More Alleged Gas Victims in the Windy City

Three Deaths at Chicago Starts Movement for Correction of Refrigeration Systems.

Chicago — Removal of methyl chloride gas from 75,000 refrigeration systems in Chicago was started Wednesday as a coroner's jury began an investigation into the death of a family of three, believed to be victims of the gas. The action came after Commissioner of Health Arnold Kegel issued a temporary order barring the gas from Chicago as a refrigerant and a meeting was called for a council subcommittee to draft an ordinance prohibiting its use. Dr. Kegel and Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, county coroner, were aroused by the apparent repetition of fatalities from the gas—the deaths of Joseph Painter, his wife and their year old baby on the heels of the death of Mrs. Viola Clark, north side artist.

Removal of the gas from the systems was started voluntarily by the company which had installed the machines in both the Painter and the Clark apartments, also the Painter apartment declaring the jury had been mistaken in deciding Mrs. Clark died of methyl gas. The poster had been placed in the apartment by the company. The jury said the poster was open "to severest criticism."

"This time we are going to continue our inquest until after the coroner's chemist has made his report," declared Dr. Gideon Wells, foreman, "and we'll prove the previous verdict was correct, too."

Omaha—With five persons dead in Chicago from gases given off by refrigeration plants in apartment houses, Omaha city officials Wednesday declared that they favored regulation of refrigerator installations in Omaha by ordinance. Omaha now has no ordinance directly controlling mechanical refrigeration.

DERBY WINNER IS ROBBED

Chicago—Fred Garber, owner of Windy City, winner of the American derby last month, Mrs. Garber, and Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Segel, were robbed of $19,000 in currency and jewelry Wednesday night by three men who forced the Garber automobile off the road as the party was returning to Chicago from Arlington park race track.

Three men, one of whom was armed with a shotgun, threatened the party after the machine was crowded off the highway near Mt. Prospect, Ill. The two couples had left the clubhouse at Arlington Park shortly after 6:30 o'clock, they told officers investigating the robbery.

TURKEY TO BUILD FIRST DISTILLERY

Cesarea, Turkey, July 16.—This ancient Anatolian town is to bear visible evidences of Turkey's backsliding from the old Moslem taboo against alcoholic drinks. The government alcohol monopoly is to spend $1,500,000 here to construct the nation's first big distillery.

'Balloon' Maker Hears How Device Helped Win War

German Tells Inventor That American Propaganda Showered Trenches

Richmond, Va.—Eleven years ago Lieut. Matthew Volm, Imperial German Infantry, stood watching a group of queer little balloons, made apparently of colored paper, float to the ground behind the German lines. To each was attached a six-foot thread, at the end of which dangled a packet of papers.

A German soldier ran up with two of them and reported: "Millions of these are floating behind our lines. They stick in trees and come even into the trenches. Lies are printed in German on the papers. See!"

Back of the Allied defense, French and British intelligence officers were sending up 2,500,000 of these tiny oilpaper carriers each week. They were released to travel with dominant air currents and drop at specific distances in German territory.

Much credit for this goes to an American teacher, Dr. Henry Louis Smith, who is retiring as president of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. Dr. Smith, physicist and meteorologist, presented the plan to the American National Council of Defense in 1918, after a reward had been offered for the best proposal for presenting the American point of view to the German people.

Before August, 1918, 27,000,000 leaflets had been dropped into Germany. They contained President Wilson's speeches, news of vast activities in America, millions of cartoons, statements of causes, significance and aims of war.

Today, Lieutenant Volm, now a professor of German and French languages at the Virginia Military Institute, the campus of which adjoins that of Washington and Lee University, and President Smith, recalled the planning and effect of the "balloon device" which furnished the chief means of distributing the publicity used to help break the German morale.

"The money I won as prize for this balloon device," President Smith smiled, "went toward buying the first automobile I ever owned—and I was a college student, not a college student, when I bought it!"

BACK BROKEN IN SUICIDE LEAP

Beatrice, July 17.—Mrs. Pat Longan is in a hospital here with a broken back, following a leap from a third-floor apartment window early Wednesday. Doctors said she would probably recover.

Friends of the family said her husband had left the apartment for a few minutes and upon his return discovered his wife had leaped from her window. He rushed down and picked her up. The Longans had been married but a short time.

Mrs. Longan, conscious on her way to the hospital, is said to have declared she was sorry for the suicide attempt and "wanted to live."

It is believed she was temporarily deranged.

 The Manley Elevator company consisting of the community farmers of this vicinity, having for their manager a most capable man in the person of Harry Hawes, have just installed a new truck dump, which is air operated, and which is about the last word when it comes to operation of an elevator to get the work done without the hard work which was required before. The company and the manager, believe in giving the best of service to all concerned, as they have a truck dump, and have a place for the filling of tires for cars and trucks so that those who haul with trucks can have an opportunity to fill their tires and keep them in the best inflated condition. CALLED TO MURRAY

From Saturday's Duty—
 Last evening at 11:30 Sheriff Bert Reed received a hurry up call from Murray where a group of men were claimed to be under the influence of liquor and causing more or less annoyance to the dwellers of that peaceful city. The sheriff, accompanied by slumbers and getting the faithful Buick out stepped on the gas but on reaching Murray the men sought had like the Arabs folded their tents and silently stolen away into the night and as there was no one to give the names of the parties it was impossible to apprehend them. The sheriff had a nice ride, however, but would prefer that those who are going to get tanked up to do so earlier in the evening or wait until the next day.

Death of Well Known Resident of Mt. Pleasant

James A. Gilmore Is Called to the Last Reward and Funeral Held at Weeping Water

James Alvin Gilmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Gilmore, was born east of Weeping Water on June 19th 1871, and has resided in Cass county and near Weeping Water during almost the entire span of his life. He died on July 18, 1929, at 2 o'clock in the morning, aged slightly over fifty-eight years. Early in life Mr. Gilmore identified himself with the Methodist church. Many years ago he also became a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and has remained a member during the remainder of his life. In 1901, he went to Logan county, where he took up a homestead and after perfecting the title in 1905, returned to Weeping Water and with his brother, Wilson Gilmore, has engaged in farming, they two keeping house together. On June 6th, he received a stroke of paralysis, and while everything in the way of nursing was done for the unfortunate man, he continued to sink until death came as a sleep on July 18th, last Thursday morning.

The members of the Odd Fellows were very attentive in taking turns in watching by his bedside, and a special nurse, Mrs. Frank E. Woods, with Mrs. P. E. Tritsch at his side, but the most careful attention and best medical skill were of no avail for this excellent man passed away early Thursday morning. To know him was to love him for he was a very gentle nature and has many friends who are grieved at his going. The funeral was held at the Methodist church in Weeping Water and the services being conducted by the Rev. Geo. E. Morey, pastor of the church of Mr. Gilmore and also member of his lodge in the Odd Fellows. The interment was made at Oakwood cemetery in Weeping Water. The funeral was in charge of W. L. Hobson and Son, funeral directors. Mr. Gilmore leaves three brothers and two sisters, they being Mrs. Rachel Holbeck of Elmwood; Joseph Gilmore and Mrs. M. E. Cox, both of Calloway; J. B. Gilmore of Kearney, and Wilson Gilmore of Weeping Water. The pall bearers of the Odd Fellows, the lodge which he loved so well were: C. H. Gibson, Henry Crozier, C. J. Elgaard, Raymond Hart, Henry Snell and Elmer Michaelson.

CARD OF THANKS
 We desire to express our sincere thanks to those our friends and neighbors and especially the members of the Order of Odd Fellows, to the neighbors also we express our thanks and to all who in any way contributed to the well being of our deceased. Mr. Gilmore, leaving behind for the floor offering, tokens of love and respect, as well as to Brother Morey for the very kind words which he uttered and for the kind services.—Brothers and Sisters of the late James T. Gilmore.

Small Grain in State Hurt by Hot Winds

Wheat Yield Per Acre Lower Than Year Ago; Barley and Oats Also Damaged.
 Lincoln, July 19.—Hot winds scoured Nebraska small grains the first of this month and did damage in nearly all sections. The midmonth crop report of U. S. Statistician A. E. Anderson goes on to say that the wheat yield is estimated at 16.4 bushels, or 1.5 bushels below last year's estimate at this time. The actual yield in 1928, however, was 19.1 bushels per acre.

Barley Damaged.
 Southern counties return the low estimate of 14 bushels while eastern Platte districts are high with 19.4 bushels.

Though corn is in excellent condition generally, flood damage and late planting in the southeast keeps it a bit behind last year's crop. The condition is estimated at 90 per cent. Estimate of oats range from 22.5 bushels in the western counties to 36 bushels for the eastern Platte valley and the northern part of the state. The state average is placed at 28.6 bushels as compared with the 1928 forecast of 34.8 bushels. Rye is expected to return 18 bushels—nearly on a par with last year.

Because of barley's rapid growth, that grain suffered most from heat. In places it was being combined while wheat was still ripening. A state average of 23.6 bushels is predicted, as compared with last year's 34.5 bushel estimate.

Harvest on Time.
 The proportion of wheat harvested by mid-July, say the bankers, is exactly the same as a year ago. The spring grain, however, are more nearly taken care of than usual.

From only three places—Wahoo, Nebraska City and Hebron—come the slightest intimations that more harvest hands could be used.

There is more or less talk of holding some of the wheat in every district, but the increase over last year will not be large. Creditor's demands, together with a satisfactory price will see to that.—Omaha Bee-News.

Pastor at Eagle Lauded for Aid in Train Wreck

Rev. Walter Zimmerman One of First to Reach Death Scene; Dives to Break Windows.

Lincoln, Neb., July 19.—Rev. Walter Zimmerman, pastor of the Methodist church at Eagle, in western Cass county, and a former railroad man has a souvenir of the wreck of the Rock Island train near Stratton, Colo. It is a telegram from the claim agent of the railroad, which says: "Notified Denver papers that you rendered valuable and heroic service in the derailment of our train. In behalf of the Rock Island railroad, and myself I wish to thank you."

The message is signed by James Palmer, general claim agent of the road. Mr. Zimmerman's valuable and heroic action, according to reports, consisted in diving into the rushing stream into which the train had plunged, breaking windows in the Pullman coach and helping remove the passengers. Rev. Mr. Zimmerman was not a passenger on the train, but was traveling in Colorado in the interest of a bank at Eagle, and was one of the first at the scene of the wreck. He has not yet returned to Eagle, but Mrs. Zimmerman was advised of the part he played as a life saver.
