Henderson Promises to Drop the Bad Words

And Dill Says, if That's So, He Has No Further Complaint—Wheeler Less Lenient.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Senator Dill, who has been an outspoken critic of W. K. Henderson, of Station KWKH at Shreveport, La., for his alleged use of profanity in broadcasting, and has demanded prosecution by the attorney general, said if it were true, as he had been informed, that Henderson no longer was using objectionable language, he had no further complaint. Senator Wagner (dem., N. Y.) asked whether the committee was going to act as a censor, and Dill said he might have no objection to an occasional lapse, but that he did resent the continual and persistent use of profanity over KWKH.

The discussion led Couzens to remark that words used by Floyd Gibbons, author and newspaper man, broadcast over the radio might also be objectionable.

A request that Henderson be called by the senate interstate commerce committee to answer criticism about the language used over his station was made today by Senator Wheeler, but no action was taken.

Henderson Says Will Quit Using "Hell" and "Damn." Shreveport, La., Jan. 16.—The friends who backed W. K. Henderson the "Hello World, Doggone Yuh" owner-announcer of station KWKH in two previous fights for a clear channel on the air and new friends as well as rallying around him again as it is indicated that the federal radio commission may curb his station by refusing to renew its license or reduce it to a place in the "radio graveyard."

A "business man's dollar club" to aid in the fight was launched at Farmerville, La., headed by State Public Service Commissioner Fields, who has, with other attorneys, offered legal services free to defend Henderson in the event criminal action is taken against him for alleged use of profanity while broadcasting.

Sign Petition. In a typical petition signed at Farmerville by county and town of-felts and over one hundred citizens, the radio commission was addressed as follows: "Independent of the fact whether the station has been intemperate in speech, we are convinced that it has not violated the law and that its wave length should be retained so that the common people of America may be given proper freedom of the air."

Henderson defends his use of "damn and hell" over the air by declaring it is no worse than is heard on the streets and in the movies and on the stage.

"This is a new day," he declares. "The language of today is as different from other ages as modern women's apparel from the hoop-skirt or airplanes from the old-time sulky."

Henderson announced over the air today that he would refrain from using hell and damn, but explained later he did not mean that this was necessarily permanent.

"Worse on Hoover." Referring to Senator Dill's charge of profanity, he said: "Why, my language now is not as bad as I used against Mr. Hoover in the presidential campaign. Why is Dill getting riled up?"

Henderson blames his fight against chain stores for the attack. A report has gained headway that if Henderson is banned from the air by the radio commission, he will move his station to Mexico—World-Herald.

APPROVE STATE POWER RATES

Lincoln, Jan. 17.—Privately operated power companies, Chairman Curtis of the state railway commission believe, will not oppose that body in its regulation of rates as they pertain to patrons outside of cities and towns. Attorney General Sorenson recently ruled that the commission was vested with this authority, though it had not been expressly so.

Chairman Curtis was advised Friday by George A. Lee, general counsel for the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power Co., operator of many Nebraska plants, that the decision was entirely to his liking.

RAILROAD MAN GETS LONG SERVICE PASS

J. C. Lehman, veteran Missouri Pacific car inspector, of Weeping Water, was recently presented a beautifully engraved Long Service Pass for the use of himself and his wife, in recognition of valuable work covered a period of forty years. Seven hundred other employees of this district were honored at the same time, but Mr. Lehman was the only other employe located at Weeping Water to receive this distinctive honor. He has spent all of the forty years, with the exception of a year spent in Kansas City, at Weeping Water, and recalls how in former years, when engines and freight cars were not so large, nor so sturdily built, he was obliged to work long hours, often working both day and night to complete the hard tasks that were his portion to keep the wheels moving.

The passes presented by the company are acceptable on any branch thru-out the United States for the remainder of his life. Congratulations, Jack.—Weeping Water Republican.

Local W. C. T. U. Observes a Dry Decade

Fine Program is Given at Meeting at Home of Mrs. R. B. Hayes on Thursday Afternoon

From Friday's Daily—

The tenth anniversary of the enactment into the law of the eighteenth amendment to the United States constitution was made the occasion of a very fine program at the home of Mrs. R. B. Hayes on Thursday afternoon and in which the local W. C. T. U. presented a historical pageant of the success of the prohibition cause.

A number of interesting articles on the progress of prohibition were given. Mrs. Lois Trop reading, "Drinking Among Students Declining," Miss Caroline Baird, "Late News from Washington" and Mrs. Adelaide Boynton, "Temperance Active in Europe."

The chief feature of the afternoon was the presentation of the playlet, "Why the Bells Ring," in which various roles were taken by Mrs. Lois Trop, Mrs. Ella Wiles, Mrs. Mildred Morgan, Mrs. Genevieve Hayes and Mrs. Margaret Wiles. In this playlet the story of why the bells are rung on the anniversary of prohibition, a group of the L. T. U. children were heard, they telling to the lad from the old world, which character was taken by Bobbie Hayes, the reason of the rejoicing of the nation, and as the group of the followers of temperance, Mrs. Katherine and Elizabeth Ann Wiles, Ray and Thelma Rhodes and Beatrice Arn were presented. The children gave the I. T. L. cheer for the dry cause:

America, America, America, Free, Free, Free
Dear Old Glory is the Flag for Me
America, America, America, Dry Dry, Dry,
We Can Help Keep It So If We Try.

The 18th Amendment Forever. This jubilee was followed by the serving of dainty refreshments by the hostess.

Platters Take Game from the Peru Prepsters

Score of 34 to 16 Rolled Up by Locals Who Play a High Class Quality of Basketball

From Saturday's Daily—
A Plattsmouth high school basketball team milled with the old time vice and pep was on the floor last evening at the local gym against the Bobkittens from the Peruvian hills, and out shooting, out guarding and generally outplaying the visitors, rolled up a score of 34 to 16 against the Peru Prepsters.

In the winning of the game every member of the blue and white deserves a great deal of credit as every member was contributing to the victory in the deadly shots at the basket as well as the superb floor game that won the visitors their feet.

In the opening quarter the visitors kept close guard on the forwards but our duo of fighting guards swept in and Wiles and Turner both scored field goals with Bob Hartford and Mumm each annexing a free toss to give the Platters a six to three lead at the end of the quarter. Applegate, apparently the big noise of the visitors, was responsible for their three points.

The second quarter allowed Galloway, one of the local forwards, to ring up a field goal while Hartford also took advantage of the visitors to sink one and then Mumm started to grow hot and looped two baskets to bring the lead to fourteen to nine at the half.

The third quarter of the game wrecked any hopes that the Bobkittens have had for a victory as Galloway, and McClary, who was sent in for him, each rang up two while Hartford, Mumm and Wiles each rang the bell and Captain Roy Turner made two free throws good to keep in the running.

The fourth quarter was simply a case of Garland McClary finding the basket at almost every shot as he sank three field goals while Mumm annexed another one for good measure and their teammates held effectively the last minute rally of the visitors, who were largely held to long shots at the loop.

Mumm was the high point man of the game, leading McClary by one, while for the visitors Applegate was the leading scorer. But aside from the scoring the members of the blue and white quintet played a mighty, mighty sweet game and all are deserving a real credit as Hartford and Turner broke up many of the visitors passes by their aggressive work and kept the ball largely in the possession of the Platters.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Treasury Receives Much in Delinquent Tax

County Treasury Is Much Better Off as Result of Efforts of Treasurer and Sheriff

The collection of the delinquent taxes of the county has been a matter of care in the office of County Treasurer John T. Turner, in the past two years that has resulted in the treasury receiving a great deal of money that otherwise would have probably been lost as a great deal of the personal taxes were gathered in by the treasurer, also in this collection the office of Sheriff Bert Reed has had an important part in seeing the various parties and seeing that they responded to the request.

The year 1928 saw a very large amount of the taxes wiped off the books when the collections of personal taxes reached the amount of $18,472.24, while this year the amount was much less due to the energetic campaign that was made the year previous and this year there was $7,846.59 collected and turned into the treasury.

The law makes it imperative for the county treasurer to see that these taxes are collected, to issue distress warrants and these are then placed in the hands of the sheriff, who by law is required to serve the same and take such methods as are necessary to collect the same, this duty, like that of the treasurer, being imperative.

The taxes with the interest that is fixed by law has aided in bringing into the county funds a great deal of money and which is due to the efforts of the county officers to see that this matter is given prompt attention.

OBITUARY

John Warren Swindle was born three miles east of Weeping Water, Nebr., on June 2, 1866, and passed away at Lincoln, Wednesday, January 8, 1930, at his late home, having lived 64 years, 5 months and 6 days. His years embraced a most worthy and useful life, and many were his friends who knew him and respected him for his noble qualities of self sacrifice, generosity to those in greater need than he, and his utter devotion to family and friends. It is with sincere regret that we are called to chronicle the passing of so worthy a man.

At the age of 26 in the year 1892, he was united in marriage to Lillian R. Kegley, at Nebraska City, and they immediately took up housekeeping in Weeping Water, where they have continuously made their home, with the exception of about a year in Montrose, Colo., and the past year or so when they have resided in Lincoln.

Mr. Swindle was in the meat business in Weeping Water for over 30 years, and prior to that time he had been in the employ of others in the same business. He was prominently known by nearly all the residents of Weeping Water and Cass county.

Five children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Swindle, all of whom, with their mother, survive: Stella F., who resides at Lewellen, Nebr.; John L., of Hardin, Mont.; Harvey W., of Waterloo, Nebr.; Francis Lowell and Geo. Lester of Lincoln, Nebr.

Funeral services, largely attended by relatives and close friends, were held at the Hobson Funeral Home Saturday at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. G. A. Morey. A mixed quartette, Mrs. Herbert Ratnour, Mrs. Henry Rugha, Edgar Cole and Roy Haslam, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Haslam, sang the hymns, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Nearer My God to Thee." The pallbearers were Henry Crozier, George Olive, Bert Jameson, Clint Wilkinson, Spencer Marshall and William Jameson.

Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.—Weeping Water Republican.
