

Alvo News

John Coleman and Soren Petersen were manufacturing a brooder house at the lumber yard of John Banning. Wm. Coatman, of Weeping Water was a visitor in Alvo and also was looking after some business matters in town and at the farm south of Alvo.

Sherill Pifer was looking after the work in the barber shop on last Wednesday, while Carl Rosenow was looking after some business matters in Lincoln.

F. E. Dickerson was looking after some business matters in Omaha for the day last Tuesday, driving to the city in his car and bringing back a load of goods purchased.

Frank Taylor added to his farm equipment one of the new disc harrows which is handled by the R. M. Coatman Hardware company, and is very well satisfied with the new acquisition.

The Alvo Cemetery association met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Curvey, where they were looking after some matters pertaining to the care of the cemetery.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church, of Alvo, were enjoying a meeting at the home of Mrs. S. C. Boyles Wednesday afternoon, and were entertained by Mrs. Boyles in a very pleasant manner.

John B. Skinner found business pretty good during the past week, he making a trip every day of the week and sometimes making an extra short trip about the country besides the ones which he made to Omaha.

Roy Foss and wife, of Denver, were visiting for a few days in and at Alvo, they driving in from their home in a car and very guests at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fifer, northwest of town.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fraine, of Lincoln, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dinges, where all enjoyed the visit very much, as well as the excellent dinner which was served. Mesdames Fraime and Dinges are sisters.

A. B. Stromer and Art Dinges were wiring the home of C. F. Rosenow so they can have electric lights and do away with the old coal oil lights. Mr. Rosenow was fortunate in that he was able to get the work done by two such clever gentlemen.

J. H. Foreman, feeling that the folks at home should have an equal chance in the struggles incident to human life, presented the folks at home with one of the latest new washing machines which will greatly facilitate the wash day on the farm.

On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coatman entertained and had as their guests for the day and a very fine dinner, R. M. Coatman and family, of Alvo, and W. W. Coatman and family of Elmwood. Needless to say, everyone enjoyed the occasion very much.

The Farmers Oil company, of Prairie Home installed a kerosene pump at the store of R. M. Coatman, which will afford an adequate storage of oil for all purposes and as the use of kerosene is gaining there will be much demand for this article for fuel for power farming.

While working in Lincoln, Gayle Bird had the misfortune to allow a heavy piece of timber to fall on one of his toes, with the result that the member was quite badly bruised and Gayle had to lay off and so utilized the time by visiting with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Bird, of Alvo.

Simon Rehmeier and the family were over to Weeping Water, where they were guests at the home of Fred Rehmeier and family. Mrs. Fred Rehmeier later went to Omaha, where she entered a hospital to be treated for the effect of blood poisoning which resulted from a wound which she received some weeks ago.

The stork has been very kind to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kitzel, as they were presented with a very fine son on Friday night at the home with the mother and son getting along nicely. The father, Bert Kitzel, is doing nicely also and is sure smiling, and why not, for what greater gift could be given than a son to comfort them in the years to come.

Edward Nelson was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday, where he went to secure some goods for the store, he being kept at the store so closely on account of the increase in trade that it is hard for him to get away. Mrs. Nelson was down and looked after the store while he was away. This keeps Mr. Nelson very closely to the business and really closer than he desires to be kept, but business is business and he is kept at it.

With the professor, Jesse Brant, their teacher, as one of the crowd, the Senior class of the Alvo High school selected last Wednesday as their annual sneak day and all went to Omaha, where they visited many of the bigger institutions of that city and had explained to them the plans of operation of the industries there as far as the length of the day would allow. They returned in the evening feeling that they had been well repaid for the day they had spent in their investigation.

For some time past Carl Rosenow has been troubled with his tonsils and having gotten tired with the annoyance which they have been giving this gentleman, he concluded to sever his connections with them and accordingly he and the good wife went to Lincoln on last Monday and Carl underwent an operation for the removal of the same. Since then he has been getting along nicely, notwithstanding that he has had somewhat of a sore throat. He and the wife were over to Lincoln again on last Wednesday, looking after some business matters.

Organize New Town Board
The new town board, which is the result of the late city election, brings to the new members the work of looking after the affairs of the city in a new light—that it when one has to do it himself, it is different than when the other fellow looks after the matter. Here is the new line up and we are certain they will do it the very best. Ar. Dinges, president; Ganz, clerk; S. C. Boyles, treasurer; Simon Rehmeier, street commissioner; R. M. Coatman, just plain member of the board, but no title. The boys should make a success of Alvo, as they have a good town to work on.

Let the Women Do the Work
Sure and they will when they have an opportunity, for they truly love to work, and have the plans already under way for beautifying the park and the grounds around the Methodist church, where they will set out posts and protections for the flowers which they expect to grow about the place. The Woman's Reading club of Alvo is a force for the better appearing and better being of the city and all its activities.

Is Feeling Some Better
Charles Godbey, who was so badly injured during the past winter, is gaining with every day and getting stronger. On last Tuesday, April 30th, he passed his 64th birthday anniversary and barring the accident of last winter is feeling quite fine. Mr. Godbey was born in Iowa and came to Nebraska about forty years ago. With the daughter and family they celebrated the passing of the anniversary on last Sunday, two days before the passing of the date, but as they were to be busy on the real birthday, the gathering on Sunday was a very appropriate one.

Woods Quotes Bible on Farm Relief Problem
House Bill is "Long Step Ahead" Says Lincoln Man of Farm Legislation.
Washington, May 1.—Mark W. Woods of Lincoln, Neb., said today that the house farm relief bill is a long step toward enabling the farmers' organizations to carry a surplus with as little damage to the price balance of their crop as possible.

"While we are considering the farm problem of surplus crops, we need to remember the story of Joseph and the seven years of famine, as described in the holy writ," he said. "The wisdom of Joseph in storing wheat during the fat years to use during the lean years and years of famine was a divine precautionary measure that is as valid today as it ever was," he said. "When crops fail in the far east, starvation takes toll in millions. It would be the same in Europe and America if there were not surpluses carried over as reserves. A certain surplus is necessary as an insurance against famine.

"Some plan should be devised," Mr. Woods continued, "by which a surplus can be carried so as not to injure the man who produces it. That is one sound reason why we step in as a nation and the farmers' organizations to carry this surplus with as little damage to the price of the balance of their crop as is possible.

"I believe," he said, "that the legislation that has been passed by the house of representatives is a most commendable direction. It leaves the business of agriculture where it belongs—in the hands and under the control of the farmers. It provides for the carrying over and disposing of surpluses without so seriously affecting the price of the part of the crop required for current needs. It offers no subsidy, direct or indirect. In doing this we are only treating the producer fairly and looking after the needs of the consumer."

SEES HIGH DISCOUNT RATE
Washington—Finances and the tariff occupied the attention Wednesday of delegates to the annual convention of the United States chamber of commerce.

Increase of the federal reserve discount rate from 5 to 6 per cent or higher, was advocated by Professor O. M. W. Sprague, of Harvard university as a means of restricting the amount of money used in speculation.

Chairman Hawley of the house ways and means committee told the delegates that the making of a tariff bill is entirely a domestic problem and that the United States alone has the right to say what tariff barriers shall be erected. He added, however, that suggestions from foreign countries had been considered in formulating the house tariff bill which, he said, probably would be reported out of committee Saturday.

COMMISSION IS UNDECIDED
Washington—Robert E. Healy, chief counsel of the federal trade commission, indicated Wednesday that the commission probably would hold no more public hearings, at least in the immediate future, in its investigation into the alleged financial interest of the International Paper and Power company and its affiliated concerns, which were placed in the official record of the testimony at Tuesday's hearings of A. R. Graustein of Boston, president of the International Paper and Power company.

Spring Business Conditions Good

Expansion of Operations More Pronounced Than Usual Reports Federal Reserve Bank

"The expansion of business throughout the federal reserve district in March was more pronounced than that which usually takes place at the opening of the spring season," the federal reserve bank at Kansas City says in its monthly review issued Tuesday.

"The returns show production and distribution of commodities and banking operations to have been at the highest level for March in recent years, and the accumulated volume for the first quarter of 1928 greater than that for the first period of 1928," the review states. "Preliminary reports for April indicate a continuance of the high rate of activity and a good beginning for the second quarter."

Car loadings of twenty-nine principal commodities in the district were larger in March and the first quarter than last year, the report continues. Estimated requirements for April, May and June reported by manufacturers and shippers called for more freight cars than in the second quarter of 1928.

Record-Breaking Sales.
Department store reports indicated distribution of goods to customers to have been in record-breaking volume for this spring month," the report declares. "Their accumulated sales for the first three months showed a gain of 3.6 per cent over the same period last year.

"Productive activity in leading industries during March was at the highest level of recent years. Manufacturers of combines for use in the coming harvest, and of grain storage bins and other farm machinery, and car-building shops were working at full-time capacity. The four output was larger than a year ago, while that of meat-packing plants was smaller.

"Building construction made a good start for the season. The number of permits issued in leading cities was the highest for March since 1926, and the value of permits the highest for March since 1925. The value of contracts awarded in the district was smaller than in March and the first quarter of last year.

Planting Progresses.
"Farmers throughout the broad agricultural area in the district made good progress with the planting of a well-balanced acreage of leading crops. At the middle of April reports indicated that in most sections farmers were almost as far along with their spring work as usual, although on account of heavy rains a few sections were still behind in their plantings. Winter wheat was making a much better showing than had been anticipated. The condition of 80 per cent of normal on April 1 in this district compared with 76.9 per cent a year ago, with indications that abandonment would not be as large as last year.

"This year's March receipts of cattle, sheep and hogs were smaller than in March, 1928, although receipts of calves were somewhat larger. Final figures for the first quarter of 1928 showed receipts of all classes of meat animals at the six markets fell short of the receipts in the preceding year. Cattle decreased 13 per cent, hogs, 9.1; hogs, 10.9, and sheep, 3.

"The demand for bank loans for commercial and agricultural uses increased seasonally in recent weeks and was heavier than at this time last year, while the demand for collateral loans was less active than in the corresponding period last year. Loans and discounts of sixty-three reporting member banks in the district, totaling $447,632,900 on April 3, were $511,000 higher than on April 4 last year, the review concludes.

KING HONORS BOOTH
London, April 29.—King George today ordered conferred on Gen. Bramwell Booth, deposed commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, the order of "companion of honor." The order carries no title, or precedence, but ranks after the first class of the "order of the British empire."

Only a limited number of awards have been made, going to members of both sexes.

"The general naturally is pleased that the honor has been conferred," his secretary said this afternoon, "not so much for his own sake, as for the sake of the Army. He feels that a great many people in the army will regard it as a mark of esteem for the work of the Salvation Army."

The general passed a fair week-end, his secretary stated, and has been on the upgrade for his long illness for several days past.

MORE FILE RETURNS ON INTANGIBLE TAX
Lincoln, April 30.—State Tax Commissioner Scott has received reports from many counties that double the usual amount of intangible property is being voluntarily turned in for taxation. The changes in the rate of levy and the fact that the legislature has decreed that secrecy shall cloak the returns of taxpayers on this kind of property, except as to the total amount listed for taxation, are believed responsible for the increased amount listed by owners of taxable securities and money.

Mrs. Anderson was with the little fellow during his stay at Omaha and with the other kiddies. Mr. Anderson went over to the big city on last Thursday and brought them home.

Committee is Divided on Calling Mr. Mellon
Some Senators Would Question Secretary, Others See No Right for Action.
Washington, May 1.—The senate judiciary committee today reached a right of Secretary Mellon to hold cross-roads in its inquiry into the office, and a decision is impending whether to call on the secretary to testify to rest the case on an interpretation of the law relating to his office.

Some committee members believe the secretary should be questioned about his relations to the business world as a stockholder in various enterprises, and others contend such action would amount to a trial of Mr. Mellon for violation of the law and would be outside the jurisdiction of the committee.

The latter maintain that the committee has been directed only to determine whether Mr. Mellon as a stockholder is serving in violation of an old statute forbidding the secretary of the treasury to be interested in carrying on trade or commerce.

Senator Walsh (dem. Mont.) has raised the point that Mr. Mellon went to Canada in 1925 in the interests of the Aluminum Company of America, in which he is a stockholder. The Montanan is anxious for more details in that connection.

A decision is in prospect tomorrow on whether to open the committee hearings for an investigation or whether to rest the case on Mr. Mellon's statement that he is a stockholder.—World-Herald.

JACKIE LOGAN WILL FIX WEDDING TANGLE
Los Angeles, May 3.—Now that Jacqueline Logan, cinema actress, has her final divorce decree she can go ahead and straighten out the tangle of her marriage to Larry Hinson. Before the year was up after she received an annulment decree from Robert Gillespie on charges of cruelty, the actress and Larry went off to Tia Juana and were married. Upon returning to Hollywood they were surprised to learn that the wedding had no legal standing.

Negro Escapes from Sarpy Jail on Thursday

Herbert Cook, a big Negro from Chicago, had officialdom of Sarpy county and a posse hunting for him in timber on the J. M. Gates farm near Fort Crook late Thursday afternoon, and in the flats along the Platte, following his sensational escape from the Sarpy county jail.

Cook was captured last week after he drove up to a filling station at Fort Crook, took six and a half gallons of gasoline to fill his tank, remarked "Thank you boss" to the filling station attendant, and drove south. Sheriff Reed of Cass county caught him after a chase eight miles south of Plattsmouth and sent him back to Sarpy where he was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Seven days being served, the Sarpy officials thought it time Cook did some work. He was set to trimming the courthouse lawn Thursday under Charles Martin, custodian, and a good job he did. He was locked in jail for lunch, and then the fun recommenced.

Forces Door.
By sheer strength, Cook forced a door from the jail on the top floor to an attic over the court room.

Taking his blanket, he tied a corner to a rafter, and dropped through a skylight into the court room.

Again his great strength came in handy, as he forced the door from the court room, which also was locked, and walked out a free man.

Across the street sat the Dodge sedan of William Nolan, county attorney.

In his office sat Mr. Nolan, conversing with Leo Crowley, Denver attorney.

"I think we'll strike oil down at Richfield," said Mr. Nolan, looking out the window. "Wouldn't that be—"

"Looks like my car"
"That looks like my car going over the railroad tracks. It's just as dirty as mine, anyway. I wonder who's using it. No, no one can be, because I have the keys in my pocket."

Ding-a-ling-a-ling went the phone in the sheriff's office.

Charlie Peters, famous ex-wrestler and former sheriff of Sarpy county, and former victim of the Jack Parsons inheritance swindle, was speaking.

"Say," shouted Peters, "Nolan's car is going east and a big Negro is driving it. He nearly wrecked me and my fliwer."

Sheriff H. H. Olderoog started in hot pursuit.

For five miles went the race, Olderoog trying to get in front of the Negro to make him stop. The Negro got too close to a culvert, and the auto turned over, pinning the Negro underneath.

Now Olderoog says (but he admits he was excited) the Negro shrugged his shoulders and loosened the overturned auto, and ran across the field. Olderoog took up the chase on foot, and shouted for help. The posse quickly gathered.

NO PLEAS MADE TO SAVE HENRY SHERMAN
Lincoln, May 2.—If there is any interest in commuting the death sentence of Henry Sherman to that of life imprisonment, it has not been manifested to the state board of pardons and paroles, N. T. Harmon, secretary, said Thursday, stating that only protests against the lessening the penalty had been received.

Sherman is under sentence to die May 31 for the death of the Roger Pochon family at Rushville. On May 10, his application for commutation will be heard by the board. A sister, who also asked for leniency, may attend the hearing.

Ex-Governor Named Head of Bank Quiz
Shallenberger Chose by Weaver to take Post; Praised as a Capable Investigator
Lincoln, May 2.—Ashton C. Shallenberger of Alma, democratic governor of Nebraska from 1909 to 1911, and a member of congress six terms, was named Thursday by Governor Weaver as chief examiner in the conduct of the state bank guaranty fund investigation.

Announcing Mr. Shallenberger's selection, Governor Weaver said: "He is of the highest character and courage, and will undertake the investigation in a thorough and capable manner, carrying out the intent of the legislature to the letter."

As though through coincidence, it was recalled by Governor Weaver that his appointee was governor and signed the bank guaranty fund act in 1909.

For 22 years Mr. Shallenberger was owner and manager of a successful state bank, but for the last 20 years had had no banking connections or interests, the governor declared.

While in Lincoln Thursday, Mr. Shallenberger announced his willingness to accept the appointment, effective immediately, and for his services will receive $600 monthly. Though a legislative attempt was made to stimulate this reimbursement at $500, the restriction was subsequently removed and the salary feature left optional with the governor.

"Governor Shallenberger will have general charge of the investigation. He will be my direct agent in all transactions. The appointment of other officials and auditors, with their salaries, will be worked upon our recommendation," Governor Weaver explained.

Headquarters will be opened immediately at the capitol building and the investigation undertaken as soon as the necessary machinery is set up. Mr. Shallenberger will have the necessary machinery, the governor added, asserting: "We want a clean, wholesome investigation to determine the exact facts that the people are entitled to know, both in the previous and present administrations of the guaranty fund department."

Appointment of a democrat, Governor Weaver ventured, should remove any doubt that politics might be injected into the investigation.

Commenting upon his appointment, Mr. Shallenberger declared he would meet the governor and members of the guaranty fund commission Friday, then return home, preparatory to coming to Lincoln next week to launch the inquiry.

"I am not at all convinced that the guaranty act has been a failure," he asserted, saying he believed improper administration and the stress of the times were possible elements combining to produce the present situation.

"However, the probe will be conducted purely on a business-like basis," Mr. Shallenberger added.

He said that in his opinion the provisions of the act did not contemplate the strenuous era that the state has passed through.—Omaha Bee-News.

Nebraska Gets Many Millions

Union Pacific Expenditures In State To Be Heavy—New Passenger Terminal at Omaha

Omaha, Neb., May 1.—Large pay-rolls and other expenditures in Nebraska are included in the 96 million dollar maintenance and improvement program of the Union Pacific for 1929, announced by C. R. Gray, president, today.

Of the total amount of the budgets, nearly 26 million dollars is for use in Nebraska and at the Union Pacific's eastern terminus in Council Bluffs, approximately 1 1/2 million dollars being applicable to Council Bluffs.

The 96 million dollar figure represents an increase of more than 6 million dollars over last year, the increase being the amount applicable to Nebraska is in slightly higher ratio, due partly to the new union passenger terminal at Omaha.

"The increases may properly be taken as evidence of our faith in this western territory, including Nebraska," said Mr. Gray. "The expenditures are all in the direction of providing still safer and more dependable transportation and are in accord with the Union Pacific's policy of anticipating the needs of its traffic."

For maintenance of equipment, $12,790,000 is provided for use in Nebraska, approximately half of this amount being for wages of shop workers. The largest shop on the system is at Omaha, and the company's payroll at that point, for shop and other employes, is now in excess of $300,000 a month.

Other important shops or round-houses for maintenance of equipment work are at Council Bluffs, North Platte, Grand Island, Beatrice, Sidney and Gering.

The maintenance of way and structure program calls for 6 million dollars for use in Nebraska, approximately 60 per cent of which is for wages.

Among the improvements calling for the investment of new capital are the construction of the north unit of Omaha's new union passenger terminal at a cost of 3 1/2 million dollars; installation of automatic electric block signals, with automatic electric interlocking plants at all railway crossings, from Hastings, Neb., to Marysville, Kas.; laying of new and heavier rails in main line tracks at various points in Nebraska; and many other items in the state, including the construction of additional yard and industry tracks at numerous points.

The purchase of 26 additional new Union Pacific type freight locomotives at a cost of $2,940,000 and of new coaches; chair cars, observation cars, dining cars and other passenger train equipment at a cost of approximately $2,200,000, and of 500 new 50-foot automobile cars at a cost of $1,500,000, also is provided for in the budget.

JUNIORS HAVE A TREAT
From Saturday's Datt—
The Junior Catholic Daughters of America were the guests last evening at a most charming 6 o'clock dinner party arranged in their honor by Mrs. Frank M. Mullen and daughter, Mrs. Lon Henry, served at the Mullen home. Here the young people, some sixteen in number were treated to a most delicious repast. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Miss Eleanor Hiber, Miss Helen Egenberger and Mrs. Anna Ziska.

Following the dinner party the Juniors and their councilors, Mrs. William Woolcott and Miss Mae Murphy, were invited to join in another treat that was provided by the senior C. D. of A. this being a theatre party at the Parmele.

BANK CASHIER SHOT DEAD
Poplar Bluffs, Mo.—A man described only as having been shabbily dressed, who at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon shot and killed Cashier E. W. Cook, sixty, in an attempted hold-up of the Bank of Des Arc, Mo., near here, was the object of a widespread search tonight in southeast Missouri. The robber slayer was believed to be in hiding somewhere in this vicinity, as he fled without taking an automobile. He is believed to have fled from the bank before entering the institution. Officers believe the car had been stolen.
