Jail Doors are Closed on Sinclair

Millionaire Oil Man Gives Himself Up to Begin Term of 90 Days for Contempt.

Washington, May 6.—Harry F. Sinclair arrived at the district jail at 8:45 o'clock Monday night to start serving his 90-day sentence for contempt of the senate.

An order issued by Justice William Hitz in the district supreme court Monday calls for the imprisonment of the oil man for 90 days for contempt of the senate in refusing to answer questions during the famous Teapot Dome investigation.

The court house, the jail and the union station, as well as the highway from Baltimore were all "covered" by reporters to follow any plan to outwit the law.

Cameras Galore. Every kind of camera, "movie," "still," and "movietone" was set up around the grim, red-stoned prison, which does not by any stretch of the imagination look like a country club or summer resort. It has bars on every window and there is but one entrance, which also is used for an exit.

To while away the lagging hours, more than 50 reporters and camera men engaged in an endless game of "one old cat," using a pick handle for a bat and a dilapidated tennis ball. Most of the boys in the neighborhood joined in the game.

Proceedings Brief. The proceedings in court were brief. The mandate of the supreme court of the United States, to which Sinclair made his first appeal to escape jail, was received Monday morning by the clerk of the district supreme court, Frank E. Cunningham, who promptly turned it over to United States Attorney Leo A. Rover.

Promptly at 1:30, the hour set for contempt, Justice Hitz seated himself behind the bench.

"Your honor, we ask that the sentence of 90 days be carried into effect."

Justice Hitz leaned comfortably back in his high-backed swivel chair. "All right," he pronounced the casual Justice Hitz, "we'll carry the sentence into effect."

This commitment gives Sinclair a criminal number at the top of the legal form is a blank space, "criminal No. . . ." which the clerk at the jail will fill in and will go into the court's records.—Omaha Bee-News.

Gasoline Tax Sent Counties

State Treasurer Disburses the First Months Collections on Basis Motor Vehicle Registrations

Distribution of the first month's proceeds from 1 cent of state gasoline tax which, under the new bonding law, goes to the different counties of Nebraska for use on their local roads, is now being made by State Treasurer Stebbins. The total amount thus disbursed, derived from collections of gasoline tax for the month of April, is $147,294, being one-fourth of the net proceeds of the 4-cent tax after deductions.

The gross receipts for April were $591,643, but out of that $1,215 was paid in refunds and $1,250 went for cost of administration. This left a balance of $589,178 for highway purposes. One-fourth of the latter sum goes to the counties, another one-fourth is set aside for paving and graveling state highways where the need is deemed greatest, and one-half is apportioned on the old three-way basis among the counties for the regular state highway program.

Lancaster county gets $10,650 of the special fund for county roads, while $18,461 goes to Douglas, a Douglas county most of the money will be used to pay for the highway bonds issued some years ago to pave county highways with federal aid.

Each county's share of the special gas tax revenue set apart for county roads is in proportion to the number of motor vehicles licensed by the county treasurer during the calendar year of 1928. This same ratio will prevail during the remainder of the current year. After January 1, 1930, a new basis will be adopted from the relative motor vehicle registrations in the various counties during 1929.

YOUNG HUGHES APPOINTED

Washington—Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., of New York, has been appointed solicitor general of the United States by President Hoover. He succeeds William D. Mitchell, of Minnesota, who became attorney general on March 4.

Mr. Hughes, who is forty years old, is the son of Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state, who is among the "elder statesmen" of the republican party to whom the chief executive often turns for counsel both in the matter of appointments to high offices and administrative policies.

A white house announcement of the appointment Monday said Hughes had been sponsored for the appointment by the patronage committee set up in New York state by the president and composed of Charles D. Hilles, national committeeman; H. Edmond MacFeld, state chairman; and William H. Hill, who headed the independent republican Hoover-for-Hughes committee in the empire state.

The post to which Hughes was named is one of the most important in the department of justice as the solicitor general prepares briefs for views in that court and prepares other courts.

Rebel General is Visitor in the United States

Flies Across Border for a Conference—Will Claim Protection in This Country

El Paso, Tex.—Gen. Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the 24 armed Mexican revolutionary army flew across the border into the United States Thursday, with former Governor Topete, of Sonora, and conferred with Governor Rodriguez of Baja, Calif., at a ranch near Gila Bend, Ariz., Saturday, it was learned Monday.

John C. Uhlrauh, a California rancher, who met Escobar after he crossed the border, told the story of the flight here.

"Escobar, accompanied by Topete, and another rebel general, flew across the border, heavily armed but not accompanied by any bodyguard, to attend a conference with Rodriguez, which was arranged by an American rubber engineer at his ranch near Gila Bend," the rancher said.

"When the conference ended, Escobar asked permission to recess the border into Baja, Calif., but was flatly refused by Rodriguez. Escobar became so angry I thought there was going to be trouble."

"Escobar later, however, appeared in the best of spirits, and while he refused to reveal his ultimate destination, said he would spend some time with a friend at a ranch in the southwest.
