Lewiston News Notes

The Lewiston band was out in both concert and parade at the county fair.

It would be easier to say who did not attend the county fair than attempt to designate those who did.

Vernie Pullin, Eathan Allen, Dale Hansen, Gwendolyn Hansen and Gerald Sudduth all are attending high school at Plattsmouth. They drive from home.

The Happy Hustlers pig club is sure to have plenty of winnings at the county fair. The club worked hard this year and accomplished results.

Messdames Albert Young, Ben Albin, Ezra Albin and Miss Margaret Moore attended a committee meeting of the Red Cross nutrition work at Weeping Water Wednesday.

The Lewiston band plays at Myriad Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Roy Holly invited the Lewiston band to give a concert in Plattsmouth Wednesday evening, September 30th.

The Annual Home Coming festival at Lewiston will be Tuesday and Wednesday October 12-13. The proceeds will be divided equally between the Community Center and the Cemetery Association. Good programs both days and good speakers each afternoon and evening. The Lewiston band will play each evening. More will be said regarding it in a later issue.

The nutrition program, given as a service by the American Red Cross is going well. Mrs. Stepp, the worker, put the work in four schools near Union and will have an adult class at that place. Tuesday evening she talked to a group at a community gathering. At Avoca Wednesday she worked in the Eagle school and Friday she has six rural schools and an adult class at Myriad.

The Health Clinic will begin Friday, October 2 at 8 a. m. At the Community Center. Dr. Hudson will be at the building at 8 to examine children and adults. In the afternoon Dr. Westover will continue the clinic. At 4 the nutrition worker, Mrs. Stepp will talk. All surrounding schools are invited to have their pupils examined in this clinic. Competent nurses will assist with the examinations.

MURRAY WINS GAME
While the weather of last Sunday caused a number of the Murray Red Sox from gathering for their battle with the South Side Merchants of Omaha, the visiting team arrived and the regulars of the Sox with a few of the ball enthusiasts who were present, formed a team that took the Merchants into camp by the score of 3 to 1.

One of the stellar features of the game was the pitching of Miller for Merced and was supported by Keckler back of the bat.

Murray secured their first score in the second inning when Keckler scored on an error, the visitors tying the score in the seventh inning.

The Sox took the lead when Snaveley hit, stole second and scored on a sacrifice by Pierce and an overthrow of first base. Pierce scored later in the game when Anderson Lloyd collected the best hit of the game.

FORMER PASTOR ACCUSED
Augusta, Ga.—An indictment charging that he murdered his nineteen year old son, Rafoed Grady Williams a sailor, was returned by the Richmond county grand jury against the Rev. J. M. Williams, former pastor of a Methodist church at Rochelle. He was arrested Sept. 6, a month after the youth, home on a furlough, was found dead on a highway.

Young Williams had been shot in the head. His pockets were empty and officers at first believed he was killed by robbers. Later the demeanor of the minister led officials to suspect him and an investigation disclosed he had collected $2,500 insurance on his son's life a short while after the killing. It was also revealed, the authorities said, that Williams wrote his son that his sister was seriously ill and arranged for him to get a furlough to visit her. It developed her illness was of a minor nature.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, September 27th By L. Neitzel

The Spread of Christianity in Asia
The lesson hour will be spent to recapitulate the last twelve lessons. Much ground is covered. The early church was a very active church. The book studied is the acts of the apostles, but should rather be called "The Work of the Holy Spirit." This necessitates a study of the third person in the Trinity. The Holy Spirit is much in evidence, first at Pentecost, fulfilling the promise of Jesus; then in leading Philip on the road to Gaza, where He converted that black man, who carried the Gospel into Africa. Next He fills Stephen, who full of faith and wisdom, becomes the first martyr. Then He carries the first missionaries, and so selects on the work begun by Jesus.

Next we note the personalities mentioned in the lessons. There is Peter, who by his preaching at Pentecost opened the door to the Kingdom for the Jews. Then we have Philip, a great evangelist who had a great revival in Samaria. Then comes Stephen with his masterful sermon that secured him the martyr's crown. Then the greatest man of all ages, Saul of Tarsus. Next we come to Barnabas, the first preacher at Antioch, who called Saul of Tarsus to his aid; who became the first missionaries. Mention should be made of John Mark, who eventually became a great preacher and writer of the Gospel of Mark. The persecution is of vital consequence to the church at Jerusalem. It caused the spread of the Gospel beyond the borders of Palestine, into three continents, Africa, Asia and Europe.

A map study is also involved, in following the workers from place to place. Samaria is first visited, then Caesarea where the conversion of the first gentile took place—Cornelius, Duneasus, Antioch, Seleucia, Cyprus, Salamis, Paphos, Perga, back to Antioch, by Paul and Barnabas. The preaching of the apostles should be given careful study; in all their preaching the name of Jesus was exalted. It was salvation through faith in Jesus Christ that the apostles stressed; and we notice that that kind of preaching is the panacea for the ills of the human race, and ever will be; it changes the lives of individuals, as also nations. It is good for body and soul, as proven in these lessons.

The lessons on social service and temperance reveal how vitally religion is related to daily living. Sharing with others who are in need had its real beginning with Christians. Today those who pass Jesus by give little heed to the needs of those about them. Benevolence originates in a heart attitude. The Christians made immediate plans when the Grecian widows complained and the poor saints in Jerusalem were in mind wherever Paul went in his journeys. Also the law of the harvest, that what we sow we shall reap is operative in every life.

Reference should be made to the experiences of the missionaries; they were not all of a pleasant nature. They had some great victories, and hours of gladness, when they saw the multitudes turn from idol-worship to God; and they had to suffer when the enemies of the Gospel would arouse the mob spirit in the unbelievers, and prison and persecution and even stoning would be visited upon them.

While we were studying the beginning of the missionary movement, let the teachers emphasize the fact that the greatest missionary book in the world is the Bible. The greatest missionary book in the Bible is the Acts of the Apostles; the greatest missionary chapter in the Acts is the thirteenth; the greatest missionary verses in the thirteenth chapter are the first three verses. The greatest deed recorded of the Antioch church was the sending forth of Paul and Barnabas; these were the strongest men in the church. The spread of the Gospel and its victories, are full of thrills. The converts number by the thousands, and all this was accomplished in only twenty years' time, proving the vitality of Gospel. The council at Jerusalem settled some pertinent questions, regarding the reception of the gentiles, without first submitting the ceremonial of the old Mosaic law.
