Charles Kupke and the Gakemeier boys have concluded their threshing and are glad of it. The piling up of work of harvesting, threshing and completing the cultivation of the corn together with the many rainy days and shortage of cars making deliveries uncertain has been the means of a badly congested state of affairs.

W. F. Weddell and family of Monongahala City, Pennsylvania, in Murdock for a visit with his uncle, W. T. Weddell and family, which was greatly enjoyed by both. Following his visit here Mr. Weddell and family departed for Denver where they visited and will return via Kansas and Kansas City, stopping also at St. Louis. Mr. Weddell is an engineer in the steel construction work of one of the large steel plants of the east.

Many wrecks on the highways are occurring and in such a way that it makes people almost afraid to try the highways. While A. J. Neitzel was on his way to Lincoln on last Sunday a car came along and side swiped his car, turning it over with the entire number of the car pinned under the wreck. They were bruised quite severely, and a few stitches had to be taken on the forehead of Mrs. Neitzel. The car was also wrecked. At the same time while Ralph Rager was driving on the roads a car came from a side road, striking him on the rear wheel and turning his car over and doing much damage to it, and bruising them up quite badly.

Murdock Men Have Car Hit at R. I. Crossing Henry Klemme and Son, Henry, Have Close Call for Lives at Crossing Southwest of Murdock

While Henry Klemme and son, Henry, Jr., were returning home from Murdock Wednesday morning, they had a peculiar experience which was almost fatal. They were driving in their car and were in the act of crossing the railroad southwest of Murdock, when their motor killed and left them stranded on the crossing. Just at this time Rock Island train No. 13, the flyer going west, was passing through Murdock and whistled an alarm.

Mr. Klemme flung open the car door, pushed his son out and quickly jumped out of the car. After getting the son to a place of safety away from the track, he sought to pull the stalled car from the track, but a warning whistle from the oncoming train advised him of the futility of such an attempt.

He stepped back just as the train whizzed by the crossing, carrying the auto into the ditch by the road side, a crumpled mass of iron and wood. Fortunately it was for Mr. Klemme that he and his son had time to get out of the car and get away from the crossing before the impact came, for it would surely have taken toll of two more lives.

It has been only a short time since Henry Schlaphoff was killed at this same crossing.

CHICKEN THIEVES BUSY Reports from the south part of Cass county and northern Otoe county indicate that chicken thieves are again getting active in the locality, as Mrs. J. R. Dysart, residing just south of Union has reported to Sheriff Ryder of Otoe county that on Thursday night some person entered her chicken house and made away with fifty Plymouth Rock broilers.

The chicken stealing industry has been very quiet in this part of the state since the Cass county authorities and local police captured a number of the gang that had been ravaging the farms of their chickens, but a new crop of the prowlers seems to be developing.

NOTICE OF HEARING In the County Court of Cass County, Nebraska.

In the matter of the estate of James E. Shields, deceased.

To all persons interested in the estate of James E. Shields, deceased, creditors and heirs-at-law:

You are hereby notified that on the 9th day of August, 1929, Paul Wohlfarth, filed a petition in this Court in which he alleges that one James E. Shields, late a resident of Plattsmouth, Cass County, Nebraska, departed this life intestate in said County and State, on or about the day of January, 1907, without having ever married and without issue, and left him surviving, as his sole and only heirs at law—

His mother, Catherine Spader, (formerly Shields); Catherine A. Shields, a sister; Francis H. Shields, a brother, John P. Shields, a brother, and William J. Shields, a brother; and that at the time of his death said decedent was the owner of an undivided one-fourth interest in and to Lots 10, 11 and 12 in Block 60 in Plattsmouth, Cass County, Nebraska, and that petitioner is now the owner of said real estate by virtue of mesne conveyances now of record, and that heirship to the estate of said James E. Shields, deceased, had never been established by any Court having jurisdiction to determine heirship in the State of Nebraska, and that more than 22 years have elapsed since the death of said decedent, and that no application has ever been made in the State of Nebraska, for the appointment of an Administrator of said estate, and praying for judicial determination of the time of the death of said decedent, the names of his heirs at law, and the degree of kinship thereof and the right of descent of the real property of said decedent in this state and for an Order Barring Claims against said estate.

Said matter has been set for hearing at the County Court room in Plattsmouth, Cass County, Nebraska, on the 6th day of September, 1929, at ten o'clock a. m., at which time all persons interested may appear and contest said petition.

Dated: August 9th, 1929. A. H. DUXBURY, (Seal) a12-3w County Judge.

Suspension of the publication of the Congressional Record will give us a chance to catch up with our reading on Zane Grey. He has most likely written at least a dozen novels since the special session started.

But—SAY—when it comes to buying power—you'll be pleased and surprised if you bring them to Black and White—the store of year 'round low everyday prices.

On sales days when everyone is telling you how much he will give you for your Dollar, we like to deviate from our established policy of refraining from publishing long lists of prices, by telling you of some of the savings you can effect by trading here—not just on special sale days, but every day.
