Attorney-General Asks for Funds to Add to Legal and Clerical Forces

Washington—William D. Mitchell, attorney-general, has asked the Director of the Budget for additional funds to clear away court congestion as the result of a half year's elaborate survey of conditions in federal courts.

The need for additional appropriations are backed by the conference of senior circuit judges who concluded their annual meeting in Washington, and through their spokesman, William H. Taft, Chief Justice, stated that "we consider the estimate not more than reasonably sufficient to cover the expenditures which ought to be made."

Mr. Mitchell revealed that he has asked for approximately $9,027,000 for the coming year, as against $8,472,000 last year. Practically all the money will go for additional district attorneys, assistant district attorneys, marshals and clerks.

He explained that the national survey revealed that 29.95 per cent of all United States cases are now inactive, that is, no action or longer.

The national survey revealed that United States attorneys' offices are short-handed, due to increased litigation in civil and criminal cases, and that more attorneys and assistants are required to relieve congestion. Some offices are swamped with work. A slight increase in pay to federal attorneys is proposed. The inquiry last summer showed that overwork in some districts could be relieved by more clerks to handle the mechanical details of the judicial machine. A similar need for additional marshals was revealed.

"The survey revealed an urgent need for 41 additional assistant United States attorneys," Mr. Mitchell said. "However, in the interest of economy we have pared that down to 30 assistant attorneys, whom we hope to name if we receive the additional funds.

"With these appropriations there will be all the differences between men who are discouraged, overworked and underpaid, and the vim and vigor of a force that is adequately equipped in the battle to get the court dockets up to date."

The new funds will stymie up "the whole organization," Mr. Mitchell said. The proposed improvement in the federal prosecuting machinery is not the only move for greater efficiency in the Department of Justice since the inauguration of the Hoover Administration. A prison building program to cost $8,250,000 has been approved by the President. Mr. Mitchell is also asking for an additional $75,000 to meet increased work in the antitrust division of the department.

Very Charming Church Wedding at Elmwood

Miss Frances Thiel of Murdock United in Marriage to Mr. Otto D. Straub of Avoca.

Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's church in Elmwood, Miss Frances Thiel was united in marriage to Mr. Otto D. Straub, of Avoca, Nebraska, in presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

The bride was attended by her friend, Miss Edna Zoz of Murdock, and Mr. Raymond Straub of Omaha, attended his brother as best man.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Wattle, of Manley, using the beautiful ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with palms, roses and streamers of old rose and gold. The altar before which the marriage lines were read, was resplendent with flowers and lighted candles which shed a soft incandescent light upon the bridal party.

The Holy Trinity church of Avoca, under the direction of Miss Phyllis Straub, sang the nuptial hymn, most beautifully and at the offertory, Mrs. J. J. Cullen sang the "Ave Maria."

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white ivory satin and pearl trimmings. Her tulle veil was in cap effect and ornamental with rhinestones and billies of the valley. She carried an ivory prayer book and a shower bouquet of roses.

The groom and his best man wore the conventional black.

A bountiful wedding dinner was served at the Thiel home near Murdock, to all the guests.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. Albert Thiel of Murdock, and has grown to womanhood in this vicinity, and she has a large circle of friends who wish the happy couple a long, happy and prosperous life.

The groom is the youngest son of O. D. Straub of Avoca, and is a man of sterling worth, well worthy of the bride he has won.

After a short wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Straub will reside on a farm near Avoca.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Straub of Avoca, Neb.; Helen, Mary and Raymond Straub of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sand and children of Nebraska City; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Straub and family; Mr. and Mrs. Amel Straub and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cullen; Mr. Max Straub and children; Mr. David and Vincent Straub; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glaubitz, all of Avoca; Miss Phillips, Miss Mary Zimme and Adolph Zimmer of Nebraska City; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Straub of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Andie Zoz; and Rev. Father H. Wattle of Manley.

ATTEND NIGHT GAME

From Friday's Daily—

Last evening a group of the Plattsmouth football fans, Carl Keil, Fred A. Rothert, coach of the Plattsmouth high school, Howard Davis, Clement Wostear, Robert Flich, Douglas McCrary, motored out to Havelock where they witnessed the night football game between the Peru State Teachers college and the Nebraska Wesleyan and which resulted in a 7 to 0 victory for the Peruvians.

Bright and runs and tackle smashes by Shaffner and Zook accounted for the Peru showing. The first half was fairly even although Coach Alabaster's huskies passed up a chance to tally in round one when a Peru fumble was recovered on the Bobcat 15 yard line. The Coyotes tried two times thru the line for five yards, but two succeeding passes failed and the Grafmen gained the field on downs.

Harold Shaffner galloped to the only touchdown of the battle late in the third period after the Bobcats had started a goalward rush from their own 40 yard line. Hatcher place kicked the extra point.

Thompson's Pant Feature.

Thompson's excellent punting gave the Coyotes an edge in the first period of play, but this advantage went to Peru in the second and when the Graf tribe had the wind advantage. Rallsback's shifty returns and end sprints gave Peru life in the early part of the game, but the ball for the most part was in the center of the field.

Captain Brockman, Pike, Kerner and Tolft starred for the Blue and White, while Bonhan, Stanley and Chittenden were the main bulks of Wesleyan's defense.

Thompson, Reed and Briggs did most of the Wesleyan ball lugging, but most of the Coyote gains were on passes with McConaha on the receiving end. The teams battled to a scoreless tie at Peru last Saturday and the Thursday night tussle was a return argument.

Officers Make Second Arrest for Robbery

Ernest Verhule Arrested at Omaha Yesterday Afternoon for Part in Robbery

From Saturday's Daily—

Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Rex Young and Pat Reed arrested Ernest Verhule, former resident of this city, at Omaha, charging him with complicity in the robbing of the J. E. Lancaster store at Murray on last Monday morning.

The officers have been busy tracing all possible clues in the case in the hope of being able to line up the second party in the case who had been able to make his escape from the store at the time that Tom Martin was captured by Sheriff Reed and his force.

Several parties were under suspicion at the time but the officers were able to definitely trace their leads down until it was decided to have Verhule arrested and yesterday he was taken in custody at Omaha where he was finally located after some searching over the city by Deputy Young and Mr. Reed.

When arrested Verhule denied the charge and has continued to protest his innocence of the crime that he is alleged to have committed.

The officers returned last evening with their prisoner and he was lodged in the county jail to await his arraignment of the charge of breaking and entering, with which offense Tom Martin is also to be charged.

The robbery of the Lancaster store occurred at a very early hour on Monday morning and the robbers were detected at their work by Murray residents and who called Sheriff Reed and his deputies and who arrived at the scene of the crime while David Lancaster, son of the owner of the store and other Murray residents had prevented one of the robbers getting away although one had made his escape from the store after a gun fight with Young Lancaster. The man Martin was found hidden behind a counter as Deputy Young and Pat Reed entered the store and he was arrested and brought to this city where he was placed in jail and later charged with the crime of breaking and entering and to which charge he waived preliminary hearing and is now awaiting his trial in the district court.

There has been a number of these robberies at Murray in the past and the authorities feel well pleased that they have been so successful in running down the men who are believed to be responsible for this last attempt to loot the Murray store.

THE BEES WERE HOME

From Thursday's Daily—

For some time William J. Streight, the general undertaker and furniture dealer has been of the opinion that he had located a bee tree and yesterday afternoon he and Anton Hasson decided that they would investigate and accordingly they raided the tree and found the honey and also the fact that the busy bees were home and that the bees, even to the drones of their treasure house—the result—Mr. Streight has his eyes both badly puffed up and sundry other swellings on the face as a mark of the wrath of the bees. Anton, who was also assailed by the bees, did not suffer as greatly as his companion however and they are going out this afternoon to bring home the trophies of their skill.

Hogs—Steers—Sheep Say: "The Purina Pound Is Cheapest"

IT'S not what we say about Purina Chows that counts—it's what the animals say.
