WILL VISIT IN EUROPE

N. C. Christensen of Weeping Water departed on last Wednesday for the old home in Denmark, where he will visit for two months. He will first go to Berhus, where he has some relatives, and after having visited there for a time will go to his old home at Winthrop. He will expect to be home again by August 1st. He will travel over the sea on the ship "Oscar the Second," a ship named for the former King of Sweden. Mr. Christensen came over for the first time in 1888, and has made the trip back to the home land five times, this making the sixth trip. Mr. Christensen is unmarried and has no one to leave here and can go as he desires. This is nice that he can go and visit the old friends and get back again during the pleasant summer months.

FEW PASSENGERS GET AIRSICK, SAY RECORDS

Air sickness is more of a mental hazard than bona fide sea illness records kept by the Boeing system on the San Francisco-Omaha-Chicago route show. Not more than 8 per cent of the passengers are affected by occasional rough air and the ratio of air sick travelers is far below that of ocean voyagers, the Boeing records show.

Clarence Cotner Secures Franchise of De Luxe Line

Purchases Interest of Ray Rogers and New Owner Will Acquire Rights of Old Line

With the passing of the DeLuxe bus line, owned for the past several months by Ray Rogers, the franchise and rights of this company have been acquired by Clarence Cotner, owner of the Cotner line that operates between this city and Omaha. Mr. Cotner stated today to a representative of the Journal that he was planning some changes in his schedule to meet the requests of the patrons in this city, nothing definite was yet arranged and that there would be no changes made before the first of the month. Any changes that may be made will necessarily be placed before the state railway commission for their approval, but the ownership of the DeLuxe franchise gives Mr. Cotner the privilege of operating on their schedule as well as his own if he wishes, but there will be but the one line operated, he states.

Incidentally Mr. Cotner also has a very pleasant surprise for the patrons of his line that he expects to announce on the first of June and this is a fine new twenty-one passenger White bus, one of the latest type and made for the comfort of the travelers. The new bus will be ample in size and with every detail that can aid in the comfort of the traveling public. The new bus will in addition to its other advantages, be provided with an enclosed baggage and luggage carrier that will be a feature appreciated by the traveling public.

Park Board Reorganized for the Year

Mrs. Rose Bookmeyer Named as President and L. D. Hiatt as Secretary—Aid Park Work

From Wednesday's Daily—The park board of the city was re-organized last evening when the members of the board just recently appointed by Mayor Sattler, met and prepared to enter on the 1930 business. The members of the board are Mrs. E. H. Wescott, Mrs. Rose Bookmeyer who were reappointed, and L. D. Hiatt who was appointed to succeed E. A. Webb, who was elected to the city council at the April election.

The officers selected by the board were Mrs. Bookmeyer as president and Mr. Hiatt as the secretary-treasurer. The park board has the care and maintenance of the various parks and parkways over the city in their jurisdiction and have given splendid service in this work in the past years that the members have been serving.

The work of landscaping many of the parks, the extensive planting of flowers, shrubs and trees in the parks, along the avenues and boulevards of the city have been planned and carried out by the board and with the result that a distinct advance has been made in the general appearance of the city in every respect.

The park board has only a small amount of money available each year for their work and out of which must come the expenses of maintaining the parks with a caretaker and leaving but little to make any extensive improvements but in the money available they have done yeoman service.

This year it is planned to place new swings in Garfield park as a part of the playground equipment of this handsome and attractive park.

ENJOY INDOOR PICNIC

The members of the United Merchants Syndicate, an organization of variety store owners, of which R. W. Knorr of this city is the president, C. H. Panzer of Ashland, secretary, treasurer and F. A. Kolterman of Seward, vice president, planned to hold a picnic here Sunday for the members of the organization, their families and employes and while the elements frowned of the open air gathering it was possible for the members that braved the rain to have a jolly time at an indoor picnic at the Legion building.

The organization embraces the states of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri, owing to the weather conditions but a group of the Nebraska members from Fremont, Blair, Ashland, Seward and Plattsmouth gathered for the occasion. The time was spent in games and in the enjoyment of the picnic luncheon that had been prepared for the occasion and after which the members of the party enjoyed a visit to the new Missouri river bridge and then home again.

Had the weather been favorable it was planned to hold the event at the Elks country club but this was all shot by the bad weather prevailing.

PLACED ON PAROLE

From Wednesday's Daily—The action against Max Sietes, eleven year old lad who entered the Phil Hirz home a few days ago and took a diamond ring, later however, recovered by the owner, was heard in the juvenile section of the district court Tuesday before Judge Begley. The matter was taken up by County Attorney Kleck in an effort to try and check the child crimes which have been quite numerous in this locality. The court after hearing the facts in the case, entered an order paroling the boy to Mrs. Lotie Rosencrans, county probation officer and will be kept under check to see that he complies with the requirements of the parole.

Louisville Man Found Shot Near Bingham, Nebr.

R. F. Bartles, Principal of the School at Bingham, Nebraska, May Have Been Murdered

R. F. Bartles, formerly a resident of Louisville, who has been serving as the principal of the schools at Bingham, Nebraska, was found Tuesday wounded in a lonely draw of the death was suicide, the unfortunate man having been in financial difficulties, it was claimed, but this was doubted later as Bartles before his death faintly exclaimed, "He killed me, he killed me."

The man was in serious condition when found and was hurried to medical aid by those who found the body but died at 9:30 Tuesday morning.

It was thought at first that the death was suicide, the unfortunate man having been in financial difficulties, it was claimed, but this was doubted later as Bartles before his death faintly exclaimed, "He killed me, he killed me."

The authorities are investigating the case to find out what may be possible as to murder theory as the friends of the unfortunate man feel that his troubles were not of such a serious nature as to warrant suicide.

The deceased was married some two months ago at Bingham to one of the members of the teaching force there. He is also survived by three small children by a former marriage, his first wife having been killed in an auto accident near Chappell, Nebraska, two years ago.

ELKS HAVE BIG TIME

From Wednesday's Daily—Last evening the Elks country club was the scene of a very delightful gathering of the members, their families and friends, the attendance being most pleasing and showing the growing popularity of the club. The club house was very tastefully arranged in the spring flowers to add a colorful touch to the scene.

The first part of the evening was devoted to cards with a great deal of entertainment being derived by all members of the party.

The first prizes in the bridge games were won by Mrs. E. A. Wurl, ladies prize, and Dr. R. P. Westover, men's prize, being only a single point between the two. Mrs. Wurl's score for the five games being 2063 and Dr. Westover's 2062.

In the pinocle Mrs. Lester Gaylord had the high score with 6335 for 5 games. Wm. Barclay took the Skat player to a good trimming, while in the army game Roy Holly carried away the cigarettes.

Following the card games a delicious lunch was served by the men. Prizes were then awarded. At this time each was supplied with a song book, with Mrs. J. C. Peterson at the piano and Dr. Westover leading.

All joined in the singing of several popular song numbers. Then the floor was cleared and the dance got under way. The music was furnished by a combination Majestic radio which was furnished by William Schmidtman for the occasion. A great time was enjoyed by all and all returning home at a late hour.

BRIDGE TEA

From Wednesday's Daily—Last evening Mrs. James G. Mauzy entertained at a very charming 5:30 bridge tea at the home on South Ninth street where the home was arranged in the decorations of the summer flowers and made a very handsome setting for the event. In the playing Mrs. Fred Lugsch was awarded the first prize, Mrs. Phillip Hirz, the second and Mrs. M. D. Brown the consolation honors. In the serving and entertaining Mrs. Mauzy was assisted by Mrs. Harry Platt and Mrs. J. H. Hallstrom.

CASE IS AFFIRMED

The state supreme court commission has affirmed the case of the Plattsmouth State Bank vs. A. W. Cloidt, et al., and the Murray State Bank and W. G. Boedecker, cross petitioners. This case was one involving the priority of mortgages on the property of the defendants and on which the plaintiff held a mortgage. The Plattsmouth State Bank received the judgment in its favor here and which has been sustained in the opinion of the supreme court commission as given by Commissioner Wolfe.

May Festival is Picture of Rarest Charm

One of the Most Elaborately Arranged and Presented in the Plattsmouth Schools

From Wednesday's Daily—The charm of a rare summer day, with a glorious background of beautiful trees and the rich carpeting of green in Garfield park, made an ideal spot for the annual May Festival of the Plattsmouth city schools, yesterday afternoon.

The event was under the direction of Miss Ruth Lindsay and B. E. Woodward of the city schools and who were assisted by the teachers in all of the grades of the school to make it a wonderful success in every way and one that not only reflected great credit on the teachers who as well on every one that participated from the tots of the kindergarten to the more mature students of the upper classes of the high school. It is to be regretted that the names of all of those who participated in the event cannot be given as each and every one was deserving of the greatest praise for their part in the event.

The arrangements were much better than last year and afforded the very large crowd ample opportunity of enjoying the various features of the excellent program from the professional of the royal party to the farewell school day song which would recall especially to those leaving school so soon, the dear old golden rule days.

The throng of which the youthful majesties of the glad springtime were to be occupants with their court, was erected at the east of the park and faced to the west to give the greatest opportunity to the friends to see and enjoy to the fullest the delightful scenes of the pageants as they were presented.

As the orchestra sounded the professional the tiny trumpeters advanced to sound the bugle notes that the king and queen of May were approaching and then came the tiny and winsome flower maidens to precede the maid of honor, Miss Mary Swatek, with the aid of the king, Charles Nowacek, then amid the tumult of applause came the king and queen, and incidentally this was the first time in the annual May fete that the king has been named by the school, the first of the royal house of May being Frederick Wehrbein, while on his arm in her youthful loveliness was the charming queen, Miss Mildred Schulz, a picture of rare delight in her gown of white and the flowing train.

The tiny attendants of the children which is under the direction of Miss Shawhan. Following the attendants of the king and queen were the ladies of the court, the girls of the senior class in a varied array of beautiful gowns. The party approached the throne where the tiny flower bearer bore the golden band that was to encircle the head of the king while on that of the queen was the floral wreath of May, the queen being crowned by Miss Swatek while Mr. Nowacek placed the crown upon the brow of the king.

The royal party seated on the flower bedecked throne, the little girls of the third and fourth grades of the Columbian school under the direction of Miss Mortensen came with their Maypoet to perform the traditional dance which was artistically given and a fitting commencement of the program.

Then came the "School Days"

Worse Than No Home at All

Tangled, twisted and wrecked beyond repair is property in the trail of a tornado such as visited Tekamah early in May, and only sound indemnity will pay the loss when your turn comes.

with the first and second grades of the Columbian school which was very cleverly given as the strains of "School Days" were sung by the Junior High chorus.

One of the elaborate arranged features of the festival was that of "The Old Woman in the Shoe" in which a large shoe was used to hide the old lady as well as a bevy of youngsters who furnished a very clever interpretation of this well known nursery rhyme.

The little folks of the kindergarten and first grades under the direction of Miss Helen Farley, gave a very charming rendition of the parts of the well known nursery rhymes, "Jack Horner," "Queen of Hearts," "Simple Simon and the Pieman," "Boy Blue," "Miss Mary," "King Cole and His Fiddlers Three," "Bo Peep," "Jack Be Nimble" and "Miss Muffet and the Spider," each of the little folks rendering their part in the finest manner.

The little folks of the kindergarten and first grade under the direction of Miss Prohaska gave a very entertaining presentation of "Play-time" while the kindergarten and first grade directed by Miss Ruth Tidball presented "Health Parade" demonstrating the health campaign in the school.

In the quaint long dresses and Indian costumes the second grade under the direction of Miss Ault gave "Playing House" and "Playing Indian," which was most enjoyable to all of the members of the large crowd.

The little snowmen of the first grade, directed by Miss Amelia Martens, had the assistance of Miss Maxine Cloidt as the "Snowman," in an eccentric dance and in which the tiny white garbed figures joined.

The boys of the third grade under Miss Schindler, gave the impersonation of "The Cubs," and made worthy prototypes of the batting and battling Cubs that have made Chicago famous.

The section of the pageant devoted to geography gave the opportunity of the audience seeing the older members of the high school as well as the little folks in their offering, "Holland," a dancing number being presented by Miss Jean Hayes and Miss Maxine Cloidt in their usual clever manner this was followed by "Japan" in a bevy of the little folks boys of the second and third grades of the Wintersteen Hill school under the direction of Miss Edith Cook. Then came "Scotland" in the person of Miss Vestetta Robertson, who in the costume of the land of her ancestry gave the national Scotch dance of the Misses Patricia Harris and Rose Perrie, brought to the number "Spain" great charm and beauty in their Spanish dance and this section of the program was closed with the "Do-ti-la-sol" by the third grade pupils of Miss Digham.

The Junior high girls directed by Miss Martha Gorder gave an exhibition of their physical culture exercises that was most entertaining and showed the efforts made in the schools to provide the student with all physical advantages as well as the mental training.

The fourth grade pupils of Miss Helen Farley were introduced as the dancing part of the operetta, "Jimmy" and in which the junior high chorus assisted with the vocal refrain.

The pupils of the fifth grade of the Columbian school presented "Mathematics," of the solid variety, which was cleverly carried out by three of the grades.

The unrolling of the pages of the history of the United States was depicted in the pageant, opening with the "Pilgrims," the demure maidens of the Puritan days and which was given by the fifth grade pupils of Miss Amama Hiatt, as was the "Colonial Days" featuring the old time minut of grace and stately charm. With this passed the early history and then came that of the conquering of the west when the covered wagon appeared with its scouts and the tiny ladies in their hoop skirts of the early fifties, these being from the fifth grade of Miss Hiatt with the exception of the drivers of the covered wagon, James Robertson and Stephen Davis. The pioneer band was beset by the tribe of Indians from the third and fourth grades of Miss Mortensen and who instead of scalping the settlers proceeded to bring forth the pipe of peace and make way for the peaceful settlements.

The came the World War with the soldiers from the fifth grade of Miss Hiatt giving a fine exhibition of drilling and receiving a great hand while following them came the Red Cross nurses, the injured soldiers and the stretcher bearers, all of the fourth grade of Miss Lydia Todd and the first to fourth grades of Miss Alice James.

The closing section of the pageant was in the form of "College" in which the role of the studious bespectacled students was taken by pupils of Miss Simonsen, in the fifth grade and who gave ample proof of the studious efforts of the young people in their school work. Athletically the school life was represented by two football teams from the room of Miss Simonsen, with the Panthers from Pittsburgh opposing the scarlet and cream of Nebraska, with the exception that the Cornhuskers were the winners as was fitting and just. As the black garbed students on commencement day the pupils of Miss Alice Bly and Grace Nolting appeared.

The girls of the high school comprising Helen Schultz, Winifred Rainey, Maxine Cloidt, Jean Hayes, Margaret Shellenbarger, Lucille Albert, Eleanor Swatek, and Helen Virginia Price appeared and gave their impressions of "Happy Days," that happy time of school days and which with the singing of "School days, school days, dear old golden rule days" closed one of the best May Festivals that the Plattsmouth high school has enjoyed and which was regarded as the last that Miss Lindsay will be able to direct and help produce.
