Cass County Boy Tells of Winning Trip

Keith Althouse of Eagle Tells of His Work in Club Activities for Seven Years.

It was recently announced that I had won a trip to the eighth national 4-H boys and girls club congress held in connection with the American Royal Livestock Exposition in Kansas City.

I won my trip for outstanding accomplishments in club work over a period of seven years.

My first year in club work was in 1923. I had a Duroc Jersey sow and litter for my project. At the Eagle Junior Fair I won third on the litter, seventh on a junior boar pig and seventh on a junior sow. I did not show them at the state fair.

In 1924 I also had a Duroc Jersey sow and litter for my project. I showed at the Eagle Junior Fair again and I won seventh in the litter, seventh on junior boar pig and fifth on a junior sow. I filled out my reports and received an achievement certificate.

In 1925 I had a Hereford steer for my first baby beef project. I showed him at the Junior Fair at Eagle and I won first in Hereford steer class, first over all baby beefs, and sweepstakes over all. Of course I was surprised because it was my first year. I took my calf to the state fair and I won ninth in the state. I showed him in the class A Hereford steers. I sold my calf at the state fair and my check came to $123.73. About five months later I was surprised to hear that I had won a trip to the Boys and Girls club week at the Agricultural College at Lincoln, which I enjoyed very much.

I had a sow and litter for one of my club projects. This was the first time I had two projects at the same time. I showed them here at the Eagle Junior Fair. I showed a Duroc Jersey gilt which placed seventh. Duroc Jersey boar placed eighth, and the Duroc Jersey litter placed seventh. My pigs were not quite good enough to take to the state fair. Of course I finished out all of my reports and received the achievement certificate which the state club office gives.

In 1926 I kept right on with my club work. I had another Hereford steer for my project. I showed him at the Junior Fair where I won first in the Hereford steer class, and second showing for sweepstakes. I took him to the state fair and I did not get a placing on him, but the Hereford association gave $5 for showing. I also sold him here and received $130 for him.

I had the Duroc sow and litter again for my project and I received two fifths—one on the junior boar and the other on the gilt. I also won third on the litter. I kept three gilts for my project the next year.

I started out in the corn club this year and I won about as many prizes on the corn as I did on the beef or the sow and litter, because there were more places to enter it. I showed a ten ear sample of Reid's yellow dent at the Junior Fair and I got second on it. I also entered at the state fair which I received third prize. I kept some of it for seed the next year. I filled out all of my final club reports and received three achievement certificates.

The Eagle Blue Ribbon corn club made a booth at the state fair with which I helped. We had a good corn club that year and we won first on the booth.

In 1927 I was a member of the baby beef, sow and litter, and the Eagle Blue Ribbon corn club. I had a Hereford steer for my project.

I showed my calf at the Eagle Junior Fair and he placed fifth. I also showed him at the state fair but did not get any placings on him. I sold him for $156.00 that year.

I showed my pigs at the Eagle Junior Fair and I received first on both junior boar and junior sow and second on the litter. I showed them at the state fair and received eighth on the gilt, fifteenth on the boar and sold on the little which I thought was very good for the state.

The Eagle Aggie's had a corn show of their own that year and I entered it and received fourth on ten ear sample and fifth on single ear sample of Reid's yellow dent. I showed it at the Junior Fair again and received two fifths and one sweepstake. I showed the corn at the state fair and got third on it. I sent a ten ear sample and a single ear of Reid's yellow dent to the International Hay and Grain show at Chicago, but did not receive any prizes on it.

In 1928 I entered the potato club along with my other three projects. I had a Hereford steer for my baby beef project and I won fifth when I showed him at the Junior Fair. I also exhibited at the Nebraska state fair but did not win a prize. I sold him for $150.40. I also had an Angus heifer that year, but she was so wild so I sent her to Omaha and received $107.65 for her.

I joined the Eagle Livewire Pig club but my pigs did not grow good so I did not show them that year.

I showed a ten ear sample of Reid's yellow dent at the Eagle Junior Fair and also a single ear. I received two seconds on each. I sent a ten ear sample of Reid's yellow dent to the state fair and won second on it. I sent a ten ear sample and a single ear sample to the Crop Growers show at Plattsmouth and got fourth on the ten ear sample and second on single ear. I have helped on the corn booth at the state fair the last two years and we won second each year. I had another good record in corn club this year and was awarded another trip to the Boys and Girls Club Week which I enjoyed. I sent another sample of a ten ear and single ear to Chicago but received nothing.

My new project this year was potatoes. I showed them at the Junior Fair and received first on cobbles, sweepstakes on cobbles. I showed Early Ohios which I got two thirds on. I showed them at the state fair and got second on Early Ohios and first on cobbles.

In 1929 I was in the Eagle Blue Ribbon corn club, Eagle Prime Baby Beef, and Sow and Litter project. I had a Hereford heifer for my project this year and showed her at the Eagle Junior Fair and she placed fifth. I showed her at the state fair but did not receive any. I sold her for $105.25 this year. I recently bought two Angus steers to start the 1930 club season.

I showed a Duroc Jersey litter and a boar and gilt at the Junior Fair and I received second on the board, second on champion boar, second on gilt, and second on litter.

I showed some Reid's yellow dent corn at the Eagle Junior Fair, receiving third, and when I showed at the state fair I received second. I showed a ten ear sample of corn at the Nebraska Crop Growers association at Lincoln in January and got fourth on it.

I intend to keep on with my club work until my age limits me, because it helps a boy to get interested in farming and it also shows us how to keep farm records.

I also received sixteen achievement certificates, showing that I completed my records each year.

I have made a profit of about $600 during my seven years of club work, and I hope every boy enjoys club work as much as I do.

Eagle, Nebraska.

Progress of Women's Club Work is Told

Mrs. John F. Sipple of Baltimore, National Federation President Addresses Meeting.

Norfolk—Tracing the development of the women's club movement throughout the years, Mrs. John F. Sipple of Baltimore, president of the general federation, paid tribute to the pioneers of the club program and sketched a brilliant future for the years to come, in her address to the Nebraska federation in convention here Wednesday night.

She put at rest rumors concerning the purported dormancy of the movement by telling the Nebraska women that the influence of the federation had made vast inroads into heretofore untouched American communities during the past year.

The federation president turned back many pages of women's club history to recall for the convention, the stirring days when the movement gained its greatest impetus, and when the influence of a woman's organization was clearly shown.

"Peace to the world, and that is the objective of the world, can better come thru a complete understanding of its women," Mrs. Sipple reflected. The visit of Ishbel MacDonald with her father, the premier, the national president asserted, has stimulated not only America and Great Britain, but the entire world to a desire for a better understanding.

Home Problems Alike.

"Our home problems," she concluded, "are the same the world over and when women meet to discuss these problems they are meeting on common ground, their interests are mutual and their meeting is bound to pave the way for development and understanding of their varied problems."

Another officer of the general federation, Mrs. Charles Cyril Marshall of New York, chairman of the conservation movement, described the work of that unit in its objective of preserving America's natural beauty.

Also the program with Mrs. Sipple was Herbert Yenne, professor of drama at the state university, who gave a reading of "The Rivals."

Balloting on federation candidates will open the final session of the convention Thursday morning, adjournment being scheduled after the presentation of newly elected officers in the afternoon.

Mrs. Nuquist President.

A native Nebraskan, Mrs. A. F. Nuquist of Osceola, will direct the activities of the Nebraska federation of Women's Clubs for the next two years, succeeding Mrs. J. G. Ackerman of Alinsworth.

Alto virtually elected Wednesday when she was given the unanimous nomination of the convention, Mrs. Nuquist's name will be balloted upon at the election Thursday morning.

Elevation to the presidency comes to the Osceola woman after two years as vice president and member of the state executive board. During her years of association with the Nebraska federation, Mrs. Nuquist has many times been honored with office, having served as president of the Osceola unit on two occasions. Later she was president of the fourth district and subsequently served as state chairman of the county federation.

Will Visit Indian School.

Norfolk—The Genoa Indian school, recently the focal point of a series of complaints centered against its superintendent, Samuel B. Davis by a woman he described as a "disgruntled former employe," will be visited on Thursday by Mrs. Joseph Linden Smith, of New York, chairman of the general women's club federation Indian committee.

Following her appearance here Wednesday before the state federation, Mrs. Smith was taken to Genoa by Superintendent Ann Mrs. Davis. The latter was a delegate to the state convention. After visiting the school, Mrs. Smith will go south, first stopping for an investigation at several Oklahoma federal Indian institutions.

"We are more than glad to have Mrs. Smith with us and anyone else who may wish to come," Superintendent Davis said.

In speaking before the convention Mrs. Smith urged a more genuine understanding of Indians affairs, declaring that the greatest need of the Indian is education and health.
