J. V. SIMONS ILL

J. V. Simons, principal of the Plattsmouth high school, who has been engaged in some research work in Colorado since the close of the school year, has returned to this city as the result of illness and is now confined to his bed at the home. Mr. Simons suffered a very severe nervous breakdown while engaged in his work in the west and while he was given treatment there did not seem to rally as had been hoped for and was compelled to forego the remainder of his summer work and return home to this city. The many friends of Mr. Simons will regret very much to learn of his condition and trust that he may be able to rally and be ready to resume his school work in the fall.

New Sound Film Moves Audience

Emotions Swayed by Song and Dialogue in "Lucky Boy"—At Parmele Three Days.

It is strange what the introduction of sound can do to the emotions of a movie fan when that sound is the heart-throb of a stirring human interest story. Tiffany-Stahl has performed a unique accomplishment in their latest feature production, "Lucky Boy," starring George Jessel which will be shown at the Parmele theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday. They have combined a powerful photoplay, one fraught with laughter, heart-ache, romance and adventure, with all the sounds that go along with these emotional experiences in real life. The sound sequences follow straight through the picture. There is heard talking, sobbing, laughter, singing. George Jessel, whose greatest gift is his wit and his ability to portray his emotions through his voice, loses none of the dramatic force that has made him famous on the speaking stage, for his jokes and heart-throbbing songs are faithfully voiced.

The picture is the story of an East Side boy who has melody and rhythm in his soul, but little else to distinguish him from hundreds of boys born in poverty. His mother's love and faith in a son she believes to be different, gives him his first chance at fame and fortune. He fails, and in disgrace goes to California and fights his way painfully to a place in the theatre. It is one of the five songs he sings—"My Mother's Eyes," the theme song of "Lucky Boy," which first brings him notice. He falls in love with a society girl, and courts her against the opposition of her aristocratic family. The solution to all his problems and his rise to fame follows.

One of the most unusual features of the picture from an artistic viewpoint is the photographic and sound reproduction of a Broadway musical comedy chorus. This is really a masterpiece.

"Lucky Boy" was directed by Norman Taurog and Charles C. Wilson. The sparkling dialogue and titles are of George Jessel's authorship and Rudolph Flothow supervised all dialogue and singing sequences.

Margaret Quimby plays an appealing and charming role as the society sweetheart of Jessel, while Rosa Rosanova does excellent work in the role of Jessel's mother. Others in the cast include Gwen Lee, Richard Tucker, William Strauss, Gayne Whitman and Mary Doran.

Billie Dove's New Film is Story of American Girl

Stars in Elinor Glyn Romance After Several Foreign Roles—Parmele Sunday and Monday.

Billie Dove, the screen's greatest beauty, becomes an American Beauty again for her latest picture, "The Man and the Moment," a First National picture to be shown at the Parmele theatre Sunday and Monday.

After a number of pictures which took her to Europe, technically speaking, in which she played foreign roles, Miss Dove is again an American girl in "The Man and the Moment," which is from the pen of the famous Elinor Glyn.

This is the story of an orphan girl who marries a man to escape the limitations put upon her activities by her guardian. The hectic experiences that follow make up a story of intense interest and with many dramatic experiences.

Rod LaRocque, one of the most popular leading men in pictures, is seen opposite Miss Dove in this story, and Gwen Lee, the talented blonde actress, plays the "other woman." George Fitzmaurice directed "The Man and the Moment," which has been termed one of Miss Dove's greatest pictures. Its coming is awaited with interest here, where Billie Dove has a host of admirers.

OKLAHOMA HAS HEAT WAVE

Oklahoma City—Oklahoma was in the grip of an intense heat wave Tuesday, thermometers registering above the century mark in several localities. At Cordell, 113 was recorded. Fairview recorded 110. Hollis 106. Weather forecasts promised no relief.

Bismark, N. D.—The highest temperature of the year was recorded here Tuesday when the mercury reached 100. Minot also had a new season's record with 98.1-2.

NEW BRIDGE WORKMEN

From Wednesday's Daily— In order to hurry the work of the completion of the sinking of the pier on the new Missouri river bridge at this point, a number of experienced river men are to be brought here in the next few days by the Union Bridge & Construction Co., and these men will be used in the winding up of the pier work. The Union Bridge & Construction Co. are anxious to get their part of the work completed as they had expected to be through and out of this job several weeks ago but were delayed by the high water in the river and which has allowed them to only a short time ago, resume activities. The tramway to the pier now to be sunk which was washed out by the high water is now being replaced and actual work on the sinking of the pier is expected to be resumed either Thursday or Friday and will be then a matter of only a short time until the work is all completed.

The steel contract will be taken up in real earnest as soon as the concrete work is finished up on the piers and already considerable preliminary work has been carried out by the Omaha Steel Co., the contractors.

WELCOME THEIR FRIENDS

Some weeks since Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Rough with their kiddies arrived from Montebello, California, where Professor Rough is an instructor in athletics in the schools there, arrived in Nehawka and have been visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Rough. They have been visiting there since and will continue to visit with friends there with the exception of a short time when they will visit at Iowa City, with two sisters and their families, were surprised on last Sunday to find one hundred and fifty of the very warm friends of Mr. and Mrs. Rough came to the home of J. S. Rough and tendered their welcome to Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Rough and family. More than one hundred and fifty of the friends came to make this excellent family welcome and to give a testimonial of their friendship which they can take back to their work in the west and know that a large number of the people of Nehawka have their hearts attuned to the success of their friend and family. Mr. Rough and family will only return to the west this year in time to take up his winter work of teaching.

CHANGE SPELLING OF NAME

Washington—The new name of the former capital of China is spelled "Peiping" and means "northern peace." Chinese Minister Wu said so Tuesday by way of clearing up confusion resulting from press dispatches during the present Sino-Soviet troubles, in which the city has been called by such names as Peking, Piping and Peipin.

Peiping is a revival of the name given the city by the first emperor of the Ming dynasty during the fourteenth century. The change from Peking was made by the nationalist government after it established Nanking as the capital.

County Legion Posts to Plan a General Picnic

Local Post to Call Conference at Louisville Sunday—Elect Delegates to State Meet

From Wednesday's Daily— Last evening the Hugh J. Kearns post of the American Legion held their regular meeting at the community building and took up a number of matters of the greatest importance here and through the county.

The local post took the initiative in the calling of a conference on Sunday at Louisville of the posts at Nehawka, Greenwood, Louisville, Elmwood and Plattsmouth to decide on the time and place of the annual picnic for the Legion and Auxiliary and their families and in which all of the posts of the county will be asked to participate.

One matter of great interest was the selection of the delegates and alternates to the American Legion state convention at Hastings the latter part of August and which will be of more than passing interest because of the fact that one of the Cass county Legion members is being strongly urged for state commander, Col. Phil L. Hall of Greenwood. The delegates named to the state convention were W. T. Distell, Frank H. Smith and Leo Boynton while as the alternates Fred Lugsch, W. R. Holly and Clarence E. Ledgeway were selected.

The local post will also urge the selection of W. T. Distell of this city as a delegate to the national Legion convention at Louisville, Kentucky.

The post voted that the local American Legion Auxiliary be given the power to beautify the Legion square in Oak Hill cemetery as they may see fit and which with the ability of this active body of ladies assures that this plot in the cemetery will be made a real place of beauty and a credit to the two service organizations. Commander Lugsch was selected as the Legion representative to cooperate with the ladies of the Auxiliary in the work.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS HERE

From Wednesday's Daily— The government rifle range just north of this city is a very busy place this week as the members of the R. O. T. C. now being held at Port Crook are here to take their course of firing on the range, the student officers taking rifle, machine gun and one pounder courses at the range as a part of their training course.

The members of the reserve officers training camp come from the University of Nebraska, Creighton and Iowa state college and are young men gathered from all sections of the state to join in the course of practical training that will continue until August 1st when the C. M. T. C. will be opened for the thirty day course.

The student officers are selected from the most efficient young men at these three great schools and are high ranking students who are being trained as a part of the national defense act to take positions of officers in the army in case of a national emergency.

The residents of this city are very much pleased to have this fine group of young men here and should extend to them every possible courtesy while they are at the range and to make their stay here as pleasant as it lays within their power.

OLD SETTLERS REUNION

The date of the annual gathering of the old settlers of Cass and Otoe counties has been definitely set as August 23rd and 24th and as usual this event will be held at Union and will be located at the grove southwest of town where it has been held for many years. A number had urged that the various features be held in the main part of the town but the decision was made that it would be better to continue the policy of the holding of the picnic at the grove as heretofore. The association this year is headed by E. B. Chapman as president, P. F. Rhin, vice-president, C. B. Smith, secretary and D. Ray Frans, treasurer. The officers are arranging a very fine program of entertainment that will please not only the old time residents but the young as well and this will be featured by addresses by leaders in the public life of the state as well as affording the opportunity of the old time residents to get together and relate the stories of the early day experiences in Nebraska while it was a territory and later an infant state.

FUNERAL OF GEO. HRASKY

From Wednesday's Daily— The funeral service of the late George Hrasky were held yesterday, at the St. John's Catholic church and attended by a very large number of the old time friends and neighbors to pay their last tribute to the memory of this fine young man.

The requiem mass of the church was celebrated by Father Marcellas Agius, pastor of the church and who gave the church's last blessing to the departed.

The body was laid to rest in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery, the pall bearers being old friends, H. M. Soennichsen, Edward Donat, Joseph Libershal, C. W. Hula, William Schuldice and A. G. Bach.

County Agents to be Guests of the City

Representatives of Several Adjoining Counties Will Discuss Poultry Show on Thursday

The Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce directors and committee heads will have the pleasure of having here on Thursday the representatives of the farm bureau of several of our neighboring counties and at which time the matter of the Tri-County Poultry show will be discussed. The agricultural committee of which T. H. Pollock is the head, is arranging for the holding of the poultry show here in December if possible at the community building and this year efforts will be made by the local people to have Mills county, Iowa, our eastern neighbor join in the event as by that time the new bridge will be ready and allow our neighbors to come over and take part.

This show has been held by the counties of Cass, Sarpy and Saunders and has been a very great success in the shows that have been held at different points and this is the first time that it has come to the eastern sections of the counties and will make it possible for the residents of eastern Cass and Sarpy counties to enjoy it as well as the Mills county people.

The county agents who have signified their acceptance are N. R. Houser, of Saunders county, L. R. Snipes and D. D. Waincoat of Cass county, Joseph W. Reed of Sarpy county, George Rosenpott of Malvern, Mills county, Alex Woolcott of Oakland, Watson Howard of Greenwood, the president of the Tri-State Poultry association will also be present and discuss the plans for the big show.

In the arrangements for this show the committee in charge should have the hearty co-operation of every resident of this section to make it a very great success and one in which the poultry raisers over as large an area of the four counties as possible should be induced to participate and make showings of their birds.

We are in the midst of the tornado season. See J. P. Faltner for tornado insurance on both town and farm property.

HOLD FINE MEETING

The W. C. T. U. held a very pleasant and interesting meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph H. Anderson on east Rook street and with a very large attendance and much interest being shown by the members of the party in the program that was arranged for the day.

The program covered a large number of viewpoints of the prohibition movement and several very interesting papers were read along the line of this work.

Mrs. J. E. Wiles gave a most interesting talk on "Law Enforcement" while Mrs. Adelaide Boynton spoke briefly on "Liquor Not to Be Served in Embassy at London" with Mrs. C. A. Troop speaking in "The Great Day at West Branch." Mrs. Etta Perry Barker discussed, "Giving the Sons a Chance" and Mrs. Julius Hall "Hamilton, Ohio, Directs Law Enforcement" while Mrs. Gladys Groff spoke on "Who Was to Blame."

Two very clever readings were given by Elizabeth Ann and Mary Katherine Wiles "A Hole in the Cushion," "Cause I am Ten" and "A Fairy Tale." Mrs. Gladys Groff, one of the pleasing vocalists of the city was heard in a very delightful solo number, "When Clouds Have Vanished and Skies are Blue," with Mrs. Ralph Anderson serving as the accompanist.

Very dainty and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at an appropriate hour and which were enjoyed to the utmost by all of the members of the society.

WARNS ON PINE SCALE IN STATE

Lincoln, July 16.—Nursery Inspector L. M. Gates of the state agricultural department, has just completed the intensive spraying campaign against the Pine tree scale in northern Nebraska.

Groves of the trees in Holt and Thomas county and the northern part of Wheeler were treated with an experimental mixture. A check-up will be made to determine effectiveness of the treatment.

The spraying was done in co-operation with federal authorities and the extension service of the University of Nebraska. Mr. Gates was assisted at different times by Mr. Benedict of the extension department and State Forester G. W. Watkins.
