RECEIVE AWARDS

For the past six weeks the senior members of the Normal Training class have been taking a course in Normal Training penmanship under Miss Marie Kaufmann. At the close of the course, Miss Kaufmann sent specimens of the students writing to the Palmer company and twelve of the fourteen students were awarded Palmer Teachers' Certificates. One received a progress pin and one an improvement certificate. The latter expects to receive the teacher's certificate soon, and the other student was not trying to get the certificate. This is a splendid achievement record for this class and the members are happy to know that they are receiving the prize certificates which recognizes a very high standard of merit. It is also a tribute to the work done by Miss Kaufmann.

W. R. C. Holds Fine Social Meet Tuesday

Event at the Home of Mrs. Robert Troop Is Very Largely Attended by Members

From Wednesday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon the members of the Women's Relief Corps met at the home of Mrs. Robert Troop where a large number of visitors were present to enjoy the social meeting of the order and to participate in the event which was one of the most interesting held for some time.

The meeting was opened by the salute to the flag that was followed by a reading, "America," by Mrs. Robert Troop.

Miss Lois Troop gave a very charming piano number that was appropriate to the occasion while Miss Leona Meisinger was also heard in a very fine piano selection.

Mrs. Hal Garnett gave one of her fine vocal numbers and Mrs. Troop and Mrs. John E. Schutz a very fine vocal duet to add to this part of the program.

One of the outstanding features of the afternoon was the history of the flag that was made by the ladies of Plattsburgh and presented to the first company of the First Nebraska in 1861 as they prepared to start for the south. This sketch which is given below was prepared and read by Miss Olive Gass of this city:

"It is a real pleasure to me to be asked to speak before the Woman's Relief Corps, a body of women, many of whom lived through the stirring and heartbreaking times of the great Civil war. Many of your fathers, brothers or husbands laid down their lives, fighting for the principles of the United States. You are 'carrying on' and are still fighting to maintain these principles which they established at so great a cost.

"Another of your aims is to create respect for our flag and to teach, young and old, the ideals of which it stands.

"The monuments and markers you are placing to designate historic spots, is not only education, but it creates a sentiment in favor of the preservation, and identification of worthwhile places.

"I understand that you are planning to place a marker on Winter-steen hill at the spot close by the Livingston Drive where Co. A, First Nebraska regiment, received the flag made by Plattsburgh ladies and presented to Co. A.

"There are some very interesting facts connected with this plan.

"The flag itself, is now at Lincoln in the care of the State Historical Society. Mrs. R. W. Clement has pieces of this flag, which were cut off in trimming and shaping the flag and she is ready to give these remnants of this noted flag to the W. R. C., whenever they are ready to place the marker.

"One of the most interesting facts connected with placing this marker on the Livingston Drive is that Mrs. Clement's father, Dr. R. R. Livingston had the honor of being elected Captain of Co. A, First Nebraska regiment and it is pleasing to the citizens of Plattsburgh that this road has been named Livingston Drive.

Dr. R. R. Livingston was only 24 years old when he became captain of Co. A; he had over 100 men under his command.

"As battalion and regimental vacancies occurred Dr. Livingston was rapidly promoted and became Colonel of the First Regiment.

"When the regiment was sent home on veteran's furlough, he was ordered to the plains to protect immigrants from the Indians. They had headquarters at Fort Kearney, where the regiment was mustered out of service. Colonel Livingston was promoted to brigadier general by brevet.

"This is a brief summary of the leader of Co. A First regiment—a regiment who by their respect and loyalty to their leader, made it possible for him to bring them to the highest point in efficiency, where they were recognized and rewarded for their valor. So let us cherish these deeds of valor. Let us erect these monuments to their memory.

"In these days of strife for position, power or pleasure, it is refreshing to know that there are so many patriotic societies, who are cultivating this beautiful flower of sentiment. Sentiment means love. Patriotism means love of country. Let us do our bit to preserve sentiment in our lives."

Mrs. Elizabeth Streight, who was one of the girls of 1861 that had helped make the flag and was present when it was presented, was at the meeting and told of the incidents of the presentation and including the remarks of Captain Livingston that he would take care of the health of his men and their wounds provided they were not shot in the back, and as true Nebraskans the captain was never called upon to do other hand he had stated he would as regarded the men of his command. Mrs. Streight stated also that the flag was made by the ladies of the community gathering in a store building to sew, the building standing where the Wescott building now stands.

The ladies of the W. R. C. also presented Mrs. Mary Voodra with a handsome bouquet in honor of her 51st birthday which occurred last week.

At an appropriate hour the hostesses, Mrs. Troop, Mrs. Voodra and Mrs. Jessie Hall served very delicious refreshments.

Those from out of the city attending the event were Mrs. Charles Turgate, Mrs. Elizabeth Streight and Mrs. Jesse L. Root, all of Omaha.

COMPARE VALUES BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economics in making the car. There are definite reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f.o.b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices.

None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f.o.b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.

Murdock to Have 4-H Clubs

Thirty-four girls from the Murdock high school, met Friday afternoon to consider 4-H work for the summer. Before the meeting was over two fine clubs had been organized. One a clothing club, with Mrs. J. H. Amgwert as local leader, elected the following officers: President, Marie Osthone; vice-president, Bernice Riekman; secretary, Catherine Bornemeier; news reporter, Irene Stroy. Twelve girls signed the application blank. Culinary art appeals to 22 of the girls, so they organized a cooking club with the following officers: President, Doretta Schalphoff; vice-president, Ruth Bornemeier; secretary, Mary McHugh; news reporter, Hilda Schalphoff. Mrs. Lacey McDonald is to act as local leader of this club.

Girls Room Club Organizes

The Head, Heart, Hand and Health club of Weeping Water met March 8th and re-organized for second year course in the girls room project. These girls will make curtains for their rooms, a rug or stool cover, study pictures and picture arrangement and make a lamp shade or waste basket and arrange either a reading or writing center. This will complete the study of their room which they started last year.

Happy Hustlers Re-Organize

The Happy Hustlers pig club, east of Murray, met at the Lewiston Center, Thursday evening, March 13th and re-organized for second year club work. The twelve members, who signed the application blank took the first course last summer under the leadership of Allen Vernon. Mr. Vernon moved out of the community this spring so Harold Hull has kindly consented to act as leader.

New Circular Issued

Brush dams for ditch control is the name of the new Extension circular, No. 727, which Cass County farmers may get at the farm bureau office. The extension circular has just been published and is now ready for distribution.

The new circular has been written by Ivan D. Wood, Extension Agent in agricultural engineering. He describes not to use and when to use the brush dams. The circular is free.

"Brush has little if any value in ditch control when piled in loosely," Mr. Wood says, "only when properly arranged and anchored is the full benefit derived. Complete instructions for building single and double row post dams are given in this circular. The methods of construction have been developed over a period of years by observation of the effectiveness of many types in common use."

District Conference

A member of the farm bureau board, County Agents, D. D. Wainwright and Jessie H. Baldwin, and Augusta Ash, the office assistant, will attend the district conference of county extension agents on Monday March 24, at Lincoln. The county farm bureau office will be closed all that day.

Extension agents hold district conferences quarterly. Representatives of the farm bureau board often accompany them. This is the first time for several years that the office assistants have been called together. The work of Miss Ash in this county is quite similar to that of other office assistants in other counties. She can exchange ideas with them and with a representative of the central offices at Lincoln.

Director W. H. Brokaw of the extension service as well as H. G. Gould District Leader, will be present at the conference to discuss matters of interest to the county farm bureau of this county.—D. D. Wainwright, Co. Ext. Agent, Jessie H. Baldwin, Asst. Co. Ext. Agent.

Mrs. R. W. Clement was a visitor in Omaha today, going to that city on the early Burlington train and where she will visit for the day with friends.
