

American Red Cross Appeals for Support

The Great National Relief Organization Asks for Enrollment in Its Ranks to Aid

Word has come from different parts of the county that there is little interest in the annual Red Cross Roll Call. I wonder why we are not interested. Fourteen years ago every one was saving, working, and giving for this cause for our American boys in the trenches. Thousands never came back, giving their lives for ideals to help humanity. Have we forgotten Flanders Field? Have we forgotten the thousands in the 47 Veterans hospitals, in the six Army hospitals, in the 19 Navy hospitals who are suffering from the effects of that fighting in No Mans Land? Have we forgotten the boys who came home broken in health to try to take up life as before. Many of them were disappointed in us at home because we had so soon forgotten those principals for which they were fighting.

Twelve years ago the signing of the armistice brought joy and peace. Nov. 11 this year we are still celebrating that event. But for the Red Cross there is no laying down of arms to celebrate once a year. It must work continually thru the years to give service to those boys at home in hospitals and in foreign lands. 1917-1918, 37,568 American soldiers were killed. Have we forgotten? The service the Red Cross gives arranging relief for families of soldiers in distress.

To assist in locating soldiers for families. To furnish information about government program such as insurance adjusting compensations. Home service of various types.

During the year just ended June 30th, 37,350 soldiers, sailors and marines were aided in some of these ways, performing service of social service, home service and recreation in hospitals and outside.

In the 47 Veterans hospitals there are 91 Red Cross nurses. In the medical and health service, 51,047 nurses are enrolled.

The Red Cross is here to carry on all this work and to improve conditions where ever it works.

Not to mention the thousands left homeless by the 90 disasters that took life and property in our own state and over the United States and abroad. Were it not for the work and funds given by the funds gathered in by our annual membership to this field of rehabilitation loss of life would be tremendous. In September when that hurricane struck Santo Domingo many country people as well as town people lost every thing they owned. Ten thousand buildings destroyed. As soon as cable connections could be made, to get the word across to Haiti and Porto Rico relief came by plane to the stricken people with several thousand dollars and soon the Red Cross with tent hospitals caring for 1500 people, writes Mrs. Willie, wife of Episcopal Clergyman, who home and church was completely destroyed.

Can we be comfortable at home knowing such destruction is going on and not given even a dollars worth of assistance?

Dollars are not plentiful for a great many but let us make a great effort to sacrifice some little pleasure giving that dollar for a Red Cross membership. If you have a local chapter, 25 cents remains with you. Twenty-five cents stays in the county chapter and the balance, fifty cents, goes to help finance all this work for humanity. So you see why such a large membership is necessary. Read the pamphlets distributed in your village or town and be satisfied. I urge every family if possible to have one or more memberships. Do not wait for a solicitor to see you but bring it in and be glad you have the privilege of serving for all the different fields at home and to our boys in foreign lands.

We must not forget we too might be calling for help. Elbert Hubbard said "Do unto others as the you were the others." So above all we must not forget Flanders Field. "Hold high the torch keep the faith. For if ye break faith with us who die, We shall not sleep though peoples grow, in Flanders Field."—Augusta Robb, Chairman Cass County Chapter A. R. C.

DAUGHERTY TO FACE TRIAL

Washington Courthouse—A verdict against Mal S. Daugherty was returned late Friday by a jury that heard his plea for abatement of fifteen indictments charging mismanagement of funds of the defunct Ohio State bank of which he was formerly president. Daugherty sought dismissal of the indictments on the ground that two special investigators were admitted to the quarters of the Fayette county grand jury, which returned the indictments after investigating the affairs of the bank. The verdict means that Daugherty must stand trial on the fifteen indictments of which is held under $40,000 bond.

On Friday evening some one without fear of the law of justice entered the chicken house of Herman Gakemeier one mile north of Murdock and took some thirty-five hens, they being this years pullets which were saved for the winter laying.

Henry Gohmann, writing to his friend, Henry A. Tool, tells of having very fine weather in the west and that they have gotten settled in their new home, but that his health is not much different but some days he feels fine and again on others not so well. His many friends here are hoping that his health will improve in the west.

Sheriff Bert Reed and Deputy W. R. Young, and Sam Reed, of Platts-mouth, were in Murdock on last Tuesday, looking after the situation regarding the burglary of the places of G. Bauer, L. Neitzel and Ed W. Thimman. Mr. Neitzel on discovering the robbery, telephoned the sheriff who was in Murdock with his deputies in less than an hour.

John Amgwert of Lincoln, where he has been making his home for a number of years, was over last week and was painting the home of Henry Amgwert. John has been pretty well crowded with work at Lincoln and was only able to get over the house here the first time but which will dry good and hard before the second coat can be applied and which is the best way.

Sunday found the pilgrims on their way to Ithaca, the day was a glorious one in every respect. We got into a crowded church, as the two congregations of the charge, came together for their quarterly communion service. The Sunday school numbered 214. We taught a very interesting mixed class. Then followed the regular service. After that we called on a large number of friends of 48 years ago, when we preached here. Some are near the brink, they will soon pass over. We may not see them again in the land of the living. It was a blessed time to visit them, recalling former days and experiences. May they have a peaceful voyage to "the home over there."

Hands Badly Infected.

Arising from some wounds which he obtained while about his work, Louis Roebber has one finger and the wrist of the other arm badly infected with something near blood poisoning but as he is giving it the best of care is expected that the infected portion will soon be well again. It comes at a very bad time when he is busy with the corn picking.

Junior Class Give Play.

To a large crowd of well pleased patrons of the Murdock school the Junior class gave a very pleasing play on last Friday night. The house was well filled and the people were more than satisfied at the way in which the play was presented.

Visited the Garage Also.

When the burglars visited the store of G. Bauer and relieved the store of some three hundred and fifty dollars in merchandise last week and also the store of L. Neitzel, getting some two hundred and twenty dollars, they also visited the garage of E. W. Thimman where they entered at a rear window and taking two quarts of cylinder oil, also took his lined overcoat which has been such a friend during the cold days. Ed feels that he got off lucky.

Are Rushing the Work.

H. W. Tool is keeping the workmen hustling now to get the home enclosed and so that all the work could go forward even if the weather turns cold. F. A. Melvin and Henry Heineman are hurrying the work on the carpenter portion while J. J. Gustin and John Kruger are looking after the plumbing. Chester Elman is doing the painting while W. A. Armstrong of Greenwood and a help-

He carried a temperature of 104 for a number of days. During the time he was kept at the hotel, W. S. Horton was looking after the business at the market.

Famous Cities of the Bible.

Rome XVII. The fourth Epistle Paul wrote from Rome, was sent direct by Ty-chicus and Onesimus. Pauls authorship of this letter has never been questioned. Colossae was a city of Phrygia, on the river Lycus, which empties into the Meander. Hierapolis and Laodicea were near. This city was close to the great road which led from Ephesus to the Euphrates. It is spoken of as a city of considerable consequence, but it was at length overshadowed by the greater cities in its vicinity. It is probable that Paul had not been there when he wrote this Epistle to the Colossians, 2, 1. Among the dwellers here were Pater-mon and his slave Onesimus, also Archippus and Epaphras, the latter of whom was, perhaps, the founder of the church at Colossae, 1, 2, 7, 8; 4, 12. Angel worship is referred to in 2, 18; and later a church in honor of the archangel Michael was erected at the entrance of a chasm. Colossae with the places mentioned above were destroyed by an earthquake in the ninth year of Nero, about 63 A. D., but it must have been almost immediately rebuilt. This Epistle is noted that it deals not with a universalism, but a monoism, or Christology—the person of Jesus Christ, 1, 16. The pre-eminence of Christ, in relation to created things. "He is the beginning of the creation of God, Gods firstborn; the first born from the dead; the first-born among many brethren; the first fruits of them that slept; the last Adam; the resurrection, a quickening spirit; the head of the body; the church; the head of all things to the church; the head of every man; the head of all principality and power; the great teacher; the friend of man; and the Saviour of the world. These people possessed the three Christian graces: faith, hope, love, 1, 4, 5; and they might be filled with the knowledge of his will, 1, 9. The glorious, exalted, important condition of the Saints is set forth in 1, 12-14. As Christians grow in knowledge they are strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, into all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness, they are made meek and lowly, the inheritance of the Saints in light, 1, 12. Here follows a recital of the work of grace wrought by the spirit of God in the soul.

(1) Out of the power of darkness (the night of sin, out of the clutches of the evil one) translated into the kingdom of his dear son. That is conversion in the truest sense, without we are not Christians, this is an experience no one can forget, though he should backslide, and go to hell.

(2) Redemption is only by the blood of Jesus Christ, it cleanses from all sin.

(3) "The forgiveness of our sins." This blessed assurance is sealed unto us by the Holy Spirit, he bears witness our Spirit that we are accepted of God, Rome 8:14. Chapter 2, 12-14 goes more into detail of this gracious work of God regarding our salvation, our sins being forgiven, the record is destroyed, they will be remembered no more, Jer. 31, 34.

(4) Admittion to "put on" and "put on" 2, 7, 9, 12, 14, a work a man must do.

(5) Here is prescribed the kind of entertainment christian gatherings should practice 2, 16-17; that would honor God, and be a personal benefit. "Do all in the name of Jesus," such as playing cards, dancing, drinking smoking and give thanks to God, and the Father by Him.

(6) "Redeeming the time," making good use of every minute, time is precious, minutes wasted cannot be recalled. We must give an account to God for "time." Hosea 10, 12. There is just enough time given to every man, Ecl. 8, 5, 6.

This wonderful letter is inexhaustible but it is time to stop here. We thank God for this letter from Rome. Our next will be Pauls letter to Philemon.
