County extension agents and farmers have tried spraying it with sodium chlorate. College men have also been working on ways and means of killing the weed. Men in other states are busy on the same problems. Mr. Keim will have all this information in his report and changes experiences with Nebraska farmers who have tried to rid their fields of it.

City of Weeping Water Restrains Garage Building

Temporary Order Against Ross Dennis Is Secured by Neighboring Municipality

The city of Weeping Water, seeking to prevent Ross Dennis, a resident of that place from erecting a building in Commonwealth avenue in that city, has applied to the district court to stop the erection of a garage building.

In the petition filed in the district court by Attorney W. Robertson who is representing the city of Weeping Water as legal advisor, it is stated that the defendant is erecting or proposing to erect a garage in the above named street which constitutes an obstruction in the street, that is a menace to the city as the possible means of causing suits against the city.

The city has therefore asked that the defendant and all of his agents or representatives be enjoined from any work on the garage or other obstruction or excavation of the streets of Weeping Water.

The notice of the temporary order which was granted this morning by Judge James T. Begley, was served by Sheriff Bert Reed on the defendant in the case and the hearing on the motion of the defendant city to make permanent the injunction was set for Saturday, June 22nd in the district court in this city.

MUD AND DUST MUST GO

Twenty-five years ago in this country a good road was the exception, rather than the rule. Now we have the greatest highway system in the world. The growth in use of the automobile was responsible for this development.

Money spent for improved roads is returned in social and industrial benefits. Highways are the foundation of community progress. Now a new phase of highway expansion is appearing, the building of secondary or feeder roads.

Roads are being extended into rural districts as never before since methods have been devised for using asphalt and road oils to give water proof hard surfaces at a minimum of expense.

DOING VERY NICELY

The many friends over Cass county will be pleased to learn that S. O. Cole, one of the prominent residents of near Mynard, is doing very nicely at the Immanuel hospital at Omaha where he has been for the past several weeks and where he was operated on a few days ago. The patient has rallied nicely and despite his age is showing fine recuperative powers and seems well on the highway to recovery. The children from distant points have been here visiting with the father and their presence has greatly aided him in making progress toward recovery.

Plan to Finish Monument to Grant Praised

C. E. Hughes Supports Move to Fit Civil Pride and to Honor General.

New York—Warm support of the plan to complete and enrich the monument to General U. S. Grant in Riverside Drive has just been voiced here by Charles E. Hughes in a letter to the Grant Monument Association. Mr. Hughes characterized the monument as "the most important in New York City."

"I am glad to know of the plans that have been made to complete the monument to General Grant in Riverside Drive," Mr. Hughes wrote. "It is altogether fitting that this should be carried out, both as a tribute to General Grant, and as a matter of civic pride, in appropriately completing the architectural scheme and in embellishing the most important monument in the city."

The Grant monument, which was erected and dedicated more than 30 years ago, was the public's gift to New York City, and the city appropriated as a site the land in Riverside Drive on which it stands, with the surrounding plaza.

Plans to complete and enrich the memorial were adopted in 1928 by the Grant Monument Association, of which Gen. James G. Harbord is president, and offices were established in the Chamber of Commerce building, 65 Liberty Street. The supplementary designs by the architect, John Russell Pope, provided for an equestrian statue of General Grant by Paul Manship and sculptural decorations of the pedestal and panels of the monument itself, to cost $200,000. The improvement and enlargement of the plaza upon which the memorial stands will cost an additional $200,000, it is estimated.

Substantial progress in the $400,000 campaign for funds is reported in the statement just made by William Rhinelander Stewart, chairman of the special committee to complete the monument. Mr. Stewart said that since March the fund has increased from $33,000 to more than $70,000. Among the most recent subscribers, he added, was the United States Grant Post No. 327, Department of New York, G. A. R., which has held patriotic ceremonies at the monument each recurring Memorial Day since it was erected.

Mrs. George Knox was among the visitors in Omaha today, going to that city on the early Burlington train to spend a few hours with friends.

STANDARD BEARERS MEET

Saturday evening the Standard Bearers of the Methodist Sunday school met at the home of their teacher, Mrs. E. H. Wescott and with a very pleasing number of the members in attendance.

The lesson of the meeting was led by Miss Amy Elliott and was followed by a great deal of interest by the members.

At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served by Miss Margaret Shallenberger and Helen Schutz and the members then adjourned to wend their way homeward.

Lowman to Demand U. S. Jurisdiction

County Prosecutor Goes Ahead With Plans for Trial of Agent Who Slew Virkkula.

Washington, June 14.—Investigation of the shooting by Customs Patrolman Emmet J. White of Henry Virkkula, near International Falls, Minn., showed the agent "apparently acting within his authority under law, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman announced today, upon receipt of a report from customs officials in Minnesota.

White has "a perfect defense" to the charges against him, according to Lowman.

"If the local courts indict White a motion will be made to transfer his case to the United States court for trial," Lowman declared.

Gives No Details.

Lowman's statement concerning the case gave no details of the killing of Virkkula. The report upon which the statement was based was received from Assistant Collector of Customs Linderberg of Duluth, Minn. Linderberg of Duluth, fwyetazqkta Linderberg has jurisdiction over the border patrol force in that area.

"It would appear from the report that newspaper accounts of the affair have been highly colored, to put it mildly," Lowman declared.

"The treasury has no intention of disarming customs patrolmen.

Would Nullify Law.

"Should congress pass a law disarming them it would, in effect, repeal the tariff laws because it is only through police powers that smuggling of merchandise into the United States can be prevented.

"If prohibition agents are disarmed, it would, in effect, nullify the Eighteenth amendment. Treasury regulations control the use of firearms by its operatives, and they are very stringent."

INSISTS STATE WILL PUT WHITE ON TRIAL

International Falls, Minn., June 14.—"Emmet J. White, border patrolman who killed Henry Virkkula, has violated the law of the state of Minnesota, and no man, whether he be a federal official or not can escape being punished here."

This was the answer of David Huriburt, Koohliching county attorney, to the decision of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman, announced today in Washington, that White "was acting within his authority under the law," when he fired on Virkkula's car last Saturday while searching for liquor smugglers.

Preliminary examination of White before a local magistrate on a charge of second degree manslaughter is set for Monday.

"The manslaughter charge," he explained, "carries with it the idea of culpable negligence."—Omaha Bee-News.
