

Alvo News

Harold Koop of Louisville while on his way to Lincoln to look after some business matters was a caller on his old time friend, Mr. Ed L. Nelson one day last week.

Charles Godbey was feeling that it was too bad to let the good weather go to waste so on last Wednesday went to the country and securing a team of horses and a plow, plowed his garden lot and also that of his daughter, Mrs. F. E. Dickerson. This puts them in a little better position to begin the spring work next year.

Getting Home Well Along

L. D. Mullen who has been making some important changes in the home which he is preparing to occupy in Alvo some time soon is making good progress with the work. The carpenters are about through with their work and the installation of the pressure tank for water service will be taken in hand at once. Mr. Mullen is to have an electric automatic pump, which will always keep a supply of water ready for use. When the building has been completed it will be a very convenient home and one which Mr. Mullen and wife are surely entitled to for they have worked long and faithfully during the years.

Moved to Lincoln.

George W. Curry and the good wife who have made their home in and near Alvo for the past more than forty years last week moved their household effects to Lincoln, where they will make their home in the future. They purchased a home there and will put them where they can enjoy the convenience of city life and still be able to come back to Alvo for a visit with their friends whenever they wish.

Woman's Reading Club.

The Woman's Reading Club of Alvo enjoyed a very fine meeting at the home of their member, Mrs. Chas. Godbey, the latter portion of last week when they had a very fine program and social time, besides doing good work for the club. Mrs. Godbey served a delightful luncheon which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Walter Hardnock Dies in Lincoln

Walter Hardnock who was past 55 years of age and who was born in the vicinity of Alvo, who attended school here when a boy, was here united in marriage and who with the family went to Lincoln to reside some two years ago, died at his home there last Friday morning. He had worked the day before, being employed by the Phillips Petroleum Co., and was apparently as well as he had been for some time. He leaves a wife and two sons and one daughter to mourn his death. The funeral was held from the Methodist church in Alvo at two o'clock on last Sunday afternoon, the services being conducted by the Rev. Chenoweth, pastor of the Methodist church at Martell and former pastor of the church at Alvo. The interment was made here.

Visited Friends Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren H. Mickel who make their home at Denton were here last week, called to attend the funeral of the late Walter Hardnock, which occurred on last Sunday afternoon. After the funeral Mr. and Mrs. Mickel visited with their many friends here for they are many, they having resided here for many years.

Cause of Happiness.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roelofs was made happy last week by the arrival of a very fine young lady, a baby girl which was presented by the stork and who with the mother are doing nicely. Chick is doing as well as one could expect under the circumstances and is expected to pull through with the proper care.

HOP TO RESTORE OLD FORT KEARNEY

Minden, Nov. 14.—Officials of the Fort Kearney Memorial association, conferring here, discussed ways of raising funds for the restoration of the old fort.

It is believed money for beautification and upkeep of the grounds will be furnished by the state park commission, but the members want to install permanent improvements, including replicas of the old buildings. Donations will be asked.

LONGACRE INSTALLED AS ENDEAVOR LEADER

Fremont, Nov. 12.—Allan K. Longacre, Fremont, was installed as president of the state Christian Endeavor society at the district conference here Wednesday night. Alvin J. Shurtle, Boston, international treasurer and field secretary of the union, gave an illustrated lecture.

Norris Ready to Go Half Way on Muscle Shoals

Offers Compromise to Quiet Differences of House and Senate—Program Taking Shape

Washington—Differences between President Hoover and some of his republican leaders in the senate over the Norris measure for government operation of the Muscle Shoals Ala., power and nitrate plant remained to be settled Friday before the threat of an extra session of congress next spring is dissipated. Senator McNary of Oregon, the assistant republican leader, is standing firm for the government operation bill which is in conflict with the house measure for private operation. McNary is chairman of the conferees on this legislation.

A compromise between the senate and house is being sought. Senator Norris, author of the senate's government operation measure, already has offered a compromise whereby the power plant at Muscle Shoals would be under government operation and control and the nitrate plant available to private lease. The house conferees so far have refused this.

Program Taking Shape. Aside from the Muscle Shoals contest which will be under government operation and control and the nitrate plant available to private lease. The house conferees so far have refused this.

Program Taking Shape. Aside from the Muscle Shoals contest which will be one of the first propositions confronting the session, the legislative program is taking shape rapidly. It is a program which both republican and democratic leaders believe can be disposed of within three months of the session.

Expansion of the public buildings program and possibly of the road construction work as a means of aiding unemployment has first place on the tentative calendar. Appropriation of funds for seed and fertilizer loans to the farmers in the drought stricken areas gets second attention. Enactment of the vital appropriation bills has precedence at all times.

While the republican independents, led by Senator Borah of Idaho, are demanding additional farm relief legislation, it appears unlikely that the administration will sanction such a move. Mr. Hoover is on record against the export debenture and the equalization fee principles which are sponsored by the democrats and the independents.

Prohibition seems destined for considerable talk, but there is no sentiment now apparent for seeking immediate change in the dry law. The preceptive report of the law enforcement commission about the first of the year is expected to open the floodgates of oratory, at least.—State Journal.

MANY WOULD BE TEACHERS

Fremont—Teaching, according to a recent survey, is the vocation toward which 35 per cent of Midland college's students are looking. The statistics show that 102 of the 249 students enrolled in the four college classes plan to become teachers.

Engineering stands as the second most popular vocation, twenty-six, or approximately 9 per cent of the students being determined to take up this line of work. The ministry is only a shade behind, the total number taking pre-theological courses being twenty-five.

Other vocations with the number studying for each are: Law, thirteen; music, twelve; medicine, eleven; journalism, eight; coaching and business, each four; civil service, science, chemistry, art and mission work, each two; dramatics, home economics, agricultural economics, scouting, pharmacy, dentistry, farming and surgery, each one. Twenty-six students are undecided.

GOVERNMENT DEFICIT LIKELY, SAYS HOOVER

Washington, Nov. 14.—President Hoover said Friday it would not be surprising if there was a small deficit at the end of the fiscal year, but added that as the government has had surpluses over many years it probably could stand the deficit without upsetting the stability of the country.

"DEAD MEN" TAKE STAND

New York—Six men listed on insurance records as dead marched briskly to the witness stand Thursday in county court at St. George, Staten Island, and, in varying degrees of indignation, denied that they were ghosts: One by one the "dead men" testified against six other men who are on trial charged with conspiracy to defraud a life insurance company. It is charged that they proved the "deaths" and were paid the insurance on the lives of the six men who testified Thursday.

John R. Hogan, a watchman, testified he did not die of a fractured skull, altho his "son, James" had collected on a $1,364 life insurance policy after the "funeral." Hogan said he had never married and had no son. Charles Ellison, was supposed to have died Jan. 14, and policies totaling $1,312.15 were paid to his "wife, Gretchen, and daughter, Agnes." His wife's name is Hilda, and they have no daughter. The other four witnesses had similar tales to tell.
