Mrs. Arthur Dinges has not been enjoying a siege of the grip but far from it, there was no enjoyment in the ill which the grip caused.

Wm. Kitzel, who was over to Lincoln, where he went to consult with the physician, returned home again on last Thursday and is getting along fair.

Messrs Edward Edwards, Lyle Miller and Ellis Mickel were all over to Elmwood on last Wednesday, where they were attending a farm demonstration.

Mrs. Joseph Armstrong who was so ill for a time, is reported as being much better and is again, which is pleasing to her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cashner, of Perry, Oklahoma, were called to Lincoln on account of the death of the late Mrs. Fred Dremmer and also visited with friends in Alvo, Elmwood and Plattsmouth.

Frank E. Cook and wife were over to Lincoln, where they attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Fred Dremmer, who was a cousin of Mr. Cook, the bustal being at the beautiful Elmwood cemetery.

Ralph Snavely, Jesse Brant and Kenneth Bailey were enjoying a dance at Ashland on Monday of last week, they all making the trip over in the professor's car. They tell of having had an excellent time.

Glen Armstrong and family, of South Bend, were over to see the folks last Sunday and enjoyed the visit here very much. They returned via their auto and found the traveling very cold, stopping for a time at Murdock for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Stone, of Los Angeles were visiting for a number of days at the home of their parents, E. M. Stone and wife, of near Alvo, and also with other relatives and friends. They also were guests with many relatives near Plattsmouth and Murdock for a time.

Edward Rosenow, of near Elmwood was a visitor in Alvo on last Sunday, coming over to visit for the day with his brother, Charles F. Rosenow and his mother, Grandmother Rosenow, who is making her home at that of her son, Charles F. Rosenow, this winter.

Paul Coatsman shelled and delivered corn to the Rehmeier elevator last Wednesday and found the weather surely cold and snappy enuf for any purpose. Still it made the grain shell the better and Paul was pleased to get the grain shelled and the job out of the way, even if it was cold.

Last Wednesday Simon Rehmeier was a visitor in Kearney, where he went to see a specialist regarding the condition of his health. Simon has been troubled with a slight indisposition for some time and as it was giving some more trouble and he had an opportunity to get away, he went to consult the specialist.

George Schesley has added to the comfort, convenience and service of himself and the family a new Chevrolet, which he selected in the coach model, and which will make an excellent means of transportation for George and the family. They made the purchase through the Dowler Bros. distributing agency, of Weeping Water.

Notice to Creditors
I wish to announce that I have disposed of my hardware business, and will remain at the store until the first of February to receive the payment of all bills owing me through the store business. All owing me will take notice and call and settle their accounts, as I am now out of that line of business.

R. M. COATMAN,
Alvo, Nebraska.

Charles Godbey Improving
Mrs. Floyd E. Dickenson took her father, Charles Godbey, to Lincoln, on last Wednesday, notwithstanding the cold weather which prevailed, to see the doctor, whom he has visited occasionally. Mr. Godbey is making some substantial improvement and a fact which his friends are very well pleased to note.

Get a Twice-a-Week Paper
Of two articles of merchandise costing the same amount of money, naturally you would choose the one that would give you the greatest service or value. And it should be the same way when you take a newspaper. The Journal reaches its large family of readers twice each week, instead of once. Yet it costs you no more than any country weekly paper.

Twelve, fourteen and even sixteen pages of reading matter a week—all of it live news, including separate departments for eight towns over the county, country news and all the important Plattsmouth happenings—a county-wide newspaper in the strictest sense of the word. This is the season of the year when people are either renewing their subscriptions or taking new ones, and we invite all those not already receiving it, to join the Journal's growing list of subscribers. $2 will pay for an entire year—104 issues—at least 600 newspaper pages. Certainly no greater newspaper bargain than this. Hand your subscription to the Journal field man or mail direct to the office. Incidentally, this is a mighty good time for old subscribers to pay up for the coming year.

Tires of Car are Evidence in Slayer Case

Deputy Cites Tracks Left in Kinsley Killing as Those of Defendant's Own Machine
Chadron, Jan. 16.—The fact that Robert R. Garrett, accused of the murder of William Kinsley near Alvo, in 1927, carried a different type of tire on each of the four wheels of his automobile, may result in his conviction on the charge.

Trivial as it may seem, in the state's attempt to spin a web of circumstantial evidence about Garrett, the tire angle took on a new importance in the trial here Thursday afternoon when State Deputy Sheriff E. E. Stark related to the jury how he traced a pair of footprints from beneath the window through which Kinsley was shot to a car which, judging from the impressions left in the soggy road, carried tires with four distinctly different treads.

It has been brought out by testimony in the trial in progress here that Garrett's car at the time the murder took place was equipped with tires such as described by Stark.

Traces Footprints
On the witness stand Thursday afternoon, Stark told the jury in detail how he traced the footprints from the Kinsley home to a place where the murderer entered the car with the nondescript tires and drove away. The car to which the footprints were traced was parked on a gravel road on the Kinsley farm, Stark stated.

The murderer, to reach the car, had to walk through a muddy cornfield and the steps were easily traced, Stark testified. He stated that, judging from the car tracks, the automobile had been turned around on a grassy plot alongside the lonely road and that the slayer had returned to the main highway by driving through the cornfield.

Tells of Treads
Stark testified that the four treads found in the cornfield were block, diamond-shaped, cone-shaped and corrugated. The description tallied with the state's exhibit of four impressions of tires on Garrett's automobile taken by authorities after Garrett's arrest in Alliance.

Garrett's car has disappeared and cannot be found, state witnesses testified Thursday.

Cross examination of Stark by defense attorneys revealed that no footprints, as found in the cornfield and leading to the corner of the house, were found directly beneath the window through which the shot which killed Kinsley was fired.

Cites Habit
Stark expressed the opinion that the footprints found in the cornfield were those of Garrett, because of the latter's habit of walking with his toes pointed outward. The footprints described by the state deputy were similar to those made by a man of Garrett's walking habits.

Court officials expressed the belief that the state will complete its examination of witnesses in Garrett's second trial sometime Friday. Garrett escaped a life term following a previous conviction when the state supreme court awarded him a reversal upon a legal technicality.—Bee-News.

AUTO SALESMAN IS HELD IN SALE LUIZ
North Platte, Jan. 16.—Wayne Cross, Gothenburg automobile salesman, is being held in the Lincoln county jail here upon a complaint of selling a stolen automobile to L. Lamphere of this city. The car was represented to Mr. Lamphere as belonging to the car salesman and finance papers were made out.

DEFIES COLD WEATHER
A rather interesting sight was noted on Main street today that indicated that while modern motor traffic had added to the comfort and speed of the traveling public, that the old dependable horse drawn vehicle of our forefathers is able to run. In this case it was a very attractive sedan type of auto and to which was hitched a team of horses and the sedan was moving along as lively as the old time buggy.

KEEP UP WHEAT PRICE
Minneapolis.—The farmers national grain corporation again came into the Minneapolis grain market Wednesday wheat futures sent prices under the farm board loan price of $1.25 a bushel for No. 1 northern. The Minneapolis co-opera association purchased four cars of wheat at $1.25 a bushel, one cent above bids of private grain interests. May wheat was down to $1.27 1/2 today.

'HOODOO' CASE TRIAL OPENS
Lincoln, Jan. 16.—Trial of a compensation case arising out of an injury seven years ago, which has been followed by the deaths of five persons intimately connected with the case, began before District Judge Brandy Thursday.

In the action the Lincoln Packing Co. is seeking to set aside a $5,250 award of the commissioner to Maude Coe for the health of her husband, Roy E. Coe.

The list of deaths began with that of Coe on June 10, 1924.

Later Frank Kennedy, state compensation commissioner, who had approved an application for a lump settlement, died.

Judge W. M. Morning, who authorized the lump settlement in district court, was murdered.

The physician who certified the death at the city health office and the woman, notary public who verified one of the pleadings in the case also passed away.

Professors Smith and Hansen of Omaha met with about 30 of the residents of Lewiston and quite successful in organizing a band. These men have an organization of about forty at Nehawka and on Wednesday evening, January 22, will give an entertainment with these pupils at the Lewiston Community Center. No charge will be made for the entertainment but a small charge will be made for the refreshments. Any one who wishes is invited to join this musical organization.

HAGUE AWAIT A DECISION

The Hague.—The second Hague conference on reparations having despaired of setting the southeastern European questions at this time, is delaying its adjournment only for an agreement between the French and Germans as to whether the German government should bind itself not to make any foreign loans before the first slice of reparation bonds are floated.

This question, it was predicted Thursday night, will be decided Friday or Saturday. The German delegation has referred it to experts who were brought here especially from the Berlin to study the problem. The Berlin to study the problem. The Berlin and Hungary on the one hand, and Greece, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia on the other, have reached such a tangle that there is no longer hope of unravelling it here. It has been suggested however, that some provisions might be made in the protocol for adoption of the Young plan whereby the small creditor nations may signify adherence to it within a certain time limit.

Under the present schedule of the conference, the signing of this protocol would take place on Sunday.

The Journal Job Department is equipped to turn out anything from calling cards to sale catalogs.

Manley News Items

Edward Kelly, who is making his home at Plattsmouth, was a visitor with his old time friends in Manley on last Monday, making the trip in his car.

Fred Bauer, who held his sale at the home on the Red Ball highway last Monday was well pleased with the returns of the sale. Mr. Bauer will make his home in Manley for the future.

Last week Elmer Pearson, wife and son Charles, departed for Ogalala, driving out for a visit of about a week. They will also meet their Grandmother Jenkins and their daughter, Alice Janet, who have been visiting there for some time at the home of Clyde Jenkins and wife.

Mrs. Rose Kelly, who has been nursing in Lincoln, returned to Manley last week and packed her goods, which were in the house that she has occupied, so they could be removed and the needed changes made to enable the workmen to begin on the alterations which are to be made to the structure.

Mrs. Harms Home Now
Mrs. Theodore Harms, who has been at the hospital for the past three weeks, where she underwent an operation, was able to return to her home last Sunday and is getting along nicely at this time.

Stricken with Illness
The family of Fred Reuter was last week stricken with sickness, that is thought to be smallpox, notwithstanding they had all been vaccinated.

Taken to Hospital
Last Wednesday Mrs. Harry Schaffer was taken very severely with an attack of appendicitis and was immediately hurried to a hospital in Omaha. Eli Keckler drove them over to the big city in a car late Wednesday evening.

Makes Excellent Showing
With the auditing of the books of the Manley Co-Operative elevator, which was done a short time since, and the holding of the annual meeting today, it is shown that the institution has been doing a very fine business during the past year. They are entirely out of debt and have a neat surplus which was made during the year and amounts to over five thousand dollars after paying all expenses. In the statement, published elsewhere in this paper, allowance is also made for depreciation, which is the only just way of taking an inventory, and results in the laying up of a fund for replacement of worn out machinery, etc. Harry Haws, the manager, is to be credited for much of the success which has come to the elevator by his careful management of the business affairs of the institution.
