MOTHER SHIELDED BY LAW

Albany—A peaceful obscurity guarded by the state which imprisoned her awaits Pearl O'Dell and the daughter born ten years ago when the mother was beginning a twenty year sentence for murder. The state has declined to reveal to morbidly curious eyes the spot in which Mrs. O'Dell, who Monday was freed by executive commutation of sentence, will again take into her care the daughter, Gloria.

The state desires to aid the mother in caring for her daughter by protecting her from a continuance of the notoriety which began with the slaying of Edward J. Kneip, of Rochester, by James and Pearl O'Dell.

Kneip, the O'Dells asserted in their trial, had betrayed Mrs. O'Dell and after her marriage had annoyed her, threatening to inform her husband of their previous relations. The husband was executed for the murder and Mrs. O'Dell sentenced to twenty years to life. She began her prison term when eighteen years old. The baby was kept in Auburn prison by Mrs. O'Dell for more than a year but eventually taken from the mother because of prison regulations.

RESIGNS UNDER ATTACK

Sacramento—Charles A. Whitmore, state building and loan commissioner, Tuesday tendered his resignation to Governor Young, effective Jan. 6. The resignation was accepted. Whitmore recently was attacked by Governor-elect Rolph, who said he blamed Whitmore for the Gilbert Beesemeyer financial debacle in Los Angeles. Rolph intimated Whitmore's unfamiliarity with the building and loan commission work made it easy for Beesemeyer to commit the $8,000,000 embezzlement.

Body in Missouri Man from Bluffs Homer Haynes

Dry Cleaner Tag Gives Clue, Dental Work Proves Identity; "Slain." Verdict of Coroner's Jury

From Wednesday's Daily—The body taken from the Missouri river Sunday, south of Auburn, Neb., today was identified as that of Homer Haynes, 28, of Council Bluffs, a carman in the employ of the Union Pacific railroad, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

A coroner's jury at Auburn Monday decided that the man whose identity was not then known, had been the victim of foul play, after witnesses who examined the body testified that there was a hole in the back of the man's skull.

The first clue to identity was through a dry-cleaning tag in a pocket, said County Attorney Lee Kelligar of Auburn. Examination of dental work completed the identification, Kelligar said.

Haynes lived at 312 North Ninth street in Council Bluffs. He had been employed as a freight car repair man in the Union Pacific transfer yards.

He disappeared October 23, about two weeks after he and his wife had separated, according to relatives. A few days after his disappearance his billfold was found on the banks of the Missouri river, near the Illinois Central bridge.

Dr. Albert Brown, who was Haynes' dentist, will take his dental charts to Auburn this afternoon to complete the formal identification. Mrs. Haynes will bring the body back to Council Bluffs Wednesday.

Survivors are the widow; a daughter, Lucy Ann, 17 months old; the father, Paul H. Haynes, and a brother, Paul D. Haynes, all of Council Bluffs.

Previous to the identification today it was believed that the body might be that of Paul Sowerwine of Omaha, who disappeared two months ago. Mrs. Sowerwine viewed the body Monday night, but could not identify it.

Well Known Young Couple are Wedded

Miss Dorothy Kathryn Schroeder Is Married to Clarence W. Nesson Today

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Kathryn Schroeder and Clarence W. Nesson, both well known and popular young people of Louisville, occurred this evening at 6 o'clock at the parsonage of the First Methodist church in that city.

The wedding was very quiet and only the bridal couple and the attendants were present at the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Murphee, pastor of the Methodist church.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Inez Shellhorn and Nil Donaldson, close friends of the contracting parties.

Miss Schroeder wore a very becoming gown of rose pink crepe and carried an arm bouquet of the bride roses while the costume of Miss Shellhorn was of blue crepe, she also carrying an arm bouquet of roses.

The groom and best man wore dark business suits.

Both the bride and groom are well known in the vicinity of Louisville and Cedar Creek where they have grown to manhood and womanhood and are numbered among the most popular young people in that section. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schroeder, well known residents of near Cedar Creek. The groom has long been one of the active young men of Louisville and active in the athletic circles of that place. He is at the present time employed in the Ash Grove cement plant and the newly weds expect to continue to make their home in Louisville.

TO KEEP SHEPARD GIFTS

San Antonio—Grace Brandon, upon whom Major Shepard found guilty Monday of the murder of his wife, showered gifts and endearing letters, said Tuesday she would not return his gifts and that she had learned three things from the trial. "One is," she said, "I will never marry."

"I have also learned," the Brooks field stenographer continued, "never to remember anything and never to write letters. But I have decided the most important is never to marry. Look at Major Shepard! If he hadn't been so anxious to get married, he wouldn't be in all this trouble."

As for the presents, including a $1,500 automobile, Miss Brandon made this explanation: "I have paid for everything Major Shepard has given me by going thru the ordeal of the trial and everything which went before it."

"I understand he is hard pressed financially on account of the trial and needs money to make an appeal, but that isn't my fault. If he needs money, I suggest that he marry that widow in Denver who furnished bond for him when he was first arrested and who, I understand, is very wealthy."

Bandits Ply Along D L D Highway

South Bend Parties Are Among Those Who Are Victims of the Bold Highwaymen

Three armed bandits, believed by authorities to be the same gang which last week victimized motorists between Nebraska City and Auburn, Monday night terrorized motorists along the D. L. D. highway north and east of Lincoln.

Three Edgar, Neb., youths, a South Bend couple and a farmer of near Memphis, were held up on the highway near Haystack shortly after midnight and were robbed of $34.75.

The three masked bandits boarded the automobile and ordered it off onto a side road where they rifled the occupants' pockets, took the cash and threw the key to their car away.

Nine shots were fired by the bandits to bring to a halt near Greenwood a car driven by William Carmicle and his sister, Ruth, of South Bend. Several shots took effect in the body of the car. One grazed Carmicle's leg and another his shoulder.

Forced to halt, Carmicle succeeded in hiding a bill fold containing $80 beneath the seat of his car. The bandits secured $6.50 from his sister's purse.

Joe Lohry, farmer of near Memphis, was met by a gunman as he drove his car into the garage at his farm home Monday night. The bandit confronted him with a revolver, searched him and made off with a small amount of cash.

Lohry was then ordered to get back in his car and drive to Ashland. The holdup rode on the spare tire. Somewhere between the farm and Ashland the man jumped from the car.

Season's Greetings

Again we wait the dawn of a new year, closing our present one in commemorating the birth of the Man of Galilee, whose example and precepts have been the beacon light of our civilization for nearly two thousand years.

We are resolved to make this coming year a better one than the one now closing.

Its trials and tribulations, mingled with its joys and exultations, we feel are but stepping stones to a better and more wholesome future.

A Merry Christmas to You is Our Sincere Wish
