'The Tumult' is Pleasing to a Large Audience

Home Talent Offering Shows Splendid Talent of the Members of the Cast of Play

From Thursday's Daily
Last evening the comedy-drama, "The Tumult" was presented at the Plattsmouth theatre by a large cast of local young people, affording an evening of the greatest pleasure to all those who were in attendance.

The play was well selected, being the story of a mill owner threatened by a man he had wronged, many years before, with the destruction of the mills and his personal fortune. The seeker of revenge however, falls in love with the daughter of the mill owner and as the curtain falls all was happiness and love. A great deal of very clever humor was interspersed in the course of the offering.

The cast was well balanced and every member was all that could be desired, giving one of the most pleasing home talent offerings that has been afforded the Plattsmouth and Cass county people in many months. The members of the cast and their characters were:

John Chadwick, President of the Chadwick Mills and Most Prominent Man in Town
Dr. G. L. Taylor
Mary Chadwick, Daughter of John Chadwick
Ruth Janda
Tommy Benson, Clerk at the Chadwick Mills
C. H. Martin
Nita Chadwick, Mary's Sister
Edna Herring, Walter's Girl
Howard Trenton, Chadwick's Partner and Mary's Suitor
Merle McCrary
Polly Benson, Tommy's Sister

Mary Swatek
Charlie Hempstead, Clerk at the Chadwick Mills
Walter Gabriel
Grandmother of Polly and Tommy
Sylvia Hill
Clay Grantwell, the Destroyer

John Svoboda
Louis Sedlak
Adding to the cleverness and interest of the play were the dancing and singing choruses of the younger girls whose pleasing voices and clever dances as well as attractive costumes made striking pictures.

The choruses also appeared in support of the vocal solos and duets, Mrs. Herring and C. H. Martin presenting, "Now's the Time to Fall in Love," Miss Anna May Sandin, "Who's Your Little Who-zis," Miss Ruth Janda, who carried the leading feminine role of the play, in "Only a Rose," and Mrs. Gilbert Hinz, in "Sleepy Time Down South."

The members of the chorus group for the various songs were: Verla Ault, Betty Bull, Geraldine Griffin, Josephine Janda, Mary Jane Mark, Joan Moran, Edna Mae Peterson, Doris Peterson, Grace Pilney, Thelma Pittman, Constance Rea, Inga Reichstadt, Virginia Samek, Anna Mae Sandin, Mary Katherine Wiles, Helen Schulz, Eleanor Swatek, Marjorie Ann Tidball, Gertrude Valley, Janet Valley, Velma Wells, Anna Zitka.

As one of the inter-act specialties, the Plattsmouth high school boys' quartet, composed of David Robinson, George Adam, Otto Stodola and James Nowacek, were heard in two well presented numbers, Miss Cora Williams, music instructor of the schools playing the accompaniment. Sam Brown, well known professional dancer of Omaha, gave several of his tap dancing numbers that proved one of the most enjoyed features of the evening, judging from the reception that this clever colored entertainer received.

The play, "The Tumult," was sponsored by the Sodality of the Holy Rosary Catholic church, being directed by Mrs. O. Sandin. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Sandin who has worked hard on the production and to her excellent direction and untiring efforts much of the success of the delightful play can be credited, sharing the honors with the exceptionally able cast.

The orchestra that furnished the accompaniment for the various numbers was composed of W. R. Holly, director and violinist; Glen Woodbury, pianist; C. E. Ledgway, trombone; Theodore Ptak, saxophone; W. A. Wells, trumpet; Charles Howard, drums.

AN APPRECIATION

The Sodality of the Holy Rosary church wishes to take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation for the co-operation that made the success of "The Tumult" possible. It is desired to thank the public for their patronage, the A. S. Christ Co., Maury Drug Co., Plattsmouth Water Corporation and A. G. Bach for their favors, the members of the cast, chorus and Mrs. Sandin for their splendid work, the orchestra and P. H. S. boys quartet, the stage hands and ushers and all those who so kindly assisted.

MARRIED AT COURT HOUSE

Wednesday afternoon at the court house occurred the marriage of George Christenson, Jr., 18, and Miss Elizabeth Cole, 17, both of Des Moines, Iowa. The young people were accompanied here by George Christenson, Sr., and Mrs. Lucy L. Christenson, parents of the groom. The bride's party came prepared with the written consent of the mother of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Judge A. H. Durbury in his usual impressive manner.

Remodeling Mill for Use of Basket Factory

Structure Being Rearranged on Interior to Conform to Needs of Local Industry

The large building erected some ten years ago at Third and Pearl streets, known as the Alfa-Max mill, but which was used but a short time, is now again resounding with life.

The mill building has been secured by the Nebraska Basket Co., and will in the future be used to house this rapidly growing industrial plant, whose "King Hill" baskets are rapidly growing in favor with the trade over this part of the west.

A number of changes are made necessary in adapting the mill to the use of the basket factory and workmen have been busy for the past few days in these alterations. The east portion of the building will carry three stories and in the upper floors the weaving of the baskets will be carried on, the woven bodies of the baskets be sent to the lower floors where the forms are operated and the baskets placed in shape for the trimming and handling and the final touches that they will receive before shipment.

The ground floor will also have the heavy machines that are used in the preparation of the wood for use in basket making as well as the steam lines that are used in the handling, making, the heated pipes being necessary in the formation of the handles. The location of the mill is very convenient to the saw mill of the basket factory, located on Third street just across the building and the basket factory will use. The new building also has adequate and pleasant quarters for the business offices of the company.

WEDDED TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Twenty-five years ago Thursday, on January 14, 1907, in this city, occurred the marriage of Miss Nellie Sherwood to R. A. Troop, the young people having just a short time before completed their high school work. This estimable couple are numbered among the well known and esteemed residents of our community. Mr. and Mrs. Troop are residing on the farm south of this city, where they quietly observed the anniversary, the storm and bad road conditions preventing the friends from joining in this happy occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Troop have made their home on the farm since their marriage and where they have found life very pleasant. Their daughter, Miss Kathleen, is head of the home economics department of the Nebraska City high school, while their son, Jack, is a student at the Omaha university in the engineering department of the school. "Art" as he is best known, is one of the active members of the local Rotary club.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Troop will join in the wish that they may continue to enjoy prosperity and success and the enjoyment of their golden wedding.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH HAS GOOD YEAR

The annual meeting of St. Luke's church elected R. W. Clement, senior warden, and Dr. Stuart Livingston as junior warden for 1932. The assisting vestry will be Messrs. Judge J. T. Begley, Henry Herald, George Petring, Rea Patterson and Mrs. J. A. Donelan and the Misses Dora Fricke and Mia Gering. All organizations reported showing balances on hand. The general fund of the church closed the year with a balance on hand and a small reserve fund in trust. There are no debts of any kind outstanding. A fine record of loyal work and support was indicated and every prospect for increase during the coming year. The number of communicants has increased by 21 since last report, Dec. 1930. Installation of gas heating and many other improvements to the plant were reported.

MRS. EATON BETTER

From Friday's Daily
The reports from the bedside of Mrs. Alice Eaton, long resident of this city, are to the effect that the patient is much better although she is still in serious condition. Mrs. Eaton is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Cummins. The aged lady has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia and that she is showing improvement is the source of a great deal of pleasure to the many old time friends.

Meeting of Nemaha Area of Boy Scouts

Held at Nebraska City Last Evening—R. C. Boyd, Auburn Nominated as President

From Thursday's Daily
The representatives of the various Boy Scout organizations embraced in the Nemaha area, met last evening at Nebraska City in the annual meeting of the organization, to name the officers for the ensuing year. From this city, E. H. Westcott, chairman of the executive committee and Raymond J. Larson, scoutmaster, were in attendance.

The meeting was held at the Memorial building, a dinner preceding the business session of the area.

The reports of the various area officers were received. Area Scoutmaster Cecil Hertzberger showing in his report that $4,610 had been expended in the activities of the area in the past year, that on December 31st there were 571 Scouts enrolled and 200 Scouters, the latter being the officers and workers not active members of the Scouts. The number attending Camp Wilson, recreational camp of the area, the past year was given as 105.

Former governor Samuel R. McKelvie, long a national leader in the Boy Scout movement, presided at the evening and gave a very fine address on the work of the Scouts in the nation and state as well as bringing many splendid suggestions along the line of the Scout work.

The officers selected were as follows: President—Edward Yates, Auburn. First Vice-President—R. C. Boyd, Auburn. Second Vice-President—William Sargeant, Nebraska City. Third Vice-President—Dan Hill, Nebraska City. Fourth Vice-President—Dr. C. A. Lutchens, Auburn. Treasurer—H. B. Swalley, Nebraska City.

In honor of their long and active service in the Scout work, R. C. Boyd and H. B. Swalley were presented with service medals. The address was given among the veterans in this work in the Nemaha area.

Elmer Konkin of Nebraska City, was named unanimously as the Commissioner of the Nemaha area for the ensuing year.

The local Scout activities is in charge of an active and efficient executive committee while the active contact work with the Scouts is carried on by Russell Reeder, Scout executive for this district and Raymond J. Larson, scoutmaster. Mr. Larson has had the task of carrying on the work for each month of the year as Mr. Reeder is not here for the summer work, making a splendid record and one that deserves the highest commendation, a fine contribution of an active leader to the work of the organization.

ENJOY FINE PLAYLET

The public library auditorium was filled to its capacity Friday afternoon, when the playlet "Mother's Busy Day," written by Mrs. Clement Woster, guardian of the Aweant campfire, and presented by the members of this organization. Each part assigned seemed to be especially adapted to the ability of the little actors, and greatly enjoyed by the school children who had gathered for the "Story Hour" which is held every Friday afternoon immediately after school.

STILL VERY ILL

From Saturday's Daily
The report has reached this city that Mrs. John Janda, former resident now residing at Dewesse, Nebraska, continues very critically ill at her home in the west. Mrs. Joseph Wooster, of this city, a daughter, who has been at the Janda home for some time, will remain over for the condition of the mother is such that it is thought best that she remain to assist in her care.

RETURNS FROM SOUTH

W. D. McCrary, who has been enjoying a visit for the past two weeks at Houston, Texas, and New Orleans, has returned home. "Doug" had a very fine time in the two southern cities, visiting at New Orleans with his brother, John, who is now making his headquarters at that city. The trip was one that will be long pleasantly remembered and enabled Mr. McCrary to miss a part of the real cold weather.

ARRIVAL OF LITTLE DAUGHTER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kostka, northwest of this city, was made very happy Wednesday afternoon by the arrival of a fine little daughter. The mother and little one are both doing nicely and the occasion has brought a great deal of pleasure to all of the members of the family circle. The many friends here will join in their well wishes for the little one.

GRANTED DIVORCE

From Friday's Daily
This morning in the district court the hearing in the case of Merritt E. Dodson vs. Marie E. Dodson, came on for hearing before Judge James T. Begley. The default of the defendant was entered and the decree of divorce as prayed for, was granted. The defendant was restored her maiden name, Marie E. Pierce, by agreement of the parties. The plaintiff and defendant had made a property settlement which was approved by the court in the decree.

Feed the Birds While Snow is Covering Ground

Many Residents of the City Are Aiding in Caring for the Feathered Friends

With the deep snow of the past week making the plight of the feathered residents of the community serious as to securing food, the residents are urged to place food where the birds can secure it and save them from starvation.

A number of the residents have had boards placed on top of the snow and on which corn, crumbs or table leavings are placed so that the birds' greatest aid in preventing the ravages of insect life, can exist through the hard days of snow covered ground and feeding places. Some of the friends of the birds have large pieces of tallow tied out to trees where the birds may gather nourishment.

In many cases where the thoughtful residents have aided the feathered residents, they have noted many varieties of birds that have come to feed, the birds learning where the more thoughtful residents are located and where they can find food, they scurry when the snow prevents, they scurry from the usual feeding places.

SEEK ROBBER

From Saturday's Daily
Chief of Police Wallace Reed of Shenandoah, Iowa, was in the city and this morning on the trail of the man who early last night held up and robbed M. E. Hankins of Shenandoah, of $2,400.

The robbery occurred at 7 o'clock Friday night, a stranger coming to the door of the Hankins home and asking for M. Hankins. When Mr. Hankins came to the door the man stood in the doorway with a drawn revolver and demanded that he turn over his money. Mr. Hankins had a part of the money in his pocket and the $2,000 was secured into his underwear, the robber compelling him to surrender the money. The robber made his escape by auto from the scene.

The robber is reported to have a Nebraska license on the car and is thought to be a stranger to the city in the last few weeks. The Iowa officer and two of the sons of Mr. Hankins motored here last night and with Officers Libershal and Pickel attempted to get some trace of the man wanted but without success. The fact that the robber seemed to be well acquainted with the surroundings of the Hankins home, as well as the location of the money on the person of Hankins, leads to the belief that the robbery was well planned by someone familiar with the family.

DEATH OF MRS. SAM PITTMAN

From Thursday's Daily
The message was received last night by relatives at Murray and this city announcing the death of Mrs. Sam Pittman, which occurred early Wednesday morning at the family home at Long Beach, California. On receipt of the message, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis, of Murray, the latter a sister of Mr. Pittman, departed for the west coast.

Mrs. Pittman was here for several weeks in the fall and early winter, visiting with the relatives and friends, departing on December 20th for her home. Letters were received from her by relatives Sunday and no mention was made of illness so that it is thought that the death was quite unexpected.

Mrs. Pittman was formerly Miss Terrace Hennings of near Murray.

ELMWOOD LADY HONORED

Recently Mrs. Howard Capwell was elected to the Home Economics section of Organized Agriculture at a meeting held in Lincoln. She was also elected president of the Master Farm Homemakers Club. The many friends of Mrs. Capwell are proud of the fine distinction that she has received and know that she will serve faithfully and efficiently in the above named offices to which she has been chosen.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

GERING FARMER TAKES UP POPCORN PRODUCTION

Gering, Jan. 15.—J. G. Pageler, living near here, has introduced a new business here. He is a producer, packer and wholesaler of popcorn. Last summer Pageler raised 1,100 bushels of shelled corn.

Bar of Second District Holds Its Meeting Friday

Banquet and Business Session Held Here—E. J. Nickerson, Papillion Elected President

From Saturday's Daily
The members of the bar of the second judicial district, comprising Cass, Otoe and Sarpy counties, held their annual meeting in this city last evening, the event being attended by a very large number of the attorneys as well as their ladies.

The reception to the visitors was held at the Hotel Riley preceding the banquet which was held at the parlors of the First Methodist church. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nickerson of Papillion, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Capwell of this city and A. P. Morgan of Nebraska City.

The banquet at the church was one of the greatest charm and pleasure to all of the members of the party, the tables being attractive in the snowy linen, sparkling glass and silver while bouquets of red carnations and the green candles added to the decorations of the tables.

The menu was prepared and served by the Social Workers of the church and was all that could be wished in every way.

The menu was as follows:
Fruit Cocktail
Smothered Chicken and Fish
Cheese Wafers
Mashed Potatoes—Giblet Gravy
Peas and Carrots
Bread—Butter—Jelly
Pineapple Salad
Celery Carrots—Olives
Pumpkin Pie
Coffee

As the guests were seated the sociability of the evening was added to by the group singing, Mrs. James T. Begley leading the members of the party in the well known songs of the past and today.

The boys' quartet of the Plattsmouth high school, comprising David Robinson, George Adam, Otto Stodola and James Nowacek, with Miss Cora Williams as accompanist, were heard in three numbers that received a wonderful reception from the members of the banquet party.

At the close of the evening D. O. Dwyer of this city, veteran attorney and president of the bar association, in charge of the meeting and extended the welcome to all of the members of the bar, their ladies and the guests of the association.

Mr. Dwyer in his usual able manner, presented the speakers of the evening, Judge Fred A. Wright of Omaha and Judge James T. Begley of this city. Judge Wright, from his wealth of experience at the bar, gave many interesting stories of the early days of the legal profession in the west part of the state, as well as in later years when the distinguished jurist had been engaged in practice in the city of Omaha. His address was one that was thoroughly enjoyed by all of the party, especially in the clever manner that they were given by Judge Wright.

Judge Begley spoke of the need of the aid of the bar in the speeding up of the administration of justice, showing how the machinery of the bar and courts had not kept pace with other lines of activities in the nation.

The business session was presided over by Mr. Dwyer and the election of officers resulted in the following being chosen:

President—E. J. Nickerson, Papillion.
Vice-President—W. A. Robertson, Plattsmouth.
Secretary-Treasurer—V. E. Tyler, Nebraska City.

The meeting place of the association for the next year was selected as Papillion.

Among those who were former members of the bar in the district who were in attendance were Howard Saxton, Omaha; E. D. Raabe, Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ramsey, Omaha; and C. M. Skiles, Lincoln. Messages were also received from Judge Jesse L. Root and Byron Clark of Omaha, distinguished members of the bar of the metropolis and former Plattsmouth residents.

The banquet and meeting was arranged by Mr. Dwyer, the association president and the committee of the Cass county bar, the gentlemen providing a very pleasant and entertaining gathering of the members of the legal profession and their ladies.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mrs. Clayton A. Rosencrans, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Don Selver, president of the local unit, Mrs. Fay McClintock and Mrs. Adelaide Boynton, were at Seward Thursday to attend the thirteenth district meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary. A very fine time was reported by the ladies but encountering a great deal of disagreeable roads in reaching Seward. The American Legion representatives who had planned to attend the convention were unable to make the trip, waiting until the force of the storm had made the travel very difficult and the local Legion was unrepresented at the meeting.

QUEEN ESTHERS MEET

The Queen Esthers class of the Methodist church held a very pleasant meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Gladys Bushnell on South Sixth street.

The devotions were led by Miss Germaine Mason, while the lesson of the evening was given by Mrs. Glenn Starkey in a most interesting manner. A large crowd attended and at a late hour refreshments were served to add to the pleasures of the occasion.

Legion District Convention to Plattsmouth

Thirtieth District Gathering in Fall to Be Held in This City—Invitation Accepted.

The convention of the thirtieth district of the American Legion of Nebraska will be held in Plattsmouth, the convention at Seward on Thursday having accepted the invitation extended by Commander W. T. Distell of the Hugh J. Kearns post. The thirtieth district comprises Cass, Otoe, Lancaster and Seward counties, having the city of Lincoln in the district is one of the large districts of the state as far as membership.

The convention will be held next November and it is expected will draw a very large number here as this city is within easy reach of the large posts at Lincoln and Nebraska City as well as the many smaller posts over the district. This city was host to the Legion district convention in 1926 at the summer meeting and the pleasant recollections of the hospital treatment received in this friendly city, led the convention Thursday to unanimously accept the telegraphed invitation of the local post.

Frederic W. Wright of Nebraska City, is the district president and will cooperate with the local Legion members in arranging for the convention in the fall.

AFFIRMES CASS COUNTY CASE

The state supreme court has just announced the affirming of the case of Mary Mae vs. Ada and Edward Murray, an action appealed from the district court of Cass county. The court decision was given by Judge W. G. Hastings, sitting with the supreme court. The findings in the case by the appeal court shall only run from March 1, 1930, otherwise affirmed. The syllabus of the case was as follows:

1. Where the evidence shows, as in this case, that a deed of a valuable interest in real estate was made by an aged woman of limited education, and no business experience, without consideration, and there is evidence she did not know the instrument signed was a deed, but was led to believe and did believe it was a lease of her life estate therein, held sufficient to establish fraud, and equity will cancel such deed.

2. On the cross-appeal of appellee, held, that by reason of the contract set out in the opinion appellee is not entitled to recover rents prior to March 1, 1929.

3. The part of the decree providing for interest on the annual rental beginning on March 1, 1929, modified and interest allowed on the annual rental from March 1, 1930, when the rent for the year 1929 became due.

PLEASANT RIDGE COMMUNITY MEETING

The Pleasant Ridge Community club held their last meeting Friday evening, Jan. 15th, at the Pleasant Ridge school.

A very interesting program was given by the county agent, also a rope demonstration was given by Clifford Smith and Keith Norison of Weeping Water.

For refreshments hot dogs, buns, cake and coffee was served, with Mrs. Louie Friedrich and Mrs. Ben Speck on the refreshment committee.

The next meeting will be Friday evening, Feb. 19th, at the Pleasant Ridge school and everyone is welcome.—Reporter.

NEW SHERIFF HERE

From Saturday's Daily
Edward Thimman, of Murdock, who was selected as sheriff of Cass county to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Sheriff Reed, was in the city this afternoon. Mr. Thimman came in for a conference with the board of commissioners relative to the deputyship, custodian of the jail and other matters which have been pending prior to the final turning of the office over to the new sheriff.

PRACTICE AT CENTRAL

The Plattsmouth high school basketball quintet motored to Omaha Wednesday afternoon where they practiced with Coach Knapp's quintet at the new Central high school gym. The game was merely a practice event and no score was kept of the event, but the locals showed well against the Central high team.

Blue and White Swamps Auburn by 42-16 Score

Plattsters Take Early Lead and Are Never Threatened—Play a Great Game of Ball

From Saturday's Daily
The "blue streak" might well be applied to the Plattsmouth high school quintet last evening, when they stopped the Auburn Bulldogs in one of the best games that any Plattsmouth high school quintet has ever played.

The game was the first that the Plattsters have played in the southeast conference schedule, the contest scored, Plattsmouth 42 and Auburn 16, scuttling the hopes of the Bulldogs for southeast championship honors. With the locals playing as they did last night anyone will have a hard fight to take the honors from the Plattsters.

In scoring and general play, every member of the Plattsmouth team was on their toes and kept the offensive from the start of the game, with the final whistle finding them bombing the Auburn goal.

Donat made his usual two baskets curing a free throw for the first score and in a few seconds Arn had planted one from the side of the court and the game was on. Arn, Rummel, Knofficek and Forbes each scored a field goal and Donat, center, two baskets, Arn and Forbes adding a free toss apiece for the opening quarter. Field goals by Abington and Andrews were the only scores for the visitors. The score at the close of the first period was Plattsmouth, 14, Auburn, 4.

In the second stanza, Arn and Rummel each scored two baskets and Donat, the elongated center, added two baskets, Rummel and Arn also taking two free throws. Andrews and Salitors each made a basket for the Bulldogs. Score, Plattsmouth 25, Auburn 8.

After the half and the conferences of the teams, the visitors attempted a rally but were smothered in the air-tight defense of the Plattsters while the unceasing attack of the blue and white continued. Arn, Forbes and Rummel each took a field goal, while Donat made his usual two baskets with Forbes and Rummel adding free throws to make the local score 37 at the end of the period. Abington and Andrews each made field goals and Andrews a free toss for the visitors and to bring their total to 13.

In the final period Donat and the Plattsters' batting guard, Forbes, added two more baskets. Maynard McCleary, who had been sent in to relieve Rummel, scored a free toss. Maak, who had replaced Abington, scored a field goal and a free throw for Auburn. The score at the final was 42 to 16.

The tabulated score:

Auburn—	PG	FT	PF	TP
Abington, f	2	0-3	2	4
Maak, f	1	1-1	0	2
Wheeler, f	0	0-0	2	0
Chambers, f	0	0-0	1	0
