NAIL WAS REMOVED FROM LUNGS

Last week we gave an account of J. E. Stoddard, who is doing the carpenter work on the Masonic building in which while putting on ceiling at the building, he unfortunately got a six penny finishing nail in his lungs. The nail was drawn into his mouth when he coughed and was drawn down into the bronchial tube and lodged at the lower extremity of the tube in the left lung just over the heart. It was very serious and he was taken to Philadelphia, where surgeons were able to suck the nail out with specially made equipment for such purposes. However he necessarily was absent from work a number of days he feels fortunate in that the nail is removed and consequences which would have developed had it been unable to get the nail removed. —Elmwood Leader-Echo.

PROJECT CLUB MEETS

The Cedar Creek Project club held its second meeting last Thursday afternoon Oct. 16, at the hospitable home of one of our leaders, Mrs. Lloyd Schneider.

Our club organized too late for our county extension agent Miss Jessie Baldwin to come down and present the first lesson on "Simple Tricks About Housekeeping," "Convenient Home Equipment" and "Home Accounts," so Mrs. Walter Heiser and Mrs. Lawrence Melsinger kindly consented to come down and give us the demonstration.

It was decided to hold our next meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Stivers, on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 11th.—Mrs. Victor Stoer, reporter.

Liberty Precinct Voters Organize Club Last Night

Democratic Organization Headed by W. H. Porter as President and Ellen Willis, Secretary.

From Thursday's Daily—
The democratic voters of Liberty precinct met last night in the village hall in Union when a club was organized with over 125 members. County Chairman D. O. Dwyer presided and in a half hour talk presented the plans and purpose of the club, which were asserted to be the support of the democratic principles as laid down by Thomas Jefferson in the organization of the party; stressing the fact that the party has always stood for equal rights to the individual citizen in all affairs of life and contrasting the same with the doctrine of the republican party as announced by its founder, Alexander Hamilton, whereby special privileges were granted to the rich, who, he believed, were the only ones capable of administering the affairs of the government; special stress was laid upon the fact that there has, for many years, been an unnecessary and extravagant expenditure of public funds which has reached the point where the individual citizen himself must take active part in the affairs of government to prevent a squandering of public funds in order that taxes may be reduced to a proper and legitimate base.

At the close of his talk, rules and regulations for the club were read and adopted. The organization was perfected by the election of the following officers:

W. H. Porter, president.

Mrs. J. C. Hansell, first vice-president.

L. F. Fitch, second vice-president.

Ellen Willis, secretary.

H. E. Wardin, treasurer.

The county candidates present were called upon for short talks, each speaking of the enthusiasm in the various parts of the county where they have visited.

The speaker of the evening, Mr. Wm. Ritchie, Jr., of Omaha, was introduced and for an hour, he discussed the issues of the campaign, pointing out many of the inconsistencies in the record of the governor of the state, among which was that, when he entered office he took a firm stand to maintain the bank guaranty law and insisted that further laws should be passed to strengthen it; later, by special session of the legislature, he brought about the destruction of that law, to the great disappointment of the people of this state.

He referred to Senator Hitchcock, detailing the great work he has done for his party in this state, personally and thru his newspaper, the World-Herald, for the past forty years, standing fairly and squarely for the interests of Nebraska and other western states.

Mr. Ritchie further pointed out the inconsistencies in the political record of Senator Norris, who is boasting that he opposed the Grundy-Smoot tariff bill, characterizing it as the most infamous piece of legislation ever passed in this nation, attributing to that bill our present distressed condition, and at the same time he is advocating in this state, representatives running for re-election on the republican ticket in several districts of the state, who voted for that bill and who are basing their right to re-election upon their voting for the same.

Many other inconsistencies of the Senator were forcefully pointed out. Mr. Ritchie was many times interrupted by applause and the enthusiasm speaks well for the vote in Liberty precinct.

At the close of the speaking the club adjourned to meet in special session on next Wednesday night in order the perfect the detail work thru-out the precinct.

Hallow'en masks, whistles, noise producing novelties for the observance of this occasion are to be found in large and attractive lines at the Bates Book & Gift Shop.

Center and Mt. Pleasant Precincts Organize Club

Enthusiasm Shown by the Voters and Interest Taken in the Forthcoming Election

From Friday's Daily—
Last evening in the village hall at Manley, the democratic voters of Center and Mt. Pleasant precincts to the number of 250 held a meeting and organized a club. County Chairman D. O. Dwyer presided.

After the perfection of the organization the county candidates were called upon and made short talks. The principal address of the evening was made by Hon. Arthur F. Mullen of Omaha. He introduced his speech at nine-thirty that the audience might hear over the radio that had been installed for that purpose, the address of Hon. Claude G. Bowers, Editor of the New York World on the national issues of the campaign. After the address by Mr. Bowers, Mr. Mullen resumed his speech and for nearly an hour devoted his time equally between the national issues and the state issues.

He commended Hon. Chas. W. Bryan highly for the economical administration he gave the state when governor and urged the necessity of the election of Jos. A. Capwell for Governor. Mr. Mullen is representative, that Mr. Bryan's policy of economy in the administration of the affairs of the state may have the support of the legislature. He handled the national issues with gloves, portraying the long services of Hon. Gilbert M. Hitchcock and his paper, the World-Herald, to the cause of the democrats for upwards of forty years; the importance of the service to the nation and especially to the west, in forming the National Reserve Bank when he was in the senate. He pictured vividly the sterling character and ability of Mr. Hitchcock and the reasons why he should be elected to the senate at this time. He spoke words of commendation of Congressman John H. Morehead.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic that has been held in the organization of the numerous clubs that have been organized in this county.

The following persons were elected as officers of the club:

I have lived in Richardson county for more than forty-four years. Being engaged in private as well as public business, the people are familiar with my ability as a business man.

Many Eastern states re-elect their Congressmen for many years, thus giving them advantages of Committee assignments and the opportunity to do more constructive work for their states and districts. My experience as Representative in Congress better qualifies me than one who is not familiar with the duties of the office.

I always take the same interest in the affairs of the First District that I do in my personal business.

My home county has always given me a large majority, making me feel that those who know me best appreciate my services.

My ambition in public life is to guard, closely, the taxpayers' money, and keep expenses down to the lowest point consistent with good government.

Living all my life in an agricultural country, and engaged in farming and stock-raising, I know the needs of the farmer.

I helped to secure the Veterans' Hospital at Lincoln for my district; also franchises permitting the building of bridges across the Missouri river; new rural routes and extension of old routes; increased Federal appropriations for good roads; liberal legislation for Civil, Spanish-American and World War veterans; and other constructive pieces of legislation beneficial to Nebraska.

The greatest reward in public life is to be able to contribute something toward making this a better Government in which to live, and to be of assistance to the people.

If re-elected, I will do as in the past, give my entire time to the duties of the office.

If my service has been satisfactory, your votes on November 4th will be appreciated.
