

Nehawka

Louis Dunkack, living west of Murray was a visitor in Nehawka and was looking after the sale of Thrift Certificates.

Nick Klausens completed the picking of his corn on last Tuesday and found that it was making on the average just fifty bushels to the acre.

Miller and Gruber were over to Weeping Water and Louisville on last Monday, where they were called to look after some business matters for a short time.

Mrs. John Hanson, who is at the hospital at Omaha is reported as doing nicely following the operation which she underwent for the restoration of her health.

Charles Heebner and daughter Ivo, Granville Heebner and wife, were in attendance at the wedding of Miss Mildred Fleming and Albert Stoll at Plattsmouth Wednesday evening.

Stirling Harris, living north of Union, on what is known as the Wm. Chaifant place, completed the picking of his corn last week and received an average of fifty-two bushels to the acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rough were over to Elmwood on last Sunday where they were attending the funeral of the late Wm. De Les Derrier, the life long resident of that place and a most capable attorney.

John Begley and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Tabuska all of Omaha, were at the funeral on last Sunday of Mrs. Elizabeth Hinrichs, which was held at Nebraska City, and as was also M. R. Carroll of Bruning.

Mrs. Mary Mast, better known as Grandmother Mast, who has been so ill for some time past, and who is being cared for by her son, Arnold Mast, who also has a nurse for the mother is reported as being much better at this time.

Henry Schumaker who is in the hospital at Omaha where he underwent an operation last week is reported as getting along very satisfactorily, and who is to have a second operation soon, which it is hoped will entirely restore his health.

Mrs. G. C. Hoback, who went to Omaha where she had all of her teeth extracted is getting along nicely and when she shall have recovered from the ordeal will have some artificial ones made and which will be a better aid to health.

Walter J. Wunderlich, who is an ex-service man, and who had a very fine shot, was over to Greenwood on last Tuesday afternoon, where he went to attend the American Legion shoot which was held in Greenwood on both Tuesday and Wednesday.

County Commissioner C. F. Harris of Union was looking after some county business in Nehawka on last Tuesday morning and also went to Weeping Water in the afternoon to look after the condition of the newly graded roadway north of town which is soon to be gravelled.

Mrs. Alva Marshall who has been visiting in Nehawka and guest at the home of Frank P. Sheldon and wife, while here, departed with the husband for their home at Fort Lupton on Tuesday of this week. They are expecting to make their home in Oklahoma for the winter.

The Ladies Aid society was meeting on last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. S. Rough, where they looked after the business calling them together as well as most pleasantly enjoying the occasion. Mrs. Rough added to the pleasure of the occasion by serving a delightful luncheon.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lennan, living southeast of Nehawka was blessed on last Sunday afternoon by the gift from the stock of a very fine girl baby, which was received with much gladness, which now hovers over the household. The little lady and her mother are getting along nicely.

W. E. Maxfield and family of Weeping Water, Mr. Maxfield being a line-man for the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company are working out of Weeping Water, and a very clever workman at that, enjoyed the day last Sunday with their friends, Mr. Albert Wolfe and daughter, Miss Gladys, and the excellent dinner which Miss Gladys served.

Granville Heebner was in town on last Tuesday morning for some lumber to construct some receptacle for the temporary holding of his corn. He has a number of people picking for him and is pretty well satisfied with the yield as some of it is making much over seventy bushels to the acre. He has some one hundred and sixty acres and it will average over fifty bushels to the acre clear thru.

Bandit Wrecks Train and Robs Its Passengers

Just Before Reaching Cheyenne, Wyoming, Portland Limited Is Derailed.

The Portland Limited, Union Pacific No. 17, which left Omaha at 9:05 o'clock Monday morning, was derailed just east of Cheyenne, Wyo., wrecked and its 27 passengers robbed just east of Cheyenne Wyo., about 10:45 o'clock Monday night.

Although all seven cars left the rails, due to the removal of all spikes holding one rail length, no passenger was reported injured. The engine and tender remained on the track.

Only one robber is known to have been seen, but the belief is that he had accomplices. He went through the derailed cars, coolly robbing the passengers individually, according to Union Pacific information, and then escaped with loot which has not been estimated.

Tekamah Woman Aboard. Included in a group of passengers taken into Cheyenne after the robbery was Mrs. Dora Witt of Pittsburg, Mrs. C. Bailey of Charlevoix, Mich., and W. B. Lydick of Tekamah, Neb.

Mrs. Witt was outside the car and along with other passengers warned by a porter, saved most of her valuables. Some of the women quoted the robber as saying: "I've got a wife and two kids at home and the railroad won't give me work."

The scene of the wreck and robbery is about three miles east of Cheyenne, at a point known as "Three-Mile bridge." Here there is a short trestle across the Burlington tracks on a curve. When the train struck the loosened rail half a mile east of the bridge the engine and tender passed over safely, but the baggage car, diner, day coach, three sleepers and club observation car left the rails, remaining upright.

Meanwhile the engine, it is reported, sensing the holdup, uncoupled the engine and sped into Cheyenne, where he spread the alarm.

Immediately the Laramie county sheriffs force sped to the scene, and sheriffs in all parts of southern Wyoming, western Nebraska, northern Colorado and western Kansas were notified. Scores of Cheyenne citizens also were recruited to assist in the manhunt.

Good Description Obtained. A good description of the bandit was provided officers by his victims. He was described as about five feet seven inches, 22 years of age and weighing 135 pounds. He is of slim build, has a very thin face, brown eyes, light blond hair and a "deep and very rough voice."

Passengers said the robber was wearing blue overalls and that the pockets were sewed with noticeable red thread. He also had on a blue shirt, a light gray cap, and a blue sweater. He brandished a .38 caliber pistol.

The passengers were taken by the railroad to Cheyenne at once, where a special train was made up and proceeded westward with a total delay in running time of only one hour and five minutes.

Some of the passengers expressed the belief that there was more than the one robber, but their reports were conflicting.

Baggage Not Molested. A claim agent for the railroad boarded the new train at Cheyenne, and was expected to furnish a report from some western point this morning as to the approximate amount of loot. The robber made no attempt to enter the baggage car, it was said, but it was added that this car contained only the personal baggage of the passengers.

Due to the fact that the cars went off on the south side of the west-bound track, all traffic on the line was tied up by the derailment. Two wrecking trains were sent to the scene, however, and expected to clear the track in a few hours.

A special train made up at Omaha, and bearing W. M. Jeffers, vice-president in charge of operations, Matt McCourt, chief special agent for the Union Pacific, and a staff of special agents and investigators, left Omaha at 12:30 a. m. for Cheyenne.

The only casualty resulting from the incident was a sprained back suffered by a Negro maid employed on the train when she slipped and fell when alighting from the car after the robbery. She was taken to a Cheyenne hospital.

This is the first train robbery in Wyoming since the days of the notorious Bill Carlisle, now serving a term in the state penitentiary for robbing Union Pacific trains, once with a toy glass pistol, west of Cheyenne.

STARTED LIE ANEW Montreal, Canada, Nov. 24.—John D. Donovan, 32, decided to start lie anew and disappeared from his home in Deatur, Ill., by arranging an apparent drowning. His wife ordered a thorough search of the river.

Donovan came here, leaving property in Deatur valued at 100 thousand dollars. He might have remained undiscovered for years, but he became ill and, believing he was going to die, wrote to his wife.

He is recovering, but he will not return to Deatur.

LICENSE PLATES FOR 1930 TEND TO DARKER HUES

Sixteen color combinations will be represented in 1930's fashion parade of license plates, with black on orange, white on black, and yellow on black, preforming it, it is found in a survey just completed by the American Motorist magazine. Thirteen states and the District of Columbia have retained their 1929 combinations, reversing the background and lettering. A trend toward darker colors with an effort to standardize the color schemes of the various commonwealths, is noted in the survey.

Oregon is the only state in the Union not announcing its license plate colors for 1930 because of a new system for licensing cars from July to July. Windshield stickers will be used to indicate payment of registration fees until the new practice is put into effect.

The 1930 colors for license plates in the 48 states and the District of Columbia follow:

Alabama	Black on Red
Arizona	Black on Light Gray
Arkansas	Gold on Bright Blue
California	Black on Orange
Colorado	Deep Yellow on Black
Connecticut	White on Blue
Delaware	Gold on Blue
District of Columbia	Black on Red
Florida	White on Dark Green
Georgia	Black on Gray
Idaho	Black on Orange
Illinois	White on Black
Iowa	White on Dark Blue
Indiana	Yellow on Blue
Kansas	White on Black
Kentucky	Black on Yellow
Louisiana	Yellow on Green
Maine	White on Red
Maryland	White on Green
Massachusetts	White on Red
Michigan	Black on Yellow
Minnesota	Black on Aluminum
Mississippi	Red on Blue
Missouri	White on Red
Montana	Black on Orange
Nebraska	Cream on Cobalt Blue
Nevada	Orange on Black
New Hampshire	White on Dark Green
New Jersey	White on Gray
New Mexico	Gold on Black
New York	Yellow on Black
North Carolina	White on Maroon
North Dakota	Green on Orange
Ohio	White on Maroon
Oklahoma	Black on Yellow
Oregon	White on Black
Pennsylvania	Blue on Gold
Rhode Island	White on Black
South Carolina	White on Black
South Dakota	Black on Yellow
Tennessee	Blue on Silver
Texas	Blue on Yellow
Utah	White on Black
Vermont	Maroon on Old Gold
Virginia	Orange on Black
Washington	Green on White
West Virginia	Black on Gray
Wisconsin	Black on Gray
Wyoming	White on Black

URGE PLANTING OF MORE TREES Ames, Ia.—Nov. 25.—A large part of Iowa's unproductive land should be put back into timber, according to county agents who answered a federal survey recently conducted in this state, the results of which have been received by L. T. Bode, extension forester at Iowa State college.

Asked what per cent of the unproductive land should be in silviculture, 11 out of the 73 county agents answering stated 90 to 100 per cent, 20 answered 50 to 75 per cent and 27 answered 10 to 25 per cent. Few counties have been adopting this program, the report indicates. Twenty-nine out of 58 reported that 60 per cent of the unproductive land had been planted to forests while 21 reported that "little" had been planted. Two agents reported 10 to 25 per cent and three reported 50 per cent or more.

The amount of land suitable only for pasture or woodlots varies in different counties, ranging from 10 per cent in some counties to 20 per cent in southern Iowa. This land would return a good profit after a period of years if put in forests, according to Mr. Bode. Farmers in general realize the value of windbreaks, Mr. Bode says, but not the financial value of timberland.

HENRY FORD OUT OF OFFICE Dearborn — Henry Ford Monday night submitted his resignation as a member of the Dearborn board of education after a resolution was introduced to declare his post vacant because he did not attend board meetings. Mr. Ford had been a member of the board for eighteen years, but had not attended meetings for several years, sending an employe to represent him. The representative was not allowed to take an active part in the meetings.

Michael Korte, one of the trustees, said after Monday night's session that after members learned that some taxpayers objected because Mr. Ford refused to take an active part in the administration of school affairs of the district, Ernest G. Liebold, Ford's secretary, was approached to learn whether Mr. Ford would resign.

The written resignation was presented by William Gregory, an official of the Ford Motor company, and accepted with only one negative vote.

WEEPING WATER

Peter H. Miller was visiting at the home of James Miller for Thanksgiving day, where they all enjoyed the occasion very much.

Mrs. F. E. Wood was a visitor for the day on last Friday at Plattsmouth where she was guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mark.

James M. Teegarden was called to Union on last Monday to look after some business matters, he driving over to the hustling little city in his car.

Business called W. L. Hobson to Union for a portion of the day on last Tuesday, he driving down and finding the roads fine, as well as the day.

A project meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Sarah Kropp on last Tuesday which was well attended and which was also attended by Miss Jessie Baldwin.

Wm. Ash was a visitor in Omaha on last Monday night and where he was visiting with friends and also was attending the department where he was held there.

Early this week John Hopkins purchased a new ten-twenty McCormick Deering tractor from the Farmers Union store, which he will use on his farm the coming season.

George Towle who was kept to his home and bed for the past week, is so he can be out again and is feeling quite a bit better. His many friends are well pleased to know that he is able to be out again.

Fred Buckman of Avoca was a visitor in Weeping Water and was a visitor with his friends, W. W. Dowler, G. Rehmever and Anton Jourgensen, as well as looking after some business while here.

C. Maxfield and family were over to Nehawka for the day on last Sunday where they were the guests at the home of Albert Wolfe, for the day and dinner. Mrs. Wolfe is manager of the telephone office there.

Henry Mogensen, S. P. Day, Elmer Kintner, Al Meyers, Ralph Keckler, Y. M. Simmons were over to Omaha last Monday evening where they were in attendance at the sporting bout which was staged there at that time.

T. W. Fleming and wife, I. L. Markland and wife were over to Plattsmouth on last Wednesday evening of this week where they went to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Mildred Fleming, who married Mr. Elmer Stoll of near Nehawka that evening.

Wm. Ash and wife and daughter, Miss Augusta, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyne Hany were all over to Falls City on last Sunday where they were spending the day at the home of Alfred Kamala, Mrs. Kamala being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ash.

Mrs. Haslam who has been at the hospital for some time in Omaha, where she has been receiving treatment for her health was able to return home early this week and is feeling much better. She was at the Methodist hospital for a time.

Miss Jessie Baldwin, assistant county agent was a visitor at Nehawka on last Tuesday where she was holding a project meeting at the home of Mrs. Miller Christensen, and where a large number of ladies were present to listen to the plans which were promulgated.

Mrs. Roy Ward who has been in Omaha for the past week and where she underwent an operation for appendicitis last Friday is thought to be getting along nicely at this time. Roy was over to see the wife on last Tuesday, finding the wife doing nicely. She was very serious for a time.

On last Monday evening the Senior class of the Weeping Water high school held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cole, where they also entertained the teachers of the high school, and where all enjoyed the evening most pleasantly. Mrs. Cole served delicious refreshments.

Coatman and Skinner of Alvo were over early this week and received a new Chevrolet truck of the Dowler Brothers, which was sold by Frank Plymale and which Mr. Coatman will use in connection with his business, that of hardware and implements. Mr. Coatman has made an excellent choice of a truck for his business.

John S. Williams and wife, the bakers, and their daughter, Miss Hazel, were over to Omaha on last Sunday where they spent the day with their daughters, Misses Cassie and Vera for the day, and where they enjoyed the day most pleasantly. The daughter will spend Thanksgiving day with the parents in Weeping Water.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Burch will entertain at their home in Weeping Water for Thanksgiving day, and will have their cousin, County Judge B. E. Eyear and family of Tekamah. The turkey will be ready and roasted to a turn and with the other good things to eat the guests will surely be pleased with the excellent dinner which they will receive.

Alva Marshall who has been employed at Mitchell, South Dakota, during the interim since June and having completed his work there stopped for a day at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Marshall, and was accompanied by the wife who has been visiting at Nehawka for some time. They departed on last Tuesday morning for their home at Fort Lupton, Colorado. They will expect to spend their winter in Oklahoma.

Elmer Michelson, the proprietor of the Weeping Water Variety store was a visitor in Omaha on Wednesday of this week, where he was making purchases for the store, where the goods are going out very rapidly.

However, they are keeping the stock well filled for the season. When you think of Santa Claus, think of the Weeping Water Variety store. They have been very successful in the disposal of a large number of the Baltimore and Diplomat, two excellent circulators, which warms the whole house and also saves on the coal bill at the same time. See their ad for the radio, which is a wonder, in this issue.

Entertained Other Members. Misses Constance Cruickshank and Miss Mabel Harris, and Mrs. Carlton Albright were hostesses at a party which was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Marshall, on last Tuesday evening when these three entertained the remainder of the faculty of the Weeping Water schools. A most delightful evening was spent, and which was heightened by the elegant luncheon which was served by these three instructors. Bridge was indulged in and this added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Expect to Gravel Soon. The matter of the graveling of the three miles north of Weeping Water just now is a matter of good weather. County Commissioner C. F. Harris was in Weeping Water on last Tuesday afternoon and went over the road north of town and found it in very good condition for the spreading of gravel. He expected to take the matter up with the contractor in Nebraska City and should the weather remain mild for a short time the work of spreading the gravel will be hurried along. Were the gravel on the road, the weather could then turn cold and the road could be used and by spring when it would be needed the worst, it would be pretty well broken in.—But the next day it snowed.

Thanksgiving at Hastings. On last Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hunter departed with their auto for Hastings where they are expecting to spend about a week visiting. They will enjoy Thanksgiving day at the home of their son, Rev. A. V. Hunter and family, and Earl Hunter and the family of Longmont, Colo., and another son of Mr. Hunter who resides in Hastings, thus making the family circle complete, and where they will surely have an excellent time. Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hunter will remain for a week.

Making Many Repairs. Howard E. Brookings, who believes in having things as handy and comfortable as possible has been making some improvements at the Liberty theatre, and has placed a new screen in the theatre which will materially add to the better reception of the pictures cast on it. He has materially added to the heating plant which insures good comfortable temperature at the play house when there is a show on.

Going Over the Top. The Red Cross, under the care of Rev. Ralph Pickham, pastor of the Congregational church, is surely lumping, and is going over the top in a way that makes every one who answers the roll call feel good. See Rev. Pickham if you want to boost the matter along. It is worthy.

Worthy Business Enterprise. The Williams Bakery, which has been here now for over a year is proving one of the very best businesses in town, comparative to the investment. [Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams are artists when it comes to baking of any kind, and besides that they are keeping an excellent baker. Try their bread, pies and cakes and see if you ever tasted anything in this line better, or even as good.] This institution supplies much of the bread which is used here and makes as good an article as can be had elsewhere. Not alone this, but is a home institution and should receive the hearty co-operation of all who make their home here.

Keep Open Evenings. The Weeping Water Variety store will keep open during the evenings from now until January 1st. This is to accommodate the Christmas shoppers. The store is beginning to assume the appearance of headquarters for Santa Claus, and sure they have

Urges Drive to Rush Work on Iowa Road

Southwestern Units Advised to Organize in Efforts; Hope it Will Be Paved During 1930

Red Oak, Ia., Nov. 26.—Southwestern Iowa citizens interested in seeing the completion of paving No. 34 across southern Iowa should unite in presenting their cause to the state highway commission, advises C. W. Bond, president of the Iowa division of the Harding Highway association in a letter to Harry Draper, county chairman.

In his letter to Mr. Draper, Mr. Bond urges that a vigorous campaign be made for the completion of this stretch of highway in 1930.

"We have made a good showing so far, let's finish the job. Unless we keep hammering away we may not get our roads completed in 1930," he says.
