Macus Sichel Nebraska City Dies in Accident

Thompson Also of That City Badly Injured When Car Turned Over Near This City

From Thursday's Daily—
Macus Sichel, 42, well known Nebraska City resident, was instantly killed and Joe Thompson, salesman of the same city, seriously, if not fatally injured, when the car of Mr. Sichel was overturned on highway No. 75 south of this city and the two men pinned in the wreckage.

The two men had gone to Omaha late Wednesday afternoon and were en route home when the accident occurred. A party of Omaha men returning home passed the scene a short time after the accident and coming on into this city notified Officer David Pickrel of the wreck and that one of the parties was apparently dead and the other badly injured. Sheriff Reed and son, Pat, with Officer Pickrel, motored out at once to the scene of the accident and when they reached the scene Thompson had recovered consciousness and was able to crawl from the car while Sichel lay in the car, his head doubled beneath his body and lifeless.

The path of the car was clear to be seen on the wet pavement and along the parking by the side of the pavement. The car had first swung from the pavement on the left hand side of the road and then back into the roadway and clear over to the right of the road and over on the parking, the driver having apparently attempted to again swing the car onto the pavement when it was overturned. The rear wheel struck a pothole, the windshield smashed and the left fender smashed when the wreck was found.

Thompson was brought on into this city by Officer Pickrel and taken to the office of Dr. O. C. Hudson where his injuries were examined, it being found that his right jaw bone was broken, a small fracture of the skull on the right side and bruises on the chest indicated perhaps serious internal injuries. He was later taken to the St. Mary's hospital at Nebraska City.

Thompson, who had dropped off to sleep when the accident occurred and was unaware of the danger until the car turned over. He thought that Sichel, who was driving, had also fallen asleep, awakened suddenly when the car tipped, and in his effort to get the car back onto the pavement, had overturned it with the fatal results to himself.

The car was righted by several men from this city and a force of men of the Lincoln Telephone Co. that came along while the officers were at the scene.

The body of Sichel was brought in by the Sattler funeral home and held there until undertakers from Nebraska City, sent by relatives, came to take the body back to his old home.

Marcus Sichel was a member of one of the old time families of Nebraska City and was for several years engaged in the clothing business in that city, but in recent years had been engaged as a traveling salesman, located in Kansas and had just returned to his old home. The car which he was driving was one being a Kansas license. The head man was a widower and is survived by two children, Jacob and Helen, who make their home with relatives at Nebraska City. He was a brother of Mrs. Fred Cleveland of Nebraska City and Mrs. Paul Kellor, of Percival, Iowa.

Thompson has been engaged as a salesman in Nebraska City for the past few years. County Attorney W. G. Kieck announced after the survey of the accident, that no inquest would be held as the accident was one due entirely to the driver of the car.

DEBATERS ARE COMPLIMENTED
From Friday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth debating team minus the services of Paul Iverson, were at Omaha last evening where they debated both the negative and affirmative with the debating teams of South high in a non-decision debate. The debaters attending were John Becker, Robert Bestor, Madge Garnett and Edward Wehrlein. In the affirmative John Becker was particularly effective in braking down the arguments of his opponents. The entire Plattsmouth team was given very high commendation by the high debate leaders as being one of the best teams heard there.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL
George Heisel, veteran Plattsmouth miller, who has been ill for the past several days, was taken to Omaha Wednesday evening and placed in the Methodist hospital for treatment and observation. Mr. Heisel was taken sick on Tuesday while at work at the mill and was compelled to go to the home and since that time has been confined to his bed. The many friends are trusting that his illness may be of a temporary nature and he be able to return home soon.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Miss Lovisa Albert, who recently underwent an operation at the Immanuel hospital at Omaha, has so far recovered that she has been able to return home to this city where she will recuperate. It will be some time, however, before she can resume her studies at the Peru State Teachers college. The many friends of Miss Albert will be delighted to learn of her return and trust that she may soon have a speedy and complete recovery from her illness and operation.

Z. society. Mr. L. O. Minor read the treasurer's report. All reports gave evidence of faithful work on the part of all organizations.

T. H. Pollock was chosen temporary clerk in the absence of J. M. Robertson, the permanent clerk, and read the minutes of the last meeting. He also read the report of the session for the last year.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: J. M. Robertson and Will Wehrlein were re-elected elders for a term of three years; Mr. Henry Nolting and J. K. ARREST TWO SUSPECTS

From Thursday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon a report was received by Chief of Police Elliott that two suspicious looking characters had been seen loitering around the vicinity of the city square and at once the chief and Sheriff Reed motored down to the scene. It was found that a camp had been built by the men, the wreckage of several old cars being used in making a shelter and also providing an improvised fireplace for the shelter. There was no sign of the men but later the officers again visited the scene. Deputy Sheriff Rex Young, Officer Joe Libershal and Pat Reed accompanying the party and this time the two men were located. The two men protested very much against being taken up to the city for questioning but were finally loaded in and taken to the city jail where one of the men lodged a most violent "kick" against the action and grew so strong in his argument that he was taken on to the county jail to be lodged and given a questioning. The other man was left at the city jail as he did not seem so warlike. It is thought by police that the one man that made such a strong protest was one that they seen several nights ago prowling the alley near the Hinky-Dinky store but who had made his escape. The man will be fingerprinted and the prints sent to the various places to see if the man is wanted anywhere before he is released here.

Chamber of Commerce Hears More of Contest

Judge Duxbury Makes Report on Progress and Interest Shown in Work of Contest.

Objectives for 1931 were considered by the regular session of the Chamber of Commerce today attended by twenty-four members of the dicitorate. One of the chief points of interest was the problem of the city dump and sewage disposal. The matter of the city dump was referred to the Civic Improvement committee, in an effort to work out a solution with the city council.

Judge A. H. Duxbury reported that 121 had signed for the Yard and Garden Contest on the south side and that no definite report had been received from the north side but that favorable progress had been made. The Chamber of Commerce evidenced considerable interest in the Rodman road bill and it was considered hastily at the close of the meeting with no conclusions reached. Opinions of the members of the bill was divided and further discussion will probably be had at a future meeting unless the bill is disposed of before that time.

WARNS AGAINST IMPOSTERS

A letter was sent out to all county superintendents Wednesday by State Superintendent Taylor urging them to warn rural teachers against salesmen who have been gaining admittance to schools under the guise of state inspectors. The letter states that the inspectors are being used by the state as agents for the sale of the state of rural education; G. W. Rosendorf, director of secondary education; Fuller L. Austin, deputy state superintendent; Herbert L. Cushing, state director of adult education and Daisy Simons, who represents "The Knighthood of Youth," as a part of the character education program.

Taylor also calls attention to the fact that the state legislature in 1929 passed a law against salesmen soliciting from the schools during school hours. He also urges the county superintendents to use their influence in getting telephones installed in school houses.

"Tragedies of the recent blizzards should serve to convince school boards as to the necessity of installing telephones in the school buildings," Taylor states in his letter.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

The funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. Olson, eighty-two, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Hodgman's chapel at Lincoln, the deceased lady having been a resident for more than a half century of the capital city. The deceased husband of Mrs. Olson, C. P. Olson, was for many years connected with the Burlington railroad and in the bridge work, serving as inspector and superintendent of the construction of the Burlington bridge over the Missouri river at Plattsmouth in 1880-81. The family removed to Lincoln from Plattsmouth in 1877 and have since been located there. Mr. and Mrs. Olson are remembered by the old time residents of the community and the news of her passing brings a great regret to the old friends who had known her in the years of their residence here.

Mrs. Olson was the grandmother of Charles F. Stretton, now living at Plattsmouth and who with Mrs. Stretton was at Lincoln for the final services.

SENIORS HOLD PARTY

From Friday's Daily—
The members of the senior class of the Plattsmouth high school enjoyed a class party at the high school building last night and with all of the class in attendance to participate in what will probably be one of the last pleasant get-together class events that the members will be able to enjoy as graduating time is drawing near.

The evening was spent in games of all kinds and at which a great deal of pleasure was derived by the jolly group of young people until late in the evening when the party wended their way homeward.

A fine luncheon prepared by the committee assisted in making the evening one that will long be most delightfully remembered by all of the group in attendance at the event.

MANY SEEK SHELTER

From Thursday's Daily—
The city jail was filled last night with the largest number of unfortunate and wanderers that have appealed to the police for shelter in the past winter season. There were some nineteen of the men cared for at the jail and the sleeping quarters of the jail were filled to the limit, the men sleeping over the floors of the cells and the corridors and the papers gathered all available old newspapers to help the unfortunate make couches that would relieve the hardness of the concrete floor. The police have had a great many each evening at the jail but the number there last night was the largest that has been recorded.
