people has not vanished from the nation that he gave his life service for that the sentiment of his immortal Gettysburg address has not passed from the mind of man.

FEDERAL ROAD AID

In the last 10 years, according to the American Automobile Association, the Federal government has spent $614,000,000 for roads. This averages slightly less than $3 per year for the motor vehicles now in operation.

There is no more profitable way of spending public funds than in scientific highway building and it is to be hoped that, in the future, the government will continue expenditures for roads proportionate to the national income and the need for such improvements. Highways attract industry and trade, develop agricultural districts and advance our economic and social civilization.

Probably no materials have been more essential to rural hardsurfacing of roads than have asphalt and gers of motorjng, from broken springs to blow-outs. Good roads impose a minimum of strain on the car and when a new road is built, engineers with a scientific understanding of safety, see to it that it is properly market, that curves are made gradual, hills avoided and few railroad tracks crossed.

When almost every family owns a motor car and uses it constantly both for business and pleasure, good roads are a social, economic and safety necessity.

In addition to good roads we must now have wider roads. These are being secured at a minimum of expense by building two and three-foot shoulders on each side of narrow pavements and putting a top dressing of asphaltic concrete over the old road surface between the shoulders.

GOLDEN ROD STUDY CLUB

The Golden Rod Study club of Mynard will meet Thursday afternoon, February 14th at the home of Mrs. Virgel Perry with Mrs. G. B. Weaver and Mrs. Arthur Wetenskap as associate hostesses. Roll call will be on "Traits of Character That Help to Keep One Healthy."

S. W. Ball Passes Away at the M. E. Hospital in Omaha—Had Resided Here 40 Years

The death of S. W. Ball, a well loved and highly esteemed resident of Louisville for almost forty years, occurred at the M. E. hospital in Omaha on Wednesday of last week, January 30, 1929, after an illness covering a period of several years, although he had been at the hospital a very short time. His death was caused from heart trouble, a post mortem examination indicating that the lower part of his heart was paralyzed and that death might have taken him suddenly at any moment.

Samuel Walter Ball was born August 4, 1867, at Galesburg, Illinois, and at the time of his passing he was 61 years, 5 months and 26 days old. At the age of four, he accompanied his parents, E. Late Mr. and Mrs. James Ball, to Omaha, in the year 1871. They located on a farm in Sarpy county, near Springfield, in the year 1874.

Mr. Ball came to Louisville July 8, 1889, and had lived there continuously ever since, almost 40 years. He was married to Ellen Erwin, on June 24, 1890, this being an unusually happy union, each being devoted to the other. Mr. Ball was converted to the Free Methodist faith in the year 1904 and united with the church at Louisville in July, 1905. He was a devoted member of his faith, was interested in home and especially in foreign missions and gave largely of his earnings to all worthy causes. He lived a Christian life and was greatly respected and loved by the whole community.

The funeral occurred on Sunday afternoon from the M. E. church, the services being in charge of the Rev. V. A. Bagley, pastor of the Free Methodist church at Fremont, assisted by Rev. C. F. Chitty, of Omaha; Rev. R. E. Compton, of Weeping Water, and Rev. E. P. Booher, pastor of the M. E. church at Louisville. These reverend gentlemen were old time friends of the deceased and had been closely associated with him in church work and the family appreciated the fine tributes paid to Mr. Ball in their remarks.

The pall bearers were E. Sundstrom, A. Liden, Thomas Simonton, E. N. Abl. C. J. Pankonin and Leonard Reckard. Many beautiful floral offerings testified to the respect of

CREIGHTON TEAM HERE
From Friday's Daily—
"The team that defeats Creighton will win the debating championship of the state," was the verdict of the Plattsmouth speakers who met Creighton Prep in a double header here yesterday on the local platform. Creighton's team is composed of three boys who are splendid orators and will find few equals in logical argument and strategic presentation of their case. The team is coached by Mr. McKie, a prominent young lawyer of Omaha. The local debaters profited immensely by the experience of meeting such a clever team and enjoyed entertaining such a quartet of splendid gentlemen as the representative of Creighton and their coach.
