A. J. Schaeffer was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth during the fore part of the week.

M. G. Churchill placed a gate screen at the side of the shop, shutting off the view of the back yard.

W. S. Smith was doing some interior decorating at their home during the early portion of this week.

Messers Scotten and Gruber were doing some repairing on the home of Mrs. David Pitman during the past week.

T. J. Brendel was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth for a short time on last Monday afternoon.

Wayne and Wiber the two painters, were doing some interior decorating at the home of Mrs. J. D. Pitman, they being on the work on last Monday.

Harry Nelson was kept to his home and bed for a good portion of the day on last Monday, and was not feeling the best when he did get down town.

W. S. Wetenkamp of west of Myrtle was a business visitor in Murray for a short time on last Monday, and was looking after some business matters while here.

Lee Nickles and A. Baxter Smith of Plattsmouth, were visiting in Murray for a short time on last Friday, they making the trip here in the car of Mr. Nickles.

Lee J. Weber was a visitor in Omaha for the day last Saturday, where he went to make purchases of goods for the cafe here, and also was looking after other business matters as well.

Ben Noell was a visitor in Weeping Water for the day last Sunday where he was the guest at the home of his son, Harry Noell and wife as well as visiting at the home of Robert A. Young.

Earl Lancaster began the planting of his corn on Monday afternoon of this week, it being May 6th, and as it will take some time to get the entire crop in it will be much later before he is done.

George E. Nickles and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Long were over to Shenandoah and Faragut, Ia., from last Sunday until Monday evening, where they were visiting with relatives and friends.

Roy Lancaster and Van and Ethan Allen, accompanied by Walter Allen were all over to Sidney, Iowa, on last Sunday where they were visiting with friends for the afternoon, returning home in the evening.

Clarence Allen and wife of Sidney, Iowa were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of W. C. Allen and family, where all enjoyed a very pleasant day. Messers W. C. Allen and Clarence Allen are brothers.

John Royer, a brother of Mrs. Earl Lancaster received an injury to his back some time since and has been kept to his bed for the past two months, and is not so he can get about as yet. His many friends here are hoping that he may be able to get about soon.

In a letter which was received from him and family recently it told of the snow being a foot deep there and the drifts as deep as four feet.

V. A. Kennedy, who has been visiting in Murray for the past month or more, returned to the Soldiers home at Burkett, which is a suburb of Grand Island. Mr. Kennedy has enjoyed a very nice time while he has been here, but desired to return to the institution. Ralph Kennedy, son of V. A. Kennedy, took the car and took the father to the home on last Sunday and found some very rainy weather on their trip, though the roads were very good.

Mrs. Berger much improved. Word from the bedside of Mrs. J. W. Berger is to the effect that she is making good improvement at this time and it is hoped that she will be able to return to the home of her daughter in Omaha before the end of the week. She was able to take walk about the institution one day early this week when assisted by one of the nurses. Mr. Berger was up and visited the wife on last Sunday and was pleased with the good improvement which Mrs. Berger has been making.

A Very Fine Act. Friendships which count are those which do a friend good when he needs it. J. C. Ellington of Plattsmouth has been feeling quite poorly during the entire winter and was one time very seriously ill, but is at this time feeling some better. He has been so he could not get out of his bed much of the time but just now is so he can get about the house and some out of doors.

During the recent rains, the cave which he had for the vegetables, caved in with the much raining, and he was not able to get out and fix it.

Last Sunday a number of his friends, among which are numbered Herman Reike and wife, and their son, George, as well as the girls, visited at the Ellington home, and also George Ray and wife, Glen Thompson and family, J. E. Hatchett, and George Gade to Louisville, a semi-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ellington, were all present and when they looked out and saw the pile of debris they tackled the job of putting things to rights, and as there were many hands, they made light work, and in a few hours had the cave restored and all ready to use again.

Mr. Ellington and wife are very thankful for the kindness of their friends.

Beautifulizing the Home. Since purchasing the new home which was formerly that of Charles Mutz and wife, Joseph Staska and the good wife have been very eager to make a real home of it, and have been applying their spare moments on painting and decorating the place. When they shall have completed their work on the new home they will surely have a home which will be a satisfaction to live in.

Are Building New Walk. J. A. Scotten, the contractor, with his force of hustling workmen, among whom were Fred L. Hill, James E. Gruber and others were beginning the making of a concrete walk in front of the business places of Earl Lancaster and Benjamin H. Nelson. This piece of walk has been needed rebuilding since the building of the block some time since.

People Got Lost. The couple who worked for Rnn Minford and lived in his house over by the Rock Creek filling station received a payday on last Thursday night and when the day dawned on Friday morning they were gone. It was feared that the goblins had gotten them, but they must have gotten home sick and left for their other home. Charles Mutz and wife are living in the house for the present and looking after affairs until such a time as Mr. Minford will be able to secure another man.

Wins Second Place. In the contest on the Bible which was held at Plattsmouth on last Sunday, and was attended by many contestants from over the county, the second place in familiarity of the Bible was won by Chester Sporer, who is a very close student of the scriptures.

The legislature appropriated a total of $42,000,852.27 for the biennium, including estimated fees, cash funds, gasoline tax and funds from direct taxation, according to a compilation made Saturday by Mrs. Butler, chief clerk of the tax commissioner and budget control office.

By the usual process of deduction of reapportioned funds, which each recurring administration claims the right in making comparisons there should be deducted $970,000 of reapportioned funds, which reduced the gross appropriations for the biennium to $41,030,852.27. Two years ago the gross appropriations, with this deduction, totaled $30,877,682.38 which is $10,233,159.89 less than the gross appropriations made by the recent legislature.

An increase of $8,400,000 in the coming tax revenue may be said to account for that much of the gross appropriations, leaving the net increase $1,833,159.89.

It is estimated that the increased gasoline tax from 2 cents to 4 cents a gallon will bring in $8,400,000 more than the revenue received during the past biennium from this source. Two years ago $3,500,000 of federal aid for roads was included in the appropriations of the legislature. This year there is included $5,000,000, an increase of $1,500,000 which, added to the increased revenue from gasoline tax makes an increase of $9,900,000 in the state and federal road building program for the next two years.

The university is credited with an increase of $637,000 for maintenance, of which $315,000 is for the purchase of books, not including the items voted by Governor Weaver.

Much of the increased appropriations from the general fund or funds derived from taxation is due to new items, such as $26,111 in the claims bill to refund to depositors who placed deposits in state banks while the banks were being operated by the guaranty fund commission. H. R. 249, reorganization bill applying to the banking departments, called for considerable increase in appropriations.

The state tax commissioner's office and the code finance department two years ago had a combined appropriation of $29,000. The two places are now combined under one head and with increased duties under the intangible tax law the total appropriation is now $62,000, which is $23,000 more than the tax commissioner and finance departments were given two years ago.

The labor and welfare departments, now combined under one head, now have a total of $245,700, or $98,000 more than the two departments had two years ago. Most of this increase is accounted for in an increase in fees which the departments will receive under the barber law, the cosmetologists law and the board of examiners which examines and licenses members of several professions.

The average person now drinks or eats in his food thirteen gallons more milk, three pounds more butter, one pound more cheese, two pounds more condensed and evaporated milk and half gallon more ice cream, yearly, than in 1919, says the state and federal division of agricultural statistics.

Comparatively high wages permitting the regular use of foods formerly classed as luxuries, together with a growing appreciation of the dietetic value of dairy products and improved sanitary conditions in the dairy industry are responsible for the changes, it is believed. Still further raising the milk and cream consumption is the greater appreciation of fresh fruits and the availability throughout the year of fresh strawberries, peaches and other fruits.

German economic studies attribute American health and prosperity to temperate eating of wholesome foods and have resulted in educational campaigns throughout Germany encouraging greater consumption of dairy products.

Dr. Guernsey Jones Dies After Long Illness

Veteran University Professor Had Retired from Active Work a Year Ago

Lincoln, Neb., May 5.—Dr. Guernsey Jones died at 12:15 a. m. today. He was professor emeritus of the University of Nebraska, with which he had been connected 32 years, was a noted history student, and a talented musician.

Illness, which began nearly three years ago, became serious the middle of April when he suffered two strokes of paralysis within a half hour.

Dr. Jones had never married. He made his home with the late Will Owen Jones, for many years editor of the Nebraska State Journal. Since his brother's death a year ago, he continued residing with the family.

Edited University Studies. One of the best known and liked members of the university faculty for a long period, he had left active service as professor of history about a year ago, to become professor emeritus of English literature, and editor of University Studies.

For many years he had been in charge of the organ at Christian Science church in Lincoln, and appeared in recitals many times. His ability as an organist was widely known, though Dr. Jones had not played since his health began to fail.

He was a great collector of books, prints, and fine china. He had written several books, the best known being his "Cromwell and Charles of Sweden," published in 1927. At the time of his death he was working on a book concerning treaties between England and Portugal. In preparation for it, he had learned the Portuguese language and had spent six months in research in Portugal.

Funeral Services Tuesday. Dr. Jones was a member of the American Historical association, the Seldon society, Delta Kappa Epsilon, the Author club of London and was a fellow of the Royal Historical society of Great Britain. He was born in Pereston, Ia., in 1868.

Funeral services are to be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the residence, with burial in Wyuka cemetery.

Two sisters, Mrs. George Bradley of Halstead, Kans., and Prof. Katherine Jones of the University of California, Berkeley, survive. Two brothers, Will Owen and Richard, had died during the last three years. —World-Herald.

DRAWN PRISON SENTENCE

Ord. Neb.—Harry Rutherford, forty-one, of Arcadia, was sentenced to the state penitentiary for a term of three years to six years when he pleaded guilty to a breaking and entering charge filed against him in district court here Saturday.

Elvin Hale, eighteen, also of Arcadia was released when he turned states evidence and helped convict Rutherford. Rutherford, the evidence brought out, had been guilty of robbing numerous Arcadia business houses during the past year and used young Hale as an accomplice. He will be taken to Lincoln as soon as possible by Sheriff Rounds.

P. & G. SOAP 10 Bars for 39c

Soap is high—has been high a long time—but we're letting 30 cases go Saturday at cost, as a leader to bring new customers to our store. We will not sell more than 20 bars to a customer at this price.

Our GOLDEN KRUST (large 22-oz. loaves) BREAD at 8c a loaf represents the biggest bread value you'll find anywhere.

Omaha stores advertise Bread at 7c—sometimes less—per loaf, describing it as "extra long loaves," "22-slices to a loaf," etc., but they failed to mention the net weight—and that's the thing that really counts.

Our GOLDEN KRUST loaf weighs full 22 ounces—not 16 or 14. We are selling nearly 100 loaves of this bread every day and triple that number on Saturdays—and the EVERY DAY PRICE is only 8 cents per loaf.

Bananas, 25c per dozen. Strawberries now coming in Quart Boxes—and as usual, we guarantee the lowest price for Saturday. Cold weather is holding back the ripening season and keeping prices from coming down much.

Hunt Mexican Leader for Loot of Near Million

New Search Results from New York Arrests of Four Men Saturday; Ateca Charge Denied.

New York, May 5.—Federal agents today were tracking down a Mexican rebel general who is said to have been in New York for a month and is believed to have part in the looting of banks and public institutions in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, of 700 thousand dollars.

Assistant United States Attorney George Minter led the search today. The name of the Mexican general is withheld, but it was disclosed that since coming here he has been spending lavishly and attracting attention by wearing a uniform on many occasions.

In the arrest Saturday at the Hotel McAlpine of four men charged with conspiracy to aid one of their number to escape from this country to Spain, the Mexican federal government of justice as a convenience to hamper and harass a prominent rebel sympathizer, David P. Siegel, attorney for the four defendants, asserted today.

Salvador Atena, wealthy Spaniard and alleged fugitive from justice whose connections with the rebels are known in Mexico, and Antonio Gomez Miguero, his secretary, were charged also with having looted Mexican banks and the public treasury in Chihuahua of 750 thousand dollars in bank notes, gold coins and securities which were found in a little black bag in Atena's possession. They were seized by United States Attorney Tuttle.

The looting charge, made by Joaquin Terrazas, Mexican vice-consul here, and joined in by Mr. Tuttle, was characterized by Mr. Siegel as "ridiculous." He said the bank notes themselves would establish conclusively that they were never the property of the banks or treasury from which they are alleged to have been stolen, but were in Mr. Atena's possession long before the looting was said to have taken place. —World-Herald.
