'Lawless Legion' Gives 'Ken' His Greatest Role

Star Leads 10,000 Head of Cattle Over Lawless Plains in Thrilling Outdoor Adventure.

The picture at the Parmele theatre Friday and Saturday has been without a doubt designed and constructed for audience purposes only. It does not contain any special moral lesson nor does it portray a phase of history but for real pulse throbbing thrills and action it beats anything this reviewer has ever seen.

All of this refers to "The Lawless Legion" in which Ken Maynard and his horse Tarzan are the principal factors. This western star seems to have won a wide range of fans for there was not only a huge crowd but were of all ages, young, near young, and those not so young, and all are enthusiastic in claims. Some even applaud when some spectacular bit of daredevil work was enacted. There is no question this boy can ride.

"The Lawless Legion" is presented in such a novel manner that one doesn't stop to think about it except to wonder how Ken can do the things he does and still live to draw his paycheck.

The story tells of a community, because of drought find it necessary to find better grazing lands for their cattle. The only thing that stands in the way is a band of organized and notorious cattle thieves who have been operating through a particular stretch of land thru which the cattle must pass. The community in a mass meeting decide to trust their pooled herds with a man then resting in jail because of disturbing the peace.

The cattle are pooled and (there must be all of ten thousand) entrusted to the young man (Ken) and in turn he is tricked out of the entire herd. Of course he loses his popularity almost immediately, but he sets out to get them back again—he does too, but herein lies the story.

In the bandits' rendezvous he and Tarzan give the audience some real wild west riding. There are two particularly fine pieces of stunt work in addition to the fine cattle scenes and that is Ken when he is tied to a wild horse with his head dangling about the horse's heels. The other is a close vick of Ken driving a pair of fast running horses while standing on an iron rod connecting two wheels. Others in the cast of "The Lawless Legion" give adequate performances. They include Nora Lane, Paul Hurst, J. P. McGowan, Frank Rice and Howard Truesdell. Howard Brown as the director has woven a fast interesting story in one of the pictures of its kind.

SCHOOLS TO HAVE VACATION

From Wednesday's Daily—The students of the Plattsmouth city schools are to enjoy a vacation on Thursday and Friday of this week as the teaching force of the schools will be busy in attendance at the district meetings of the Nebraska Teachers' association. The large part of the Plattsmouth teachers will attend the meeting of district No. 2 at Omaha, where a number of the local teachers are having a part in the programs of the meetings. The schools will close for the week this afternoon and giving the students a four day rest period while the pedagogues are attending school at the convention.

LIGHTNING DOES DAMAGE

During the severe rain Tuesday afternoon shortly before 2 o'clock, lightning struck at the residence of C. O. Carlberg in the south part of the city and did considerable damage. The lightning or the vibration of the thunder caused the breaking of a window in the home and from near which Mrs. Carlberg had moved just a few moments before the bolt struck. A mirror in the house was also broken by the lightning bolt and the family very badly frightened by their experience with the force of nature's electrical power.

NEW BOY ARRIVES

Sunday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blunt was gladdened by the arrival of a fine eight pound son who comes to join the family circle. The mother and little one are doing very nicely.

Weeping Water Commercial Club Has Large Meeting

Committees Appointed to Look After the Various Departments of the Organization.

On Friday the Weeping Water Commercial club, responding to the call of the President J. J. Meier, met at the Rest Haven Hotel dining rooms where they were served with an excellent supper, of which most partook with much pleasure. Following the completion of the supper the meeting was called to order by the president, who stated in a very business-like way the needs of the city, and stated what might be done to make the business interests better, as well as the social and other interests, such as schools, and churches. Rev. Ralph Pickham, new minister of the Congregational church, was present and was asked to give his impression of the city. He said in substance, that he was greatly pleased as well as his good wife, that their lot had fallen in Weeping Water, where already they had formed many strong friendships, that they were liking the town and the work, and also stated that he and wife were anxious to do all they could for the best interests of the city.

The matter of straightening out of the highway passing through Weeping Water was discussed, and the corner in the north portion of the town just at the end of the pavement leading north was discussed, and the matter of making the corner wider at the homes of J. D. Ambler and Carl Day, which would do away with what is now a dangerous corner. Other matters were taken up and the following committees were appointed:

Agricultural—Dr. W. H. Tuck, D. D. Waincoat and Carl Day. Roads—G. R. Binger, J. M. Teegarden and Dr. M. U. Thomas. Membership—C. L. Gibson, Rev. Geo. Morey and L. P. Wolcott. Band and entertainment—W. L. Hobson, O. C. Hinds and Henry Crozier. Industrial and Public Affairs—C. E. Tefft, H. S. Meyer, John Crozier, D. D. Waincoat.

Publicity Committee—Charles I. Seeley, Rev. Ralph Pickham, H. E. Brookings and George Spohn. Canvassing and Soliciting—S. P. Day, Frank Domingo, and Chris Rasmussen. Civic Improvements—Dr. F. W. Kruse, Mable Dudley, Agnes Rough, Mrs. L. P. Woolcott, Mrs. C. Wilkins.

The committee on membership, and to which has been added all the members of the club, shall be to increase the membership to one hundred before the close of the winter, and also to urge all who are interested in a Better Weeping Water to become members and go to work for the best interests of every feature of the city which will help to make the town a better place for business, a better place to live, and a better place to educate their children, to encourage all laudable enterprises, and to foster the churches and fraternal societies.

Fred H. Gorder, county commissioner, was present and explained that the work on the new strip of roadway from Weeping Water to the Red Ball highway, four miles north had about been completed and is now ready for the gravel. The meeting in a manner partook of a fiftieth year celebration of the event of Thomas Edison inventing the electric light, and applying electricity to the work of the world. V. T. Betts and Dale Pilling of the Nebraska Lighting company were present and their brief and authentic history of that great and eminent American, Thomas Edison, was given. The Nebraska Lighting company provided the decorations and lighting for the room for the meeting.

One of the objects of the club is to have a better band in the future than the city has had in the past. If such a thing is possible, for the bands which have been a part and parcel of the civic entertainment have been excellent.

RAIN CHECKS ACTIVITIES

The rain that has fallen since Monday has had the effect of checking a large part of the community activities, the road construction program being held up for the past three days and with little prospect of much improvement for the rest of the week and the bad weather has also held back the work on the new Missouri river bridge. Many of the farmers were preparing to start the corn shucking season but the rain has made it impossible to get in the fields. The soft roads have also caused much annoyance to the traveling public and local people who have found that it is far from a pleasant task to try and get out on the highways in this kind of weather. Not the least the weather man has put the "kibosh" on many of the box socials and entertainments that were arranged in the rural schools of the county and disappointing the teachers and pupils, as well as the patrons of the school. But all will be well by and bye as the sun cannot always remain behind or the rain make travel impossible.

BOX SOCIAL POSTPONED

The box social that was to have been held at the school house in district No. 42, of which Miss Elizabeth Nohng is teacher, on Friday evening, has been postponed. The announcement of the date for the social will be given later.

Junior Class to Present Play at High School

"Little Women" will be the Title of the Play Given by the Talented Young People.

From Monday's Daily—The Junior class of Plattsmouth high school will present "Little Women," a four act drama as their annual class production at the High school auditorium on the evening of November 19th. The play is written by Marian De Forest and is made up of three indoor and one outdoor acts with a cast of seven girls and five boys. The production will be directed by Miss Mary Jane Tidball of the English department, who has been so highly successful in presenting plays for Plattsmouth High school.

Tryouts were held on Tuesday evening and the cast was announced yesterday. Practice will begin immediately. In former years, the Junior play has been held after the holidays. But due to the fact that so many activities must be crowded in to the second semester, it was thought advisable to hold this event prior to the holidays.

The cast is as follows:
Joe.....Hazel Harkins
Amy.....Maxine Cloidt
Meg.....Vestetta Robertson
Beth.....Josephine Janda
Mrs. March.....Constance Rea
Aunt March.....Jean Hayes
Hannah.....Carlyne Thomas
Laurel.....James Begley
Mr. Laurence.....Robert Bestor
John Brooke.....Towner Livingston
Mr. March.....Richard Spangler
Prof. Bhaer.....Paul Iverson

BOX SOCIAL POSTPONED

From Wednesday's Daily—The box social and entertainment which was to have been held at the Cottonwood school house this evening, has been postponed until some date next week which will be announced by Miss Marjorie Joyce, the teacher.

STILL SUFFERING FROM FALL

From Monday's Daily—Mrs. R. W. Cavender, who suffered a very severe fall the past week at her home in the Wetenskap building, is still confined to her bed as the result of the bruises that she has suffered and which makes her condition most painful.

Red Cross to Start Annual Membership Campaign to Recruit Members for the Various Chapters Will Start November 11th

The American Red Cross, which has well been termed America's answer to humanity's challenge, is soon to start the annual membership drive which is to extend from Armistice day to Thanksgiving and in which the people of the nation, state, county and city, will be given the opportunity of entering the ranks of this great service organization.

The only source of income that the Red Cross has in the peace time activities is that which comes from its membership drives and special calls that some overpowering disaster makes necessary, but the immediate relief and the prompt rush of supplies to the scenes of disaster comes from the funds that are accumulated in the membership campaigns such as is now coming on.

In the days of wartime activity there was no stint of the giving and millions were recruited cheerfully and wisely expended by this greatest of all service organizations in every part of the war work in hospitals, treatment, service to the soldiers and sailors and providing many comforts to them.

In the Plattsmouth chapter there are a pitifully few that belong in a community of this size, and the many relief cases that they have been able to handle in the past ten years and which include several heavy contributions to national disaster funds as well as in the Louisville flood relief, has been possible through the fact that the close of the war found the chapter with considerable funds on hand that have made possible to feed a great many, care for children that were needy and other relief work that required immediate attention and no delay to red tape or the slow process of other relief would have allowed.

In the membership drive a small part of the membership fee is returned to the post receiving the membership and everyone that is enrolled will receive a little more opportunity for the local chapter to lend aid to worthy cases that otherwise they would not be able to do. The funds that are on hand will not last always and makes necessary some steps to maintain this fund that is valuable in community relief work as well as being available in great disasters.

The work of the Red Cross is not fully appreciated until some great calamity that brings want, destitution and driving thousands from their homes occurs and then this organization is first on the job, its services being called upon by the president of the United States, governors of states and mayors of the cities that may have suffered from some cyclone visitation, and there is always a ready response and supplies and needed aid is always hurried to the scene by the Red Cross.

At the time of the Louisville flood the Red Cross was active in our own county and in the tornado and cyclone swept areas of the state organization has been found giving active service when needed. A dollar invested in a Red Cross membership is one of the greatest aids to humanity that is possible to give, so when the call comes to join, make this a matter for your consideration and if you are not reached by a solicitor send to the finance officer of your chapter the membership fee and be a soldier in the cause of humanity.

BAZAAR GREAT SUCCESS

From Wednesday's Daily—The bazaar which has been given by the ladies of the St. John's Catholic church for the past two days at the American Legion community building, has proven one of the most successful that the ladies have given and despite the unfavorable weather conditions that has prevailed, the attendance and the success of the event was far greater than that of last year.

The opening feature was the supper on Monday evening and where some 430 were served during the evening with the splendid menu that the ladies had prepared and on this evening as last night the needlework, candy and Bingo booths all did a fine business and the candy and needlework were all disposed of as well as the home made home made baking was offered for sale.

Last evening the ladies were disappointed in the fact that the Herb Smith orchestra of Lincoln which was to have played for the dance was unable to reach here on account of road conditions and the ladies made a very pleasing substitution in the Knites of Melody of which Charles Nowacek is the director. Despite the rain and uncomfortable weather condition a very large number attended the dance and had a most enjoyable time. The prize waltz was won by Chester Lund and Miss Helen Byers for their skillful presentation of this type of dancing.

APPRECIATE CHORAL UNION

From Wednesday's Daily—Despite the inclement weather yesterday, the rehearsal of The Messiah was well attended last evening. This is a fair indication of the appreciation of the members of the Choral Union of the opportunity to take part in the presentation of the "Sweetest Story Ever Told." On account of the impassable condition of the roads Prof. Logan could not attend, but Miss Lindsay, Director of Music of Plattsmouth City Schools filled his place admirably. We hope by united, earnest endeavor to put Plattsmouth near the head of the class in the finale.
