Water Franchise Accepted by the Water Company

Measure to Take Effect in June When Present Franchise Expires—Council Session Short.

From Tuesday's Daily

The city council had a short session last evening, there being no outstanding legislation to demand the attention of the council aside from a few routine matters.

City Clerk Thomas read a communication from Byron Golding stating that he was the owner by sheriff's deed of lots one and two in block 38, situated near the city viaduct, that he would quit claim his title to the city for the sum of $5. The matter was placed on file for further action.

The claim of the Modern Construction Co., for $37.50 for removing snow was referred by the finance committee to the claims committee for action. Chairman Johnson of the streets, alleys & bridges committee, stated that he was interviewed by a number of the business men a week ago Saturday as to securing a ploy to get the snow away from the curb along Main and Sixth streets, he however, had been unable to pledge the city aid in the matter. Mr. Johnson stated that he thought that the city should, however, pay the claim.

Councilman Webb of the claims committee, discussed a number of the son who is an attorney at that place. Ray Frans and the family were over to Plattsmouth on last Sunday where they went for a drive and also to see the wonders of the snow and in the county seat, and following the labyrinth of ice tracks he had a time getting turned around so as to start home.

J. M. Patterson, former banker of Union, but who has been located at Wheeling, W. Va., for some time past where he has been interested in the oil business, was a caller in Union on Monday of this week and was looking after some business matters for a short time.

Listen, Look and Hustle.

There is soon to be given a program and a supper which is to be held at the Baptist church and which will be for the amusement of the people and also for the feeding of the people, both physically and an intellectual feast as well. Come and laugh, then eat again and laugh again. The climax will be when E. E. Leach and Ralph Davis will sing a duet, but not so low that you cannot hear it, for they will provide you with many a good laugh. Watch for the date and be sure and be there. The proceeds are to go to the cemetery fund, which goes to assist in keeping the cemetery in good condition.

Enter Business Here.

Louis F. Kohrell, formerly conducting an amusement parlor in Plattsmouth, has recently moved to Union and will open an amusement parlor in the Woodman building, where the picture show was formerly. During the time when he was getting things righted, Mrs. Kohrell was visiting at Nebraska City.

WEEPING WATER

Dr. W. H. Tuck was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Wednesday where he had some business matters to look after.

Ida and Hubert Cappen were over to Lincoln on last Monday where they were visiting with friends and looking after some business.

I. K. McFarland of Grand Island, a friend of Mr. John S. Williams, was visiting in Weeping Water on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Thead Davis was a visitor for the day on last Monday to near Mynard where he was called to look after some business matters for a short time.

Mrs. Joan Carter entertained on last Sunday at her home at the Laural hotel for a splendid dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keckler and their little son, Bobbie.

In a game which was staged at Avoca between the high school teams of this city and Avoca a few days since the Weeping Water team won over the Avoca lads by a score of 50 to 6.

J. J. Meier was a visitor in Nebraska City one day last week where he was called to look after some business as well as attending the Boy Scout meeting which was staged there on that day.

John Cole and wife, Lawrence Little and Homer Sylvester were over to Plattsmouth on last Tuesday, called there to look after some business matters and as well to get their new license plates for 1932.

Dennis C. Phillips was a visitor with a cousin, Mr. Lee Phillips and family near Mynard for a few days during the first portion of this week, returning home on last Tuesday after having had a very fine visit.

Tony Sedduth and family were spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Albina near Murray, they driving over for a visit to see the new baby, from whom came the Albin home recently.

George Hinebine, G. R. Binger and Elmer Michelsen were over to Omaha on Friday of last week and sure found the streets of Omaha and Plattsmouth very dangerous while the highways were in fairly good condition.

Mrs. Otto Moritz entertained the Knickerbocker club during the latter portion of last week and where the guests enjoyed the day most pleasantly with a fine program and a fine luncheon as well, following their games.

We were attracted as well as we noticed many others, at the very well dressed windows of the Weeping Water Variety store and which was indeed very attractive, displaying a fine line of goods as well as being displaying in the very best advantage.

John S. Williams, the proprietor of the Weeping Water bakery, where they sure make good bread as well as their good things to eat, accompanied by the wife and daughter, were over to Omaha on last Friday, where they were both looking after some business as well as visiting with their daughters.

Henry Christensen, with the assistance of Pete Miller, was helping in setting the new snow crop of last Tuesday cleared up from O street. There is a deal of work required with the number of snow storms that have been so frequent of late, but then spring will soon be here and all will be looking better.

Disposes of Weeping Water Property. Recently Ole Olsen made a trip to the western portion of the state where he made an exchange of property located in Weeping Water for a farm near Harrison which is near the Wyoming state line and north some miles from the main line of the Union Pacific railroad.

Attend Parents Golden Wedding. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Parks celebrated the passing of their golden wedding at their home at Hiawatha, Kansas, on January 19th, when all the seven children were present. Mrs. W. D. Baker being one. There was four generations represented at the gathering. There are five generations, the fifth being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baker of Weeping Water. This couple were united in marriage at Tazewell, Tennessee, on January 19, 1882. The place where they were married was some twenty miles from Cumberland Gap. The bride's name was Miss Judith Cadwell.

Married in Omaha. On last Saturday at Omaha, at All Saints church, was celebrated the wedding of Miss Margaret Tyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tyler of Lincoln, who was united in marriage with Frank P. Woolcott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Wolcott of Weeping Water. The ceremony was said by the Rev. Stephen E. McGinley, dean of the All Saints Episcopal church of Omaha. The young couple had as their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Hill of Lincoln, the ceremony being followed by a wedding supper at the Hotel Hill of Omaha. The young people departed for a trip and will be at home to their friends at 1700 N. Street, Lincoln. The couple joins with their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes for this estimable couple.

Moved To the South.

George Balsom, who with other relatives were here for a number of years and who some time since conducted the Laural Hotel, moved last week to Iola, Kansas, where they will make their home on a farm in the future. They were moved to Iola by Mr. Albert Ralston with his truck. Mr. Ralston tells of the roads being good with the single exception of some twenty miles where the highway was torn up on account of some repairs being made.

Send Car of Feed.

Acting in conjunction with the Farm Bureau, the American Legion of Weeping Water sent a load of grain, hay and other feeds to Cedar county where it will help care for the distress caused by the shortage of crops. This is the seventh car to go from Cass county and it looks like this county which is one of the very best in Nebraska and Nebraska one of the best states in the very best country, the United States of America, in the world, is doing its part.

James M. Teegarden Very Poorly.

James M. Teegarden, seventy years of age, sustained recently a stroke of paralysis and since has been in a very precarious condition. His brother, I. W. Teegarden and son, Wm. Teegarden, arrived from their home at Long Beach, Calif., to be with the brother and father. Everything possible, both in medical treatment and nursing, is being done for Mr. Teegarden. Mr. Teegarden is one of the very foremost of the citizens of Weeping Water and is a member of the local board of health and is always looking to the good of the home town and has a host of friends who are mourning his illness.

Wins Washington Trip.

Announcement was made Thursday of the four Nebraska representatives to the National 4-H Club Camp at Washington, D. C. in June. This honor comes to one of our own Cass County 4-H ers, James Waincott. The other Nebraska representatives are Helen Morgan, Lincoln; Ruth Long, Cowles, and Billy Donahue, of Inland. All four were chosen because of outstanding work as club members and leaders.

The third Cass County Club member to be awarded this trip, Clarence Norris, Weeping Water, and Henry Sexson, Eagle, preceded him in winning this award.

James has packed 12 club projects and the leadership of three more into last three years of his life. Soon after he joined the first club in the spring of 1929, he became so enthused about club projects that he joined every kind of a club he could around Eagle. He has been a member of poultry, baby beef, potato, corn, rope and sheep clubs. His outstanding record however, is in his poultry club in which he raised from 90 to 95% of his chicks each year. He now has a laying flock of 225 hens which is making him some money.

In 1930 James was on the poultry judging team which won first at state fair, and he was the high individual in the contest. In national competition at Chicago he placed third. In 1931 James was local leader of two poultry clubs, totaling 39 members. The judging team which he coached won first at the state fair and second in the national contest at Chicago in December. One of the members was the high individual judge. The demonstration team from his club, which he also coached, represented Nebraska at the National Dairy Exposition at St. Louis where they placed fourth. The Practical Poultry Producers Club, of which he is leader, was declared the champion state poultry club in 1931. Both poultry clubs finished up 100%. The clubs have made a total of 471 exhibits and won 65 firsts, this past year.

James is 18 years of age and a senior in the Eagle high school. The trip to Washington is a wonderful vacation to look forward to after graduation next spring.

Prairie Queens Reorganize.

The Prairie Queen 4-H club of Elmwood reorganized January 15th for second year canning work. The fact that one of the second year requirements is meat canning necessitates getting an early start so that the girls may do their canning when their parents butcher their summer meat supply.

Grasshopper Situation in Cass Co.

Cass, and all other counties bordering the Missouri river, contain enough grasshopper eggs to cause possible trouble in 1932. The survey of 629 fields in 91 counties in the state was made by O. S. Bare, Extension Entomologist of the College and F. D. Hatcher, Extension Entomologist of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

This same report states that the hoppers apparently distributed their eggs more widely over the state last fall than they did the fall before, but that the eggs are not as intensely concentrated as they were in the fall of 1930. Should weather conditions continue favorable through the rest of the winter and during the hatching season next spring, grasshoppers are likely to be numerous and farmers can expect some damage to crops.

How serious this damage will become depends much upon weather conditions and also upon the amount of control work done by farmers. The Cass County Farm Bureau is planning to help farmers with control measures recommended in the spring by O. S. Bare, entomologist of the agricultural college extension service.

Newspapers will play a big part in keeping people correctly informed regarding the situation during the next few weeks. Some meetings and demonstrations will probably be held just before control measures need to be put into effect.

Week of Sewing Machine Clinics.

A series of six sewing machine clinics are being held this week in Cass County, under the supervision of Paul R. Hoff, Engineering Specialist from the College of Agriculture. The clinics were scheduled starting Monday, at Elmwood, Murray, Nebraska, Louisville, Murdock and South Bend, in the order named.

Eighteen or twenty women, who have previously signed up for the clinic, appear in old clothes, armed with screw drivers, oil cans, pie tins, and other minor equipment, ready for the task of cleaning and adjusting their sewing machines. Judging from past experience, these machines will be in good working order, with no expense, when the women return home with them.

Only three of the 151 women who overhauled their machines at clinics held last winter, had any expense and this was for replacing of worn parts. Mr. Hoff's experience over the state shows that 90 per cent of the machines can be put into a good working order by thorough cleaning and adjusting. Machines not in the past ranged in age from one to fifty years and the majority of them were over 20 years old.

Proper Care of House Plants.

Fifty-five to 60 degrees is the ideal temperature for most house plants, and 65 degrees is the maximum allowed in the greenhouse by the experienced plant grower. The plants should be watered about twice a week by placing the pot in water and allowing the water to soak through the pot until the soil is wet, but not soggy. The tops of the plants should be washed at least once a week by holding them under running water.

All house plants except possibly ferns and green foliage plants need south or east windows and all of the direct sunlight it is possible to give them during the winter. A good soil mixture contains one-half good garden loam, one-fourth well rotted manure or leaf mold, and one-fourth sand. A little bone meal in the mixture will do no harm.

Arsenate of lead is one of the best stomach poisons for insects that chew the leaves of house plants. Blackleaf 40 or any other good nicotine product will kill the insects that suck plant juices out of the leaves and stems.—D. D. Waincott, Cass Co. Extension Agent, Jessie H. Baldwin, Home Extension Agent.
