For Sale—Work Horses
Two teams of good work horses: One team of bay mares well matched, 8 years old, wt. 2550; one team of grays, 12 years old, wt. 2550. A farm two miles north of Murdock—Conrad Baumgartner. 126-31-Mp

This is Different Weather.
Postmaster L. B. Gorthey received a letter the first of last week when we were enjoying this summer weather, the letter coming from his mother, who makes her home at Broad Albin, N. Y., and among the other things which the letter recited was that at that time they were having weather 18 degrees below zero and with snow knee deep, and a high wind prevailing. The letter further said that the weather had been quite severe and that when the roads were opened up, another storm would come, filling the roads so as to make traveling almost impossible. That is sure different from what we are having here.

Elected Manager at Wabash.
At the meeting of the Farmers Elevator company at Wabash last week they elected W. T. Weddell as manager of the elevator at that place. Mr. Weddell has had many years of service in this line of business and is well qualified for the position which he assumes. Mr. Weddell will continue to make his home in Murdock and will drive from his home to work there. In order to not have anything interfere with his work at Wabash he is selling his fine herd of Jersey cows which are excellent ones. The removing of this institution the dairy business which Mr. Weddell has maintained for so long will no doubt inconvenience many here.

Were Visitors in Murdock.
Albert Leis and wife, the former a nephew of P. Leis and Joseph Spader, second cousin of Mr. Leis, all from DeSmet, South Dakota, were visiting with Mr. Leis last week on Thursday of last week all went to Shenandoah where they visited at the two broadcasting stations and stayed houses where they made purchases for their farms in the north. They enjoyed their visit here and also their trip to the Iowa town.

Do You Want Good Tires?
We have them, 29x4.40 at $5.55 and 30x4.50 at $6.20. George Utt, Murdock.

Visit Shenandoah Sunday.
On last Sunday Lacey McDonald and the good wife, Harry V. McDonald his mother, Bryan McDonald and Miss Florence Thimman made up a merry party who were visiting at the two broadcasting stations at Shenandoah on last Sunday, they driving over and going via Plattsmouth and Greenwood over the paved roads, and while at Shenandoah enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

What About Your Subscription?
Your magazine and newspaper business solicited. Your subscription to newspapers and magazines will expire soon. I would appreciate your renewal. L. B. GORTHEY.

Will Erect New Home.
A. H. Ward and wife are to have a new home in the near future, they having made plans for the building of a six room and bath modern home where the former home has stood, and having had Frank Kousse of Greenwood remove the old building with the contents to a spot east of the place where the new building is to stand. The new home is to be entirely modern with bath and up-to-date heating plant with water pressure throughout the building. Frank Melvin the contractor and builder, is to erect the house. As soon as the former home is out of the way the excavation will be commenced for the new foundation and the work will be pushed along as rapidly as good weather will permit. The superstructure will be started as soon as the foundation shall be in readiness.

Make Visit to Parliament.
The Womens club of Murdock, which seeks to see more and know more of what is happening in this world and believing it well to know just what is going on in our midst, on last Wednesday in a body visited the Parliament of Nebraska, better known as the legislature which is composed of the House of Lords—the senate, and the house of commons—the representatives, and with adequate cars there were there to visit the session, Messdames A. J. Tool, T. P. Johnson, Henry Angwert, Henry A. Tool, Harold W. Tool, Mrs. Una Methung, daughter, Mary Catherine and son Edwin, Mrs. H. V. McDonald, and the ladies were predicted to the legislature and learned in a way how the laws which so tightly bind and still so loosely slip when it is necessary, are manufactured. They enjoyed a very pleasant day as well.

Some One Will Have Nice Ride
Early last week we delivered a new car to Mr. L. G. Hornbeck, the genial and accommodating agent of the Rock Island at Murdock, one of the very latest six coupes made by the Chevrolet. This is an excellent car and one which should satisfy the most exacting tastes and we are sure all who Mr. Hornbeck shall invite will enjoy the riding in the new wagon.

Clubs Have Meeting.
The three clubs in Mrs. R. A. Kuehns' group were pleased indeed with the attendance of more than 200 persons at their Get-To-Gether meeting held in the M. W. A. hall Monday evening to hear what clubs under the Farm Bureau are doing in Cass county.

Every number on the program was fine. The splendid orchestra of the Callahan church, started the program right. The women's quartet and duet gave us a sample of what we would enjoy at every club meeting. The twelve men from the audience responded so courteously when called to the stage and proved their ability at a woman's task.

We were honored to hear Miss Helen Cole relate the pleasures of her trip to the 4-H National Congress where she won national honors in judging girls room furnishings. The boys demonstrating their successful rope-making and knot-tying were Milford Smith and Kethel Norton of Weeping Water. These fine boys won at the State Fair.

Only one thing marred the pleasure of our evening and that is the fact Miss Cole whose father Floyd Cole and Kethel Norton, were former residents of Murdock and had to go away from Murdock to find the opportunity for their success.

Mr. Wainscott and Miss Baldwin explained the charts that cover the work of the Farm Bureau in Cass county for a period of 10 or more years. They held the attention of all and their words of praise for this reception of the work they are trying to bring to the county speaks well for those in attendance. To learn every citizen of Cass county was a member of the Farm Bureau surprised many, as only one man there knew he was a member of this organization. We would like to see other meetings of this type in our community.

NEWS REPORTER.
"Seven Letters to Seven Churches"
VII—"Laodicea" Rev. 3: 14-22
This is the last of the seven churches mentioned in Revelation. All of them had their peculiarities: Ephesus strictly orthodox; Smyrna, tried and tested in tribulation; Pergamos, too tolerant against a wicked minority; Thyatira, suffering under irreligious majority; Sardes, in spite of her good reputation was spiritually dead; Philadelphia, known for her blessed activities and success; Laodicea, in self-satisfied and indifferent condition, to be treated as lukewarm water.

This church has nothing commendable. The faithful and true witness knows all about her; he cannot be bribed; nor trifled with. He knows all about us, nothing is hid before that all-seeing eye. God and man are both impotent with an indifferent person. Let a man oppose God, if he is reasonable you can convince him of his error; if indifferent, he will not listen to reason. No condition in men is more displeasing than being lukewarm, neither hot nor cold, neither for nor against any plan or purpose or project. In this case God can only give advice to the church. Pointing out to her wherein she lacks. He gives her this advice in her wretched and miserable condition, which she is hearing from all unrighteousness and clothe the soul in the righteousness of Jesus Christ as with a garment; white raiment is a sign of purity and cleanliness, godliness; the anointing of the eyes is necessary, to see clearly the riches of the believer. Joy, peace, love, pardon, grace that supplies all our needs.

The loving Saviour is still endeavoring to gain attention, by rebuking and chastening the imperiled soul, which he does in manifold ways: By extraordinary means, such as the loss of property, sickness, taking away some loved one from our side. The only way to regain God's favor and mercy is by repentance; not only by saying "I am sorry," but by showing it in forsaking the ways that displease God, turn to Him like the publican, crying: "God be merciful to me a sinner."

PLEASANT FAMILY PARTY AT LAU COUNTRY HOME
Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Lau, prominent and well known farmers near Murdock, had the pleasure of entertaining their children and families at their home on Wednesday evening, January 28, to celebrate their 34th wedding anniversary and also the birthdays of their twin daughters, Miss Selma Lau and Mrs. Arnold Hill, which occur upon the same date.

Another daughter, Miss Anna, whose birthday falls upon January 29th, always celebrates on the 28th with her family, but upon this occasion she was called away from home on a nursing case near Greenwood and could not be present.

All the other children were present and spent a happy evening together, a splendid lunch being served before their departure for home.

Those present, besides Mr. and Mrs. Lau and daughters, Misses Ella and Clara, were Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lau and son, Eldon, Mr. and Mrs. George Kraft and daughter, Mary Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hill, of the vicinity of Louisville and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kupke and daughters, Verla and Evelyn, of Greenwood.—Louisville Courier.

MYNARD HOME MAKERS

On Monday, February 3rd, the Mynard Home Makers met at the home of Mrs. Elbert Wiles, all members being present, Anna Jensen.

Our county chairman, Mrs. Gayer, and our group chairman, Mrs. Hall, were guests for the afternoon. Pictures were taken of club members.

The meeting was then called to order by the president. A short business meeting was held. Then our account books were looked over and discussed.

The project leaders then took charge of the meeting giving a very interesting lesson on selection of "Kitchen Culinary," knives, graters, sharpeners and can openers were exhibited.

After the lesson, Mrs. E. H. Spangler gave a very interesting report on the "Organized Agriculture" meeting that was held at Lincoln.

The song of the month, "Juanita," was sung, accompanied by Mrs. Hall at the piano.

The next meeting will be held at the Mynard Community hall, March 3rd. It is to be an all day meeting, to which the husbands are invited.

At the close of the afternoon, Mrs. Wiles served very dainty and delicious refreshments which was very much enjoyed.
