Says It Saved Her An Operation

"Without a doubt, Sargon saved me from an operation and the way it benefited me was simply marvelous.

"My trouble seemed to have started with my gall bladder. At regular intervals I'd have such severe headaches I'd have to go to bed until they wore off. A stinging, burning pain in my right side bothered me almost constantly and finally my nervous system broke down completely. I had an unpleasant taste in my mouth and it was covered with acid blisters. I was told I'd never improve until I had my gall bladder removed—but I decided to try Sargon first.

"It's hard to believe, but I haven't had a headache since my second bottle of Sargon. The pain in my side left me, my nerves quieted and I began to sleep better. The blisters disappeared and now I just feel stronger and better in every way. Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the best laxative I ever say, they act so naturally.

"Sargon helped me so much I am giving it to my little ten-year-old daughter and I am delighted at the improvement she is already showing."

Transfer of Bank Assets Draws Fire

Responsible for Suspension of Bennington Depository, Shallenberger Reports.

Lincoln, Sept. 16.—Transfer of assets between the Farmers and Merchants bank of Gretna and Mangold Glandt bank of Bennington was described Monday by A. C. Shallenberger, chief of the guaranty fund audit, as a vital factor in the suspension of the latter institution.

Both banks, he asserted, were controlled by the same persons, Peter Mangold and George W. Mangold, who served as president and cashier of the latter concern, which closed its doors May 2, 1925, with outstanding deposits of $246,559.93.

"Scrap Pile." The audit of this bank, completed Monday, Mr. Shallenberger further pointed out, revealed that 11 months prior to its closing bank examiners made the following report to the state department:

"This bank shows no improvement over previous examinations. The note case is just like a scrap pile and looks more like a waste basket. It is a hopeless case and is getting worse every day."

The report also contained the complaint from the examiners at that time that officials of the bank had failed to comply with their suggestions in the future operation.

Slow and doubtful loans on June 7, 1924, the audit disclosed, amounted to $73,971.42, of which $20,762.48 was considered as "frozen." The first figure, the report added, included a "great amount of paper taken over from the Gretna bank."

"Practically all of this proved to be worthless," the auditors informed Mr. Shallenberger.

Commenting further on the condition of the "note case, the auditors informed the former that excessive loans amounting to $51,804.72 had been made to nine persons and that the loss on this would amount to $35,000.

Assets Transferred. On the purported transfer of assets the auditors had this to say: "For the purpose of saving one of the institutions, considerable paper seems to have been taken from the Gretna bank and transferred to the Glandt bank in exchange for good paper in the latter institution."

"We are informed," the auditors added, "that this was done without the consent of the banking department."

The Gretna bank, however, later failed and because of the exchange in paper the Bennington depositories will suffer a greater loss than if the transfer had not been made, the report states.

$88,000 Deficit. Anticipating an ultimate deficit of $88,269.90, the guaranty fund chief pointed out apparent discriminations in the payment of depositors, declaring 226 of 534 were paid off in full in the amount of $66,742.35, while 179 others received about 34 per cent of their money, or $29,925.62 of $88,702.94, while smaller groups received varying amounts. Preferred claims now outstanding amount to $97,461.34, with $9,171.44 fixed as a fair cash value of the resources which had been valued at $89,529.76.

As a "going bank," Mr. Shallenberger further pointed out, the deposits shrunk from $246,516.94 to $95,560.23.—Omaha Bee-News.

$9,000,000 OFF SUGAR BEETS Scotchbluff, Sept. 16.—The best crop of the irrigated section of the North Platte valley is estimated at an average of 13 tons to the acre this year. Harvest will begin about Oct. 1.

There are approximately 100,000 acres of beets in western Nebraska this year, the market value of which will be $9,000,000.

This year has proven to be an exceptional one for corn growing in this section. Ordinarily corn is grown only for feed, but the yield this year will make marketing of a large quantity possible. A frost the first week of September stopped the growth of the foliage of the corn, and warm days following have done much to cure and ripen it.

Many fields are estimated at 35 to 40 bushels to the acre.

DWARF IS LEAVING MOVIES Omaha, Sept. 16.—Angelo Salvatore Rossitti, the twenty-one year old Omaha dwarf who made a Horatio Alger jump from newsboy to the movies, has broken the Kleig light and returned home to study law with his film earnings.

Angelo, who is just three feet tall, arrived in Omaha from Hollywood last week to satisfy his life long desire for an education. Two years ago he left home with only his earnings on downtown street corners in his pockets. Now he has enough to realize the dream of becoming a lawyer.

WEEPING WATER

L. R. Snipes of Lincoln was a visitor in Weeping Water during the fore part of the week and will remain to enjoy the fair with his many friends.

James M. Teegarden and the good wife were over to Lincoln on last Monday where they were visiting with friends and where Mr. Teegarden was looking after some business matters for a time.

Carl Parks and wife of Hiawatha, Kansas, were visiting for the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baker, where they all enjoyed the day very much. Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Seeley of the Weeping Water Republicans were also dining here, which added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

L. C. Cristey of Beatrice with the Black Brothers Milling company, and Dr. Claybaugh from the state university will be at the W. D. Baker feed store during the fair to answer all questions regarding the feeding as well as diseases of poultry and hogs. Come and benefit by this free and expert instructions on feeding of both these lines.

Mrs. I. W. Teegarden of Los Angeles arrived in Weeping Water this week for a visit with her relatives and friends. Mrs. Teegarden has made her home in the west and will enjoy the visit here very much. Her many friends will also be pleased to greet her and give her an excellent time while here. Mrs. Teegarden reports that she and husband are liking their home in the west very much.

Thead Davis and wife were over to Auburn and Brownville last week where they were in attendance at the funeral of the late John Furnas, son of the first Governor of Nebraska. Mr. Furnas had taken the wife to the Mayo Brothers hospital for treatment a number of times as she was a very bad health and little did he think that he would be called before her.

Mr. Davis reports a large number of friends of both the deceased and his father, the former governor, in attendance.

Build Excellent Chicken House. Following the lines which are put out by the Extension service of the state agricultural college at the state university, the County Agent and a representative from the college, Mr. Claybaugh, with the help from the Singer Lumber company, constructed the building which is being used for the County Fair as a demonstrator.

The finished house is on exhibition near the Singer Lumber company office during the fair and following the fair the completed houses can be had from the lumber company as well as plans where by one can construct them ones self. This house will be used during the fair by the I-H clubs.

Will Have Road Graveled. A number of the enterprising citizens of Weeping Water to the number of some twenty-five went to Lincoln one day last week and succeeded in getting an agreement for the traveling of the County Agent and a representative from the college, Mr. Claybaugh, with the help from the Singer Lumber company, constructed the building which is being used for the County Fair as a demonstrator.

The finished house is on exhibition near the Singer Lumber company office during the fair and following the fair the completed houses can be had from the lumber company as well as plans where by one can construct them ones self. This house will be used during the fair by the I-H clubs.

Meets With Serious Accident. While Gordon Henezer was backing a tractor out of a shed at the home south of Weeping Water, and unknown to him, his son, Glen Henezer was behind the tractor, the moving machine struck the young man who is about seventeen years of age, knocking him down and the wheels passing over the lad's leg and leg very severely and bruising him greatly.

As soon as it was known that the lad had been struck, the father stopped the machine and ran to the lad who was lying on the ground, unable to get up. He was immediately attended by a physician and taken to Lincoln where X-rays were used and it was found that no bones were broken but the flesh was badly lacerated and bruised. After having the injuries dressed, the injured man was brought home and still suffers a great deal from his injuries. It is hoped that he will soon be able to be about again and will show a speedy recovery.

Preached in Weeping Water. The Rev. Ralph Pinkham of Harvard was a visitor in Weeping Water on last Sunday where he delivered a very touching and worthwhile discourse at Congregational church and which was well received. As the pulpit is vacant here there is some talk of extending a call to this gentleman but it is not as yet decided to do so.

Seven Thousand Miles via Auto. Early this week Oscar Domingo and the family, returned from a seven weeks trip in the west, they going to the Pacific and seeing the country between here and there. They visited Salt Lake City, Denver, Spokane, and a number of other places between here and the coast, and also visited in San Francisco and Oakland as well as Portland and the cities north. They stopped at Harbitt, Montana, where Mr. Domingo's sister, Mrs. John Swindle, where they stayed for three days, and while there the county fair was in progress, and as that is a wild place with many Indians, there was plenty of kick for the tender foot Oscar gives a very vivid description of the riding of wild horses by the Indians.

Will Put On the Work. The state lodge of the I. O. O. F. will meet at Beatrice during the week of October 16th and the three cities favored for the exemplifying the various degrees are Lincoln, 1st degree, Weeping Water, 2nd degree, and Omaha the 3rd degree. When the grand master was in Weeping Water at the district convention he was so well pleased with the excellence of the work which was done by the degree team here that he requested that this team give the 2nd degree and they will deliver the goods and no mistake at Beatrice on October 16th. All who can should be at this grand lodge meeting for you will surely know better just what Oddfellowship means after you have witnessed an exemplification of the work by the degree team of Weeping Water as well as by the teams from Lincoln and Omaha.

Rev. Hunter Remains Superintendent. The Rev. A. V. Hunter who has been the superintendent of the Hastings district of the Methodist church was re-elected to the fifth year as such. Rev. Hunter received a very flattering call from a church in Colorado, but with the re-election as superintendent at the Hastings district concluded it well to remain for the present. Rev. Hunter who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hunter of Weeping Water is a very much sought for minister and is making excellent success in the position which he now occupies. Also for the fifth consecutive year has the Rev. George E. Morey been returned to the charge at Weeping Water. Rev. Morey has made a success of the church here and has increased the membership and well as having the work here well in hand and the church and auxiliaries well organized for the most efficient work.

SULPHUR PLANT IS BURNED. Portland, Me.—Eight firemen were overcome by smoke and damage that may exceed $400,000 was caused late Monday by a fire which destroyed a huge sulphur warehouse on Portland's water front and required the combined efforts of seven fire departments to control. The Collier Plymouth of Boston was cut loose from the burning wharf with its superstructure and stern ablaze as flames curled out from under wharf pilings and blowed into high wooden runways used for transporting sulphur and coal from ship to shore. Tonight firemen had confined the fire to the destroyed warehouse and stood by to prevent its spread. Heavy clouds of sulphur smoke continued to roll over the water front.

WOMAN HIT BY PROPELLOR MAY DIE. York, Sept. 16.—Mrs. L. R. Braden of Waco precinct, who was injured at Hagood field Friday during the airport carnival, is in a critical condition at York hospital, with little hope for her recovery. An X-ray picture shows that Mrs. Braden's arm was shattered by the propeller of one airplane as she sought refuge under the wing of another during a slight storm.

OLD MAN HAS TROUBLES. Grand Island—Domestic trouble involving a shooting affair, a break with his family and journeys about the country are chapters in the life of John Keppies, eighty year old farm hand, whose wanderings led him into the hands of officials here several days ago. Keppies told officials he left his family in Wisconsin about twenty years ago, following a dispute over the sale of some land which culminated in the aged man being shot by a nephew. He was wounded in the neck and chest and lost one eye. His wanderings about the country followed. He finally wound up in Oregon. While there he got in touch with relatives and his sister, Mrs. Dan Gutzman of Cambridge, Neb., who asked him often to make his home with her, he related. Finally accepting the invitation he bought a ticket for Lincoln, but upon reaching Oxford, Neb., left the train, believing he could make the remainder of the journey better on foot. His journey ended at Doniphan last Thursday. Relatives came here Sunday but after a long conversation left Keppies to take him along. Officials hope to effect a reconciliation. In the meantime Keppies is nettled at being held in jail. "I can't stay here much longer," he told Sheriff Palmer Monday. "I'll kill me. Let me out where I can work and associate with other people and I'll be all right. I'm not a public charge and don't want to be." He added he could still pitch hay and do chores with the best of them.

AGED FARMER IS MARRIED. Council Bluffs, Ia.—David DeLair, eighty-two, blind and wealthy farmer of Oketo, Kas., and his former sister-in-law, Mrs. Rachael Cameron, sixty-nine, of Sumnerfield, Kan., were married here last Monday in the face of a Kansas court order, holding DeLair incompetent, and forbidding his wedding. They had attempted to wed at Marysville, Kan., Sept. 4, but were halted fifteen minutes before the ceremony was to begin by a court order issued by Probate Judge W. W. Potter on the application of DeLair's two sons, Claude and Russell of Oketo, who averred their father was incompetent and too old to marry. DeLair's property holdings consist of 342 acres of land near Oketo, and 150 acres under oil lease in Oklahoma. The bride owns 160 acres at Sumnerfield, where they plan to reside, living on the interest of their investments, they said. "We met forty-eight years ago at Mission Creek, Neb.," said the blind man and aged bridegroom. "We're going in this with our eyes open, however."
