Woman's Party Maps Plan for Equal Rights

Program Includes Plank in the Platforms of Both of the Major Parties.

Washington—Members of the National Woman's Party will gather here Saturday and Sunday from all parts of the country to chart a political program during the next two years.

A campaign for an equal rights plank in the platform of both political parties next year will be mapped out. Plans are to be laid for the presentation of an equal rights treaty and the demand for equal nationality to the seventh Pan-American Conference, meeting in Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1932. Removal of the few remaining inequalities in the nationality law of the United States will also be discussed.

The past year has been remarkable for increase in recognition of the importance of the equal rights movement, officials of the party believe. The work for a world-wide code of equality by Miss Alice Paul, Miss Doris Stevens and Miss Margaret Whittemore, all three council members of the Woman's Party, has had significant results reflected in the woman's movement in Europe and Asia as well as the Americas, they point out.

Other events of great importance to this movement they see impending for the immediate future. There is the appeal to the United States Supreme Court from the decision of the Massachusetts Supreme Court in the case of Genevieve Welosky, by which the Woman's Party hopes to establish the right of a woman to jury service in all states. There is the assumption by two women of positions of great responsibility and power. Mrs. T. M. Caraway will be sworn in as United States Senator from Arkansas when Congress convenes Dec. 7; and Miss Doris Stevens has just received the unprecedented honor of being named a member of the American Institute of International Law.

The equal rights plan, uniting in one measure all of the widely different points on the equal rights program and applying to all states and localities, was drafted by Alice Paul and named the Lucretia Mott Amendment in honor of Lucretia Mott, the founder of the equal rights movement in the United States.

6,000 CLIPPINGS TELL MUSSOLINI OF GRANDI'S WORK

New York, Dec. 8.—Dino Grandi, Italy's foreign minister, wants his boss, Mussolini, to know what America thinks of him.

When he returned to Italy after his American visit he had 3,000 clippings from American newspapers. An equal number, collected since his return, will be forwarded to Rome soon.

M. W. A. ELECTS OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

Fred H. Vincent Elected as Venerable Counselor of Cass Camp No. 335 of Woodmen.

From Wednesday's Daily

Last evening the members of Cass Camp No. 332, Modern Woodmen of America, met at the lodge room in the Eagle building for the annual election of the officers of the camp, the following being chosen:

V. C.—Fred H. Vincent.
W. A. Herbert Nelson.
Clerk—E. F. Goos.
Banker—Ed. Gahman.
Watchman—D. T. Stapp.
Sentry—Everett Newton.
Trustee—Fred G. Morgan.
Physician—Dr. R. P. Westover.

The camp has shown a pleasing increase in the year and under the very capable leadership of the new officers should continue to advance along the work of woodcraft.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

In honor of the birthday anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. George Mumm, Sunday a number of relatives gathered at their home to see that the event was fittingly observed, it being seldom that the husband and wife are able to have the same birthday date.

The members of the party enjoyed to the utmost the fine dinner that had been prepared and served at the noon hour and which was enjoyed by the following members of the jolly party: Carlton Mumm, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Twiss, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mumm and daughter, Anna, of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ray, and Mrs. Ray, of Union, Mr. and Mrs. Reuel Sack and sons, Clayton and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spangler, Peter Mumm and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. George Mumm and daughter, Wilma.

CASE ATTRACTS MANY

From Tuesday's Daily

A large number of the residents of the vicinity of Nehawka were here today to look in on the trial of the damage suit of Edward Murray against William O. Troop and others. The case is one that has brought a great many witnesses here, called by both the plaintiff and the defendants. The details of the trouble that has rocked the neighborhood north of Nehawka at different times in the past year was given an airing in the testimony of the various witnesses. It is expected that the case will continue all day today and possibly over into Wednesday before it is given to the jury.

ROTARIANS MEET

The Plattsmouth Rotary club held their weekly session at the dining room the the Majestic cafe on Tuesday noon, the session being largely devoted to the business of the organization. R. W. Knorr was the leader of the week and many matters pertaining to the work of the organization was taken up. Miss Gertrude Vallery, one of the talented young ladies of the city was heard in a very cleverly presented reading that was very much enjoyed by all of the members of the club.

WEEPING WATER

Oliver Cresse of Lincoln was a visitor for a few days in Weeping Water and while here was the guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. Dr. W. H. Tuck, enjoying the visit very much.

Charles Spohn and son, Lamoyne of near Elmwood were visiting in Weeping Water on last Tuesday as well they made a trip over to Plattsmouth where they were looking after some business matters for the day.

Miss Agnes Rough was a visitor in Nehawka for the afternoon on last Sunday, going over to visit with her brother, Stewart Rough and wife, but did not find them at home and visited with other friends for the afternoon.

The members of the American Legion went to the home of Sam Baker where they sawed the wood pile into stove lengths and placed it in the dry for the winter's heating. Mr. Baker was sick and could not get at the work himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruetter and the family of near Murdock were visiting in Weeping Water on Tuesday of this week.

THE FUNERAL HOME

Modern conditions and standards of living have called into being an entirely new kind of institution for meeting a universal human need—The Funeral Home.

Planned for the specific purpose which it serves, it offers greater efficiency and greater convenience than was possible in the past.

We are proud to be able to offer the communities which we serve the use of such an establishment.

where Mrs. Ruetter was having some dental work done by Dr. E. H. Kintner and also were visiting with their friends here as well.

Mrs. Torrence Flemming entertained the Knickerbocker club at her home on Thursday of last week, and had a very fine crowd of the members who enjoyed the very pleasant afternoon as well as the very fine luncheon which was served by the genial hostess.

Showing the Christmas Spirit.

The business houses of Weeping Water have been displaying the Christmas spirit and many of them have decorated their places of business which has added much to the well being of the stores. Among those who are looking fine are the Weeping Water Bakery, The Olive News and Confectionary, S. P. Day, the Weeping Water Variety Store, the Johnson Cafe, the Meier's Drug Store, and the C. H. Gibson store. This is the beginning and we are certain before this gets into print all will be fully arrayed in Christmas colors and emanating Christmas cheer.

Business Is Good Thank You.
So says Elmer Michelsen about the Weeping Water Variety Store, so much so that on Wednesday he and the wife were compelled to go to Omaha each day to obtain goods to supply the very fine trade which has been coming to their place of business.

Hans Johnson Meets with Accident.
Hans Johnson, who was injured over a year ago by getting a severe cut on his knee which made him lame for many months and who recently established himself in business, in the room east of the Dowler garage, and later moving to the room west of the Nebraska State bank, following the closing of the store on Monday night went home and went for some article in the back yard where it was dark and stepping on some article slipped and in falling struck a large stone in the yard, on his back which fractured two of his ribs and also bruised Mr. Johnson very badly. He was layed up in bed for some time and on Tuesday when the writer was in Weeping Water Mr. Johnson was still in bed and was not able to move without a great deal of pain. It is hoped that he will soon be able to be out again and at his business.

Land Mark Disappearing.
Away back in 1885 Wm. Dunn was engaged in the livery business and held many sales of live stock as well as other goods, being an auctioneer by profession and at that time built the large livery and sales barn, which has stood there for nearly a half century, and was used until about five years ago by Mr. Dunn for a livery and sales barn.

During the past few years it has been used as a portion of the space for the Cass County Agricultural Society for poultry, swine and cattle houses as well as cattle exhibits. Within the past year the property was acquired by the society and at this time they are having the building which has become so familiar removed. This barn has passed through many vicissitudes and saw time good and time bad, and has been one of the buildings which was here when Weeping Water was a new town and, with the coming of the automobile the former use of the building as a livery stable has vanished and as it has served its day and age it is to be removed that the space can be utilized for the Cass County Fair association.

With the barn Weeping Water has seen its poorer days and as well its better days, and she is at this time in the best condition for many days as she has paved streets, good sewerage, electric lights, good roads and gas for lighting and fuel and is one of the modern up to date cities of eastern Nebraska.

Selling Better Lights.
Ray Galloway of near Union who has the agency for the Perfect-o-lites for automobiles which is guaranteed not to produce a glare was in Weeping Water on last Tuesday looking after the sale of the lights.

Undergoes Operation.
Sam Baker, who has been in not the very best of health for some weeks was taken to the Veterans' hospital at Lincoln last Friday where he underwent an operation for appendicitis and from which he is making very fine progress towards recovery.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Charles Herren, who has been at the Nicholas Senn hospital in Omaha, for some time taking treatment, has been able to return to the home here but will continue his treatments at home. Mr. Herren is feeling much improved and his many friends are delighted to see Charley back home and doing so well. Mr. Herren has not been so well in the last few months and on the advice of his physician, Dr. O. C. Hudson, took a course of treatment at the hospital and with the best of results.
