BOYS AND GIRLS AT THE FAIR

Youth is given fitting recognition at the Nebraska State Fair. The main activity there is the 4-H Boys' and Girls' Clubs. An immense building, that is not near large enough, is devoted to their baby beehives, pigs, calves, crop projects, handwork, and displays. The contribution they are already making to their state is being recognized in a substantial way. There is no more inspiring sight than youth employed in constructive effort. At the Fair their busy activities are witnessed by thousands of their elders who realize for the first time, many of them, the part organized youth is playing in the development of the live stock and soil industries of Nebraska. The display of baby beehives which these young men and women make each year is a sight that draws thousands to the Fair. The sale of these beehives at the Fair has become an outstanding sales event in the middle west.

LIBRARY NOTES

Among the new books arrived for August is one entitled "On the Bottom" by Commander Edward Ellsberg. This is a story of the raising of the submarine S-51. Miss Leonard is again back on the job after enjoying a pleasant July vacation, and this leaves Miss Jones free for her vacation. She is planning on starting it with a trip to St. Paul some time this week. Enthusiasm in airplane model building is not lagging and the library announces the receipt of a new book along this line called "Building and Flying of Model Aircraft" by Barber.

Elks Have Many Activities on Their Program

Golf, Tennis and Other Sports Vt With Social Features Such as Card Parties

From Wednesday's Daily—The members of the local lodge of Elks are just about the busiest bunch of fellows you could imagine at the present time, and from the plans will be for some time to come. A lot of good men have been initiated into the order in the last three months and a number are now awaiting initiation.

Plans have been made, contracts have been let and work has already started on remodeling the interior of the building at the Country Club. Partitions will be removed, arches put in so as to throw the three east rooms and the two halls into one room. Two new cellar doors and frames on east side of house, removing entirely the present porch on the south and replacing same with a new modern one with a canopy awning 5x7 supported by massive looking 4x6 inch brackets against the building, floor to be 7x10 feet constructed of cement with a brick edging.

A standard double tennis court will be built southeast of the club house. A croquet ground will be established directly south of same and place for pitching horse shoes will be provided north of same.

The golf course maintained as these beautiful grounds is the very best of its kind in the state of Nebraska.

On next Sunday a handicap golf tournament will be held at the course, also a putting contest at 11 o'clock. All members are eligible to enter either or both of these. Prizes will be awarded for each. Entries are being made now.

The annual golf tournament will be held commencing Sunday Sept. 1. Final will be played Sunday Sept. 8. On the later date the annual Elks picnic will be held at the Country Club. This will be a picnic too. Contests of various kinds, refreshments, music. The Elks band will add very much to the occasion by their presence and music.

The later part of Sept. or early in Oct. the Elks will put on an indoor carnival.

As soon as the work on the building is completed they resume the card parties with a grand opening, possibly cards, refreshments and dancing.

RETURN FROM FUNERAL

From Monday's Daily—J. F. Falter and Henry Horn of this city have returned from Creighton where they have been for the past few days, called by the death of Emil Hartstock, the husband of a sister of Mr. Falter. The deceased was married to the former Mrs. Elizabeth Weber, formerly Miss Elizabeth Falter, who came to this locality when but a child of five years from Germany and made her home here until her family moved to the northern part of the state. The many old time friends here of the Falter family will regret to learn of the sad event that has come to Mrs. Hartstock.

In speaking of the death of Mr. Hartstock the Creighton News has the following sketch of his life:

"A pall of gloom was cast over the entire community on Monday evening when word was received that Emil Hartstock had passed away at 9:30 p. m. at his home northeast of Creighton. His death was attributed to Bright's disease and complications, which had continued for six weeks, during which time all available science and loving care was bestowed without result in restoration of health.

"The deceased was born in Pierce county on November 20, 1879, and died July 29, 1929, at the age of 49 years, 8 months and 9 days. He spent his boyhood days in Pierce county, where he was employed the greater part of the time on the farm. This occupation he followed during his entire life. At the age of 28 he came to Creighton and secured employment in farm work. On August 8, 1905, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Elizabeth Weber. This union was blessed with two daughters, Gladys and Mildred. Following his marriage they lived on the Adam Weber farm 7 miles northeast of Creighton, later removing to his own farm 8 1/4 miles northeast of this city, where the family have resided for the past eight years.

"Mr. Hartstock was a splendid citizen, respected by every acquaintance, a good friend and a good neighbor and benevolent provider. His work is done and like well-ripened grain, he has been garnered, but his memory will be held dear to those who knew him as husband, father and friend.

"During his many years of residence in this community he acquired a great number of friends, who will deeply mourn his passing.

"He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his wife and two children, one step-daughter, Mrs. Noble Berglund, and two step-sons, Geo. and William Weber, by a former marriage of Mrs. Hartstock.

"Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home, and at 2:30 from the Eden Valley church. Rev. Seegers conducted the last rites. The remains were interred in the Eden Valley cemetery."

Henry Klinger, who has been located at Winner, South Dakota, for some time past, came in yesterday and will enjoy a visit here with relatives and old friends and may decide to locate here.

Many Hurt!

Suppose this were the heading of a newspaper article referring to an accident in which YOUR car was involved!

EVERY CAR OWNER should give serious thought to the question of complete insurance protection. The ever increasing number of cars on the road means greater danger both to the car and the people in it. Carry enough Liability Insurance and also a personal accident policy.

Seek to Identify Stranger Killed at Gretna

Letters on Person Indicate Man Named P. M. Peterson and Formerly Here.

From Wednesday's Daily—This morning the office of Sheriff Bert Reed was notified of the finding of the body of a dead man in a box car at Gretna and from letters on the person of the man it was thought that he was a former resident of this city.

The letters were signed by the name P. M. Peterson and directed to Mrs. Ethel Peterson at Plattsmouth, but a search here failed to reveal the present whereabouts of the lady, altho the box number to which the letters were addressed was one that was formerly held by P. M. Peterson, who removed from here some time in 1926 to Lyman, Nebraska, and since which his whereabouts have been unknown.

The man had been riding in a box car loaded with grain cars and at the Gretna yards the train had been switched and in so doing the grain doors had fell over on the unfortunate man and crushed him.

LEGION HOLDS PICNIC

From Monday's Daily—The pleasant little city of Louisville was the goal of a great many of the members of the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary and their friends yesterday, the occasion being the second annual picnic of the Legionnaires of Cass county.

The picnic was held at the tourist park at Louisville, where there was ample space for the accommodation of the parties at the picnic dinner and the ladies who had prepared the many dainty baskets of the good things to eat had the pleasure of seeing their efforts most heartily appreciated.

Owing to the fact that the Louisville town team had a game scheduled on the home lot, the ball park was not available for the picnic party making necessary the elimination of the baseball game from the list of sporting events of the day and also delaying until late in the afternoon the program of races that had been planned by the committee in charge.

The various posts of the county stood true to the kiddies by providing free pop and ice cream, while the Louisville commercial club again furnished an abundance of lemonade for old and young.

There were goodly delegations in attendance from each of the Legion posts in the county and quite a few came down from Omaha to enjoy the occasion with their Cass county buddies.

The various prizes in the races were as follows:
Harvey Woodward as Miss Louisville, 1st; M. D. Brown as Miss Plattsmouth, 2nd. Contest rather close.

Legion Race—Val. Trumble, Eagle, 1st; C. H. Hedley, Greenwood, 2nd.

Legion Fat Men's Race—Warren Trumble, Eagle, 1st; B. Rakow, Plattsmouth, 2nd; E. A. Webb, Plattsmouth, 3rd.

Ladies Race—Thelma Nichols, Greenwood, 1st; Dorothy McConnell, Louisville, 2nd.

Balloon Blowing Contest (Ladies)—Thelma Nichols, Greenwood, 1st; Mrs. W. A. Stolman, 2nd.

Ladies Slipper Throwing Contest—Thelma Nichols, Greenwood, 1st; Mabel Peterson, Alvo, 2nd.

Girls Over 6 yrs.—Irene Peterson, Alvo, 1st; May Capper, Plattsmouth, 2nd.

Boys 6 yrs. and Under—Ned Nutzman, Nehawka, 1st.

Boys over 6—Gerald Peterson.

The only excitement was occasioned when a raucous party of bachelors captured one of the choice morsels from the dinner of Adjutant Webb of the Plattsmouth post and made way with it in retaliation for his having pilfered part of their chicken earlier in the day.

Mr. Jack Dalton returned last week from a trip to California, where he had a splendid two weeks vacation visiting his wife's relatives.

Cass County Newspaper Folks in the West

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mayfield of Louisville Are Enjoying a Trip Thru California.

L. J. Mayfield and wife of the Louisville Courier are starting July 15 on a real vacation trip which has been richly earned by several years of close attention to business. They will head due west, probably stopping a few days in Yellowstone park, and then through Montana, northern Idaho and down the Columbia to Portland and the coast. From there to San Francisco via the Redwood route and on to Los Angeles. G. A., a brother of L. J., is running the News at Artesia and a few days will be spent with him. G. A. will be remembered by Nebraska publishers as editor of the Scribner Ruestler, which he sold several years ago and located in Artesia. The trip will consume about six weeks and will be made by auto.—Chicago Newspaper Auxiliary.

The above news item from the Auxiliary tells of the visit of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mayfield, who arrived here Sunday and will visit a week or so with the News family. Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield had a delightful trip and enjoyed the scenery of the Yellowstone country, the Columbia river drive, the day spent in the Redwood forest and the trip down the coast highway. They have only praise for California. Before returning to Nebraska they will visit the several places of interest in Southern California and include a trip to old Mexico and Catalina Island, returning home by the Grand Canyon.

Mr. Mayfield has been editor and owner of the Louisville Courier for over forty years and has seen his town grow from a little hamlet to a progressive manufacturing city with hundreds of men employed in a modern pottery where the finest pottery is made; quarries; sand pits and a mill and a half dollar cement plant recently installed by the Portland Cement company. Mr. Mayfield has served as mayor of his city several terms; was president of the Chamber of Commerce; president of the school board and other positions in which men sacrifice their time and energy without money and without price. He was in California about fifteen years ago and finds the growth of the state astonishing.

Mr. Mayfield is associate editor of the paper and one of the well known newspaper women of their state and takes an active part in affairs of the state and especially in the Omaha district, in which they belong. She has been in California several times, spending a few years here some time ago, and is delighted to be here where she feels very much at home and they both expect to return very frequently in the years to come.—Artesia (Cal.) News.

GIVES FINE SERMON

The congregation at the First Methodist church Sunday morning had the pleasure of hearing a very inspiring sermon given by Rev. Luther M. Kuhns, of Omaha, well known Lutheran minister and prominent in the work of the Masonic order in the state, as he is at the present time grand chaplain of the Royal Arch Masons of Nebraska. The address of Dr. Kuhns was a real inspiration to all who heard it.

At the evening service the choir of the church presented a very fine program of sacred song that was a most thoroughly enjoyed feature of the Sunday service, and which was featured by several special numbers. Dr. E. P. Westover giving a vocal solo, Miss Helen Westcott a reading and Edgar Westcott a marimba selection, with accompaniment by E. H. Westcott.

Passing of an Old Time Resident of County

Fred Schliebert of Near Louisville Laid to the Last Long Rest Monday

The residents of the central portion of Cass county have been called upon to part with one of their most loved and esteemed citizens in Fred Schliebert, a native born resident of that section and one of the outstanding figures in that community.

Mr. Schliebert was born on a farm near Louisville in 1868 and passed away at his home in Louisville on Saturday. He was united in marriage with Miss Beatha Dehnning of Murdock on October 20, 1897. To Mr. and Mrs. Schliebert were born four children, three boys and one girl, Melvin, Aaron, Frederick and Alta, now Mrs. Walter Heiers, who with the widow survive the passing of the husband and father.

The deceased was one of the early members of the Lutheran church in his home community, having received the sacrament of baptism from the first Lutheran pastor, Rev. Hasenwald, to be located in the Louisville territory and later Mr. Schliebert was confirmed into the church.

To those who had the pleasure of knowing him, Mr. Schliebert was a kind and loving friend, a good neighbor and one who followed in his daily walks of life the precepts of the Master in his dealings with his fellow men. In late years he has not been in such rugged health and was finally stricken with the dread malady of cancer and from which he passed away, enduring with christian fortitude the suffering and pain of the last days.

The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Lutheran church south of Louisville with Rev. Theodore Hartman preaching the sermon of his old time friend. The interment was in the Lutheran cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Warner were out at their farm Tuesday looking after some business and for a brief visit. They will be there the greater part of the time while Wallace Warner and family are on a vacation trip.
